

THE GREAT PUMPKIN RISES...

...over Oxford County beckoning to all who have pumpkins and/or squash beyond their needs. There are 12 sites around the county accepting pumpkins as fodder for pigs, goats, chickens & other farm animals. This is your chance to haul them in from your porch for personal uses or divert them from waste to livestock. Check out The Great Pumpkin Rescue on Facebook for some great cookery and a list of locations.

FROM SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC HEALTH

Belonging starts here: How public health & schools are helping youth feel seen, heard & supported. Grade 12 student Ava Meadows is seated beside her school's social worker. The room is silent, aside from Ava's voice & a rolling video camera as she recounts her experiences being a student leader at St. Mary's Catholic High-school in Woodstock. "I know so many of my friends here have bad days. But they're always telling me what's going on & that they're there for me. It's OK, I'm going through tough times too, it's OK." Ava's words capture something essential: belonging isn't just about being present in a classroom, it's about feeling safe, valued, & supported. Her experiences are central to the latest installment of Vital Perspectives, a miniseries by Southwestern Public Health that highlights important issues impacting the community like the opioid crisis & climate change. This 3rd installment shines a light on the powerful connection between belonging & youth, and how schools & public health professionals are working together to create environments where young people can thrive.

Why belonging matters For youth, particularly during adolescence, the need for connection is more than social; it's developmental. Belonging helps shape identity, builds coping skills, and protects against mental health challenges like anxiety, depression, and loneliness. Students who feel they belong are better equipped to manage stress and adversity, leading to stronger academic and emotional outcomes. "Our local school boards are already working on building belonging and inclusivity within schools," adds McLean. "Public health supports this work through collaborative efforts that put students' voices and well-being at the centre."

A call to action Parents, teachers, coaches & community members all play a role in creating spaces where youth feel like they matter. It starts with kindness, curiosity & connection, and it continues through partnerships that place student mental health at the heart of school culture. To hear directly from students, educators, and public health professionals, watch the latest Vital Perspectives video at swpublichealth.ca/vitalperspectives

CHRISTMAS HAMPER PROGRAM

The inter-Church has begun meeting to plan for the 2025 Christmas Hamper Program. The inter-Church provides emergency funding for housing, utilities & health needs in our community; along with supporting the "Lunch Bunch" school meal program & the Christmas Hampers. Last year we delivered hampers & gifts to over 380 families in our local community. The estimated costs our hampers will be $100 for a family of 2, both perishable & non-perishable food. This will feed the family for 2 days including the holiday meal. Many of our local families are struggling this year due to higher costs in rent, utilities & groceries. The inter-church has been supported by our local community & we hope this generosity will continue this year. The inter-Church is 100% volunteer & much of the work we do is supported by our local service clubs in Thamesford & Ingersoll. All financial support stays in the local community. To donate by cheque, mail to: Ingersoll & District inter-Church, 56 Thames St S, Ingersoll N5C 2S9 or e-transfer to interchurch2005@gmail.com. Please include your address for a tax donation receipt. If you need to speak to someone in person, please call 519-857-7458. The process for receiving a hamper will be the same as last year, this information will follow in the November Village Voice. Hampers will be delivered Thur, Dec 18, registration will begin Nov 15. Thanks for all you do, your support last year was incredible. inter-Church committee.

EVERYDAY ORGANIZED

A home renovation is exciting! Fresh paint, new layouts, and the chance to make a space feel more like "you." But anyone who has lived through one knows: the dust, the boxes & the shifting piles of stuff can quickly turn excitement into overwhelm. After recently going through my own home project, I came away with a few lessons worth sharing.

- 1. Have a plan. Renovations are unpredictable. There are delays, extra steps, and those "while we're at it" moments. Having a plan for your belongings helps you feel more in control when everything else feels uncertain.
- 2. Organize what you pack. It's tempting to toss things into boxes, but take the extra 2 minutes to label. You will need something unexpectedly - a charger, a sweater, the dog's leash. A clear label saves you from tearing through 3 boxes to find it.
- 3. Declutter twice. Packing is a perfect chance to let go of what you no longer need. Be honest: if it hasn't been used in years, do you want to pack, store & unpack it? And when you unpack, weed again - you'll notice items you didn't miss or that don't fit your refreshed space.
- 4. Start with less. Your renovated space will feel bigger & calmer if you begin with only the essentials. Bring things in slowly & intentionally to prevent old clutter from sneaking back in.
- 5. Create one storage hub. No matter how carefully you plan, things will shift around. Having a designated "parking spot" for items you're not actively using means less moving of boxes.
- 6. Live in it first. Once everything is back, give yourself a few weeks before making anything permanent - like installing drawer inserts or adding shelving. A new space may work differently than you expect. By living in it first, you'll learn how it truly functions.

Renovations are messy, but they're also an opportunity to reset. With some planning, weeding & a temporary storage system, you'll enjoy not just the new look of your home but the fresh sense of order that comes with it. If you're planning a renovation or just feeling like your home could use a reset, I'd be glad to help. everydayorganized.ca.

TILLSONBURG'S NIGHTINGALES

Mon, Oct 20, 7pm - Oxford Branch of Ontario Ancestors presents: Tillsonburg's Nightingales Nursing Sisters in WWI with Laurel Beechey. The Canadian nurses who served in World War I were called Bluebirds because of their blue uniforms & white veils. Laurel will guide us through the journey of 5 young nurses from the Tillsonburg area, leaving home & through their service with the Canadian Army Medical Corps. They are our unsung heroines. Caution - some pictures are graphic. This is a virtual meeting of Oxford Branch of Ontario ancestors. Everyone is welcome. To register for the meeting, please visit our website at <https://oxford.ogs.on.ca> to find the link to join the meeting.

A SCOTTISH CEILIDH (PARTY)

THISTLE THEATRE - EMBRO

Perils of Persephone The Box Office for Thistle Theatre's production of "The Perils of Persephone" by Dan Needles is now open. We're bringing back our very first production at Thistle Theatre from November 1995 to celebrate our 30th Anniversary. Show dates: Nov 14, 15, 20, 21 and 22, 7:30pm; or Nov 16 & 23, 2pm. Tickets $25 at www.thistle-theatre.com or by calling 226-785-3353. Interested in dinner & a show? Once again, Knox United Church is hosting a special meal before the show at 5:30pm on Sat, Nov 15 & 22. You can add these on to your ticket purchase for an additional $25. Nov 15 is homestyle meatloaf or Nov 22 is turkey dinner. This play by Dan Needles, who is most well-known for his series of "Wingfield" plays, first premiered at the Blyth Festival in 1989. The play is set in the same fictional farming community of Persephone Township as the "Wingfield" plays. The play tells the story of a truck with radioactive material that crashes into a swamp near a family farm in rural Ontario. The farm community is pitted against government people from the city who want to downplay the situation, with hilarious results. Are you interested in being a volunteer or being part of the crew for this production? Please reach out to John john.a.turvey@gmail.com. We still have a few spots to fill.

OXFORD PIONEERS

Discover the fascinating stories of some of Oxford's earliest settlers & their descendants. Oxford County Library & Oxford County Archives present the final Local History Speaker Series event for 2025: Oxford Pioneers, Sat, Oct 4, 2-3pm at Oxford County Library, Ingersoll branch. Join local historian Scott Gillies for a riveting discussion about the pioneers who helped shape Oxford County as we know it today. The presentation will examine an array of Oxford County's earliest settlers and their descendants, particularly those who helped put Oxford "on the world map." This is a drop-in event; no registration is required. However, registration (with an email address) is necessary for the online format. To register for the live Zoom format, call the Tillsonburg branch 519-842-5571 or Ingersoll branch 519-485-2505 libraries for assistance, or register online via the Programs and Events calendar at www.ocl.net.

KNOX UNITED CHURCH EMBRO

Autumn: defined as the passing from the autumn equinox to the winter solstice. Transition, change, but also a time of fresh starts, renewal. (From the Old French AUTOMPNE, which is from the Latin AUTIMNUS). In the Bible, the book of Ecclesiastes 3:1 says, "There is a time for everything & a season for every activity under the heavens." So autumn can be a metaphor for a spiritual reawakening, a time for a fresh start — if you are thinking of such a "spiritual fresh start", we invite you to join us at Knox United on Sunday mornings at 10:30am for an hour of worship, reflection, music, prayer & friendship. We are an inclusive, non-judgemental and welcoming church. In October all Canadians celebrate Thanksgiving, an ancient celebration such as mentioned in Exodus 26:16 — "Celebrate the Festival of the Ingathering when the crops are gathered from the fields." We at Knox will celebrate the conclusion of our yearly fundraising for the Canadian Foodgrains Bank, sharing our thanksgiving through donations to this world hunger charity. Soon we will be transitioning to the various outreach projects of our congregation as Christmas season approaches. We extend good wishes to all of our community this autumn.

THISTLE THEATRE - EMBRO

Perils of Persephone - November 2025 We are excited to announce that the Box Office for Thistle Theatre's production of "The Perils of Persephone" by Dan Needles is now open. We're bringing back our very first production at Thistle Theatre from November 1995 to celebrate our 30th Anniversary. Show dates: Nov 14, 15, 20, 21 & 22, 7:30 PM; or November 16 & 23, 2pm. Tickets $25 each and can be purchased at www.thistle-theatre.com or by calling 226-785-3353. Interested in dinner & a show? Once again, Knox United Church is hosting a special meal before the show at 5:30pm on Sat, Nov 15 & 22. You can add these on to your ticket purchase for an additional $25. Nov 15 is Homestyle Meatloaf or Nov 22 is Turkey Dinner. Get them now before they're sold out! This play by Dan Needles, who is most well-known for his series of "Wingfield" plays, first premiered at the Blyth Festival in 1989. The play is set in the same fictional farming community of Persephone Township as the "Wingfield" plays. The play tells the story of a truck with radioactive material that crashes into a swamp near a family farm in rural Ontario. The farm community is pitted against government people from the city who want to downplay the situation, with hilarious results. The show will be directed by Sue Garner, co-director Lynda Pillon and produced by John Turvey, co-producer Paul Brekelmans. We are excited to announce our cast! We had a high turnout for auditions, with everyone who came out displaying solid acting skills. Thanks to everyone who came out for auditions. The actors chosen include a past Dramarama grad, and 2 others who are new to Thistle Theatre. These new folks have been in shows, one in neighbouring groups and one on the other side of the world! There are certainly a few familiar faces as well. Director Sue Garner and Co-Director Lynda Pillon look forward to working with the following people: Eldon - Doug Turvey; Marge - Heather West; Wendy - Becca Potter; Orval - John Hazeleger; Francis Hinkley - Shrirang Raval; Henry Burford - D'Arcy Irvine; and, Skip Fuller - Becky Issenman. Are you interested in being a volunteer or being part of the crew for this production? Please reach out to John Turvey at john.a.turvey@gmail.com. We still have a few spots to fill.

COUNCIL NEWS FROM MAYOR RYAN

It's no secret that I think changes are needed to our school governance system. But a loss of local democracy by a transfer of decision making to Toronto is not the answer. The good news is we can both change the governance system AND keep a local democratic voice. We already have local democratically elected councils who administer budgets & deliver public safety through fire and ambulance and safe drinking water. Why not trust councils to also administer local schools & transportation? Leave teacher contracts & curriculum with the Ministry of Education, where it already is. This would give us both a more effective school system AND a local democratic voice. Closing underutilizes schools as the Province has suggested is an oversimplified response (there are none in Zorra). There are many, many portables in the TVDSB. Could some of the students in portables be moved to permanent classrooms in schools? The most fiscally responsible thing to do is use the buildings we've already paid for, not close them. It seems there's always money to break the contract with the Beer Store, or build a 401 tunnel, or a parking lot for a spa in Toronto, but there isn't money for our communities' children? At the Association of Municipalities of Ontario Conference I spoke to several Ministers about issues important to Zorra & Oxford. Homelessness funding to transition people out of homelessness, community paramedicine to help people living at home waiting for long term care, child-care spaces & rural schools. These conversations rarely result in a solution in the meeting, but are part of ongoing discussions that can lead to positive changes. For example, in the past we have got legislation that requires school boards to collaborate with municipalities on new builds, and $720,000 for affordable housing and encampment response.

In September Zorra Council received a report on expected long term growth & resulting land needs. While the report still predicts a higher rate of growth for Zorra & Oxford than the provincial average, it also is clear that we should not need to expand any Zorra village boundaries to accommodate that growth. In other words, the work council has done to get the type of growth we want, in the places we want, has worked, and is working. The world changes around us, and our only choice is how we respond to those changes. We are responding well, and we need to continue that work.

WHERE THE BUFFALO ROAM... By Laura Green

Our tour of Buffalo Ben Bisons using his self-constructed high Prairie wagon pulled by tractor horse power, brought back the memories of signing this campfire song "Home on the Range" which is the state song of Kansas since 1947. It was composed by violinist Daniel Kelley in 1873 and the text was written by otolaryngologist Dr. Brewster Higley as a poem titled "My Western Home" and published in 1876 in a Kansas newspaper. Of course, Braemar W.I. members didn't sing on the wagon because we didn't want to scare the bison with our voices. Buffalo Ben Bisons farm is located at 255395 25th Line, Thamesford and he has on-farm market of pastured-raised bison meat which is government- inspected and vacuum-packed and offers wagon tours of the paddock by calling/texting 519-608-3020. Buffalo Ben Van Hasstert, a retired dairy farmer of 38 years has always had a passion for bison animal since he was a young child. He has studied the role of the bison in Canadian & American History. He also studies the animal husbandry of the bison. Moving from the dairy farm, he purchased his retirement property that feature lowland pasture. It has been 10 years since he started with 11 animals purchased from established producer near Hagersville and now has a herd of 33 including one breeding bull. September is mating season, so extra caution was taken for our Sept 3rd morning tour. A mature cow weighs 1,200-1,400 pounds and an older bull can weigh 2,000-3,000 pounds and reach & maintain a speed of 55 kilometers an hour. Ben's bison species is the Plains Bison and there is large herd of Wood Bison in Elk Island National Park, Alberta. The Van Hasstert herd are pasture fed & receive dry hay in late fall to early spring. Ben also outlined his herd health practices used. Buffalo Ben gives Santa a ride in his special designed high Prairie wagon trail wagon used for tours at the Embro & Thamesford parades. Braemar branch members enjoyed their brown bag lunches on the front lawn under the mature trees away from the bison herd & held their business meeting with President Anya Donaldson presiding. The next meeting will be held at the Ingersoll Creative Arts Centre, 125 Centennial Line, Ingersoll Oct 1 with the tour beginning at 1:30pm. Everyone is welcomed to join us and questions can be directed to lauracgreen77@gmail.com.
