The Wild Hog RAMBLE

1

1. Razorbasck Stadium. 2. Old U.S. 71 3. AR 74 RR Crossing at Winslow, rider headed to Devils Den. 4. Popular local swimming hole know as Natural Dam. 5. AR 74 is a twisty ride down to Devil's Den State Park. 6. A 60s era Bonneville Chopper at Winslow City Museum. 7. There'se plenty of dirt on the "Back Roads to White Rock Mtn" abd the "Pig Trail"

The Razorbacks got their mascot's moniker in 1910 after the Arkansas Cardinals (the original UA mascot) played a hard fought game against Louisiana State University. Former Arkansas coach Hugo Bezdek said his team "played like a wild band of Razorback hogs"—which in those days were common in the hills and hollows of the Arkansas Ozarks. Much to the dismay of the administration the student body decided they liked the name for a wild hog and voted to change their mascot to "The Razorbacks".

The Wild Hog Ramble story & ride map is sponsored by CruiseTheOzarks.com

Today, the four-city metroplex of Fayetteville, Springdale, Bentonville and Rogers in Northwest Arkansas is a busy center of commerce, home to not only the UA but also Walmart, Tyson Foods, JB Hunt and many other national corporations. And traffic reflects that growth in population and commerce everyday.

But in the rural areas you'll find some great riding and wonderful destinations. And one source of pride and activity throughout the decades has been Razorback athletics, particularly football game day. Arkansas loves their uniquely named mascot.

Before I-49 absorbed the majority of heavy traffic away from the twisty but scenic US 71 to the new four-lane frequent users had a bumper sticker that read "Pray for me...I drive US 71 in Arkansas". But now old US 71 is known as "The Boston Mountains Scenic Byway". And I-49 is very scenic, too. But it an Interstate highway with all the truck and other traffic.

Here are highlights of what you'll see

- Winslow, Ark. (take a loop through the old town)
- Lake Fort Smith • Back roads to White Rock Mtn. (eventually leading to the Pig Trail on AR 23)
- The old town of Rudy • Natural Dam (a popular and unique swimming hole, worth the slight diversion)
- Devil's Den State Park (camping, restaurant, hiking and caves, surrounded by fantastic twisty roads)
- Cane Hill (historic buildings at the home of the first college in Arkansas)

Razr sez...

"Trouble out on the road? Check out these great shops if you or someone in your group is having trouble out there Cruising the Ozarks. It's great to have someone to count on when something unexpected happens."

Ride Map to Real Deal Ozark Country Stores

1. Berryville - Stubbs Grocery, home of the Luther Burger. Opened in the 1930s on the corner of Springfield St. and Freeman St. The Stubbs family bought the business in the mid-1950s and it still in the family.
2. Ponca - Ponca General Store. The rock building is at the northern end of the gorgeous Boxley Valley.
3. Oark - Oark General Store. The oldest continuously operated country store in Arkansas (since 1890)
4. Pelsor - Hankins Country Store has served the Sand Gap/Pelsor community since the 1930s.
5. Gilbert - Gilbert Store. Served as the Post Office, grocery store and the center of gossip and visiting with neighbors since when this community thrived on timber, on the banks of the Buffalo River.
6. Mountain View - Melon's Country Store. This store is the youngest of the stores, but it's been around for half a century and carries all the hallmarks of a 1940s country store. Biker and former owner "Old Melon" used to say that "It's 1,000 miles from my front door to Datyona, and 1,000 miles to Sturgis." He alternated years heading north and the next year south. He loved to play his homemade gourd fiddle.
