

HOMESCHOOL RESOURCE CENTER

APRIL 2025 NEWSLETTER

ONLY A FEW WEEKS LEFT

It's hard to believe, but we only have a few more classes this semester with most HRC teachers completing their curriculum by the first week of May, opting not to use the final make-up date (see sidebar and/or talk with your teachers to confirm class specifics). This means you will be getting grade reports mid-May and I will begin helping families with the re-enrollment process now through June 1st which is the priority entry deadline for our returning families to select classes before new families. Registration will remain open through August 5th for the public, or as space allows in each class. We are excited to share next year's full class schedule, including a great variety of core and elective homeschool classes gathered from your survey feedback! It is HOT off the press and listed on page 2 for your review. Registration details will be released by month-end on our website, and will be handled directly through Sycamore for the full school year (both fall and spring selections, although you can make changes as needed). I will share the link soon to begin processing deposits to hold your spots. Then HRC discounts will be applied and balances can be paid up front or throughout the semester on a payment plan. Our website will be the best resource to watch and share with others interested- for additional details on class descriptions, new teacher bios, and pricing structure. I will be available on Wednesdays throughout summer break, as well as during our upcoming HRC events assisting families with questions/signups. There are many exciting changes coming with continued growth and improvements; Lord willing, we look forward to continuing our homeschool journeys together!

NEW FALL LOCATION!

HRC is moving

We have been blessed to be part of a supportive church, thriving private school, and amazing homeschool community during these first 2 years of development. While we will remain part of ECS and share resources, we recognize the need for additional space as they make long-term plans. We are pleased to announce that we will be relocating to Westview Alliance Church at 9915 Illinois Rd, FW. HRC classes will still meet on Wed & Thurs.
