Own Your

Pleasure

I just finished watching "The Principles of Pleasure" on Netflix (highly recommend it) and it made me think how far we have come in terms of openness around sex and pleasure but also how much more education and talking and sharing is needed!

As a woman in my early 40's who now owns and runs a sextoy business I have learnt a hell of a lot over this journey in the last 3 or so years, and still have a lot to learn and grow.

Growing up we didn't talk about sex, in fact I'm still waiting for my sex talk from my mum! We got the basic puberty talk at school and I don't remember Sex Ed from High School apart from putting a condom on a banana and us all being very giggly... It wasn't something we really spoke about with friends unless we had had few drinks but never in great detail.

YOU DON'T KNOW WHAT YOU DON'T KNOW!

Unless we open up and talk about sex, share our experiences with our friends we don't really know what we are missing out on, or if what we are wanting or feeling or experiencing is "normal". If more women came together and opened up about their sex lives we could all help each other to learn and grow in our own sexuality.

You are allowed to want sex, enjoy sex, you are allowed to masturbate, in fact you should, how can someone else know how to please you if you don't know what feels good to you. Trying new things, experimenting is all part of the fun and doing that firstly with yourself opens up a world of fun and pleasure with a partner.

SEX IS PLEASURE, pure and simple. There should be no right or wrongs, no judgments, no shame. The one thing I always say when I'm at a Nauti Party is - "why not give it a go, if you are both into it and consenting then go for it, if you don't enjoy it don't do it again.

If we all talked with our friends more about our bedroom activities, we might actually be surprised that we are not as "freaky" as we thought, they are doing just as "freaky" things if not more so and SEX and PLEASURE really is just a normal part of a healthy relationship..

PUT A RING ON IT

Cockrings - What you need to know.

What are they? Well the name says it all really. Simply they are a ring that is worn around the cock.

Worn around the base of the penis and sometimes the testicles to make erections harder, bigger, and longer-lasting. They can come in a variety of sizes and materials - usually a rubber jelly type or silicone.

Placed on once a partial or full erection has occurred they work by slowing the blood flow back away from the penis allowing for the erection to last longer. Cockrings can be beneficial if the wearer struggles with Erectile Dysfunction, if an erection is not possible at all then the use of a penis pump first may also be an option.

Some penis owners even with no erection issues like to use a cockring as they make your erections harder and stronger, and well who wouldn't want that?

Another benefit of wearing a cockring is it may increase sensation, which can make masturbation, oral sex, and intercourse more pleasurable.

Cock rings slow blood flow and prolong sensation, which can also result in more powerful orgasms - again who doesn't want that!

SAFETY TIPS

Here are some cock ring safety tips to help you get the most out of them without an embarrassing trip to the ER

- If you're using a cock ring for ED, speak to your healthcare provider first to rule out any underlying medical conditions.
- Don't wear a cock ring for more than 20 minutes at a time.
- Use a bit of lube to make the ring easier to get on and off.
- Unless you're using a flexible cock ring, you'll need to choose the right size so it does its job without cutting off circulation.
- Avoid rings made of materials you may be allergic to, such as certain metals or latex.
- Wash cock rings and other sex toys after every use to get rid of bacteria and reduce the risk of STI transmission.
- Take it off if you feel any discomfort or pain, or notice any bruising.

Now we cant discuss cockrings without mentioning the Vibrating Variety. Vibration adds in clitoral stimulation while keeping everyone's hands free. Again they come in a variety of styles, sizes, colours and intensities. Alternatively the cockring could be turned around to give vibration to the balls and taint area of the wearer..
