Market traders line
Leighton Buzzard High Street every Tuesday and Saturday selling a wide range of goods. This lively and traditional market has a Royal Charter and is one of only three markets recorded in the Bedfordshire area at the time of the Domesday
Survey of 1086.

Presentation

The Grand Union Canal runs through the town, attracting narrow boats of all sizes. You can book a canal cruise or hire a boat from local companies, or experience the beautiful countryside with a walk along the towpath.

First impressions count. That's why we devote so much effort to presenting every property to the highest standard.

Our approach is designed to make your home stand out and attract interest. Our all-inclusive marketing includes 3D floor plans, high quality professional photography, well-crafted descriptions, glossy printed brochures and an automatic upgrade to a premium listing on property portal Rightmove for added impact.

We use multiple shots of rooms to show off the space to best advantage, displayed with full room views to capture a true feel of your property's appearance. Professional floor plan imagery and the latest HD wide angle video tours help bring your property layout to life.

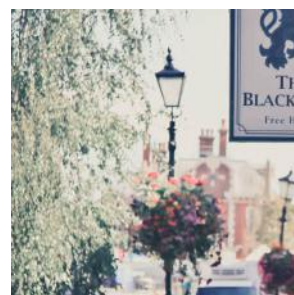

Your property is always presented in the best possible way, regardless of its market value. On our website, for example, we incorporate interactive mapping of local schools with their most recent Ofsted ratings as an added-value service.

Leighton Buzzard has been twinned with Coulommiers, northern France, since 1958 and with Titisee-Neustadt in southern Germany since 1991.

"At last an estate agency that delivers their promises."

Coverage

There is no substitute for placing property directly in front of prospective buyers.

Prominent and effective exposure achieves results. It's all about presenting the information stunningly well and getting it in front of the right people in the best possible way – where your buyers can see it.

We use all media and tools at our disposal to reach the widest and most relevant audience. Your property will be advertised extensively, featuring on all major property websites. To complement our online coverage we can advertise our clients' properties prominently through targeted marketing on social media including Facebook, Instagram and X.

We are proactive in matching properties with appropriate pre-qualified buyers on our database. This has proved very successful in rapidly securing genuine interest, with vendors and buyers alike appreciating our focused and personal approach.

Speciality markets are popular in Leighton Buzzard. The third Saturday of every month there's a well-established Farmers' Market offering delicious locally sourced produce, with a Craft Fair the week after. Twice a year there's a distinctly continental feel when the French Market comes to town.

There is an impressive choice of sports facilities, clubs and cultural societies in and around the town and local villages. Catering for all tastes and abilities, there is something for everyone.

"Of all the estate agents we have ever used, we would use Quarters again without reservation."

Communication

Our customers can be confident that we say what we mean and mean what we say.

In our experience, clear and regular communication is paramount for a smooth transaction. Of course, good communication works both ways; that's why we take the time to really listen to the information and views you have. No-one knows your property like you do, so we ask questions to find out the important little details that will attract a buyer.

From your perspective you need us to keep you informed every step of the way. That's exactly what we do, communicating in plain language – not jargon – so there are no misunderstandings.

Throughout the marketing process you will receive prompt and detailed updates of all viewings, feedback and offers as well as regular marketing reviews. We'll go through a detailed report with you every other week including analysis of marketing activity with online statistics. This ensures that we spot any opportunities to enhance your property's promotion and adjust anything that needs an extra push.

Once a sale is agreed, you will be in the hands of our dedicated sales progressors who will guide you through the entire conveyancing process. Our renowned after sales service ensures you always know what's happening at every stage, giving you peace of mind that someone is taking care of things on your behalf right through to completion.

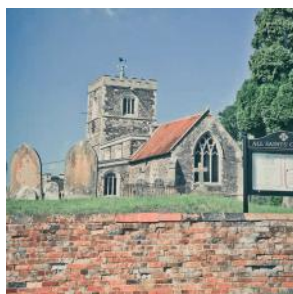

You can't miss the 27 foot high Market Cross in the centre of town. Dating back to medieval times, this prominent landmark has an unusual pentagonal design with five statues. It is still the focal point of public events such as the annual Christmas carol concert.

Most Sunday afternoons during the summer you can catch a free concert at the bandstand in Parson's Close Recreation Ground in the town centre. Top brass and silver bands from the surrounding counties take turns to entertain the crowds.

"A truly excellent marketing package with comprehensive feedback at every stage."

Local

We care because it's our community, too.

Quarters covers the entire Leighton-Linslade area and all villages to the south of the A5 between Leighton Buzzard and Tring.

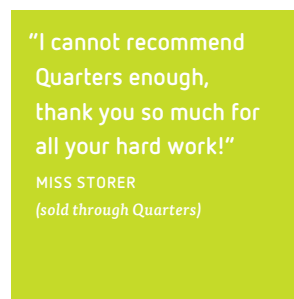

Our team are all local people with first-hand knowledge of local amenities, transport links, shopping centres, schools and leisure facilities. We can really get across to potential buyers what it's like to live and work in this neighbourhood. Uniquely among agencies in the Leighton Buzzard area, we add interactive mapping of local schools and their most recent Ofsted ratings to your property listing on our own website. This, along with interactive street views, gives potential buyers the option of exploring the local area on a computer, tablet or smartphone.

We are proud to be one of the main sponsors of the annual Leighton Buzzard Carnival, an event which really brings out a strong community spirit. We also enjoy contributing where we can to local youth sports teams, schools and fund-raising events.

We are equally committed to supporting the local business community. We only recommend local firms and have a network of companies we trust including solicitors and removal companies, chartered surveyors and those in the building trade.

Rushmere Park is a beautiful country park at the northern edge of Leighton Buzzard. It spans more than 200 acres with a wide variety of natural habitats. One of these, Bakers Wood, is classified as a Site of Special Scientific Interest because of its ancient woodland.

Once a busy quarry, Tiddenfoot Waterside Park by the Grand Union Canal at Linslade is an oasis for wildlife. People enjoy walking and cycling along the footpaths, and Leighton Buzzard Angling Club members fish in the eight-acre lake for carp, catfish and tench.

A highlight of the community calendar has to be the Leighton-Linslade Carnival. It has been running for several decades with its own royalty of carnival queens and princesses. Quarters is proud to support this annual event as a major sponsor.

The Leighton Buzzard War Memorial in Church Square stands a magnificent 25ft 4 inches tall and weighs more than 22 tons. When erected in 1920 it was (and possibly still is) the largest single block of granite ever quarried in the British Isles.

Simply put, we do all we can to make selling your home straightforward and successful for you.

"I can honestly say I have never received such a friendly and professional service."
