

DON'T MISS ANYTHING ABOUT
ÎLE-DE-FRANCE

DISCOVER THE REGION THROUGH ITS 8 DEPARTMENTS

SEINE-SAINT-DENIS
EDITION

© Gili Merin

ENGLISH VERSION

ÉDITORIAL

Students in the fourth year of Biotechnology and Chemistry at the CYTech engineering school in Cergy, we spent several months to realize our project: the creation of a series of magazines highlighting the cultural and tourist heritage of the Île-de-France region. In total, we created 8 magazines, each corresponding to a department of this region.

Aware of the challenges involved in discovering such a rich territory, we have undertaken this project to promote our region during our student mobility in Italy. The magazines "Don't miss anything about Île-de-France" have the objective of listing the must-see sites of each department, while highlighting lesser known but equally interesting places to explore. Of course, this selection is not exhaustive!

This edition focuses on the department of Seine-Saint-Denis. As far as possible, you will find the website of each place and its access on Google Maps by hovering over its title and address respectively.

To find out more about the other departments of the region, we invite you to go to the last page of this magazine: you will find a list of all available magazines, as well as a link to our website and Instagram account.

Enjoy your reading!

SEINE-SAINT-DENIS

HISTORY & GEOGRAPHY

Often called "93" in reference to its departmental code, the Seine-Saint-Denis has long been an important religious and industrial center. The abbey of Saint-Denis is one of the most emblematic sites, serving as a necropolis to the kings of France.

In the 19th and 20th centuries, the department experienced a strong industrialization, becoming a major economic center, especially in the metallurgy and chemical sectors. After the Second World War, the department became a focus for waves of immigration, contributing to its current cultural diversity.

The blazon of the Seine-Saint-Denis is "at the first of azure sown with golden lily flowers, at the second of gules with silver hoist, embracing three ears of gold wheat arranged in a fan; to the silver gear wheel that is being chipped on the partition."

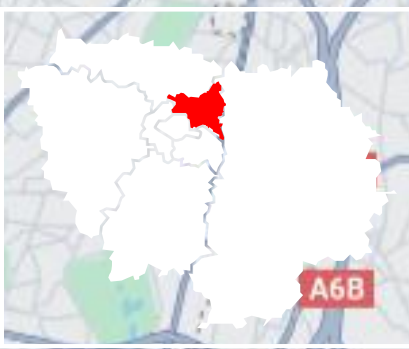

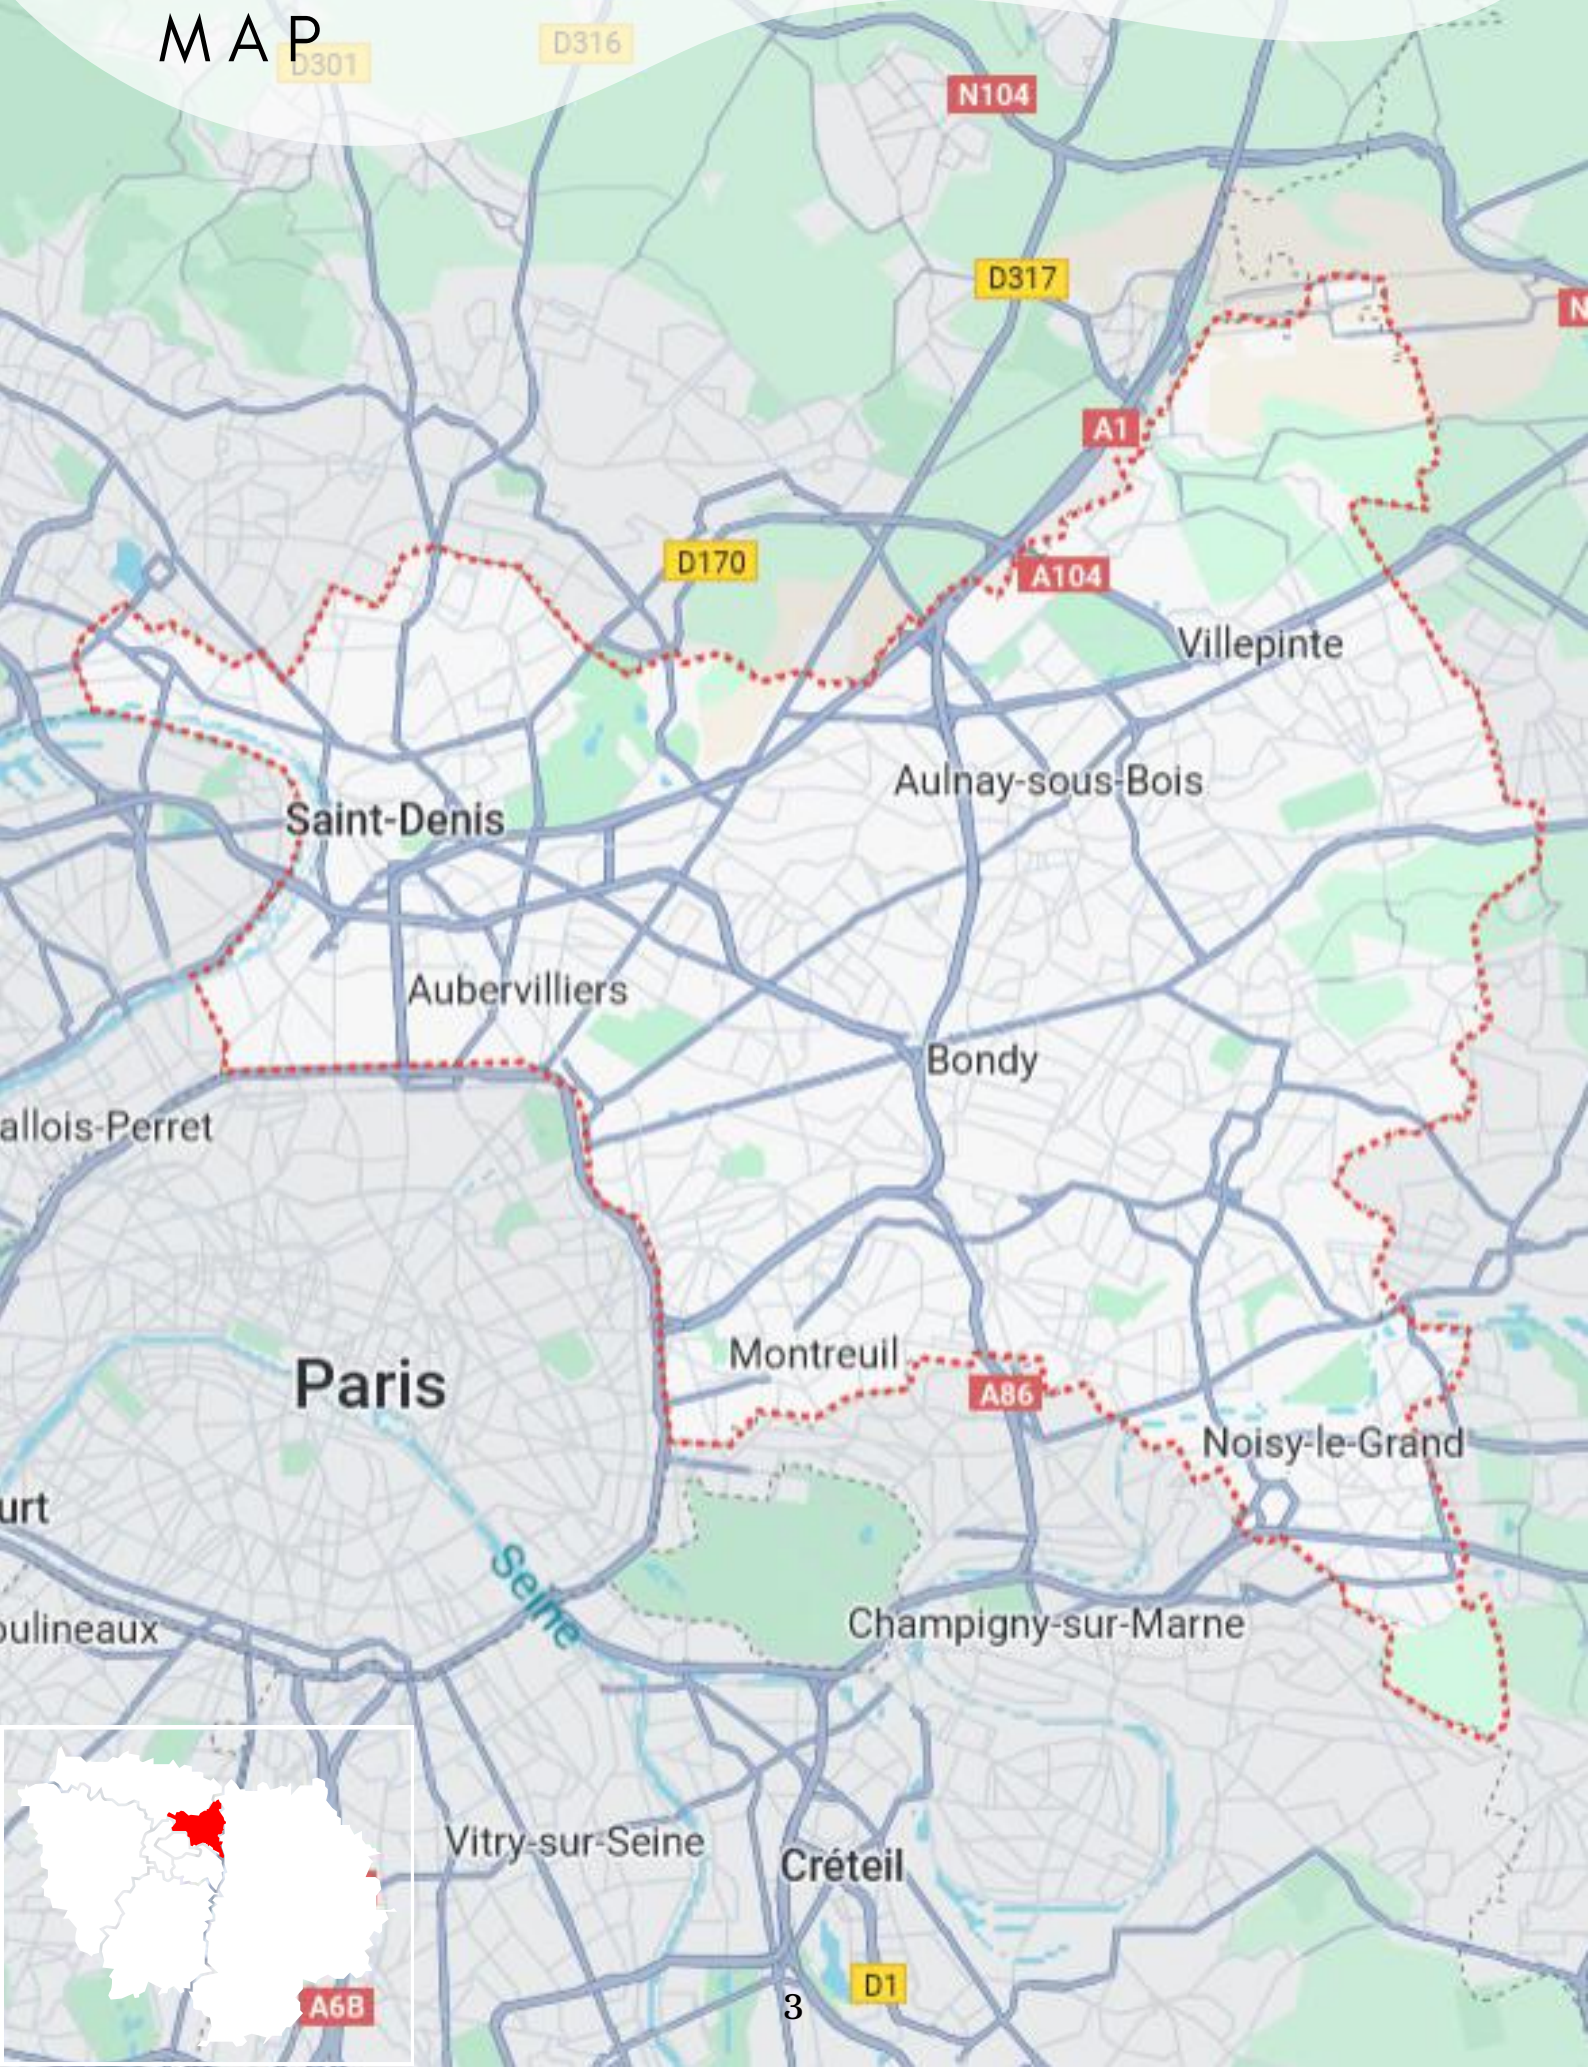

Located in the north-east of Paris, the Seine-Saint-Denis is the smallest department of the Île-de-France region, with its 236 km². The department is characterized by dense urbanization, with large residential, industrial and commercial areas.

Despite its urbanization, the Seine-Saint-Denis also offers green and natural spaces, such as the departmental park of La Courneuve, one of the largest parks in the Paris region. The presence of the Seine river in the west and the Marne river in the south also adds to the geographical diversity of the department.

Monuments

Discover the essential monuments of the Seine-Saint-Denis, where each building reveals an exceptional heritage.

Basilica of Saint-Denis

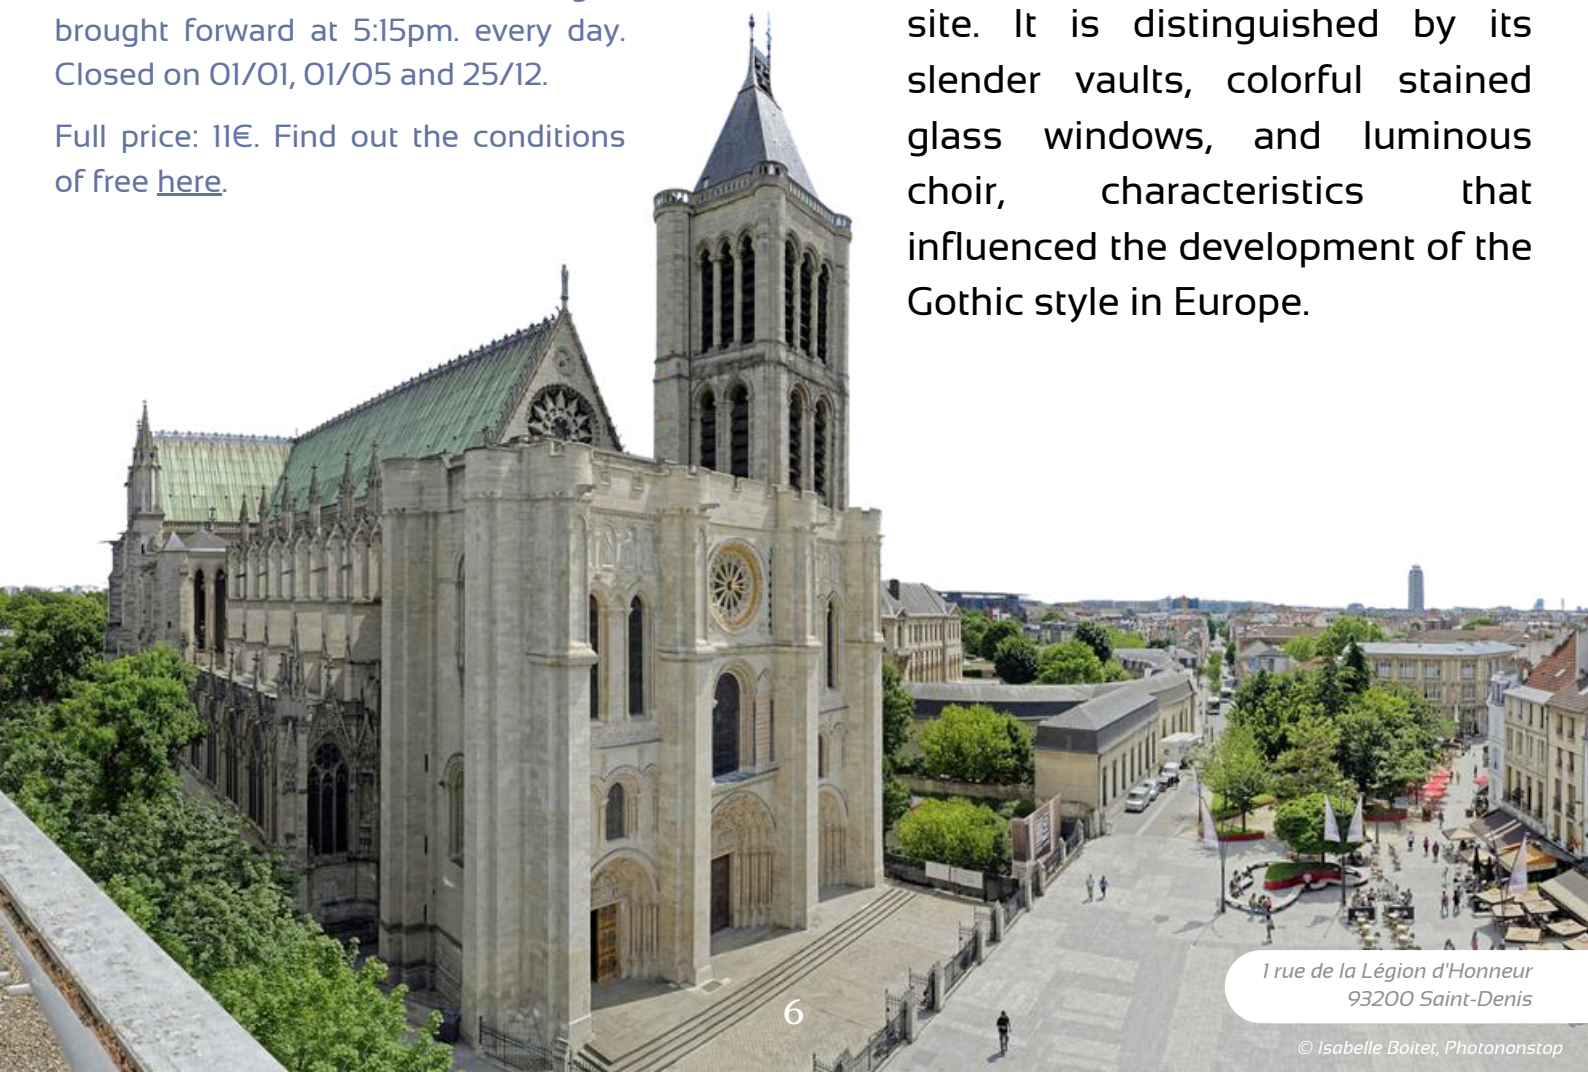

The most emblematic monument of the department of Seine-Saint-Denis is surely the Basilica of Saint-Denis. Built on the tomb of Saint Denis and considered the first gothic cathedral, it is famous for being the necropolis of the kings of France.

Since Dagobert I, kings, queens and members of the royal family are indeed buried there. The basilica houses more than 70 tombs and funerary monuments!

Open from April to September from Monday to Saturday from 10am to 6pm and on Sunday from 12pm to 6pm. From October to March, the closing is brought forward at 5:15pm. every day. Closed on 01/01, 01/05 and 25/12.

Full price: 11€. Find out the conditions of free here.

In addition to its historical importance, the Basilica of Saint-Denis is also a major architectural site. It is distinguished by its slender vaults, colorful stained glass windows, and luminous choir, characteristics that influenced the development of the Gothic style in Europe.

FESTIVAL

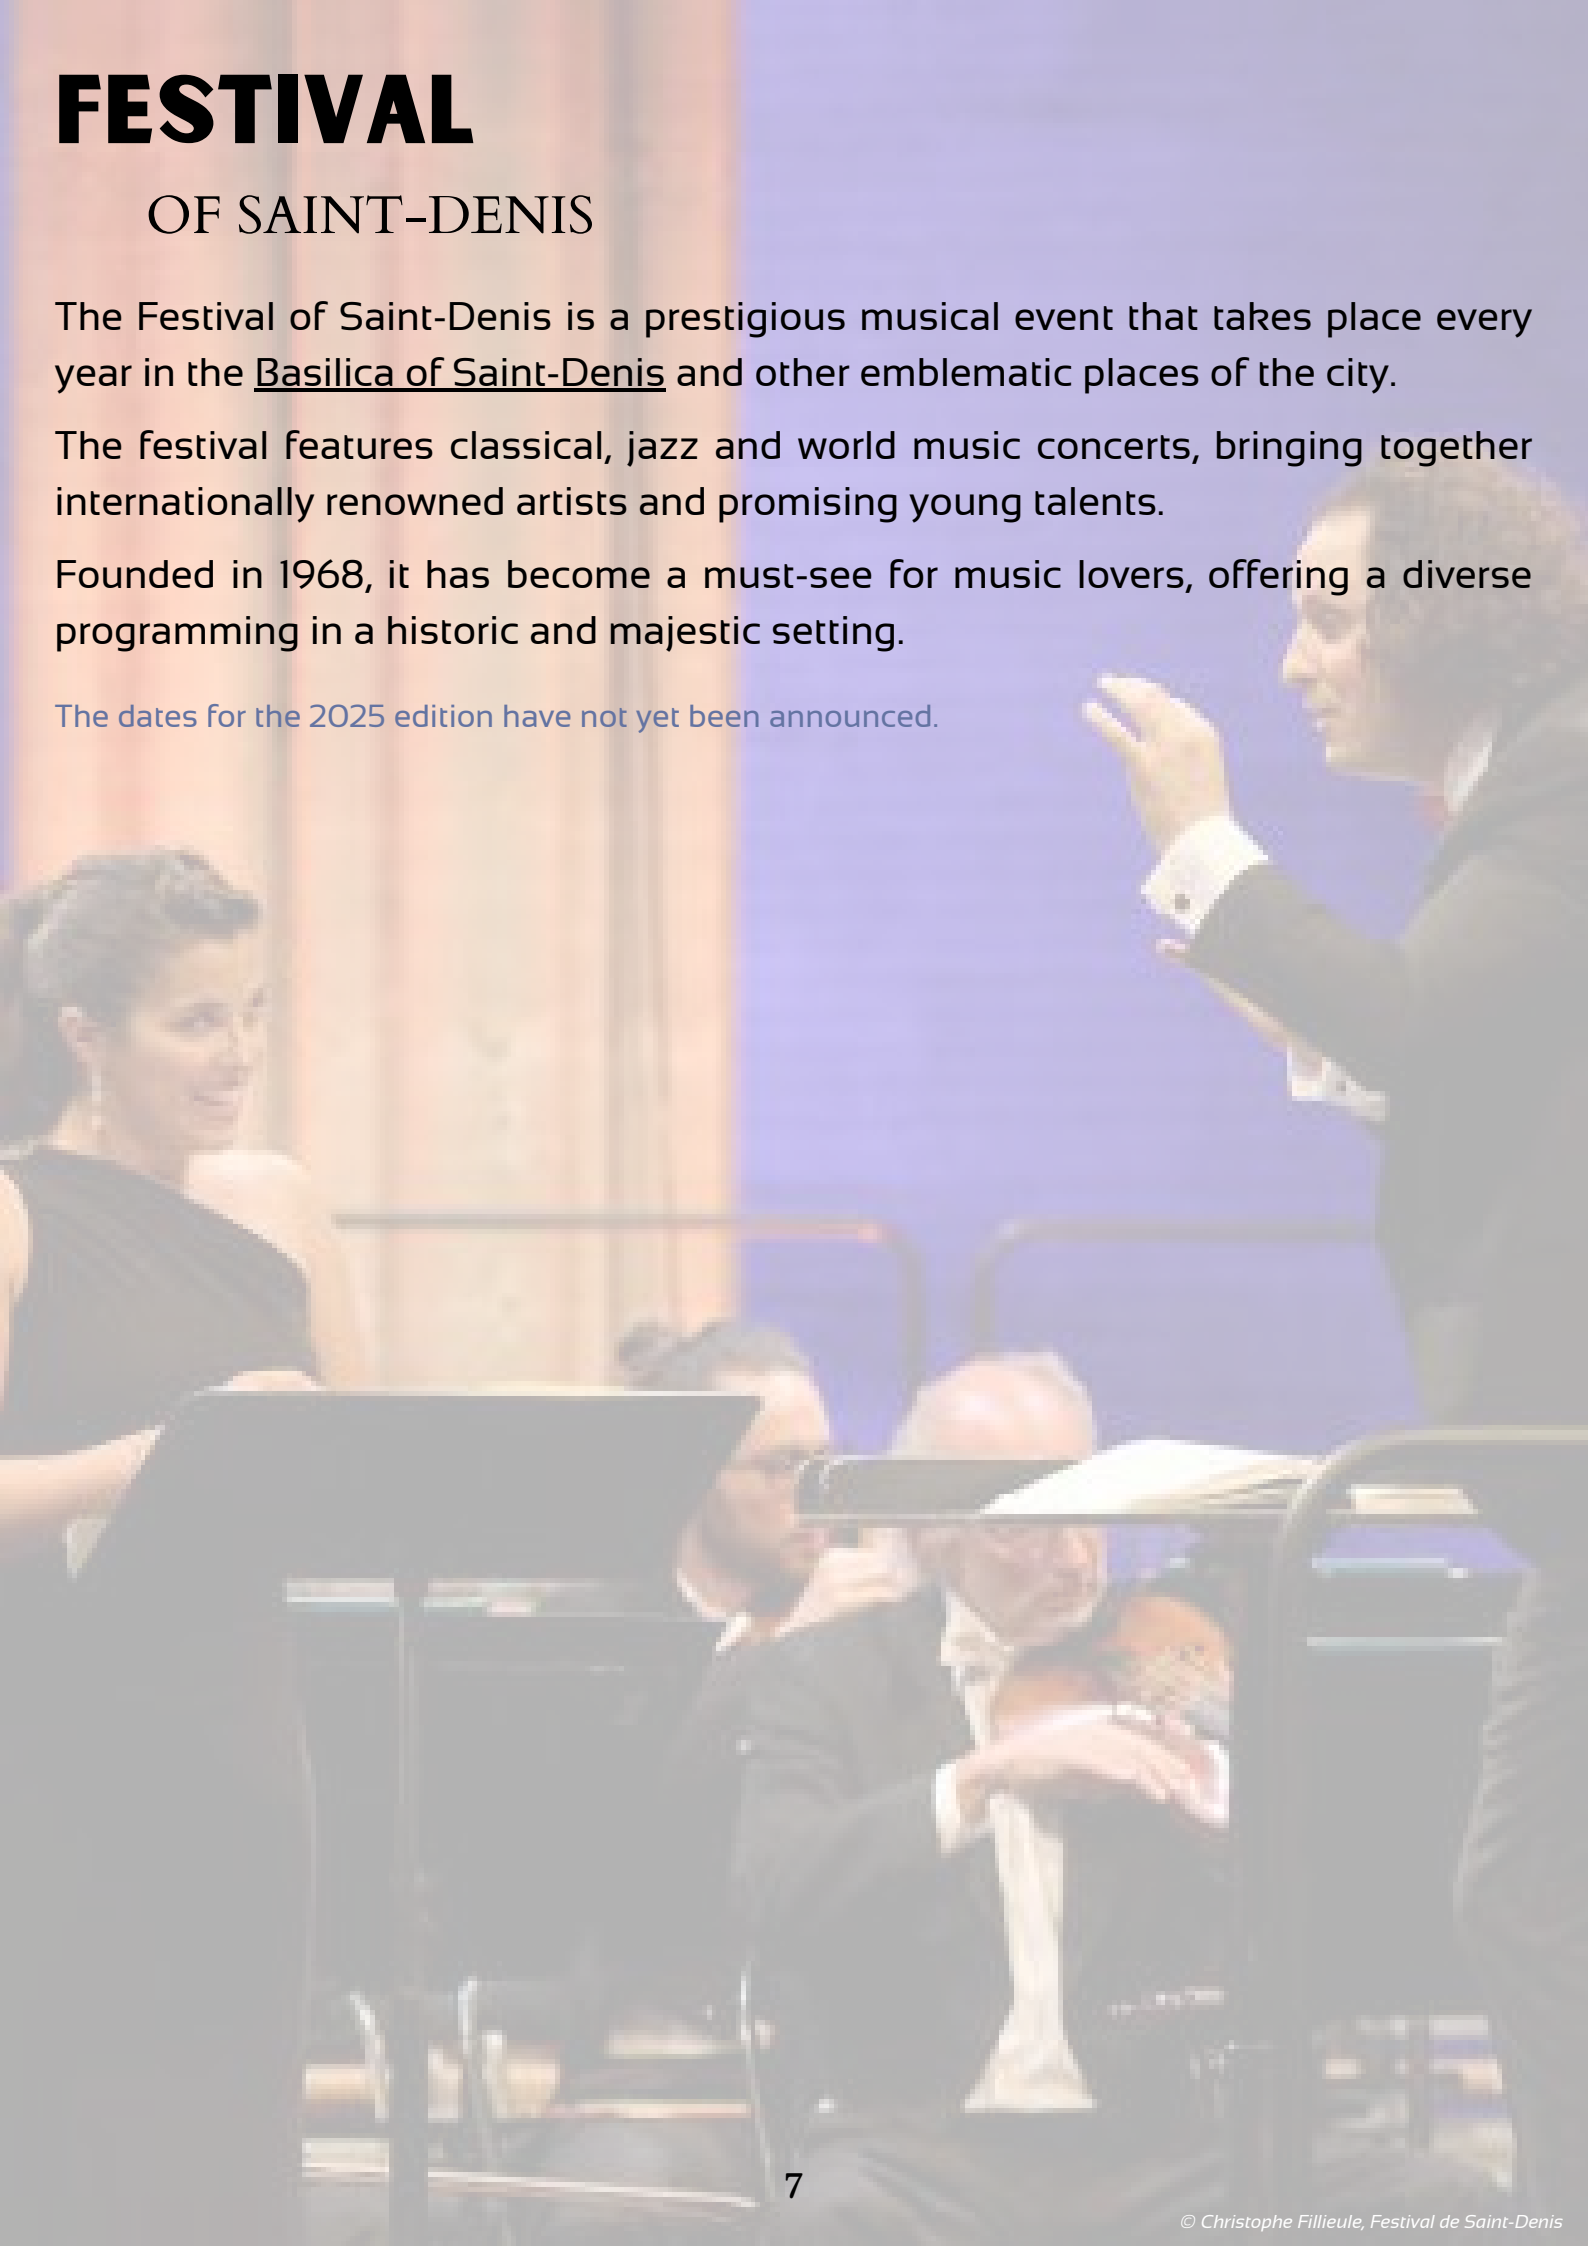

OF SAINT-DENIS

The Festival of Saint-Denis is a prestigious musical event that takes place every year in the Basilica of Saint-Denis and other emblematic places of the city.

The festival features classical, jazz and world music concerts, bringing together internationally renowned artists and promising young talents.

Founded in 1968, it has become a must-see for music lovers, offering a diverse programming in a historic and majestic setting.

The dates for the 2025 edition have not yet been announced.

Stade de France

Stade de France is the largest stadium in the country, with a capacity of 80,000 seats. It was built to host the 1998 World Cup football matches, an event that saw the French team win its first world title!

This multifunctional stadium is designed to host various events, such as football and rugby matches, but also concerts and other great shows.

Architecturally, the Stade de France is remarkable for its oval roof that seems to float above the stands, and for its flexibility, allowing for rapid transformation to different types of events.

Click here to discover the stadium's programme.

Grands Moulins of Pantin

The Grands Moulins of Pantin are an emblematic historic architectural ensemble, dating from the early 20th century. They were designed to serve as a flour mill (processing of grain into flour). At the time, they were one of the largest industrial facilities of this type in Europe!

With their distinctive Art Deco style, these buildings were a thriving production centre until the late 1970s. Today, they house offices and are an example of the conversion of industrial heritage into modern work space.

Since BNP Paribas moved into these buildings, it is no longer possible to visit the interior of the Grands Moulins de Pantin.

Museums

Explore the must-see museums of the Seine-Saint-Denis, where each visit is an immersion in the art, history and unique cultural treasures of the department.

Air and Space Museum

The Air and Space Museum, located in Le Bourget in Seine-Saint-Denis, is one of the oldest and largest aeronautical museums in the world.

The museum traces the evolution of civil and military aviation, as well as space exploration. It has an exceptional collection of aircraft, rockets, helicopters and other aircraft, covering a wide range from aviation pioneers to modern space technologies.

In addition to its permanent exhibitions, the Air and Space Museum offers temporary exhibitions, conferences, and educational activities. It also features a planetarium and flight simulator, offering a unique immersive experience.

Drancy

Drancy is a commune sadly known for being the site of a transit camp during the war, where many Jews were interned before being deported to concentration camps. Drancy is known for its Holocaust Memorial, but also for its castle and park.

Holocaust Memorial

Located on the historic site of the former internment camp of Drancy, the Holocaust Memorial is a place of remembrance where more than 63,000 Jews were held before being deported to Nazi death camps.

The memorial traces the history of the camp, presents testimonies of the internees, and includes a train wagon identical to those used for deportations.

Open from Sunday to Thursday, from 10am to 6pm. Closed on 11/11, 25/12, 01/01, 01/05, 14/07, and some days of Jewish holidays.

Free entry.

Castle of Ladoucette

Built in the 18th century, the Castle of Ladoucette takes its name from Charles de Ladoucette, prefect of the Empire under Napoleon, who was the owner at the beginning of the 19th century.

Rebuilt after a fire in 1871, the current castle is in neo-Renaissance style. It is distinguished by its refined architecture, characterized by ornate facades and a mansard roof. It now hosts art exhibitions.

Located in the vast landscaped park of Ladoucette, it offers an ideal green environment for relaxing and walking.

Open from Tuesday to Sunday from 12pm to 5pm. Extended opening until 6pm from February to March, from April to June and from September to October, and until 7pm in July and August (6pm on Sundays).

TULIP FESTIVAL

OF SAINT-DENIS

The Festival of Tulips in Saint-Denis is an iconic annual event that celebrates the arrival of spring. Usually held in April, this festival takes place in the Park of the Legion of Honor, where thousands of tulips of various colors and varieties are hatched, offering a beautiful and colorful floral show.

Beyond the flower exhibition, the Tulip Festival offers a multitude of activities for all ages, such as concerts, shows, creative workshops, or even entertainment for children!

The exact date of the next edition in 2025 has not yet been announced.

Haute Île Park

The park of the Haute Île is a protected natural area remarkable for its river setting and historical remains.

Bordered by the Chelles canal and the Neuilly-sur-Marne canal, it is home to a diverse fauna and flora, including birds, insects and plants typical of wetlands. It is also a site of historical importance, with traces of human occupation dating back to prehistoric times.

By visiting the Haute Île park, you can enjoy walking trails, Bird watching and information panels to learn more about the site's ecological and archaeological wealth, while taking advantage of the setting to relax.
