LARGE-FLOWERED DWARF

Impatiens walleriana

For years impatiens were known as a bedding plant staple for growers, offering the most color impact for shady areas. The plant habit and flower power of impatiens is so pleasing and versatile; they are often mass planted in garden beds and landscapes for a shot of color. They are also a frequent choice for shady window boxes, hanging baskets, and combination planters.

In recent seasons, Downy Mildew has become an issue in many areas. With the introduction of Downy Mildew Resistant Impatiens, the Beacon® and Imara XDR™ series will have you saying "Welcome Back!" to your favorite shade-loving flowering annual!

BEACON® SERIES

The Beacon series has been bred, tested, and confirmed for high resistance to currently known populations of Plasmopara obducens, which cause Impatiens Downy Mildew. Plant structure and flower size is similar to Super Elfin, all with great garden performance and season-long color. Visit BeaconImpatiens.com for more information. Harris Seeds and Customer Responsibilities

Variety Selection & Cultural Practices

The varietal descriptions and cultural information in this catalog are based on the observations and experience of our employees, associates, and suppliers. We strive to present the varietal and cultural information you need to choose appropriate varieties and raise them successfully.

Customer results may differ from our printed information as growing conditions vary considerably depending upon geographic location, soil type, climatic conditions, pest or disease pressures, and cultural practices.

We recommend that you consult your state's agricultural extension service for varietal suggestions and cultural information specific to your local area. Although we do our utmost to provide accurate, helpful information and advice, you alone are ultimately responsible for the success or failure of your crops.

Plant Diseases

Many flower and vegetable species are susceptible to serious seed- and soil-borne diseases. Our seed is carefully grown, treated, and/or tested to prevent seed-borne infection. Despite our best efforts, we are unable to guarantee absolute freedom from seed-borne disease, nor soil-borne organisms from attacking plants during growth. We try to offer superior varieties with resistance and/or intermediate resistance to diseases whenever such varieties are available and adapted to your conditions. We urge you to look for these features as you plan your seed purchases.

Oasis Cubes

Great for hydroponic production, the sterile media arrives pathogen-free to help reduce disease and insect problems. Media maintains the original air porosity: the cells do not compact after continual watering. All Horticultures® media is manufactured in a "sheet" style, which fits easily into the industry's standard 1020 trays. Each sheet is pre-scored for easy separation of a single cube, a block of cubes, or a strip of cubes. All sheets below are top grooved unless indicated.

Oasis Horticultures®

Horticultures are specially engineered for hydroponic seed germination of vegetables and herbs. The higher drainage design helps maintain an ideal air/water balance, even under heavy watering conditions, and keeps the top of the media drier, minimizing algae growth. The low density foam medium enables superior root growth. Sheets are pre-dibbled with seed holes for uniformity in depth and spacing.

It is the first hydroponic medium to dramatically improve root penetration and seedling top growth by 35%. LIGHT REQUIREMENTS FOR GERMINATION

Many vegetables and flowers require light for seed germination. It is important to check your seed packet to see if light is a requirement. If so, these seeds should be sown on top of the soil or very lightly covered to ensure they receive enough light. Another common problem people new to seed starting face is spindly plants that fall over. When seeds are started indoors or outside under very short days, artificial lighting is a must. Lights should be placed very close to each flat, approximately 1½ or 2 inches from the plants. The close proximity of the light ensures that the plants do not stretch toward the light but rather stay healthy and stocky.
