PRESERVING HISTORY EMPOWERING THE FUTURE

Haverhill was founded in 1640 by settlers from Newbury and was originally called Pentucket, the Native American word for “place of the winding river.” The Passaquo and Saggahew were regional tribes who sold the land to the settlers for three pounds ten shillings in 1642. Named for one of the founding father’s hometown in England, Haverhill was founded only twenty years after Plymouth Plantation had been founded.

The Industrial Revolution

Haverhill evolved into a center of industrialization in less than two hundred years. The Merrimack River powered sawmills and gristmills. Industries such as woolen mills, tanneries, shipping, and shipbuilding became established. The shoe-making industry became prominent and developed rapidly. It brought entrepreneurs, writers, weavers, printers, and new methods of manufacturing to Haverhill. By the mid-1800s, the “Queen Slipper City” became one of the largest shoe manufacturing cities in the country. At its peak, 200 factories were producing over one million pairs of shoes annually. Today Haverhill is on the National Register of Historic Places and has some of the finest examples of Queen Anne industrial architecture in America.

Haverhill Firefighting Museum

The Fire of 1882

Take one look at the brick buildings in downtown Haverhill and you can see the effects of the fire of 1882. On February 17, a fire ripped through the shoe district, destroying nearly ten acres of the city and the entire shoe industry. Two firefighters lost their lives, and 300 businesses were destroyed, causing millions in damages. As a result, Haverhill became integral to many firefighting protocols in place today. You can learn more about this and see the kinds of tools used at the Firefighting Museum.

THE Wonders OF NATURE

HAVERHILL CARES FOR THE ENVIRONMENT

The environment and its natural resources are vitally crucial to Haverhill and the surrounding region. The Haverhill Conservation Commission was created in 1965 to protect its water and environmental resources.

The wetlands in Haverhill are the perfect breeding ground for various animals, birds, and aquatic life. Many birds migrate to Haverhill each year. The area is a breeding ground for bald eagles, osprey, Great Blue Herons, and Canada Geese. Hiking through the wetlands, you will find a large array of wildlife: pheasants, otters, foxes, beavers, turtles, deer, and lots of frogs. Learn more about nature and wildlife in the region on MassAudubon.org

Our water systems are part of a delicate ecosystem

which provides a home to wildlife, birds, and fish, that all can enjoy. As a city that heavily relied on the river system during the Industrial Revolution, we take great pride in caring for how land is developed and ensuring that our water ways are protected from pollution.

At almost 36 square miles, Haverhill is in the top ten cities and towns in Massachusetts

DID YOU KNOW?

The fertile soils in the region make for great farming.

You will find historic Farms dating back to the 1700's still in operation. Initially, most farming took place in what is now the downtown area. The advent of the Industrial Revolution pushed them to the regions on the outer regions of the city. Apple orchards, sunflowers, and pumpkin patches decorate Haverhill's landscape.

More than 1,500 acres of forest are used for recreation, open space, and the protection of the watersheds. In 2009, the mayor appointed the Forest Management Committee to create plans to responsibly manage and preserve the city's forests. Rules and information about licensing for trapping, hunting, and fishing are found on the state's Division of Fisheries and Wildlife website.

There are many access points open to the public. You will find everything from paddle boards, kayaks, and canoes to motorboats on the Merrimack River. Remember, safety is essential. Don't forget the life jackets!

COOL OFF ON A HOT DAY

There are many places to swim and splash around in Haverhill on a hot summer day. The splash pad at Swasey Park is fun for kids to run around and play under various sprinklers. In addition, you can go swimming at Plug Pond, the public pool at Haverhill High School or private swim clubs. There you can feel the sand between your toes, take a picnic to spend the day, or hang out in the wading area.

NEIGHBORING TOWNS & CITIES to HAVERHILL

The Greater Haverhill region is conveniently located within driving distance of Boston and Manchester, NH. Surrounding towns offer easy access to major routes like I- 495, I-93, and I-95. Whether you are looking for a place for your family or your business to call home, the Greater Haverhill region can offer everything you need.

These are the towns close to the Massachusetts' and New Hampshire's borders, making them an excellent place for commuters to call home. In addition, it is suitable for businesses looking to take advantage of the business and technology climate in the Boston area without having to pay the high prices or contend with space and parking concerns. You can easily take the train to and from Boston either on the MBTA Commuter Rail's Haverhill line or on Amtrak's Downeaster that goes all the way to Maine!

For travelers, historic Essex County, Massachusetts shares many historical events and activities with Rockingham County. The rich history of these towns goes back to colonial times. There are plenty of historical places to visit, treasures to be experienced, and scenery along the Merrimack River and the coastline of Essex County.

BOXFORD, MA

The small town of Boxford is at the southernmost point of the Greater Haverhill area, where agricultural roots are sustained. A small town also boasts a state forest that carries its name.

GEORGETOWN, MA

Predating all the towns near the Haverhill area is Georgetown, it is home to many antique shops and a thriving town center. Lufkin's Brook Conservation Land has 200-acres forest and wetlands interlaced with marked trails.

GROVELAND, MA

This small town sits on the Merrimack River at the northwestern boundary. Its quaint town center is an excellent spot to grab a bite to eat or relax on the common.

MERRIMACK, MA

This town is named for the river that surrounds its southern boundary. Merrimac is nine square miles and primarily residential.

WEST NEWBURY, MA

Despite its easy access to major travel routes, West Newbury has New England charm and farms. The mill Pond Area is excellent for hiking, biking, and cross-country skiing.

Our neighbors have a quintessential New England feeling that extends to Haverhill's friends to the north. The towns and cities who are in New Hampshire and part of our member region include: Atkinson, Danville, East Kingston, Hampstead, Newton, Kingston, Plaistow, and Sandown.
