Little Dragon's Day Nursery

is a family run day nursery located in the picturesque village of Snitterfield on the outskirts of Stratford-Upon-Avon. We are an Ofsted Outstanding setting and care for children aged 3 months to 5 years. The nursery is open from 8am until 6pm Monday to Friday with early drop off and late pick up options available upon request.

We are big on nature and the outdoors, with children being able to explore our 3.5 acre field and forest school. We have a creative and 'down to earth' take on the Early Years Foundation Stage where children experience diverse and spontaneous child-led activities supported by our skilful practitioners. We are constantly striving to be 'a nursery with a difference', Ofsted agree with us:

'Children make considerable progress in this nursery'.

'All children are fully immersed in the comprehensive range of play and activities.

They are delighted as their imagination runs free and their creativity becomes limitless'.

'Children across all ages are extremely happy and settle quickly in this exhilarating environment'.

FUTURE LIFE

Future Life are Will writing specialists for parents of young children.

Helping thousands of parents protect the ones they love.

When you have little ones who are financially dependent upon you, getting your financial and emotional wishes in place legally is crucial – to avoid lengthy disputes and financial worries should anything happen.

We're a family business with children of our own, so we know how important it is to talk to someone who really understands your situation.

Important reasons why parents need to make a Will:

- 1 You choose who would look after your children.
As well as taking care of your assets, a Will allows you to nominate who would look after your children. It is the ONLY way to appoint legal guardians. If guardians aren't nominated, social services could make those decisions.
- 2 You specify where your wealth goes.
If you don't have a Will in place, it's a very real possibility that your assets wouldn't go where you would want them to – and there could be lengthy waits for your financial arrangements to be processed through Probate, while the children still need financial and emotional support. Having your affairs in order is key - even if you are married, but especially if you're not married to your partner.
- 3 Who gets the family heirlooms?
What charities are important to you? Do you want to leave any money to friends or distant family members? Writing a Will is the only way to ensure your wishes are achieved.

Future Life Wills are offering FREE Wills. Scan the QR code to get yours.

FATHER'S DAY CRAFT

Shrinky Dink Keyrings

WHAT YOU WILL NEED:

- Shrinking plastic sheet kit*
- Scissors
- Felt tip pens
- Baking parchment
- Baking tray

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Pre-heat your oven to 165°C/329°F.
2. Draw your desired picture/wording on the shiny side of the plastic sheeting.
3. Carefully cut around the drawing (parents assistance may be required).
4. Punch a hole at the edge of the plastic, this is where your keyring will attach after baking.
5. Place your design on some parchment paper on your baking tray and place in the oven for

- 1-2 minutes. Watch the magic happen as the plastic shrinks down, if the plastic curls too much, you may have to use a utensil to flatten it down. Once flat, remove from the oven and let it cool for a few seconds.
6. Carefully attach the keychain to the design and your personalised keyring is complete.

* We bought the kit from Amazon. It comes with everything you need and there are so many things you could make with it!

Discovering THEMSELVES

by Giles Alexander

The toddler years are a time of massive self-discovery. They'll learn the power of their voice. How to walk, run, play and problem-solve. To say "no" and ask "why", alongside countless other questions that they'll expect you to answer.

As parents, it's our job to give our children a safe space to make these personal discoveries. This isn't a time to "over-parent". Sometimes they will need a lot of support. At others, it's better that they figure things out on their own. Trying and failing is often the best way to learn. Of course, you know your child better than anyone, so it's up to you to decide when to step in and when to stand back.

BUILD THEM UP

While your toddler is going through this period of self-discovery, try to maintain a supportive and positive family environment. Toddlers are highly adept at picking up the mood in the room, and if they sense you are feeling stressed or anxious, it can be unsettling and knock their confidence. Instead, tell them regularly how proud you are of them. Let them overhear you saying nice things about them. And remind them that you are there for them, no matter what. Toddlers benefit considerably from reassurance, positive reinforcement and praise, so make these key parts of your daily parenting routine.

Supportive phrases to try:

- Thanks for telling me
- I love you
- I'm always here for you
- You can do it
- That's so interesting
- You're so clever
- You can tell me anything
- I trust you
- Everyone makes mistakes
- I believe in you

ACTIVELY LISTEN

Listen intently when your toddler wants to tell you something. As parents, when we're always trying to do ten things at once, it's easy to fall into the trap of "half-listening" when our child talks to us, saying "hold on" or "in a minute". Toddlers really notice this, and it can lead to a range of different problems, including:

- becoming more needy and clingy, craving your attention.
- shouting excessively, as they feel like they aren't being heard (so they up their volume).
- depending on one parent (the one who listens) for emotional support while shutting off the other.
- becoming withdrawn and uncommunicative.

EXPAND THEIR HORIZONS

Although toddlers can be very opinionated about what they like and dislike, at this young age, they really have no clue. Try to expose your child to as many different experiences as possible, from new tastes and new hobbies to different cultures, people and music.

Toddlers like familiar things, e.g. wanting to eat the same meal, watch the same film or play the same game, day in, day out. This is not only boring for you but limiting for them. So, mix things up, involve them in your own interests and try something new together.

BODY CURIOSITY

Toddlers are naturally curious about their bodies (and yours too). So, don't be shocked if you catch them poking, pulling or fiddling with their genitals (boys especially), or pointing, prodding and asking questions about yours. If they do, try not to laugh or make them feel ashamed. This is completely natural and harmless, driven by their own curiosity and not anything to worry about.

This article is an extract from "You The Daddy", written by Giles Alexander and published by Vie, which will be released on 9th May 2024, £14.99, and has been called "By far the best parenting book for dads-to-be" by Dadsnet. Giles is a leading dad blogger; you can find him at youthedaddy.co.uk.

"Being a Toddle About franchisee has given me a purpose outside of my family again. Being able to still be a present parent, attend all the school events and activities but still work and achieve something tangible and meaningful at work is amazing, it's made me proud of myself again."

PART-TIME HOURS, FULL-TIME SALARY

How Pia found her perfect work-life balance

If working fewer hours and earning more money seems like a pipe dream, take a tip from our franchisee Pia who managed to make it her reality.

Pia Howe, who lives in Risby, Suffolk with her husband, David, and their two children Oskar (12) and Elliot (8), runs the Toddle About Suffolk franchise – she works 25 hours a week and earns £25,000 a year:

“Having worked in the hospitality and events industry ever since I graduated from university, I’ve always had a passion for travel. I loved seeing the world and was very career focused, but the arrival of our second child Elliot reshaped my priorities. I knew I couldn’t do my job on a part-time basis, so I decided not to go back to work. It cut our income significantly, but we managed.

I enjoyed being at home with my children and it was only when we decided to move to Suffolk, that things changed: I missed my network of mums and struggled to find local activities for Elliot who was 18 months old at the time.

The Toddle About magazine had always been my to-go-guide for local activities back in Warwickshire – but there wasn’t a similar resource in Suffolk. This sparked an idea - why not bring Toddle About to Suffolk? I picked up the phone to the founder of the magazine, Tim Freed, and a few months later, I became Toddle About’s first franchisee!

With no publishing experience but boundless determination, I embarked on my franchise journey. My husband was supportive, though understandably cautious - I honestly didn’t know what being a franchisee involved, but I wanted to give it a go.

The first issue was a massive learning curve! It was all new for me, which was exciting but also quite scary - fortunately the training and support I received from Tim and the team at Toddle About was amazing. After building a list of local groups and activities, and establishing a distribution network, it was time to get on the phone to local businesses.

The majority of revenue comes from local businesses advertising in the magazine – they pay up front, so I have the money to cover all print and business expenses.

I was thrilled when my first magazine broke even – Toddle About Suffolk had landed!

Each magazine grew in profitability and within a year I was comfortably in the swing of things and earning a decent extra income for the family. It was so nice to have my own money again and I was thrilled to be able to treat the family to a trip to Disneyland a couple of years later.

Now, nearly 6 years on, the magazine virtually runs itself thanks to repeat advertisers. I recently launched local baby shows that go hand-in-hand with the magazine which have been really well-received and have proven to be nicely profitable too.

My days are a delicate balance of work and family, with time for school runs, school plays and self-care. I’m so proud of what I’ve built, but the time has come for me to do something new: I absolutely love running Toddle About’s Baby Shows, so I’m shifting my focus towards expanding them nationwide.

So the Toddle About franchise area for S. Warwickshire is up for sale!”

If you would like to find out more, then contact Pia on 07748 020141, pia@toddleabout.co.uk or download the franchise prospectus at www.toddle.fun/franchise.

VIP CLUB READER REVIEW:

My First Pre-Writing Skills Activity Book & Writing Pencils Bundle

★★★★★ Written by Laura Westley, Toddle About Subscriber

Perfect for ages 2+ to kick-start their fun early learning experience, this bundle from Love Writing Co. (www.lovewritingco.com) contains a 58 page activity book, 17 erasable tripod grip colour pencils, 5 writing pencils and an eco gym bag.

As a parent of two toddlers, my experience with My First Pre-Writing Skills Activity Book and Pencils has been nothing short of delightful.

The beauty of this activity book lies not just in its engaging content but also in its thoughtful approach to age-appropriate learning. With clear guidance on the types of shapes suitable for each age group, the book serves as an invaluable tool for parents like me. While I initially intended it for my 3.5-year-old, my 2-year-old eagerly joined in, captivated by the colourful pages and engaging activities. The gradual progression through different shapes and lines effectively encourages pre-writing skills, making it accessible and enjoyable for both toddlers and pre-schoolers. The pencils are easy to hold and assist in practicing the tripod grip which is needed for school.

One remarkable outcome was my 3.5-year-old's newfound enthusiasm for independent writing. Frustrated by his inability to write his name, he found empowerment within the pages of this activity book and encouragement with the stickers. In just a week, he proudly wrote his name independently.

Review has been edited.

Laura and her family were given this product as a freebie in return for writing this review. Subscribe to Toddle About and you can do the same! Discover the products up for grabs right now at www.toddle.fun/vip-reviews
