LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

Sherman Parks & Recreation

Dear Sherman Community and Guests,

C.S. Lewis once wrote, "Autumn is really the best of seasons." While that may be up for debate, here in Texas we enjoy the refreshing change, cooler mornings, golden afternoons, and the return of seasonal activities that bring us together. From local events to shared traditions, this season highlights everything that makes Sherman a special place to live, work, and play. Our Parks and Recreation Department is proud to offer a full season of programs and events designed to connect people of all ages, backgrounds, and abilities. Whether you're staying active through open gym, walking, hiking, biking, or kayaking at our parks (spending time with family, friends, or pets) we've created opportunities for everyone to be part of something meaningful.

We'll kick off the season with the return of Sherman Arts Fest, a celebration of creativity and culture featuring live entertainment, artisan vendors, great food, and the inspiring Youth Art Show, showcasing the talents of local young artists. Through athletics, families can enjoy Flag Football, T-Ball, Baseball, Softball, Soccer, Tennis, Pickleball, and Volleyball, cheering on both youth and adult athletes.

We're especially honored to host the Special Needs Fall Festival, a fun and inclusive event for individuals of all abilities. Events like National Night Out connect us with first responders and neighbors, while the Mother-Son Dance offers an evening of dancing, laughter, and lasting memories. And don't forget our new Portable Outdoor Play (POP) vehicle, bringing spontaneous fun and activities wherever it goes.

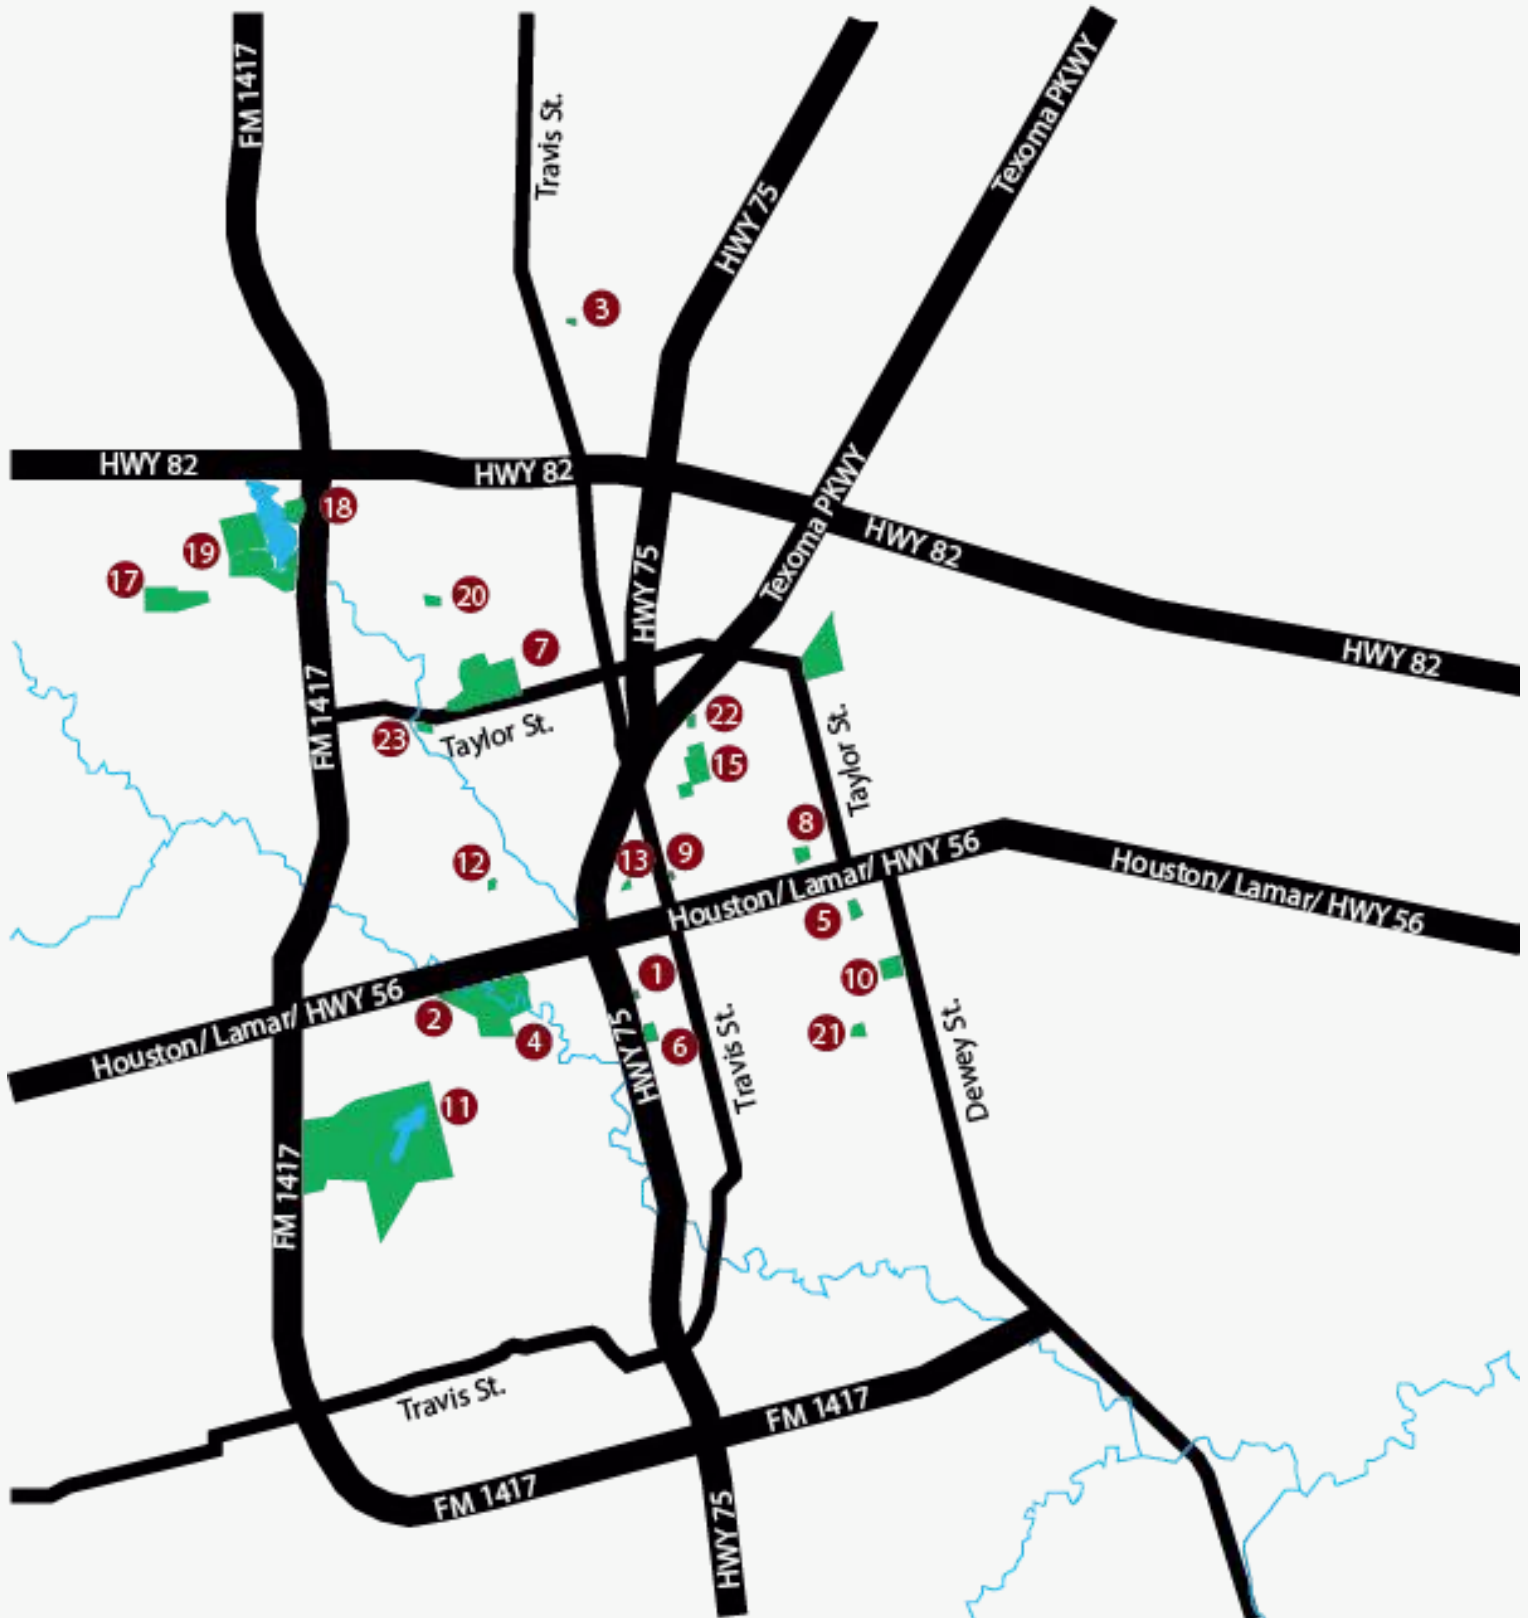

Our active adult community continues to thrive through fitness, recreation, and social programs at the Senior Citizens Center, helping participants stay engaged and energized. Meanwhile, the Sherman Public Library remains a welcoming space for all- supporting learning, literacy, and connection.

As fall turns to winter, we invite you to experience Nights of Lights at Pecan Grove West Park, a cherished Sherman tradition with thousands of twinkling lights, family activities, and performances by local talent. This year's addition of lights at the Municipal Building, City Hall and Library adds even more holiday charm and gathering space for the community. We also encourage you to join us for Wreaths Across America at Westhill Cemetery, a moving tribute to our nation's veterans through the placement of wreaths on their graves. It's a meaningful way for our community to come together in remembrance and gratitude.

Sherman truly shines in the fall, and this season gives us so many reasons to be thankful. On behalf of our team, we invite you to join us for the many experiences that bring our community together.

With gratitude,
Justin

POP TRUCK

The POP Truck, short for Portable Outdoor Play, is an exciting new addition to Sherman Parks and Recreation, created to bring play directly to the community. First imagined three years ago to improve supply transport and increase event presence, the vision became reality in early 2025 when a retired ambulance was donated by the Fire Department. The vehicle's design highlights both current recreation programs and a glimpse into the future of play in Sherman.

Outfitted with a mix of traditional games and new activities, the POP Truck transforms any location into a pop-up playground. Since its official debut at the July 7 City Council Meeting, it has already appeared at events like Movies in the Park and Popsicles in the Park. Even more appearances are scheduled for this fall—including a featured stop at the Sherman Arts Fest—as it continues to roll into events across the city.

The POP Truck's mobility makes it a powerful tool, bringing recreation beyond traditional playgrounds and into neighborhoods, festivals, and community gatherings. As the program grows, Parks and Recreation will continue to partner with local organizations to enhance their events and promote the importance of outdoor play throughout Sherman.

A WALK THROUGH HISTORY

Electra Waggoner Bowman Biggs (November 8, 1912 – April 23, 2001) was a Texas-born heiress to the famed Waggoner Ranch—one of the largest ranches in the country—through her father, E. Paul Waggoner. After an upbringing filled with privilege (including early home-schooling in Fort Worth and later attending Miss Wright’s Boarding School in Pennsylvania), she pursued formal training in sculpture in New York and at the Sorbonne in Paris, establishing her artistic credentials early in life. Known for her elegant busts and public statuary, Biggs created iconic works featuring figures like Dwight Eisenhower, Harry Truman—and most notably, a celebrated sculpture of humorist Will Rogers astride his horse, an equestrian piece commissioned by Amon Carter in 1935 that remains among her signature achievements

After a life blending art, high society, and ranching, Electra Biggs died in Vernon, Texas, on April 23, 2001, after a lengthy illness. She was laid to rest alongside her family at West Hill Cemetery in Sherman, Texas. Her legacy lives on both through her sculptures, which grace institutions like the Red River Valley Museum, and through her ties to the Waggoner Ranch—maintaining her place in Texas cultural and artistic heritage as a ranch heiress turned renowned sculptor.
