

WISCONSIN
PREMIERE!
MAYBE HAPPY ENDING

Dear Friends,

There is nothing quite like the feeling of sitting in a theater. The lights dim, the room settles and, for a few hours, we share something together. In a world that often feels fragmented, live performances remind us that we belong to one another. At Overture, this is your place to connect—to stories, to artists and to each other.

Our 2026/27 season is built around that spirit of community and connection. Broadway audiences will be thrilled by the arrival of “The Outsiders” and “Death Becomes Her,” and we are especially proud to bring the Tony Award-winning Best Musicals “Maybe Happy Ending” and “The Wiz” to Madison. These shows spark conversation about identity, resilience, love and what it means to find your people.

In our Overture Presents series, I couldn't be more excited to share two extraordinary works of artistry: Circa's “Wolf” and “Cirque Alice.” Both are visually stunning and emotionally powerful, breathtaking in craft and completely transporting.

We are also delighted to welcome back favorites that have brought pure joy to our halls, from the high energy of “Mania: The ABBA Tribute” to the electrifying musicianship of the Red Hot Chilli Pipers and the percussive brilliance of STOMP and YAMATO: The Drummers of Japan. When audiences of all ages clap and cheer together, you feel a shared spark.

This sense of togetherness happens across all our series. Broadway at Overture brings the very best of touring theater to Madison, creating shared moments that unite thousands of us in one room. National Geographic Live invites us to explore our world through the eyes of extraordinary photographers and scientists. And Up Close and Cabaret offer evenings where the artistry is personal and the connection unmistakable.

And following the incredible success of the first two years, our Fringe Festival returns even bigger in 2027, celebrating bold creativity and local voices—and the spirit of discovery that happens when a community gathers to experience something new.

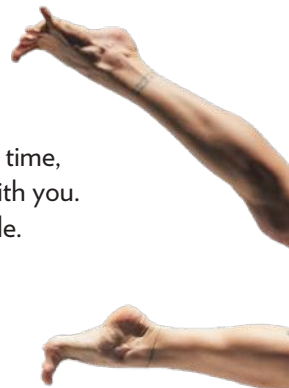

Subscribing is the best way to secure your seats. You'll receive exclusive benefits and be part of the full season journey, from the first curtain to the final encore.

At the heart of it all is YOU. Whether you are a longtime subscriber or joining us for the first time, Overture is your place. I am grateful to share this work—and my love of live performance—with you. I look forward to seeing you in the theater, where together we create something unforgettable.

Warmly,

Renewing just got easier! When you subscribe to Broadway this season, you're enrolled in subscription auto-renewal for the 2027/28 season.

If you do not wish to auto-renew your Broadway subscription, you may opt out during the ordering process.

You will be automatically renewed each season into a full Broadway subscription package. Package prices and details will vary each season. Your credit card will be charged the then-current subscription price annually or in installments (if you're on a plan). You have 30 days from the date of the season announcement to cancel the renewal via the cancellation link in the email or in your online account or calling/emailing us. If you cancel before the charge date from the email, you won't be charged. After that date, we'll refund you if you make the request within the 30-day window. A valid credit card and email are required.

- Renew online at overture.org/renew, by phone or in person at our ticket office.

- Faster entry – A quick scan gets you inside to enjoy the show sooner.
- Easy sharing – Forward digital tickets to friends or family with just a few taps.
- Eco-friendly – Go paperless and help reduce waste.

CREATE CONNECTIONS WITH A GIFT TO OVERTURE

Overture Center brings our community together, and your support makes it possible.

Each year, more than 500,000 artistic and educational experiences fill our stages, galleries and gathering spaces, with more than 30% offered through free and low-cost programs that foster connection and shared moments.

Here, toddlers wiggle to music and giggle with magicians at Kids in the Rotunda. Students from across the state experience live theater for the first time on school field trips. Young performers discover confidence through Disney Musicals in Schools and shine onstage in The Jerrys. Families celebrate culture and creativity at our annual International Festival, which welcomes over 12,000 guests in a single day. Across every age and interest, Overture delivers extraordinary experiences through the arts.

As an independent nonprofit organization, Overture Center depends on donor support to offer these performances and programs. Your gift ensures we continue to thrive, expanding our reach and strengthening our community through the power of the arts.

MAKE AN IMPACT TODAY

Your contributions help us bring world-class performances to our stages and support artistic excellence in our community.
