

More than just a job

with Transport for NSW
Career Accelerator Programs

Ariel,
Graduate and VET Cadet
Program participant

You probably already know a bit about Transport for NSW. We're a government organisation that leads the development of safe, integrated and efficient transport systems such as road, rail and maritime networks to keep New South Wales moving.

But there's much more to Transport than just transport.

Think of us as a hybrid car. On the outside we're a vehicle that helps you get from A to B. But pop the bonnet and you'll find what drives us – reliability, community values and a commitment to innovation. We generate a lot of cool stuff – complex, cutting-edge projects, technology and programs that are constantly pushing the boundaries.

Right now, we're delivering the largest transport infrastructure program in Australia's history. That means more job opportunities than ever before in metropolitan and regional areas right across the state – and your chance to make a lasting impact that will benefit generations to come.

Why a job with Transport is more than just a job

Working with Transport for NSW could see you upgrading our road network on the M1 Pacific Motorway extension to Raymond Terrace, so commuters make it home safely to their families and mates.

You could find yourself consulting on environmental plans for the new Western Sydney Aerotropolis to design a sustainable future for our cities.

You might be crunching big data to inform future network upgrades. Or building and maintaining game-changing infrastructure like Sydney Metro to connect our cities like never before.

You could be developing a communications campaign about road safety to increase public awareness.

Willamina,
Graduate Program participant

Perhaps you'll be creating development and learning programs for our people and help shape their careers.

The opportunities are limitless

Or you might be working with human resources to bring together people of different backgrounds and skill sets, to grow our vibrant and diverse workforce.

Or researching and testing emerging technology to bring driverless transport to more locations in NSW.

Why Transport for NSW?

Meaningful work that makes a difference

Right now, maybe you just want a job. Sure. But with us, you'll get so much more. We offer our people interesting, challenging and rewarding work and opportunities to make a real difference to communities across the state.

Professional development opportunities and career support

We're passionate about supporting our people to pursue their career goals. You'll get to participate in our learning and development program where there's direct access to mentoring, networking events, and workshops. We'll help you to gain a deeper understanding of how the NSW public sector operates, develop the soft skills that will help you thrive at work, master new tools and technologies, and build lasting relationships across our program cohorts.

Experience with a variety of teams and projects

Transport is a big organisation made up of all sorts of agencies and project teams. Our Career Accelerator Programs provide a rare opportunity to get hands-on experience in multiple roles and areas of the organisation, including public transport operating agencies like Sydney Trains, NSW TrainLink and Sydney Metro.

Flexible hours and leave

We want our people to feel empowered to work in ways that work for them and their teams. We know work-life balance looks different to everyone so we've developed workplace flexibility policies that are, well...flexible. That might mean working remotely some days. Or having the option to start and finish a bit earlier or later, and allocating extra hours you've worked to a day off from time to time. Our programs offer paid annual leave, sick leave, family leave, and community service leave for things like volunteering.

Roles spread throughout metropolitan Sydney and regional New South Wales

 Mina,
Program participant

“ Since Smart Seeds 2018 [an innovation program initiative where some Entry Level Talent Program participants collaborate with other organisations to solve challenges], The Growth Project team and I have launched Newtown Garden, a pilot urban farming precinct at Newtown Station. We’ve partnered up with Sydney Trains and a local organisation called the Greek Welfare Centre to create a beautiful green space, where we plant seasonal produce to donate to the local community. This was our solution to repurposing old Transport assets such as trains and unused space near public transport. ”

 Bianca,
Graduate and Cadet Program participant

We're diverse because you're diverse

Transport for NSW is deeply committed to creating an inclusive and diverse workplace where our people can be their whole selves at work. We champion people of all backgrounds, abilities, sexual orientations, gender identities, ages, family statuses and lived experiences. Here we celebrate what sets us apart because it brings us together and moves us forward.

We've developed a range of initiatives that support and develop great people from diverse backgrounds, and encourage a culture built on respect.

These include:

- Gender-balanced interview lists and panels in the recruitment process
- Measure the success of how we support the employment of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, people living with a disability, and women in underrepresented roles
- Accelerating progress for gender equality through the Male Champions of Change Program and our employee reference group, the WiSE Network (Women in STEM and Construction Network)
- Closely monitoring and reporting on gender pay equity
- Delivering our Reconciliation Action Plan to bring about better employment, economic and social outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people
- Striving for 50:50 gender representation across our Career Accelerator Programs
- Reducing barriers for employment through our Jobs for People with Disability Action Plan

Health and wellbeing

We are committed to providing a healthy workplace for our people, both mentally and physically. This includes a range of initiatives to promote wellness across our organisation as part of our Mental Health and Wellbeing Strategy.

- Fitness Passport provides discounted access to more than 400 gyms, pools and recreational centres across NSW for employees and their families.
- We host regular health and wellbeing workshops.
- The Employee Assistance Program provides free support and counselling for employees and their families.
- We offer free annual influenza vaccinations.

“ Upon starting with Transport I moved from Newcastle to Sydney’s Inner West. Seeing friends and family in Newcastle, as well as getting a chance to surf, helps me maintain my work-life balance. Transport’s flexible work arrangements have enabled me to work from home in Newcastle every second Thursday and Friday. I also value being able to use flex days to sort out any life admin or enjoy a long weekend. The key to making such arrangements work is open communication with your manager and balancing regularity with flexibility around project demands. ”

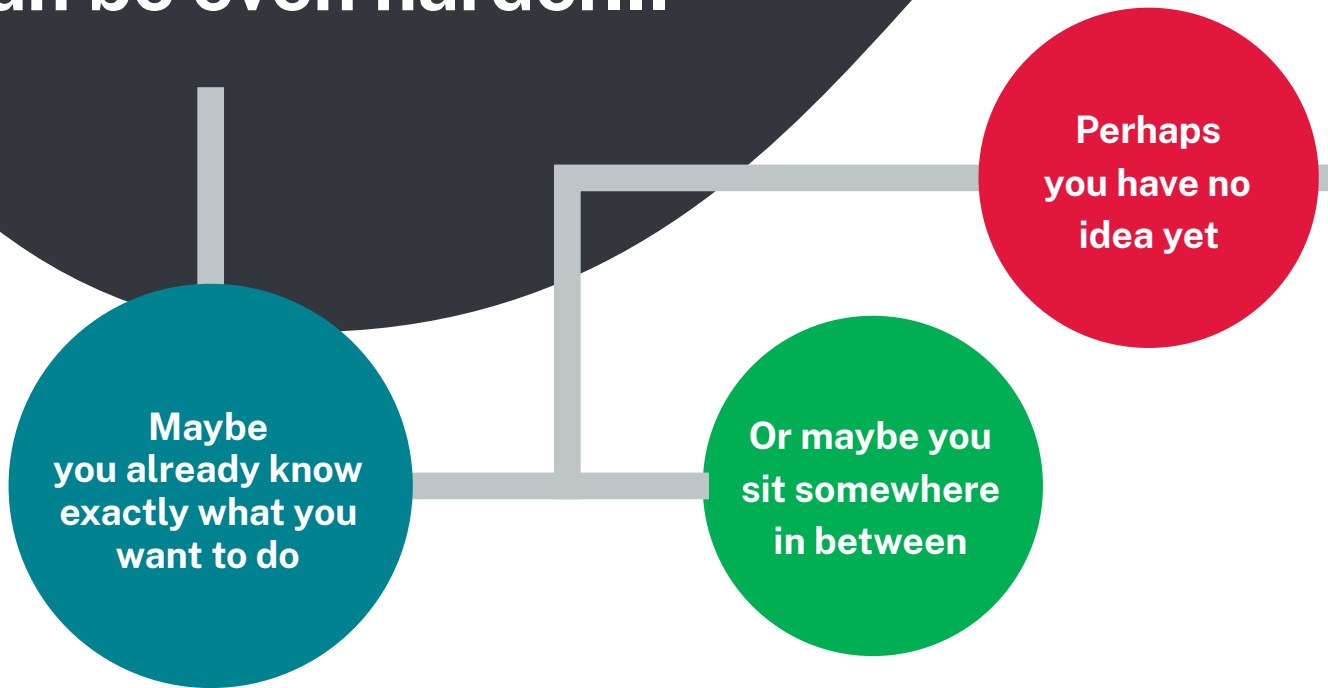

Timothy,
Graduate Program participant

Learn more about our Career Accelerator Programs

Choosing which series to stream tonight is hard

Choosing your career path can be even harder...

Let us help you discover what it is that you love to do, through our programs.

Our Career Accelerator Programs offer the opportunity to join an organisation of more than 27,000 people working in all kinds of roles in metropolitan and regional locations across New South Wales. This is your chance to discover what makes you tick and make a difference right across the state.

Our programs cater to whatever stage you're at. Some people join us as Cadets and go on to our Graduate Program. Others join as VET and Humanitarian Cadets and move into ongoing employment. Take your career in the direction you want and start your journey with Transport for NSW.

Amy,
Graduate and Cadet Program participant

Program support

We're building the future for the people of New South Wales, and we want to be there to support you as you build yours.

When you join our Our Career Accelerator Programs you'll be introduced to your Placement Manager who'll work within your allocated team.

They'll support you by assigning you suitable work, helping you build relationships across the business, providing technical experience and development and goal-making advice, signing timesheets, and answering any questions you have along the way.

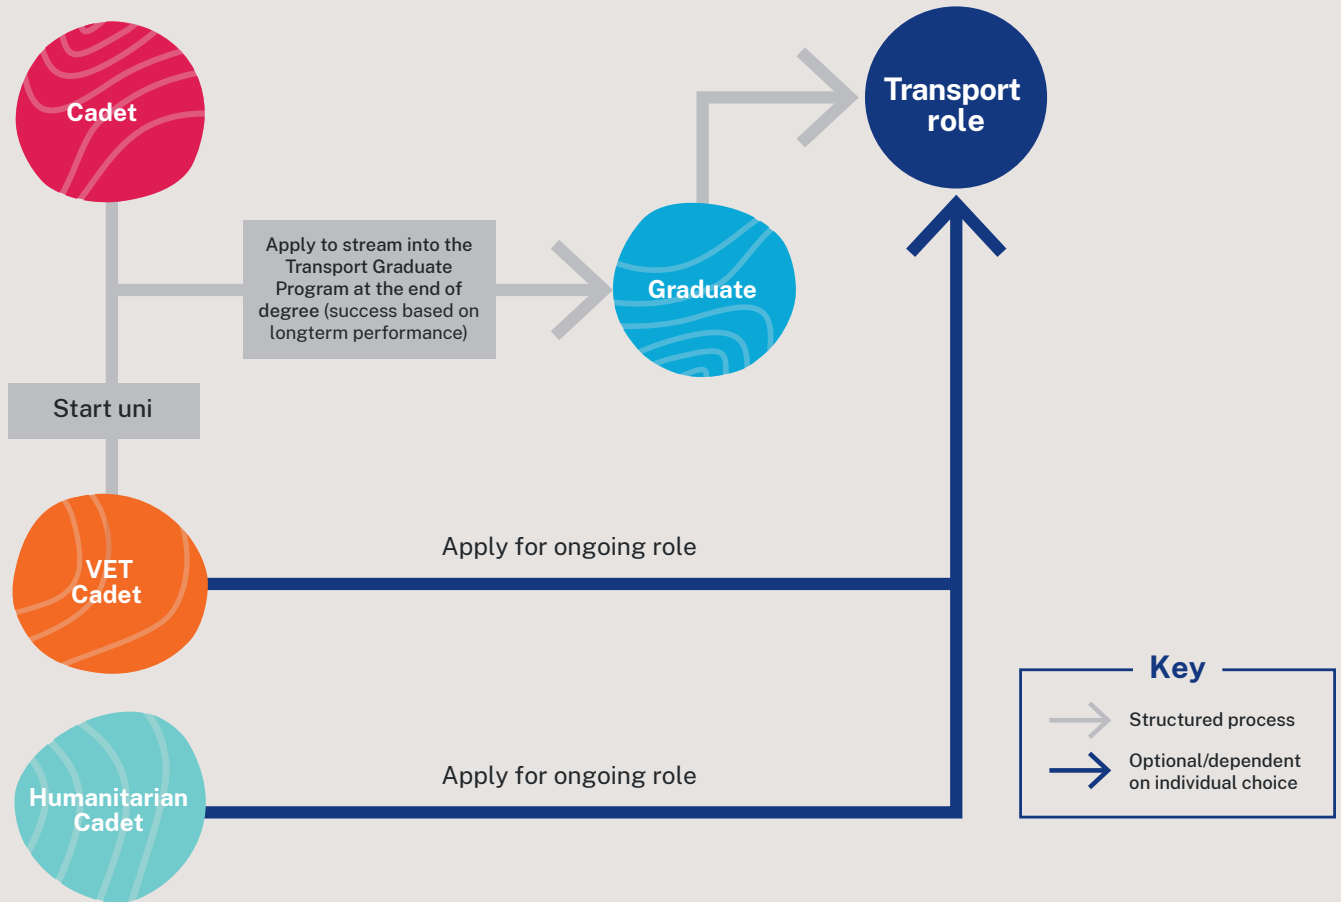

You'll also be supported by a program specialist. They'll help with allocating you to suitable teams for your placements, setting up mock-interviews, and supporting you when you're applying for ongoing roles towards the end of your program.

They'll also be there to answer any program related questions, offer coaching support and advice and check in regularly to see how you're going.

Your Placement Manager and program specialist work together to provide you with a positive program experience.

Program pathways

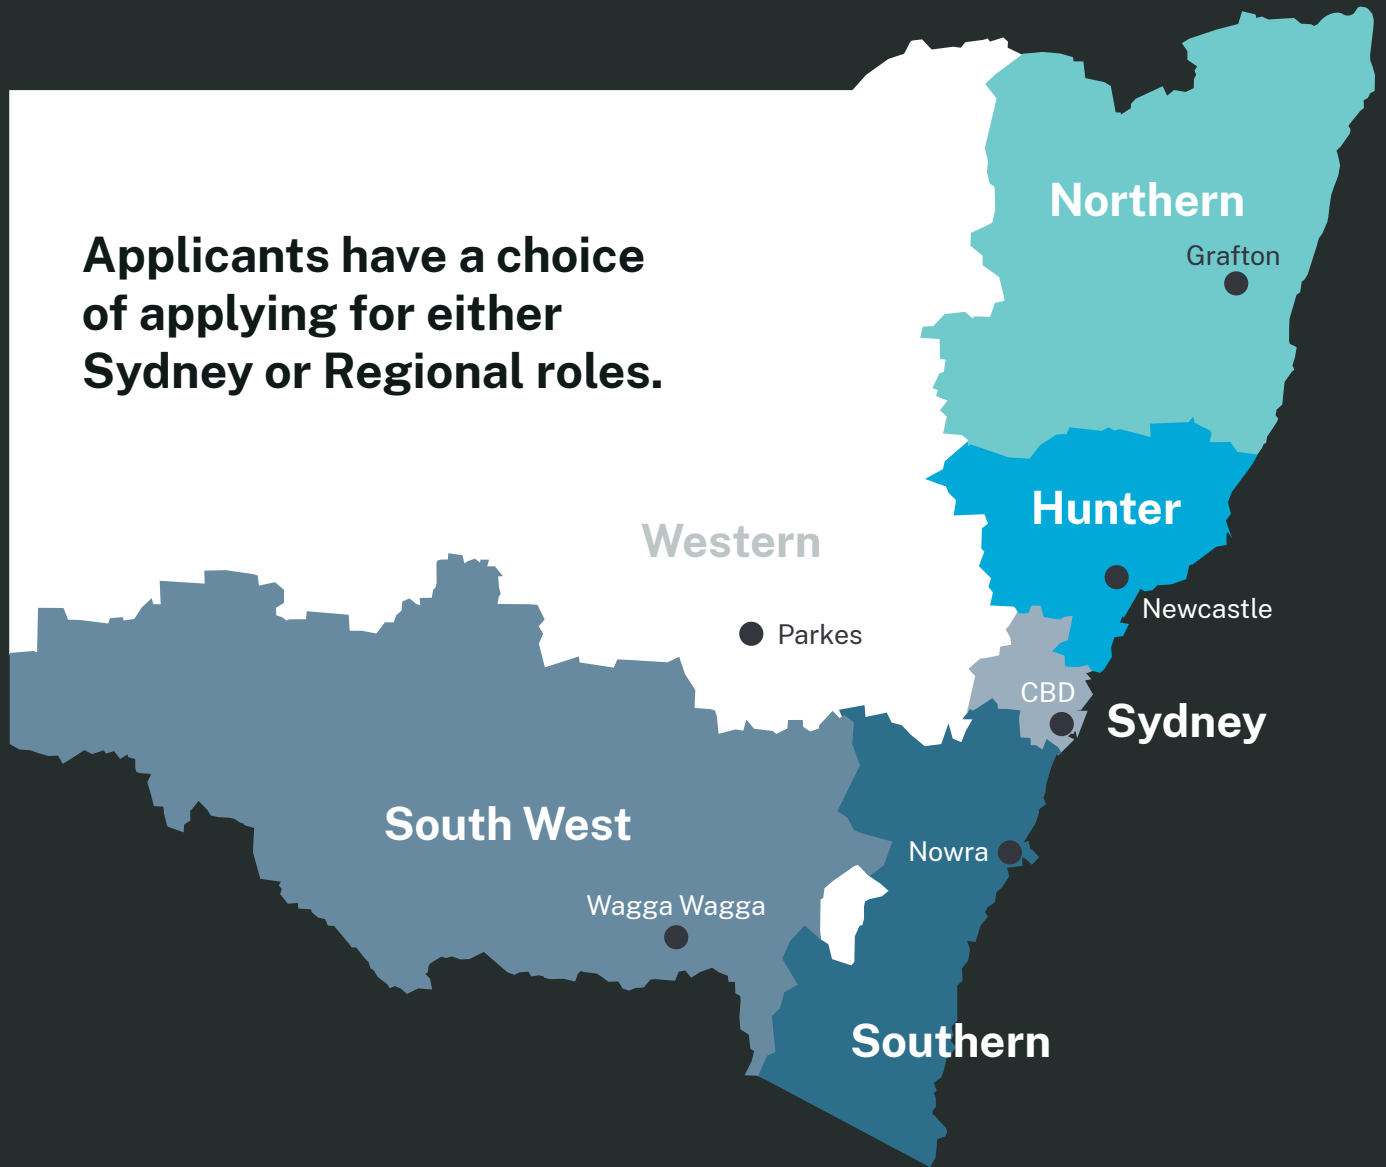

(open to both internal and external candidates)

“ I started at Transport in an undergraduate program in 2015. This was my first job ever! I am currently in my third Graduate placement in the Excellence and Innovation team, Talent at Transport. My journey at Transport has been a fruitful one. I’ve learnt many soft and transferable skills, an enormous amount about myself, gathered professional experience and created lifelong friendships along the way. My Graduate placements previously have been in the Workforce and Competency, Network Maintenance for Sydney Trains, and Internal Communications for NSW TrainLink. ”

Aikjot,
Graduate Program participant

Applicants have a choice of applying for either Sydney or Regional roles.

Location, location, location

You'll find Transport offices and agencies throughout metropolitan Sydney as well as regional NSW.

Roles are available in and around metropolitan Sydney and regional New South Wales, with regional headquarters in Grafton, Newcastle, Parkes, Nowra and Wagga Wagga.

Graduate Program

Are you a recent or soon-to-be university graduate?
Our Graduate Program could be for you.

18 months of learning and career development

Competitive pay

Flexible work options

Three placements within different Transport for NSW teams

Details

This 18-month program is made up of three rounds of six-month rotations which will see you working in different teams and projects across the organisation.

You might build your skills and experience in one particular area, or try something completely different with each rotation.

You'll also participate in our structured learning and development program where you'll have direct access to mentoring, networking events, and workshops. You'll gain a deeper understanding of how the NSW public sector operates, develop the soft skills that will help you thrive at work, and master new tools and technologies, while building lasting relationships within your large Graduate Program cohort.

By the end of the program you'll be able to add three professional placements to your resume and will have developed invaluable skills and experiences to take your career to the next level.

Disciplines

We are looking for people from a range of disciplines including engineering, information technology, science and business.

Work conditions

You will be required to work Monday to Friday, for a minimum of 35 hours a week.

Depending on your placement you may have the opportunity to work flexibly. This could mean working staggered hours, working from flexible locations and using additional hours worked towards a day off. Graduates receive an annual salary at Transport Grade 4A.

For up to date information about this salary grade, check the job ad when it goes live via jobs.transport.nsw.gov.au

Eligibility

To be eligible to apply, you must have recently completed your university undergraduate degree or be in your final year of study. At the time of commencing the Graduate program, you must have completed all your course requirements. The program usually starts in January each year.

You must also have Australian or New Zealand citizenship, or Australian permanent residency.

“ Previously I worked as a Graduate on the ‘More Trains More Services Stage 2 Program’. The purpose of this program is to enable more frequent, ‘turn up and go’ services on the T4 Illawarra Line and T8 Airport and South Line, as well as improved services on the South Coast Line. The project also includes upgrading Central Sydney to support the increased frequency of services. This project will have a significant and noticeable impact on customer services, by offering them world class technology and more reliable services. ”

Aman,
Graduate and Cadet
Program participant

Cadet Program

Are you currently studying an undergraduate degree at university and looking for flexible paid work? You might be a great candidate for our Cadet Program.

One to two years of learning and career development

Flexible work arrangements that fit in with your studies

Competitive pay

Exposure to a range of projects across Transport for NSW

Details

This is a up to two year program, depending on whether you are in your second-last (penultimate) or final year of study when you join. Students in their penultimate year will join a two-year program, and students in their final year will join a one-year program.

You'll be placed in one team for the duration of the work program, where you'll get exposure to a range of different projects.

Disciplines

We are looking for people from a range of disciplines including engineering, information technology and science.

Work conditions

During university semesters/trimesters, you'll be required to work Monday to Friday for a minimum of 14 hours a week. During university breaks you'll work a minimum of 35 hours a week.

Cadets receive an annual salary at Transport Grade 1A (pro rata). For up-to-date information about this salary grade, check the job ad when it goes live via jobs.transport.nsw.gov.au

Eligibility

To be eligible to apply, you must be entering your penultimate or final year of a university undergraduate degree at the time of starting the Cadet Program. The program usually starts in January each year.

You must also be an Australian or New Zealand citizen, or have Australian permanent residency.

Alana,
Cadet Program participant

Humanitarian Program

12-month employment for newly arrived refugees

Competitive pay

Roles throughout the state

Identify long term opportunities for Humanitarian Cadets

Provide local experience to existing qualifications

Details

Our Humanitarian Program is a 12-month program for newly-arrived refugees to obtain paid Australian work experience in areas relevant to their existing qualifications and skills.

Interested and want to know more?

If this sounds like the program for you, email us at talentprograms@transport.nsw.gov.au and our friendly team will get in touch for a chat about program start dates, locations and more.

Firas,
Humanitarian Cadet Program participant

Aboriginal VET Cadet Program

Aboriginal Vocational Education and Training (VET). Want to get paid to make a difference in the community and kick-start your career? This opportunity is open to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people.

Two years of paid work with the opportunity for ongoing employment

Certificate IV qualification and study time

Exposure to a range of projects across Transport for NSW

Competitive pay

Flexible work arrangements

Details

This two-year program is an opportunity to work and study at the same time.

Alongside your fellow VET Cadets, you'll study for a Certificate IV qualification with a nationally accredited training organisation. All course fees are covered by us. We've also built some time into the program to help you balance your classes and complete coursework during work hours. You'll be placed in one team for the duration of the program, where you'll get exposure to a range of different tasks and projects.

About you

We're looking for people who want to make a difference and are interested in what we do at Transport for NSW.

Work conditions

You will be required to work Monday to Friday, for a minimum of 35 hours a week.

Depending on your placement, you may have the opportunity to work flexibly. This could mean working staggered hours, allocating any additional hours you've worked towards a day off, or working from home.

VET Cadets receive an annual salary at Transport Grade 1A. For up-to-date information about this salary grade, check the job ad when it goes live via jobs.transport.nsw.gov.au

Eligibility

To be eligible to apply, you must identify as and be accepted as an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person.

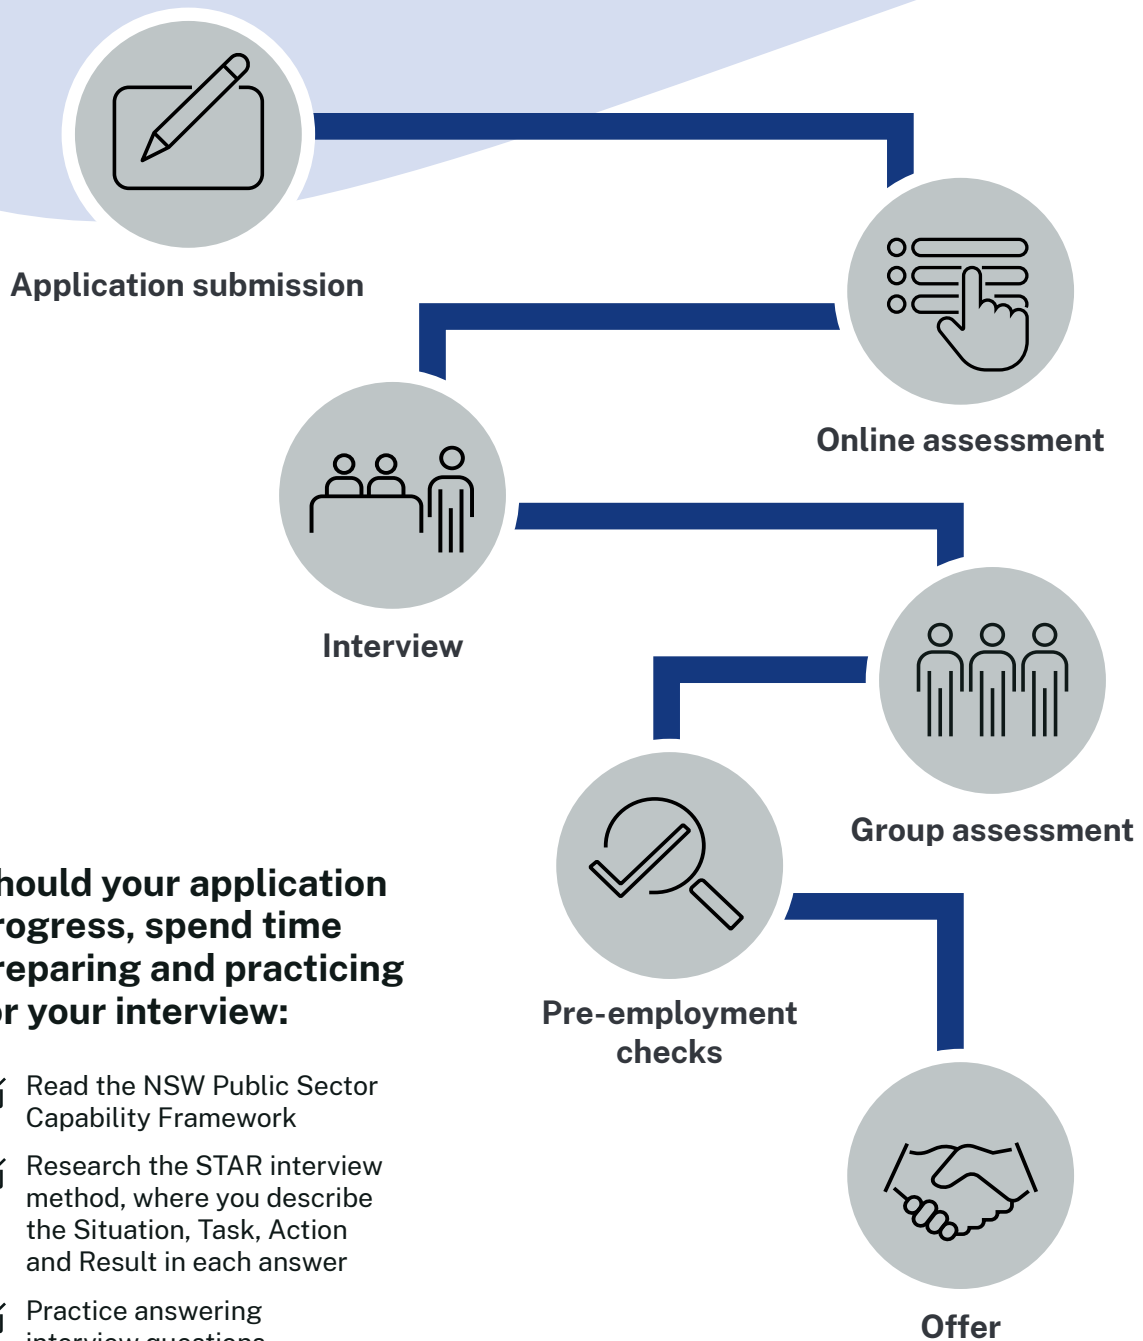

Tullarah,
Aboriginal VET Cadet Program participant

Ready to apply?

The application process

The application process varies from program to program. Yours may involve some or all of the below steps.

Should your application progress, spend time preparing and practicing for your interview:

- Read the NSW Public Sector Capability Framework
- Research the STAR interview method, where you describe the Situation, Task, Action and Result in each answer
- Practice answering interview questions
- And don't panic! We all get nervous. If you've got this far, you've already demonstrated your talent and drive. Now just make sure you're prepared and give it your best shot.

Put your best foot forward in your application and interview

Before submitting your application, make sure you:

Do your research

Jump online and read up on Transport for NSW. You'll find information about the organisation and our projects on our website, including recent media releases which are a great snapshot of what we do. This will also help you decide if we're the right fit for you.

Update your resume

Make sure it states your career objectives and the skills you are hoping to build, details your current and past studies, shows your employment history (if you have worked before), and includes your contact details.

Draft your responses offline

Compose your answers to the application questions in a separate document first, and check your spelling and grammar before you upload it to the online form in the application portal.

Graduate

Cadet

Aboriginal VET Cadet

Humanitarian Cadet

Be part of something bigger

Get in touch

If you have questions or would like more information, email our team at talentprograms@transport.nsw.gov.au

