Winchelsea community rebuilds their mud hut for family fun

Alison Dean

Winchelsea . We made the mud ... to build the walls

Thank-you Winchelsea Community for working together to build the cob walls and strengthening our community!

Winchelsea community came together this week to build cob walls for our mud hut. Over 300 local participants and many more passers through took part in building the walls of our picnic shelter.

Last weekend it began with musical mud stomps to make the mud for our walls. That mud was used as bricks, glue and filler as we raised the walls, one level at a time. The first section has begun to be rendered, while the last wall sections are finished off this weekend. The walls built this weekend will be rendered by the community in the following weeks.

Winchelsea Primary School students, some from Deans Marsh Primary and our kinder kids all had a chance to stomp, dance and play in the mud, as hard work turned into child's play and then into mud blobs which were passed to made mud bricks, to build the wall. We have also had a youth night this week and several family sessions.

People have played together in the mud and new friendships have been made through the mud. Several of us are looking into developing a Winchelsea community cob group where we can support each other with small cob projects at home - watch this space or contact me for more information.

Matilda from mud fun led us in a funky tune that went like this, "We make the mud, to make thde blobs, to pass the blobs, to make the bricks, to build the wall", while our local Nic from Krazy Koala accompanied with his sweet tunes.

I look forward to hearing all the stories of the experiences that we have shared to build the walls together.

COVID is still with us!

Judy Cameron

I am recovering from COVID. Luckily, at my age, I was able to get a script for the antivirals so the symptoms were not too bad. I think of COVID as a Winter affliction so haven't been masking up.

Currently, from the Victorian Health Department website:

Key messages

- COVID-19 is a leading cause of death in Australia.
- The ongoing and significant burden of disease is driven by continued viral evolution and waning population immunity.
- The impacts of COVID-19 can be limited through vaccination, antiviral treatment and non-pharmacological interventions that limit transmission such as testing, case isolation, mask wearing, and ventilation improvements.
- It is estimated that 5-10% of people with COVID go on to develop post-acute COVID symptoms and conditions.
- Pathology laboratories must notify COVID-19 results.
- Residential care facilities, including aged and disability residential care, are at higher risk from COVID-19 outbreaks and should notify outbreaks to enable the provision of support.

So make sure your vaccines are up to date – and mask up! The easiest way to avoid breathing in germ particles!

Winchelsea welcomes Cindy Hirst, new owner of Sweet Thyme Cafe

Janet Bond

One of Cindy Hirst's favourite pastimes is to drop into country cafes and try their coffee.

It was on one of those relaxed country outings, that she and husband John discovered Winchelsea's popular Sweet Thyme Café in Main Street Winchelsea.

"I just love coffee and sitting in coffee shops, so we stopped in this one and saw that it had a for-sale sign. So, we started researching and then came back and sat again. Just like we are today, sitting up in this corner," she recalls.

"I just watched the team from afar – watched how things were done, how things worked, how the staff and customers interacted."

Cindy loved the vibe of the busy café and the obvious connection with the community. She says it was like watching a family. Last week Cindy took over the ownership of the Sweet Thyme Café from Nicola Wilkinson and husband Danny Ehmer after a fairly lengthy sale process.

The business was first advertised last May as an "owner-operated upmarket eatery serving homemade food in the growing town of Winchelsea, producing strong six-figure returns with a team of casual employees from a heritage building that was previously a bank."

A mother-of-two and experienced hospitality manager, Cindy has been running the popular Little Teapot Café & Play in Lara. She and John plan to stay living in Lara for the meantime, because his work is based in Melbourne.

But Cindy is excited about her new venture and has been delighted by the warm welcome she's received. She admits she has some plans for the cafe, but they're not imminent.

"We're leaving it as Nicola and Dan had it at this point in time. It's not broke - it works very, very well.

"It's got variety, it's homemade and it's made with love," she says, adding that Nicola had passed on her recipes.

"I suppose the gift they have given me is the café, but also the community here."

"Community is so important," she said. "We all need community, we were never meant to be alone, were we?"

Last week, Nicola posted a moving message to the Winchelsea community after handing over the keys to Cindy in preparation for her and Danny's trip around Australia.

"Danny and I can't fully express our gratitude to everyone who has supported us during our time at the café. It has been an absolute joy to serve you, share in your stories, and become a part of this wonderful community. We have learned so much, and worked with an amazing team of staff, without you we could not have had such a successful business.

"We are truly thankful to you all, you will forever hold a special place in our hearts and memories.

"We wish Cindy every success in her own journey at Sweet Thyme Cafe, knowing that under her care she will look after our community and continue to grow this amazing café."

Grasping the opportunities

"I fell in love with food since moving to Australia in 2014," said Cinthya Sabillon, Proprietor of La Caseta. "Watching cooking shows like Master Chef, discovering new vegetables like celeriac, parsnip, turnips, etc., and being exposed to such a variety of multicultural food was an inspiration to learn to cook and experiment with flavours. However, after trying and cooking food from around the world. I missed my Honduran food. For years, I was always on the search for Latin American restaurants, usually only finding Mexican places. They weren't bad, but none of them were truly authentic. That's when I started to think—what if I introduced Honduran food to Australia? I mean, why not? There's nothing like it here, and it would be nice to be the pioneer of Honduran food in Australia."

The absence of authentic Latin American food in Australia. combined with the inability to attend a local community market by a friend, gave Cinthya the opportunity to fill in the spot and trial selling Honduran food in Australia. This led to the creation of the first Honduran food business in the country, right here in Winchelsea.

"Due to visa limitations and lengthy delays, I worked casually in kitchens as a cook, and I loved it. It felt more like a hobby than a job, and I was good at it-still am. I was lucky to work with amazing chefs who taught me a lot about cooking and business." But it wasn't until 2021 that she finally started her own food business. At her first market, within two hours, she sold out of her authentic Honduran food.

With a Master's in Finance under her belt, Cinthya set off to travel the world. While visiting San Francisco, she met Chris, her partner and strongest supporter. After some time traveling together, they settled and bought a home in Winchelsea. "Growing up in Honduras, I used to help my dad and my grandmother at their small businesses, either in sales or taking inventory. Somehow, having this experience at a young age also gave me the confidence to start my own business," Cinthya continues.

In her business, Cinthya wears many hats—from marketer, bookkeeper, to online salesperson. In 2023, she received validation of her culinary skills in traditional Honduran cuisine at the World Food Championships in the Australia Vegetarian section. "So far we've introduced Honduran Food to thousands of Australians and I hope over time it becomes a popular alternative to Mexican cuisine." says Cinthya.

In conclusion, Cinthya's journey illustrates the transformative power of seizing opportunities in life and business. Her story shows that success comes to those willing to step outside their comfort zones. By recognizing and acting on opportunities, Cinthya achieved her professional goals and fostered personal growth. Her experience emphasizes the need to be proactive and adaptable in a changing business landscape, reminding us that the best rewards often lie beyond uncertainty, and with courage and determination, anyone can succeed

By participating in the upcoming International Women's Day event, attendees can gain insights from Cinthya's experiences and learn about the various roles women play in business and culinary arts. Her story not only inspires aspiring entrepreneurs but also emphasizes the impact of cultural diversity in the food industry.

We're so excited for this event, especially because Cinthya will be catering! You'll get to enjoy her delicious food while taking part in fun activities and great conversations.

Come along and be inspired by our panel of guest speakers at our International Women's Day Brunch in Winchelsea, being held on Tuesday, March 18, 2025, proudly supported by the Community Bank, Growing Winchelsea, and the Surf Coast Shire. Who knows—you may be influenced to get involved in our Winchelsea Business Network!

Letter to the Editor

The state of the roads in the Winchelsea area

Dear Editor

The road network is rapidly falling apart.

The Princes Highway has had speed restrictions in place since September 2024 due to large pot holes. Not all drivers are following the speed restrictions making this a chaotic place to negotiate. There has been limited patching of the surface since the signs went into place making the holes in the left hand lane bigger and bigger on a daily basis. Other sections of the road are rapidly deteriorating.

The only thing in our favour has been the lack of rain. The next large rain event will likely see the road deteriorate within weeks. It is only a matter of time before we end up with the entire road restricted to 80km/hr. A road surface in this state has massive implications on tire, rim, suspension and vehicle damage.

The Winchelsea-Lorne road is in an even worse state of repair. Speed restrictions have been in place even longer on this road. There is work occurring to improve this surface, however for some reason it is not occurring on the sections of the road that have the most damage.

This road is particularly dangerous for motorcycles which are the canaries in the system when it comes to road surfaces. A poor road surface can unsettle a motorcycle and can lead to loss of control and catastrophic crashes. This road is a very high motorcycle use road and should be addressed as soon as is possible.

The poor road surfaces also go against the safe system approach adopted by road safety in Australia.

Shares available in your local Community Bank

Matilda Pink, Branch Manager, Community Bank · Anglesea, Lorne and Winchelsea

Back in 2002 the second of two of the major banks closed its doors in Winchelsea leaving the town without any banking services at a time when the need for physical banking was very high.

This meant that local people and businesses had to travel to either Geelong or Colac to do their banking, which often also resulted in people doing their shopping and buying other services outside of the township which had a huge impact on local businesses.

In response to the closure of the banks, a local steering committee was formed with an aim to establish a Community Bank branch, a locally owned branch bank branch which operates under franchise to the Bendigo Bank.

This involved demonstrating local demand by people pledging to move their bank accounts, and raising capital by people purchasing shares to establish a bank branch to get it up and

This was successful and a locally owned a public company was established with local volunteer directors and local shareholders, and the Winchelsea & District Community bank branch was opened in 2003.

The Community Bank branch was like no other bank branch, it was community owned not only providing banking services but also distributing its profits back to the local community groups and shareholders in the form of dividends.

22 years later, the local Community Bank company, Corangamite Financial Services Ltd has grown to 3 branches in Winchelsea, Anglesea and Lorne, has 19 employees and 9 volunteer Directors (4 of whom started the original company), holds almost $500m in banking business, returned over $4.5m to the local community groups across the Surf Coast Shire.

You too can own shares in Corangamite Financial Services Ltd. There are approx. 500 locally connected shareholders, many of whom are the original investors from 22 years that have received annual dividends and are the foundation for all the good things that the Community Bank has done.

These shares have been tightly held for many years but as time has passed some of our original shareholders are leaving their shareholdings as part of their legacy, creating opportunities for new community members to become owners and continue supporting the local Community Bank.

If you would like to become a Community Bank shareholder or would like further information contact us.

Winchelsea Gardeners Meet

Tash Craven

We're giving our Produce Swap a little refresh! From now on, we're calling it the Winchelsea Gardeners Meet (and produce swap) because while swapping is great, the real heart of it has always been about bringing together people who love growing things. And we don't want to discourage those who dont have veggies. to not come.

So whether your garden is overflowing or you just love chatting about gardening, come along! No need to bring anything, just yourself. Grab a coffee, meet some like-minded locals, and have a good chat about all things gardening. If you do have something to share, that's a bonus, but it's definitely not a requirement.

- Second Sunday of each month
- 9-10 AM
- 5 Main St, Winchelsea (Next to Barwon Hotel)

Would love to see you there! with Sean Hopgood and Michael Wood.

Non-voters asked to explain why they didn't vote in the 2024 local council elections

Victorian Electoral Commission

The Victorian Electoral Commission (VEC) is urging Victorians not to ignore a request for an explanation as to why they appear not to have voted in the last local council elections in October 2024.

The VEC has issued 530,000 'Apparent failure to vote notices' and recipients must respond by the 28-day deadline with a detailed explanation.

This is an opportunity to avoid a fine if non-voters provide a detailed response with supporting documentation. The penalty is $99.

Electoral Commissioner Sven Bluemmel said 'If you need help understanding what the notice means and what you need to do, you can call us on 1300 551 575 or visit vec.vic.gov.au.'

'Also sign up to our VoterAlert service, to make sure you're notified when there's a state or local council election you need to vote in.'

The VEC issued VoterAlert reminders by SMS and email at key points in the election to 2.5 million enrolled voters who had provided their details. They included reminders on the close of roll date and a reminder to vote. People can sign up at any time to be reminded to vote in all future state and local council elections at: vec.vic.gov.au/VoterAlert.

Safe and fair workplaces for women

Victorian State Government

The Victorian Government leads the nation on gender equality – but women still face disproportionate levels of harassment, discrimination, abuse and underpayment at work.

Minister for Women Natalie Hutchins today announced a $5.5 million investment in a new Safe Workplaces for Women Initiative, which will change culture and attitudes to women in the workplace.

Working in partnership with both employees and employers through Victorian Trades Hall Council (VTHC), the Victorian Chamber of Industry and Commerce (VCCI) and the Working Women's Centre Victoria, the initiative will drive action to make sure people understand their rights, their legal obligations and can access support.

Victorian Trades Hall Council will deliver safe workplaces training and conduct outreach with women workers to respond to the issues impacting them at work.

The Victorian Chamber of Industry and Commerce will be supported to work with small to medium size businesses to understand their legal obligations and address important gender issues in the workplace.

The Working Women's Centre Victoria will use funding to expand their rural and regional outreach services so that every woman across Victoria can access legal support and services.

The Safe Workplaces for Women Initiative is part of the Strengthening Women's Safety Package announced last year - driving action at every stage to better respond to victims, deliver a stronger justice response that holds offenders to account, and continuing our world-leading prevention response.

RACV

RACV is advising Victorians to be aware of wildlife on the roads to help ensure their safety and avoid vehicle damage.

Wildlife Victoria data shows the number of animals killed or injured by a vehicle in Victoria has surged in the past four years, with 15,206 wildlife "hit by a vehicle" in the year ending 30 June 2024. This is a 43% increase on the previous year, although the number could be much higher because many incidents are not reported.

RACV Head of Motor Insurance and Roadside Products, Kirsty Hayes, encouraged Victorian drivers to be aware of wildlife while driving and adopt a number of safe driving practices. "6,969 claims involved impact with an animal in 2024," she said. "By looking out for wildlife and driving at a safe speed you can reduce your chances of hitting an animal."

How to avoid hitting wildlife and what to do if you do:

- Reduce your speed. This will give you a greater response time and braking distance which could help you avoid an animal collision. If you do spot an animal on the road, slow down and prepare to brake if necessary. Avoid trying to swerve around the animal as you may lose control of your vehicle.
- Avoid driving at dusk and dawn when many native species are most active. If you do have to drive at this time, ensure you actively look ahead and use high beams in poor visibility – however ensure you dim them if you see a car approaching.
- If you do hit wildlife, safely park your vehicle off the road, turn on your hazards and check that you and your passengers are unharmed before checking on the animal. If anyone is injured, call 000.
- Call Wildlife Victoria on 03 8400 7300 to report the incident.
   Their Emergency Response Service will provide free advice and assistance, 24/7.
- If you're concerned that the injured or dead animal will create a hazard for other road users, there are other services that may be able to assist. If you're on a toll road, contact the operator. For major roads, call VicRoads, and on local roads contact the local council (if it's during office hours).

New laws make renting fairer

Victorian State Government

The Victorian Government's strong new rental protection laws have passed the Victorian Parliament – making renting fairer for Victorians and building on the more than 130 reforms introduced since 2021.

The Consumer and Planning Legislation Amendment (Housing Statement Reform) Bill 2024 delivers reforms to increase renter protections and cements Victoria as the best state in the nation for renters rights. This includes:

- Stopping all types of rental bidding to ensure renters are getting a fair price.
- Changing the notice period from 60 to 90 days, giving renters more time when they receive a notice of rental increase or notice to vacate.
- Banning no fault evictions so renters can't be kicked out of their home for no reason.
- New simplified standard application form for renters.
- Real estate agents will need to ensure they protect the information renters provide in their applications, adhering to privacy requirements.
- It will be an offence for renters to be charged fees by rent tech platforms when making a rental application or for paying their rent.
- Real estate agents, property managers, owners corporations managers and conveyancers will be required to be registered and undertake ongoing professional development.
- Penalties for real estate agents and sellers who break the law will be increased to a maximum of $47,422. These fines will apply to underquoting – advertising a price below the auction reserve or asking price – and making false and misleading representations during the property sale process.
- Annual smoke alarm safety checks will be mandatory for all rental properties
- The Director of Consumer Affairs and VCAT will have additional powers when considering rent increase reviews.
- It will be mandatory for properties to meet minimum standards when advertised for rent, not when the tenant picks up the keys.

The new laws will come into effect in November with additional reforms announced last October to be introduced in a Bill later this year.

WINCHELSEA GUN CLUB

Sandra Jones

With 240 members, the Gun Club was formed in 1954 to assist in the training of persons in safety and marksmanship at a controlled clay target range, to equip them to hunt foxes as a service to local farmers.

Prior to that time those skills could be attained while hunting rabbits. Denied of their readily available food source foxes then turned their attention to native wildlife, farm animals and poultry.

From these early beginnings the Winchelsea Fox Hunters was formed. As of 2015 12,000 foxes had been eradicated from farms in the immediate region. Most of those hunting foxes are or have been members of Winchelsea Gun Club.

In 1979 when the Club was reformed it received strong support from the Shire.

However in 2015 the Shire refused to grant them a planning permit. They directed the Club to leave the Winchelsea Common in Feb 2013. The club investigated many other sites but none was found.

Two girls who competed as juniors went on to represent Australia at the Olympics.

In addition substantial funds to the Winchelsea Lions Club were generated through its catering services to the Club which also conducted a special annual fund raising event for the Winchelsea Hospital.

Amnesty for kerbside waste bins

Surf Coast Shire Council is holding a bin amnesty to collect extra unpaid kerbside waste bins.

Each household pays a waste charge through their rates for collection of four bins, one for each type of kerbside waste that is collected: red lidded bin for landfill, yellow lidded bin for recycling, lime green lidded bin for FOGO (Food Organics and Garden Organics) and purple lidded bin for glass only.

Households can request extra bins or upgrade to a larger size bin with user pays fees applying to cover costs. The bins should stay at a property when it is sold and council notified.

"Collecting unpaid kerbside waste bins is a cost to the community, with ratepayers covering the cost for others," said Chris Pike, General Manager, Placemaking and Environment.

"We want to ensure the system is working effectively and fair for everyone, so we're making some changes. All households that have paid for an extra bin or a larger bin will be receiving a letter explaining what bins they have on their property."

"At the same time Council staff have been placing stickers on these extra bins as we prepare to audit them."

Once bin stickering is complete, Council's waste contractor will stop emptying extra or larger bins that are not identified with the correct sicker. Council staff will then remove these bins.

All Council kerbside waste bins have a Surf Coast Shire logo stamped into the bin. Any bins without logos will not be emptied.

If you have a question about what bins are at your property and to check if you have any extra bins call Council on 5261 0600 or email info@surfcoast.vic.gov.au and include 'Bin Amnesty' in the subject line.

More information about bin services including the bin amnesty and cancelling extra or larger bins is available at surfcoast.vic.gov.au/BinServices.

The Climate Report

Judy Cameron

Half of world's CO2 emissions come from 36 fossil fuel firms, study shows

From https://www.theguardian.com/environment/2025/mar/05 Damian Carrington Environment editor

Global emissions must fall by 45% by 2030 if the world is to have a good chance of limiting temperature rise to 1.5C, the internationally agreed target. However, emissions are still rising, supercharging the extreme weather that is taking lives and livelihoods across the planet.

The International Energy Agency has said new fossil fuel projects started after 2021 are incompatible with reaching net zero emissions by 2050. Most of the 169 companies in the Carbon Majors database increased their emissions in 2023, which was the hottest year on record at the time.

"These companies are keeping the world hooked on fossil fuels with no plans to slow production," said Christiana Figueres, the UN's climate chief when the landmark 2015 Paris agreement was delivered. "The science is clear: we cannot move backwards to more fossil fuels and more extraction. Instead, we must move forward to the many possibilities of a decarbonised economic system that works for people and the planet."

Oil companies are dropping renewable goals and more importantly, expanding fossil fuels

From https://www.msn.com/en-us/money/markets/oil-companies-are-dropping-renewable-goals-and-more-importantly-expanding-fossil-fuels/ar-AA1Ar3G0

Last week, British Petroleum announced that it was slashing more than $5 billion in planned green energy investments. It was a marked departure from the early 2000s, when the oil giant branded itself as "beyond petroleum," and even 2020, when the company targeted a 20-fold increase in its renewables portfolio.

"Today, we have fundamentally reset BP's strategy," said BP's CEO, Murray Auchincloss, as part of the most recent announcement. "This is a reset BP, with an unwavering focus on growing long-term shareholder value."

BP isn't the only oil giant rolling back its climate commitments. Shell and Norway's state-controlled Equinor have also made similar moves recently. But, while the news has caught headlines, experts say that the moves will have little impact on the larger renewables industry — and that, from a climate perspective, the companies' proposed increase in fossil fuel production is much more alarming.

PS: For millennia atmospheric carbon dioxide had never been above 300ppm

In May 2025, atmospheric carbon dioxide levels are forecast to be 429.6 ppm.

This will be the highest atmospheric CO2 concentration for over 2 million years.

This could be a blip that will soon reverse, or it could be important (in which case it's likely to be mostly bad news).

The oceans are getting hotter, which would lead one to expect more water would be evaporating, leading to more rain, And for 20 years that was the case, but then things turned around, apparently because of a shift in wind patterns.
