Bunny Has Gone Missing!

HELP FOX FIND HIS FRIEND

Little Bunny is playing hide and seek with his forest friends. Help us look for Bunny behind the trees, inside bushes and even under leaves! Guess all of bunny's friends and help us find him!

Did you Know

In the wild. Some animals form Symbiosis relationships where both species benefit. Their bond goes beyond survival and shows signs of affection, companionship or play. Some of these weird friendships are:

Ravens & Wolves:

Ravens follow wolves to scavenge from their kills and alert wolves of potential prey nearby

Elephants & Dogs:

Elephants and Dogs form their friendships because of the emotional depth that both species have.

Ostriches & Zebras:

Zebras have a great sense of smell. Ostriches have excellent sight. Together they help detect predators.

How to Enjoy this Book:

- Read the story and help us find Bunny!
- Use crayons, markers or coloured pencil to bring the animals to life
- Add details to make the forest beautiful

Where did Bunny go?” Asked Fox.

“I saw him hop this way!”

“Is Bunny hiding behind the flowers?”

“No, it’s Bee!” Fox exclaimed.

“Buzz buzz! I’m not Bunny” Bee said.

Is Bunny under the mushroom?

“No, it’s Toad!” Fox exclaimed.

“Ribbit! Not Me!” Toad said.
