Welcome to Summer Intercol 2026

ST PETER'S
COLLEGE

Welcome to the fields and courts of Prince Alfred College. Whilst our two great schools have been competing against each other since 1871, this year we are playing for the 150th time in our Cricket Intercol which is played over four days. In the first year, we played each other twice and will therefore come together to celebrate the 150th year in 2027. I encourage you to not only watch your son or grandson's game but to also drop in and see other boys in action and chat with spectators from both schools as we celebrate the bond between our two schools.

Mr Browning and I are proud of how our two schools and our students compete against each other, while also valuing the relationships and friendships that unite us. Together, we work to ensure our boys understand their responsibility to honour our history and the custodianship they hold of this rivalry and bond.

Next term, PAC and SPSC are co-hosting the International Boys' Schools Coalition regional conference that will explore and examine best practice in boys' education and provide a wonderful platform for sharing ideas.

Congratulations to the grounds team and all the coaches and officials for their hard work and dedication through the season. They have guided our boys in the ongoing development of their skills, fitness and character. Within our two schools we impress upon our boys the importance of playing these Intercols under the umbrella of sportsmanship and humility. They provide an example to the younger students within our communities. Mr Browning and I are united in continuing to ensure these standards are upheld by our students and spectators.

We look forward to seeing you around the grounds and wish all boys and coaches the best for the week ahead.

David Roberts | Headmaster
Prince Alfred College

The Summer Intercol fixtures represent one of the most enduring traditions shared between St Peter's College and Prince Alfred College. First contested in 1871, this long-standing rivalry continues to strengthen the connection between our two schools and the communities that support them.

Each generation of students becomes a custodian of this historic contest, contributing to a legacy spanning 155 years. Across the seven days of competition, hundreds of students will represent their school across eight summer sports, reflecting the breadth and strength of our co-curricular programs.

Intercol remains a highlight of the school calendar not only for those competing, but for the many families, old scholars and students who gather to support them. The renewed enthusiasm for spectating in recent years has been particularly encouraging. Sport is elevated when we honour others with our presence, taking an interest in their efforts, sharing in their experiences and showing appreciation for their commitment and preparation.

Healthy competition plays an important role in the development and wellbeing of our students. Through sport, young people learn resilience, teamwork and perspective, and these occasions provide an opportunity to pursue excellence while supporting one another with respect and good spirit.

I thank Headmaster Mr David Roberts and the staff of Prince Alfred College for hosting this year's Summer Intercol and for the work involved in preparing the fixtures and extending hospitality to our students, staff and families. I also acknowledge the many coaches, staff, officials and volunteers whose dedication and guidance make these opportunities possible for our students.

While the results will no doubt be followed closely among students and supporters alike, it is the character, sportsmanship and spirit of participation that should remain the defining features of the occasion. I encourage all participants and spectators to represent their community with humility, integrity and respect.

I wish all competitors the very best for the fixtures ahead.

Tim Browning | Headmaster
