Designing gardens to inspire

A warm welcome

Hi, I'm Victoria and I am a holistic garden designer.

My mission is achieved when everyone can celebrate the poetry of nature and enjoy a garden that resonates with their soul.

01 Why work with me?

Studio Hummingbird's vision is to rethink gardens and move from a consumer and waste mindset to a more in-tune with nature and balanced lifestyle, so a garden becomes an asset to their well-being and health.

My mission is achieved when everyone can celebrate the poetry of nature and enjoy a garden that resonates with their soul.

02 My Values

Wellbeing - minded

Everyone who has a garden should have a well-being garden. I help our clients to create a garden where they can be their true selves. My gardens are not only the extension of your home, they will become your personal trainer, a therapist, a place to recharge, entertain, socialise and have fun.

Thinking about the environment

Environmental stewardship is at the heart of Studio Hummingbird's philosophy. I encourage sustainable practices, such as using native plants, promoting water conservation, using local suppliers, and minimising waste, to create gardens that harmonise with nature. For you, our children, the future!

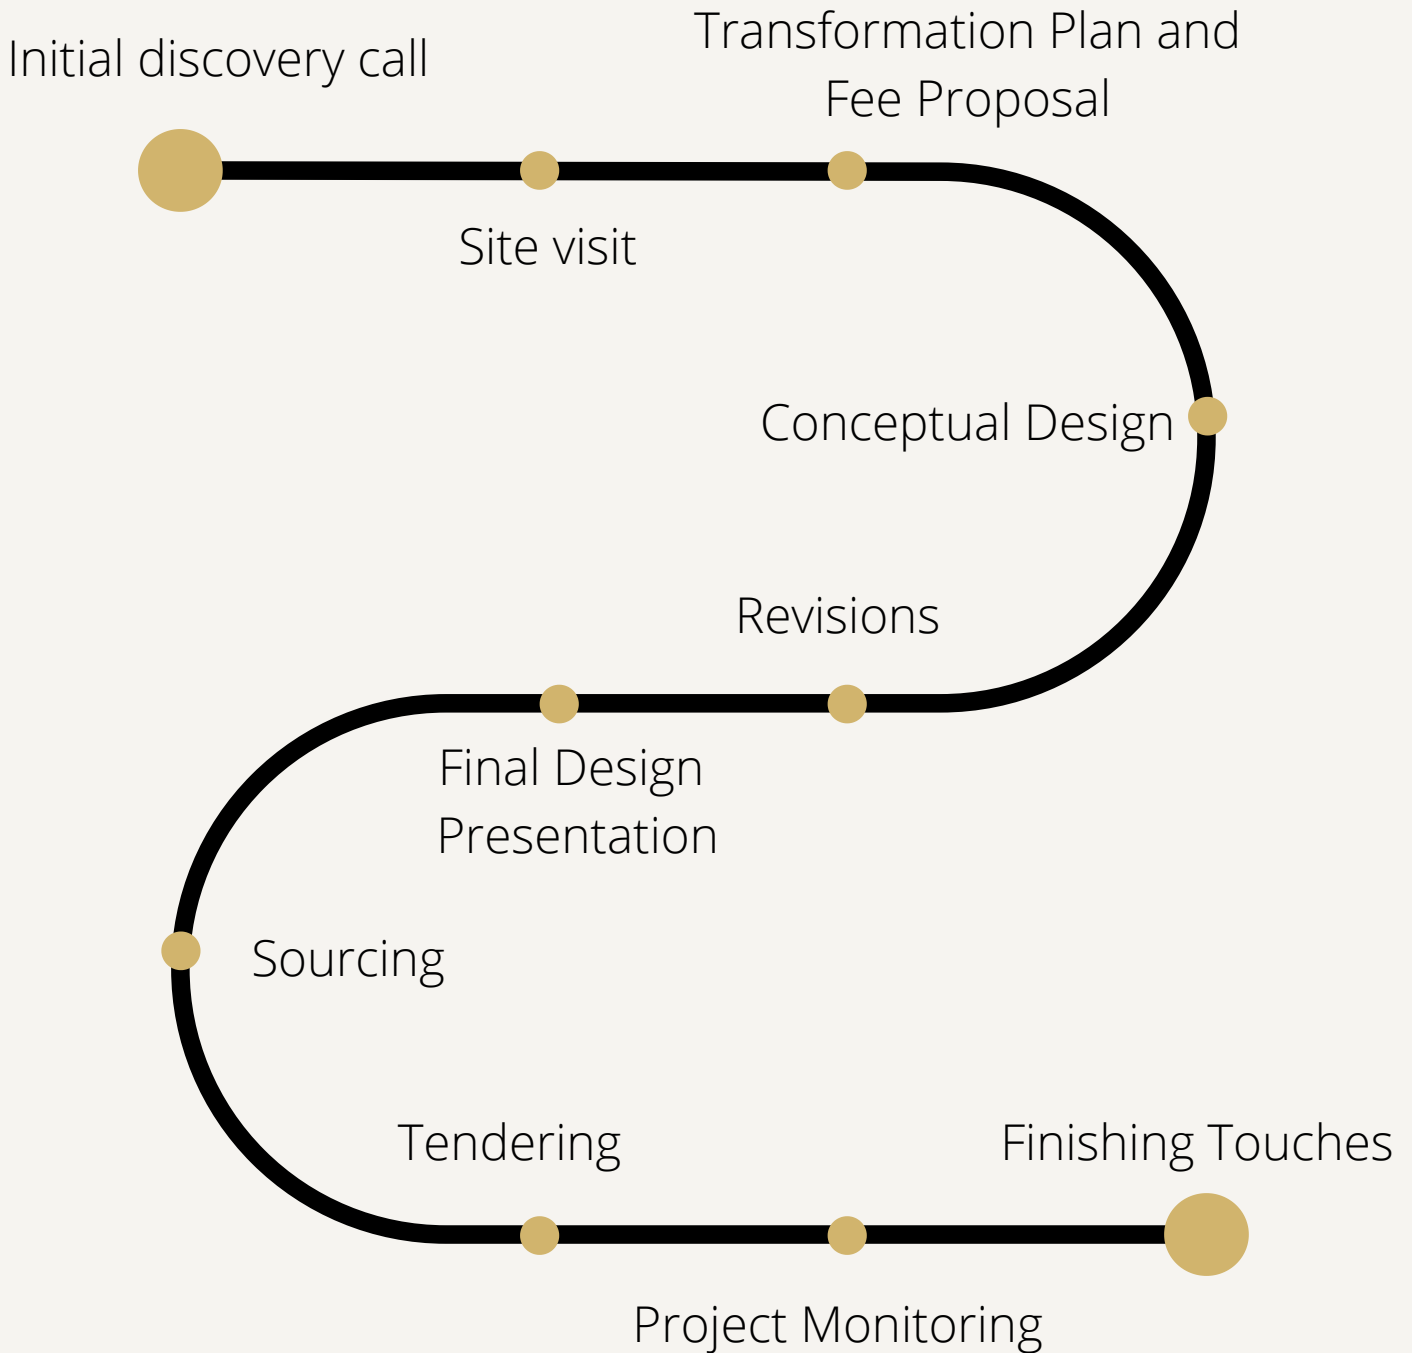

Adaptable to you

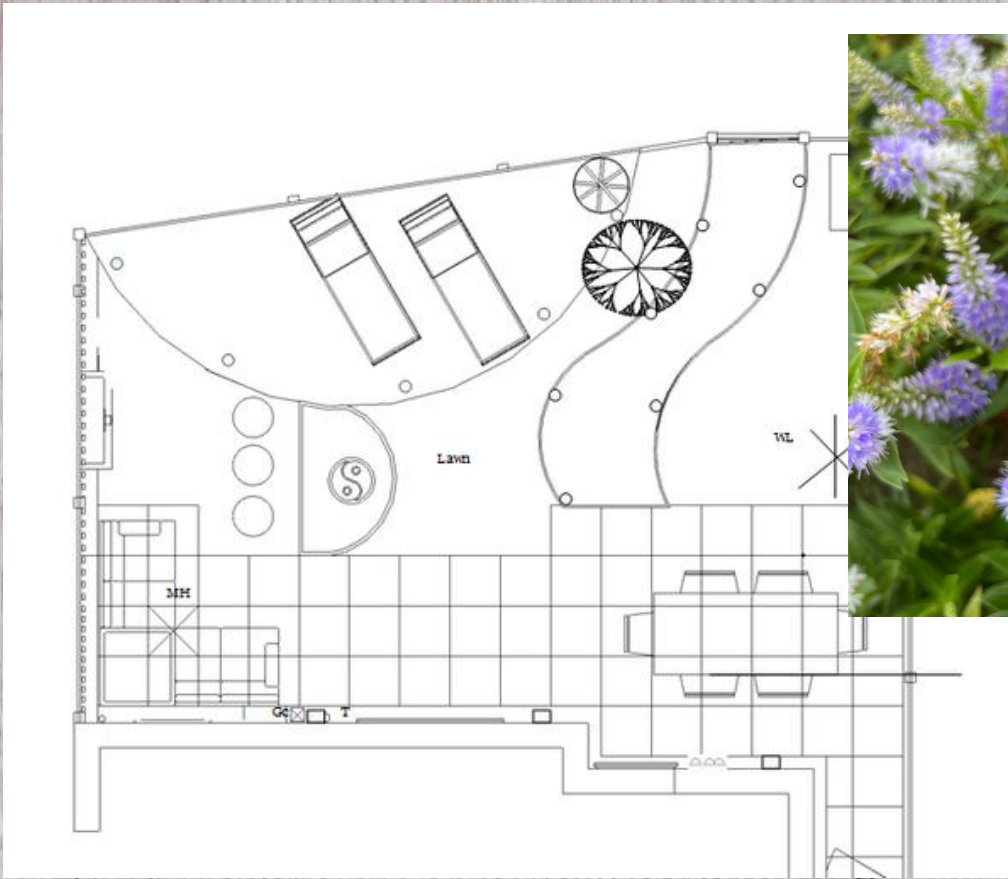

I love listening to your needs and how you can express your true self. It's important to me to achieve a garden you truly love and that's why I will adapt throughout the process.

03 My Process

A step-by-step overview::

What's included in the transformation:

- Initial concept design
- 2 revisions
- Planting scheme and legend
- Lighting plan

- Breathtaking photorealistic 3D images of the key features
- 1 final layout plan in 2D for the landscaper to work off
- 3D video walk-through

- Sourcing of plants
- Liaising, coordinating and monitoring trades

Example of a garden transformation

Victoria was a great help in designing a beautiful and practical new look for our small square plot. She took all our often confusing and conflicting requests and produced a clean simple design which was better than anything we could have imagined. She is particularly good at incorporating scale into her work so that when it is complete our garden will look both bigger and more visually interesting than we could have made it by ourselves. Brava Victoria! We would strongly recommend you!

Tim, Worthing Seafront

I was so happy to have found Victoria Rumens and to have her help me plan my garden. I had a rough idea of what I wanted, but Victoria was able to put my thoughts into a 3D plan so that I could see exactly what the garden would look like. I also found that contractors preferred to have a plan to work from. The whole process from start to finish was a pleasure and Victoria was so helpful and accommodating of any changes I wanted to make. I ended up with a wonderful garden design and a walk-through video that made the plan come alive! The cost was very reasonable and it was worth spending on the plan to prevent costly mistakes on the job.

I would thoroughly recommend using Victoria at Studio Hummingbird for garden planning.

Julie, West Worthing

Victoria of 'Studio Hummingbird' was recommended by our interior designer, who knows her previous work. We were not disappointed. She provided an in depth consultation to establish our aims, needs, style preferences and budget. She presented multi aspect computer generated plans, drawings and walk through designs with suggestions for plants, water feature and patios. Plus, a detailed quote and project schedule. The whole process was collaborative and she willingly accepted and included several of our suggestions. She often works with Eddie King, of King Landscaping Ltd. He & his team were a pleasure to work with. Punctual, informative and very professional. We are delighted with our finished garden and have no hesitation in recommending Victoria & Studio Hummingbird.
