A passionate family business

Introducing the mother-daughter duo behind Stences

Being a mother-daughter duo, our deep bond and unique understanding of each other naturally led us to embark on a collaborative journey. With Pia's structured mindset and Thea's innate creativity as an esthetician, we form an excellent team.

As a brand, we are driven to challenge the norms of classic Nordic design, infusing it with our playful shapes and vibrant colour combinations. Every piece is made with great respect for our talented suppliers and with a commitment to carefully select materials that ensure longevity.

Our ultimate goal is for our products to transcend generations. To reach this goal, we produce limited collections of high-quality items that with proper care and affection will continue to radiate joy for a lifetime.

FUN FACT ABOUT OUR BRAND NAME: "Stences" is derived from our shared middle name, "Christence," which serves as a tribute to Pia's grandmother and holds a special place in our hearts.

We are proud of the fact that our entire collection is either partially or fully hand-made adding a unique look and feel to each object.

Inspiration

The idea for a new product can appear in thousands of ways. As creative people, we observe shapes, colours, and materials everywhere. Sometimes the idea for a new product is crystal clear inside our mind, but other times the idea generation process can be quite long and tricky.

Design process

Every single one of our products is uniquely drawn and designed by Thea Bækkelund. The design process always starts with a blank piece of paper and a pen. Simple as that. When the idea starts taking shape, the design is digitally drawn in 3D and rendered to get a realistic view on the final design. Then every little detail, such as dimensions, materials and colours are specified in a work drawing, which is sent to our suppliers. The process from first idea to final product easily takes a year.

Production

When the work drawings have reached our suppliers, they start making a prototype of each design. Sometimes a lot of adjustments are needed, and sometimes we are lucky that the first one is spot-on. When the prototype has been physically approved by us, the real production is started. Everything is made with great respect for the process and, of course, our supplier.

Patience

We respect that quality takes time. We would rather wait for the perfect result than push something through. Each and every product is fully or partly handmade. For example each of our glass vases are mouthblown into a steel mold, specially made from our drawings. A long, breathtaking process. Therefore minor variations in colour, shape, thickness etc. will occur making sure that every object is unique.
