

CANVAS & ORCHIDS RETREAT WITH AZAHAR-TRAINED LOCAL TEACHERS

Yoga & More

A three-day immersion in yoga, meditation, rainforest nature and meaningful local connection on Cambodia's Tatai River.

18-20 September 2026 | 3 Days / 2 Nights

More than a yoga retreat

Reconnect with yourself in a place where the rainforest, river, and community are part of the practice.

Set on the Tatai River in the foothills of Cambodia's Cardamom Mountains, Canvas & Orchids Retreat offers a rare setting for reflection and renewal. Guests stay in luxury floating or island safari tents, surrounded by tranquil water and one of Southeast Asia's last great rainforests.

This retreat combines daily Jivamukti yoga, restorative practice, meditation, sunrise nature activities, local culture, and conservation storytelling.

Personal wellbeing,
rainforest conservation and community connection in one memorable weekend

Daily Yoga

Dynamic and restorative sessions suitable for all levels

Nature Immersion

Kayaking, rainforest, sunset, fireflies and river life

Local Connection

Village visit, cooking class and conservation stories

AZAHAR - The Orange Blossom of Change

AZAHAR Foundation began in 2016 through a partnership between Yogeswari and Jeanine Munyeshuli, bringing the transformative practice of yoga to communities recovering from trauma in Rwanda in collaboration with local NGOs.

Inspired by the symbolism of the orange blossom, a sign of renewal, growth and possibility, AZAHAR soon expanded its impact through scholarships for the prestigious 300-hour Jivamukti Yoga Teacher Training. These opportunities supported educators from Cambodia, Rwanda, Colombia, Lebanon, Ivory Coast, Syria, Ukraine and beyond.

Today, AZAHAR's story is one of resilience, compassion and empowerment through education, professional training and community development.

Why We Partner With AZAHAR

Canvas & Orchids Retreat and AZAHAR Foundation share a belief that personal wellbeing and community wellbeing go hand in hand. By participating in this retreat, guests support a model that combines yoga, education, conservation and local empowerment in one meaningful experience.

"Like the orange blossom, meaningful change begins with small actions that grow into lasting transformation"

Your Teachers...

Raty Khun is a passionate yoga teacher and peacebuilder from Cambodia. She discovered yoga at 13 through Yogeswari, founder of the AZAHAR Foundation, and has practiced ever since.

She is a 300-hour Jivamukti Yoga teacher and 200-hour certified by the Yoga Alliance, with further training in Fly Fit, Prenatal and Postnatal, and Trauma-Sensitive Yoga.

Chhayleang Kauy believes that true wealth lies in health and wellbeing. Her mission is to make yoga accessible to everyone and help people reconnect with their fullest potential.

Inspired by the profound changes yoga brought to her life, she combines yoga, psychology, and compassionate care to support healing and personal growth.

... and your practice

Facilitated by experienced Cambodian teachers

The retreat will be led by experienced Cambodian yoga teachers trained through the AZAHAR Foundation's professional development program.

Their teaching combines Jivamukti Yoga with local knowledge and an understanding of Cambodia's culture and communities.

A shared philosophy, the beliefs that unite us

Canvas & Orchids Retreat and AZAHAR share the belief that investing in local people creates lasting positive change.

By joining this retreat you support a model where yoga, hospitality, conservation and community development reinforce one another.

Jivamukti Yoga

A dynamic vinyasa-based practice including standing postures, forward bends, twists, backbends, and inversions, guided with music, mantra, and clear instruction.

Restorative Yoga

Gentle, supported postures and deep relaxation to help the body release tension and shift from doing into being.

Meditation

Simple mantra-based meditation and breath awareness, accessible to beginners and useful as a practical tool after the retreat.

You'll leave with

- Renewed energy and clearer attention
- Practical meditation tools
- Greater mobility, breath awareness and calm
- A deeper connection with Cambodia's rainforest landscape

Beyond the yoga mat

The river and rainforest are not just the backdrop, they are part of the retreat

Sunrise Yoga

Begin the day with yoga as the rainforest awakens around you, with peaceful views of the Tatai River

Secret Jungle Pools

Discover hidden jungle pools and cool off beneath small waterfalls in the Cardamom rainforest

Mangrove Kayaking

Paddle through quiet mangrove waterways and explore one of Koh Kong's richest ecosystems

Cardamom Wildlife

Discover unique wildlife of the Cardamom Mountains, rare species documented by local camera traps and conservation efforts

Sunset Watching

Relax on the river as the sun disappears behind the Cardamom Mountains, surrounded by the quiet wilderness

Fireflies Experience

Watch thousands of fireflies illuminate the mangroves along the Tatai River during this magical evening experience
