29 YEARS IS A LONG TIME. Say what you will about time, but sometimes it works in your favour. Let enough time pass, and it will bring perspective, to clarify if what you thought was a good idea actually turned out to be one.

Our history shows that we achieved what we set out to do: become a long-term-thinking, reliable company. But in order to remain that way, we must rely on anything but the past. Instead we have to keep moving, to keep making progress, every day and on every level.

FLEXA®

For more than 45 years FLEXA has brought joy to children around the world with our unique design of children's furniture and interiors that combines Danish design with the highest standards of safety and quality. Our collections are innovative designs made from long-lasting materials, which will grow with your children as their needs change.

WWW.FLEXAWORLD.COM

WE GROW TOGETHER

FLEXA creates children's furniture that can be reconfigured as the child grows. Design the bed to suit your child's needs and change the bed parts continually, so bed and child will grow together.

For most children it is a big event to get their first big bed. Safety rails can be added for when your child is little, and be removed when your child no longer needs them. The single bed can also be used as a daybed for the teenager.

A house bed is great for children who like an extra element of play in their room. Let your child sleep safe and sound inside the little house, and in the day time enjoy lots of playful fun around the cosy cave.

OUTDOOR KIDS

Leave the room, play outside !

EXIT Toys is the contemporary brand that encourages, and even challenges, kids to play outside and enjoy themselves.

We do this by developing outdoor play equipment that meets the needs of both children and parents. Our emphasis is to make the toys attractive for children, not only because children like to play, but also by devoting attention to a modern and cool design.

An EXIT Toys product obviously guarantees safety and means value for money. That makes EXIT Toys products accessible to a broad public and that way we provide many children with the opportunity to play outdoors together for days, weeks, months and even years. That is why an EXIT Toys product is a healthy, but mainly playful foundation for every child!
