Welcome from NMAA Executive Director

Sally Marquez
NMAA
Executive Director

I was recently watching a news story entitled, “It is the way the game is supposed to be played so, why is it such a big deal?” The story took place in June of 2016 at the Indiana State Baseball Championships, during which a player from the winning team went onto the mound to console the losing pitcher, who was laying on the ground visibly upset, rather than embarking in a celebration with his teammates.

At the end of the story, the newscaster made a point to say, “The actions of the player reflected on the coaches and the parents of the kid. Somebody is doing something very right.” Adults in the player’s life, leading by example.

When the newscast finished, I pondered about why the story made the news. I was happy that the actions of the boys made national headlines, but saddened that acts of sportsmanship are not the norm. The realization that stories like this are highlighted because they are seen as something special and extraordinary was disheartening to me.

Throughout this year, the NMAA and our member schools are focusing on the importance of sportsmanship by coaches, players and spectators. When you attend a game as a spectator, remember that you too are setting an example for the kids on the court or field and for the individuals around you. Remember that it takes just one person to make a difference and the way you act can set an example for your community.

Be mindful of the example you set in whichever role you play in interscholastic athletics – as a coach, a parent, a player or a spectator. Be POSITIVE and support your team, without being negative towards opponents or contest officials. We need to all be a part of changing the culture of interscholastic athletics so that doing what is right is no longer newsworthy. Competing with Class should be the rule, not the exception.

Let us all band together and lead by example. Show the youth of today that sportsmanship matters. Show our student-athletes the proper way to win and lose. Show our “leaders of tomorrow” that their character far outweighs their performance. In New Mexico, our news story should always read, “It is the way the game is supposed to be played so, why is it such a big deal?” In New Mexico, let good sportsmanship and positive behavior always be the norm.

Sincerely,

Sally Marquez
NMAA Executive Director

TOURNAMENT NOTES

It is difficult to give a history lesson on high school wrestling in the state of New Mexico without including Albuquerque's Art Simoni. This year's "Legend of the Mat" has been a mainstay in the wrestling community for decades.

Simoni grew up in Albuquerque and stumbled upon the sport of wrestling at Rio Grande High School. Known as a fighter and a scrapper, Simoni advanced to the state final in just his second year of competition. By his senior season, he ran the table with a 31-0 record and 21 pins. His record in three years of wrestling was 65-3. In 1965, Simoni was named one of the top 50 wrestlers in the country.

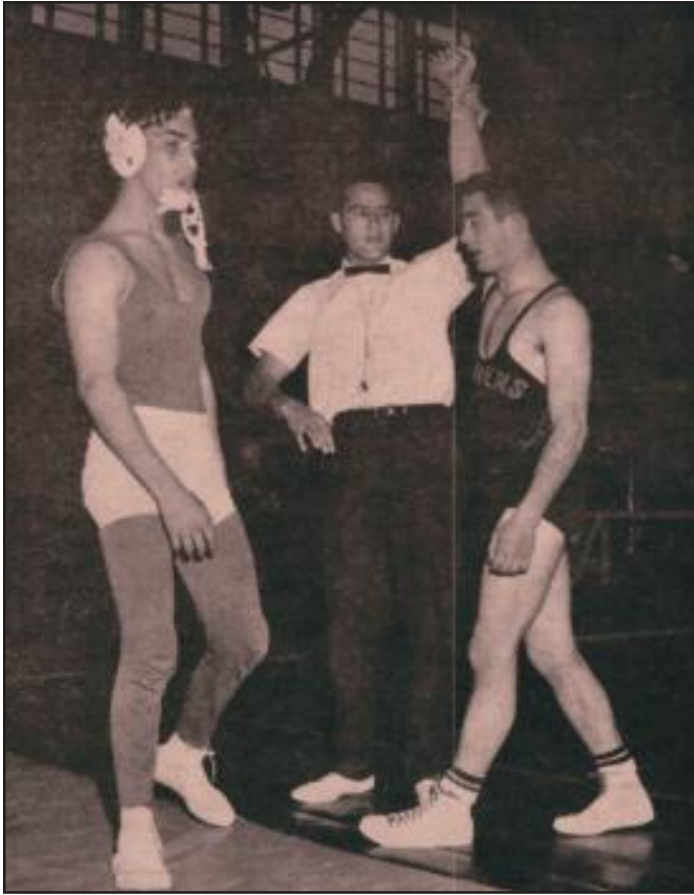

At 18 years of age, he was invited to be on the Olympic training squad in Alamosa, Colorado. He would remain in Colorado to attend Adams State, known as one of the top wrestling colleges in the country. He was the only freshman to ever receive a full scholarship to the school. Because of NCAA rules, Simoni was not able to wrestle as a freshman, but would wrestle the following three years. He never lost a dual match at Adams State. Simoni became a 3-time Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Champion and two-time All-American. Simoni was voted the most outstanding wrestler on his team his senior season. He graduated Adams State in 1970.

Simoni would continue his love for wrestling as a coach in the Albuquerque Public School district at the middle school and high school levels. Now at age 71, he continues to help coach wrestlers of all ages and levels.

How did you get introduced into the sport of wrestling?

It was in 10th grade. I just happened to walking into registration in the gym. A gentleman walked up to me and he happened to be the wrestling coach, Cip Esquibel. I didn't even know what wrestling was. He was quite the recruiter.

What was that first day like in the wrestling room?

From the standpoint of ignorance, it was daunting. They had a big program, about 60 boys. That doesn't happen nowadays. There were 10 guys in my weight class that were better than me. I was a 110-pound sophomore.

How quickly were you able to progress?

My junior year, I had a heck of a time trying to make weight. I made quick progress, going 25-0. I had to wrestle a guy from Las Cruces, Rudy Sanchez, who was the outstanding wrestler the year before. I was first one to beat him in two years. We met again in state final and he beat me 2-1. I finished second.

What was it like winning that state title your senior season?

I went up to 112 pounds and had a hard time making that weight too. I was surprised at it all. I liked winning. There was an amateur wrestling news publication. They didn't pick All-Americans, but picked 50 wrestlers in nation and I was 9th on that high school wrestling honor roll list. Being 9th in the nation was a big deal.

How did you end up at Adams State?

Some people at UNM wanted me to wrestle for them. Arizona wanted me to wrestle for them. I got exposed to a lot of great wrestlers in Alamosa at the Olympic training camp.

Then Adams State (located in Alamosa) asked me to wrestle. It was close to home, so I decided to do it. My former coach at Rio Grande was a graduate of Adams State.

What led you to coaching?

I got a call from APS that there was an opening for a wrestling coach at Albuquerque High. I was 22 years old and never coached. I became the biology teacher and head wrestling coach. We started at the bottom and within three years we were pretty prominent. In 1974, we won the state championship and I was voted coach of the year in New Mexico. In 1975, I had two undefeated state champs. I would also coach a lot of junior wrestling. My son was a junior wrestling champ and won two state championships for West Mesa. He's now the wrestling coach at West Mesa. I took the job at Rio Grande High School in 1995. Within three years, I led them to a second-place finish at state. That was my last go-round. I'm still in the wrestling room with my son at West Mesa.

How much longer will you coach?

I've had my knees and shoulder replaced. I have to curtail myself from getting onto the mat and become a mentor rather than a scrapper. I'd like to keep going at a minor level. I enjoy being around my son and watching the progress. I'll keep doing it one year at a time.
