About the Event

Host: Dr. Frederick A. Whitlow II
NMD, Inc. Founder & Executive Director

The Good Music and Arts Festival (GMAF), hosted by No More Dirty, Inc., has grown from a small gathering in 2021 to a major annual event that uplifts the Huntsville community through clean entertainment and critical initiatives. The first festival, held amidst the COVID-19 pandemic, offered a safe space for families, featuring music, arts, and free resources, with over 1,000 attendees.

The 2022 festival expanded with 24 artists and launched the No More Dirty Entertainment Summit alongside a Gun Take Back Initiative, while headliners like James Fortune took the stage. In 2023, the festival celebrated the 50th Anniversary of Hip-Hop, featured 30 artists, and continued the Summit and Gun Take Back efforts.

As we enter the 4th Annual GMAF, the festival has become a beloved community staple, bringing hope and joy through music, arts, and impactful programs. With growing support from sponsors, the event has become a movement of unity and resilience for the Huntsville-Madison County area.

Titus Showers

Headlining the 4th Annual Good Music & Arts Festival

The 4th Annual Good Music & Arts Festival is proud to welcome its headlining artist, Titus Showers, a two-time Stellar Award nominee and rising star in the gospel music world. With his soulful voice and powerful messages of faith, hope, and perseverance, Titus is set to captivate audiences and make this year's festival a truly unforgettable experience.

A Voice of Inspiration

Hailing from Hammond, Louisiana, Titus Showers rose to prominence as the lead singer of the celebrated family gospel group, The Showers. Known for their dynamic harmonies and impactful songs, The Showers quickly gained recognition in the gospel music industry, earning accolades and national attention. Titus, however, has carved his own path as a solo artist, combining traditional gospel roots with contemporary sounds that resonate with today's listeners.

His debut solo album, "Who?" was met with critical acclaim, reaching #1 on Billboard's Top Gospel Albums chart and securing him two Stellar Award nominations. With hits like "In His Name" and "Make It," Titus continues to inspire fans worldwide with his powerful and uplifting lyrics.

Music That Heals

Titus Showers' music is more than just melody—it's ministry. His songs speak directly to the struggles and triumphs of everyday life, offering a message of healing and hope to those who need it most. Having experienced personal trials, including the loss of family members and life-altering challenges, Titus uses his platform to remind listeners that faith and resilience can help overcome even the darkest of times.

As a performer, he brings an infectious energy and heartfelt authenticity to every stage, making his live shows not just concerts, but powerful worship experiences.

A Perfect Fit for GMAF 2024

The Good Music & Arts Festival has always been about more than entertainment—it's about creating a space where families, individuals, and the entire community can come together to celebrate positivity, unity, and transformation. Titus Showers, with his unwavering commitment to spreading messages of love, faith, and community empowerment, is the perfect headliner for this year's festival.

His presence at the 4th Annual GMAF will be an inspiring addition to an already diverse lineup of artists, speakers, and entertainers committed to making a difference in the Huntsville-Madison community. His performance will undoubtedly be one of the festival's highlights, bringing together people from all walks of life to worship, celebrate, and unite through the power of music.

A Night to Remember

As we prepare for an incredible day of music, arts, and community-building, we are honored to have Titus Showers lead the way. His headlining performance will not only showcase his extraordinary talent but also his heart for ministry and community upliftment. The Good Music and Arts Festival

A Journey of Hope, Resilience, and Community

As we gather for the 4th Annual Good Music and Arts Festival, we reflect on the incredible journey that began with a single vision—bringing hope, joy, and community connection to the people of Huntsville during one of the most challenging times in recent history. Each festival has been a testament to the power of resilience, creativity, and the unyielding spirit of service. Let's take a moment to look back at where we started and how far we've come.

The 1st Annual Good Music & Arts Festival (GMAF 2021)

September 12, 2021, marked the beginning of something extraordinary. In the midst of the pandemic, with uncertainty and isolation at an all-time high, many families were left wondering: When can we safely gather again? Where can we take our children for fun and enjoyment? The devastation brought on by COVID-19 had silenced community events, and the need for a safe space where people could come together was greater than ever.

Our founder, Frederick Whitlow II, took these concerns to heart. After receiving countless calls from families asking for an event where they could enjoy themselves while staying safe, Whitlow turned to prayer. The answer came in the form of the Good Music & Arts Festival, a citywide celebration designed to uplift and unite the community through clean entertainment. With the support of local government officials, Huntsville Utilities, City of Huntsville Parks and Recreation, first responders, and other key stakeholders, the vision became a reality. The festival took place at Big Spring Park East, offering free COVID-19 masks, bottled water, snacks, family-friendly activities, and entertainment. It was the answer our community needed, with over 1,000 attendees, bringing hope and joy in a time of uncertainty.

The 2nd Annual GMAF (2022)

Building on the success of the inaugural event, the second annual festival took things to the next level on October 2, 2022. With 24 artists, two co-hosts, and three guest speakers, the event featured the electrifying opening act by Chyna Whyte and the highly anticipated headliner, James Fortune. This year's festival was not just a celebration of music and art, but a call to action.

We also launched the No More Dirty Entertainment Summit and a Gun Take Back Initiative at the Bob Harrison Wellness and Advocacy Center, a significant step toward promoting peace and safety in our community. This powerful event included panel discussions, live entertainment, and opportunities for community members to hand in unwanted firearms.

The Good Music and Arts Festival

A Journey of Hope, Resilience, and Community

The 3rd Annual GMAF & 50th Anniversary of Hip-Hop Celebration (2023)

By 2023, the Good Music and Arts Festival had become a staple event in Huntsville. The third festival, held on October 1st, was special not only for its growing number of attendees and performers but also for celebrating the 50th anniversary of hip-hop. This year's event saw 30 artists, a guest radio personality, and three phenomenal headliners: Clean Comedian Small Fire, Denise Tichenor-Davis, and the ever-popular Chyna Whyte.

We also continued the important work started the previous year, hosting the No More Dirty Entertainment Summit and the Suicide and Gun Take Back Initiative. Once again, the festival provided a safe, family-friendly environment for over 1,500 people to enjoy live music, food, and community bonding.

Looking Forward: The 4th Annual Good Music & Arts Festival (2024)

As we enter the 4th year of this incredible event, we remain committed to our mission: to bring clean, uplifting entertainment and resources to the community, while addressing issues that matter. This year, we're excited to bring even more talent to the stage and continue offering a safe space for families to enjoy music, arts, and fun activities.

Our journey from the first festival to today has been one of tremendous growth and learning, but one thing has remained constant—our dedication to serving the people of Huntsville and beyond. From our gun take-back initiatives to providing critical supplies during the pandemic, the Good Music & Arts Festival has become much more than an event; it's a movement.

A Special Thanks

We couldn't have made it this far without the unwavering support of our sponsors, partners, and donors. Together, we have created a platform that celebrates community, promotes peace, and fosters creativity. We look forward to many more years of collaboration and growth, and we invite everyone to join us in making Huntsville a shining example of unity and resilience.

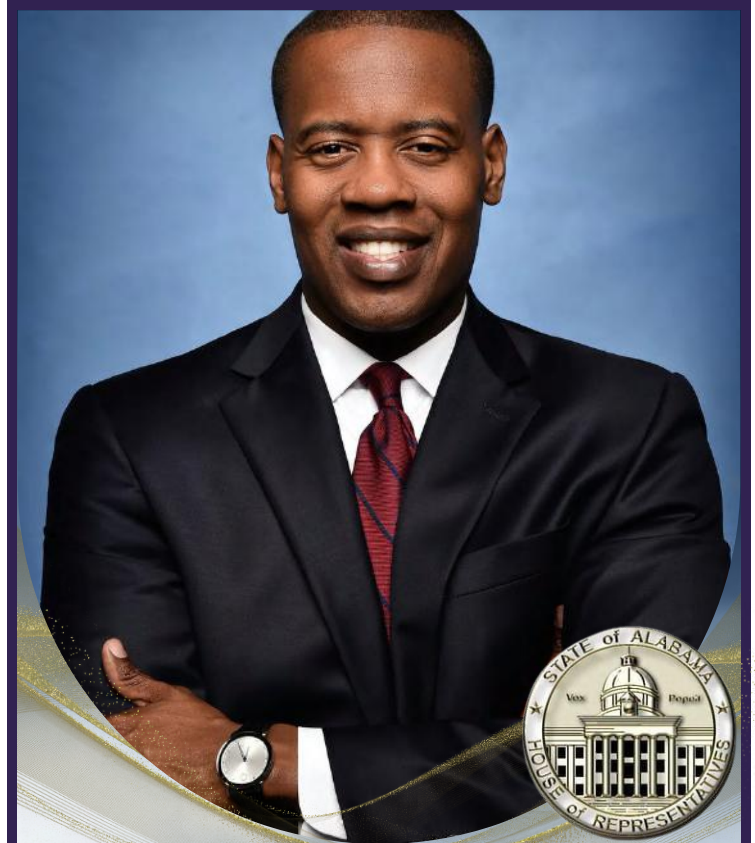

Teamwork makes the dream work! Here's to another year of good music, arts, and making a positive impact in our community.
