Our Process

The small amount of liposuctioned fat that is used is obtained in a virtually painless procedure done completely under local anesthesia, taking approximately 20 minutes.

1. Meet & Greet

You have made an important decision to have a stem cell deployment.

2. Local Anesthesia & Harvesting Fat

Patients have their fat harvested in our special sterile treatment procedure under a local anesthetic

3. Preparation

After harvesting, stem cells are separated from fat cells. CSN's process yields a high number of stem cells

4. Deployment

Stem cells are then injected into veins, arteries, spinal fluid, or directly into joints or bones.

Alopecia

Hair loss (alopecia) is a progressive condition that includes the common types: androgenetic alopecia (common baldness), alopecia areata (spot baldness), and telogen effluvium (hair thinning).

Hair loss may become permanent if left untreated. Most common treatment options include minoxidil, finasteride and corticosteroids for Alopecia areata. No treatment is 100% effective. The efficacy of minoxidil remains relatively low at 30 - 40%<sup>2</sup>. While finasteride arrests hair loss in over 86% of men, only 21% achieve marked hair regrowth.

Hair loss treatments require at least a 4 to 6 month trial before noticing improvement and some maintain a response

Can treatment help to stop or slow hair loss?

- Hereditary hair loss, YES
- Increased testosterone levels, YES
- Autoimmune diseases, YES
- Age, YES if caught early
- Inflammation, YES
- Blood circulation, YES
- Too little vitamins and minerals, YES supplementation may help
- Stress, YES if the stress stops
- Environmental factors, YES if the exposure stops

PERSONALIZED TREATMENT

TrichoTest™ selects active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs), avoiding metabolic routes that can be inhibited.
