Understanding thread types

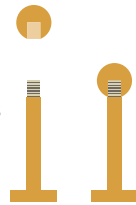

Internal

An internal thread refers to an attachment which includes a screw element which inserts into the stem.

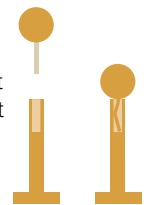

External

An external thread refers to a stem with a screw element which is then inserted into the attachment.

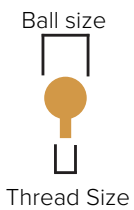

Threadless

Threadless jewellery includes an attachment with a pin which is bent slightly when inserted into the stem to create spring tension force.

Understanding gold carat

9ct

Part of Gold: 9/24
Purity: 37.5%

9ct gold cannot be used for initial piercing, due to lower gold purity. This does make it a more affordable carat choice for when your piercings are healed.

14ct

Part of Gold: 14/24
Purity: 58.3%

14ct gold is hypo-allergenic and is used for initial piercing. A great balance between purity and price.

All Tish Lyon jewellery is nickel free

Colour Guide

Gold Colours

As gold is too soft to be used on its own to create jewellery, all gold is mixed with other metal alloys. The combination of alloys results in different colours of gold. As well as our staple yellow gold jewellery, we offer an ever-expanding range of pieces in white and rose gold.

HOW TO USE

Threadless Pins

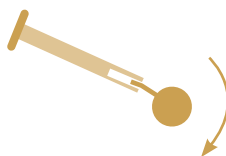

Step 1

Insert the pin about half-way into the post

Step 2

Bend the pin slightly
More bend will result in a tighter fit

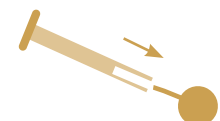

Step 3

Simply push the end to close
The pin straightens inside, creating tension to hold the pieces together

Step 4

Show off your new look!
Pull pieces apart to remove, use a slight twisting motion if tight
