WELCOME TO LIBRA DRINKS BEER & CIDER PORTFOLIO

Welcome to our new Beer & Cider brochure in which you will discover our fantastic range of great brands.

The business was founded back in 2005 and has successfully grown to where it is today by having a large portfolio of some of the very best beers & ciders. We pride ourselves in bringing you great brands from local, regional, national and global producers. In an everchanging world we continually strive to ensure that our range is exciting, fresh and relevant to you all.

We feel it is important to emphasize the difference it will make to your business by having the right number and range of beers & ciders to suit your outlet. Our Account Managers are on hand, in conjunction with our brand owner partners, to help you in every aspect from selection to serve. We will provide technical dispense support and glassware where appropriate to give your customers the best possible beer & cider drinking experience.

Over the last 10 years we have seen the "craft beer revolution". The phrase "craft beer" wasn't even around when we set the business up back in 2005 ! It was either standard or premium lager, real ale or smooth beer and cider was mainly apple – either out of a keg, bottle or box ! Fast forward just 17 years and look at where we are today – Craft Beers, World Beers, Premium Imported beers, IPA's, All day IPA's, Double IPA's, Sour Beers, an unbelievable range of Fruit Ciders and huge growth more recently in the low & no alcohol category as well. It is a very different landscape that we operate in today.

There continues to be a significant amount of consolidation as well, you only need to look at some of the "big boys":

Molson Coors has acquired Sharps & Aspalls to name but a few. What was Whitbread, became Inbev, became AB Inbev and is now The Budweiser Brewing group – which also swallowed up the likes of Camden & includes the C & C Cider portfolio. Carlsberg & Marstons have recently joined forces and now operate as "Carlsberg Marstons". Peroni was acquired by Asahi who then bought Meantime & Fullers along the way. Heineken acquired Scottish Courage and have bought the London craft brewer Beavertown. Anybody like to guess what is next ?

As well as working closely with all the aforementioned we continue to bring you some other great brands and have established strong relationships with the likes of Rokit Drinks which includes the fantastic, award winning ABK lagers from Germany – we were the first distributor in the UK to bring you these beers.

Whilst we can't list everyone's brands we are confident that by working alongside all the National players blended with great producers such as Purity, Westons & Beavertown, traditional brewers like Timothy Taylor & St Austell and of course more locally with Castle Rock in Nottingham, we are able to offer you a "One stop shop" solution to everything beer & cider.

We hope you enjoy browsing through our colourful brochure and find some great brands for your customers to enjoy.

MOLSON COORS

In 1786, English immigrant John Molson founded Canada's oldest beer brewery on the banks of the St. Lawrence River in Montreal. He wrote, "My beer has been universally well-liked beyond my most sanguine expectations." The legacy continues seven generations later with brands like Molson Canadian, first brewed in 1959 and still one of Canada's most iconic and best-selling beers.

Adolph Coors, a penniless brewer's apprentice, stowed away on a ship from Germany in 1868 and made his way west, coming upon perfect water in Clear Creek in Golden, Colorado, at the foot of the Rocky Mountains. He opened a brewery in 1873; 105 years later, Coors Light was born and is now enjoyed by beer drinkers in over 25 countries worldwide.

TRADITIONAL CIDER

SEACIDER

SeaCider was founded by Mark Francis who started out as a Brewer in Brighton, Sussex. Mark would constantly be touring Sussex delivering his beer to pubs and driving around the local countryside. He soon noticed an abundance of apple orchards that were not harvested and left unloved. He also noticed that many pubs did not stock local cider and there didn't seem to be many cider-makers left in Sussex.

After devouring every book he could find on cider-making and gathering up as many local apples as he could, he tentatively started to make cider and began selling it to pubs alongside his beer. After a lot of trial and error, Mark soon became as dedicated to making cider as he did beer.

The apples have been sourced from various farms across Sussex and Kent and around 300 tons have been cold stored to keep them in good condition.

All of these apples have been rejected from the supermarket chains for being the wrong colour, size or shape.

Almost straight away pubs began to stock 'SeaCider' and Mark had to make the hard decision to concentrate all his efforts on making cider to keep up with the demand and leave the beer behind. Since then he hasn't looked back and now is very proud to be the largest Cider-maker in Sussex.

WESTONS

We're independently minded and independently made.

That means we do things our own way. Not the quick way. Not the easy way, but the right way and that takes time. It's what makes us as refreshingly real as our herefordshire cider. What we stand for means something. For five generations we've been going beyond, striving to be genuinely better.

SNAILS BANK

Snails Bank cider is made in the heart of apple growing country... herefordshire.

We select the best fruit that the locality has to offer and use our years of experience to craft ciders that are traditional, yet suit the modern palate. We don't believe in chemicals or additives, we work with nature, not against it and, we think you'll agree, the results speak for themselves.

GWYNT Y DDRAIG

In the autumn of 2001 we made our first few barrels of cider on the home farm here in Llantwit Fardre, South Wales. What started as a hobbyist's experiment quickly became much more serious and an expanded selection of draught and oak-matured BtIsd ciders followed – each refined over time. The result is, what we believe, some of the finest traditional ciders available.

Placing flavour and quality at the core, our range is still traditionally made here on the farm using carefully selected ingredients, simple recipes and striking blends. Now world-renowned, Gwynt Cider is available in 7 countries around the world. We're proud to be multiple award-winning, and refreshingly Welsh!
