ABOUT US

The Journey of Eco green plates started when two friends were graduating from college in 2024. They were all interested in sustainability, and they all wanted to make a difference for the environment. They knew that plastic tableware was a key part of the problem, and they wanted to do something about it.

After graduating, they decided that they would start their own company—Eco green plates—to make more sustainable tablewares that minimized waste and supported the use of natural materials. As they went into business together, they realized that there was an opportunity to create a brand that would appeal to a wide range of consumers.

They created Eco green plates as an environmentally-friendly brand with a focus on sustainability, using only natural materials and minimizing waste. They are committed to support the use of sustainable materials by minimizing packaging waste and encouraging reuse wherever possible.
