Christmas comes once year..
..but you shouldn't!

Santa had an inkling that he may have arrived at Karen and Ian's at a slightly inappropriate moment!

I can't believe that right now, Santa's elves are making me a dildo.

I LOVE CHRISTMAS.

PENIS PUMPS

Erectile dysfunction is a common problem, especially following prostate surgery and in older men.

Penis pumps can be a good erectile dysfunction treatment for several reasons:

- Penis pumps are effective. With practice and correct use, the majority of men can get an erection sufficient for sex.
- Penis pumps pose less of a risk than do other treatments. The risk of side effects or complications is lower than it is with any other erectile dysfunction treatment.
- The overall cost is lower. After the initial purchase, using a penis pump costs less than any other erectile dysfunction treatment.
- Penis pumps are noninvasive. They don't require surgery, inserting medication into the tip of your penis or penile injections.
- Penis pumps can be used with other treatments. A penis pump can be used along with medications or a penile implant. For some men, a combination of erectile dysfunction treatments works best.
- Using a penis pump might help you regain erectile function after certain procedures. For example, using a penis pump might help restore your ability to get a natural erection after prostate surgery or radiation therapy for prostate cancer.

How do they work

Penis pump devices work using a vacuum that draws blood into the penis's blood vessels to create an erection. Often a cock ring is included that sits at the base of the penis, keeping everything rock hard until you remove it. But only leave it on for 30 minutes max!

Types of Penis Pumps

An affordable and easy to use penis pump perfect for beginners and intermediate users. This simple design makes it incredibly easy to use and clean making it the perfect beginner's penis pump.

This set includes 2 powerful suction pumps, a detachable hose and a single-handed Master Grip™ pump handle to deliver maximum results with every pump session. With every squeeze of the Master-Grip™ single-handed pump, you can look forward to powerful girth and length increase.

This extra-large smart pump has easy-touch controls, and a quick air release button for customizable pumping. While the thick open-end sleeve and tight, nubbed chamber give you sinful stroking pleasure with or without the pump

A digital penis pump enlarger, the Mojo G-Force features a precision measurement system, a finely crafted transparent cylinder, and a PSI reader along with its extreme suction power.

With flexible wings that tuck under the labia while Eva II sits on top, you can have clitoral stimulation during penetrative sex. Eva II is smaller, lighter, and simple to use - plus, it's totally waterproof, and comes with a sleek charging base/travel case to boot.

EVA II

First impression: LOVE!

Review by Grace R. on 26 Sep 2021 review stating First impression: LOVE!

I have used this once with my husband and UGH I cannot wait to keep trying it out! It's surprisingly easy to put in place. The silicone is super soft, no rough edges or any uncomfortable feeling! The 3 different vibration settings will be fun to explore, but WOO that highest setting is strong 😊 Anyway, I love the idea that I don't have to worry about holding a vibe during sex! Hopefully it only gets better from here!

PILLOW TALK

With JONI MORRISSEY

What is a fetish or kink? Is my fetish normal?

A fetish can be defined as anything that triggers feelings of sexual desire in a person that is usually nonsexual. A fetish is when something completely ordinary brings you great pleasure and fulfilment sexually. As well as having a fetish for something (like feet), you can also have a fetish for a place (such as sex in public); or you might have a fetish for a texture, such as latex. Defining fetishes as those that are outside the norms doesn't mean every out-of-the-box sexual desire can be termed a fetish. I believe there is a line separating something that is a fetish from something that is just kind of fun. As a true fetish, there must be an associated sex act that triggers your desire for the object or act. For example, if you enjoy getting spanked occasionally or even regularly, that does not mean you have an actual spanking fetish, which is the act of dominating that gets a person off.

Why do we have these sexual kinks and quirks? "Fetishes are generally thought to be learned behaviours where a person associates a certain object with sexual arousal through experience," Your fetish may have been formed in childhood or adolescence, or you may have discovered it as an adult. I always urge people to be curious and to try new things because they don't know if they're into them until they try them."

Bringing up your sexual fetishes with a new partner can be tricky, partly because of a general misunderstanding of fetishes. Our own fetishes can cause us to feel shame because we don't understand them. However, there's no need to feel shame. First of all, you don't choose your fetish. Second, they're extremely common.

Unlike other words, fetish has a long and distinguished history. "Feitico" comes from the Portuguese word meaning obsession. A fetish is today considered a recurring fantasy, desire, or behaviour that is sexually compelling and lasts at least six months. There are various types of fetishes, from sexually manifested to non-sexually manifested. In simple terms, sexual fetishes are just a type of paraphilia, or atypical behaviour, which includes non-traditional activities such as cross-dressing and dominance.

Is My Fetish Normal?

The notion that certain sexual preferences and desires are 'abnormal' is controversial because what is considered "normal" differs across cultures and changes over time; there is no agreed-upon definition as to what constitutes paraphilia.

Despite the prevalence of certain fetishes, human sexuality is highly individualized: Almost anything can be a fetish: feet, fur coats, diapers, pee, bugs, menstrual blood, mythical creatures like unicorns and dragons, bicycles, bondage, watching or being watched during sex, and more. Having sexual interests is a normal part of you!

WHEN SEX WORK MEETS ART MEETS CHALLENGING STIGMA

Sex workers of Aotearoa (SWoA)

is an annual, non for profit, community art exhibition for sex workers. It was started by Jordan Quinn, who after being interviewed in 2018 for a TVNZ documentary titled "The Secret Life of Sex Workers", questioned why it was always outsiders to the industry reproducing our stories and not sex workers themselves telling our stories? Obviously its due to stigma and the fact it would require doxing oneself in order to be "out".

So, Jordan started SWoA in 2019, an art exhibition where all the artwork is created by sex workers of New Zealand.

The theme for SWoA is "A Day in the Life of" and encourages sex workers to share all manner of stories, experiences and nuances of their day to day life. The way SWoA is run ultimately aims to protect the identities of the people involved, so they can participate and have their voices heard without it being detrimental to themselves.

Art is a non-threatening medium and allows us as a minority community to reach out and interact with the public in a way that's not detrimental to ourselves but is also welcoming. The goal of SWoA is always to challenge stigmas and stereotypes and to get the discourse about our industry started from people who know it best - us - the sex workers.

OUR 2021 EXHIBITION IN REFLECTION

In July of this year the Sex Workers of Aotearoa art exhibition travelled to Christchurch and was held in the Pūmanawa community exhibition space of The Arts Centre. Almost 1000 visitors attended the show over a 2-week period, and unlike previous years, the gallery was manned by those in the business, which allowed for in depth and knowledgeable conversations with those who had questions.

Every year the public votes in the People's Choice Awards, and prizes are given to the top 3 most voted for artworks. This year our sponsors included Nauti NZ, Sea Ache, Kate Lister and NZ Pleasures.

First place - Madonna or the Whore, Jordan Quinn

Second place - Who Am I?, Amy Maxine

Third place - MIUF (Mother I Used to Fuck), Celine and Lily

Our fourth exhibition will be held in Wellington for 2022. Wellington is where it first began in 2019 and it will be almost nostalgic to host SWoA in the capital again, as though the exhibition has come full circle.

Details for the 2022 exhibition, dates, location and how to enter will be updated at www.swoa.co.nz

You can follow SWoA and stay in the loop via the following channels
