EMOTIONS BY DESIGN

USING THE SCIENCE OF EMOTIONS TO CREATE BELOVED PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

Design without emotion falls flat. While design shapes how we live and feel, its emotional impact is still too often ignored.

This book changes that. It shows how emotion can be a deliberate, powerful tool for creating products and services that truly connect. Aimed at designers, marketers, innovators, and students, it offers clear methods to identify emotional needs, trigger the right emotions, and resolve tensions between them.

With real-world cases, scientific insights, and hands-on tools, it helps you design not just for function or beauty, but for real human impact and competitive advantage.

THE NO DESIGN MANIFESTO

DESIGN BEYOND SHAME

Welcome to a world where everything seems wrong: meat, flying, sitting, even your houseplant. Daily life feels like a checklist of dos and don'ts. But what if we didn't shrink in shame and moved forward with imagination?

The "No Design Manifesto" is a call for creative freedom. At Next Nature, we don't go back to nature, we move forward. Design isn't a moral compass but a living system, full of potential. Let's stop lecturing and start exploring. Not neat solutions, but radical curiosity. The future doesn't need perfection, it needs connection. Forget the checklist. Embrace the ecosystem. Write the new manual together.
