

TENNESSEE
WILLIAMS &
NEW ORLEANS
LITERARY FESTIVAL

38TH ANNUAL
MARCH 20-24, 2024
tennesseewilliams.net

View of Canal Street at night; circa 1952; by Homer Emory Turner; color transparency; gift of Beverly Turner Lynds, THNOC, 2002.84.105, © Homer Emory Turner

The Historic New Orleans Collection, 2023
hardcover • 9" x 11.5" • 288 pp.
44 color images; 131 black and white images
$49.95 • ISBN 978-0-917860-91-1

ON THE COVER: Self-portrait (detail), 2011; by George Dureau; chromogenic print; gift of Donald Dureau, THNOC, 2015.0293.1.30

Louisiana Lens

Photographs from The Historic New Orleans Collection

by John H. Lawrence, with a foreword by Jeff L. Rosenheim

“A new and elegant history of photography in the United States seen through the wide-angle lens of the Crescent City.”

—Jeff L. Rosenheim, Metropolitan Museum of Art

In 175 striking images, from daguerreotypes to digital, with works by Walker Evans and Doris Ullman as well as rarities from unsung artists, Louisiana Lens charts nearly two centuries of growth and change in the Gulf South while tracing the history of photography itself.

For more than 40 years, The Historic New Orleans Collection has published award-winning books exploring our region’s history and culture.

Learn more at hnoc.org/ourbooks.

 The Historic
New Orleans Collection
MUSEUM • RESEARCH CENTER • PUBLISHER

(504) 523-4662 | hnoc.org

520 Royal Street | 410 Chartres Street

All THNOC publications are available from The Shop at The Collection, (504) 598-7147, hnoc.org/ourbooks, or from your favorite local independent bookstore. Booksellers: contact orders@longleafservices.org.

Follow @visit_thnoc on social media!

SAINTS + SINNERS LGBTQ+ LITERARY FESTIVAL MARCH 22-24 AT THE HOTEL MONTELEONE

Your TWfest VIP Pass, or Literary Discussion Pass admits you to SASFest panels and readings, and you can purchase tickets to individual Writer's Craft sessions and panels online at www.tennesseewilliams.net or in our box office.

A program of the Tennessee Williams & New Orleans Literary Festival, the Saints and Sinners Literary Festival was founded in 2003 as an innovative way to reach the community with information about HIV/AIDS, particularly disseminating prevention messages via the writers, thinkers and spokes-people of the LGBTQ+ community.

It was also formed to bring the LGBTQ+ literary community together to celebrate the literary arts. The Festival has grown into an internationally recognized event that brings together a who's who of LGBTQ+ publishers, writers, and readers from throughout the United States and beyond. SASFest, held the same weekend as TW&NOLF, features panel discussions, readings, and writer's craft sessions on literary topics and current issues that provide a forum for authors, editors, and publishers to talk about their work for the benefit of students, emerging writers, and the enjoyment of fans of LGBTQ+ literature.

The Saints and Sinners Literary Festival is grateful for the support of our premier sponsor, the John Burton Harter Foundation, and funding support from The Greater New Orleans Foundation LBGTO Fund.

Artwork for our 2024 Saints + Sinners cover is called "Tones of New Orleans" and was created by local graphic designer T.J. Fury.

The Pinckley Prizes for Crime Fiction celebrate our 2022 and 2023 winners:

Friday, March 22
5:30 p.m.

Hotel Monteleone
Royal Salon
214 Royal Street
New Orleans, LA

Photo: © Séa Silloni

Sascha Rothchild
2022 winner for
Debut Novel,
Blood Sugar

Margot Douaihy
2023 winner for
Debut Novel,
Scorched Grace

Alafair Burke
2023 winner for Distinguished
Body of Work

The Pinckley Prizes are presented in memory of Diana Pinckley, longtime mystery columnist for The New Orleans Times-Picayune.

For more information about the Prizes and the debut novel competition, check out: pinckleyprizes.org

TENNESSEE WILLIAMS &
NEW ORLEANS LITERARY FESTIVAL

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Lawrence Henry Gobble, President
Peggy Scott Laborde, Immediate Past President
Sara W. Woodard, Vice President
Michelle Nelson, Secretary
Terry Verigan, Treasurer
Gregory Gajus, Member At Large
Amelia W. Koch, Member At Large

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

C. Morgan Babst
Sara Barnard
Beau Bratcher
David Hoover
David Johnson
D. J. Johnson
Errol Laborde, Ph.D.
Margit Longbrake
Mary Niall Mitchell, Ph.D.
Angel Adams Parham
Edward Spots
Ariel Wilson-Harris

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Paul Willis

MANAGING DIRECTOR

Tracy Cunningham

FESTIVAL PUBLICIST

Reine Dugas

CONTEST COORDINATOR

James Giltenan

SOCIAL MEDIA COORDINATOR

Nancy Gorman

BOX OFFICE MANAGER & FESTIVAL ASSISTANT

Norah Clifford

TECHNICAL DIRECTOR

Ron Goldberg

FESTIVAL PHOTOGRAPHER

Ride Hamilton

FESTIVAL VIDEOGRAPHER

The Bend Media

WEB DESIGNER

Cherry Cappel

GRAPHIC DESIGNER

Toan Nguyen

ORIGINAL FESTIVAL LOGO

Arthur Nead

Welcome to the FESTIVAL!

Welcome to the 2024 Tennessee Williams & New Orleans Literary Festival in our 38th year, our 21st year of the Saints & Sinners LGBTQ+ Literary Festival, and our 2nd year to offer the amazing Last Bohemia Fringe Festival...all in the same week!

I must also express extreme gratitude for our continued local connections throughout the year and to everyone who has attended and helped create the monthly Coffee & Craft Writing Workshops in partnership with Baldwin & Co. Coffee and Bookstore and the annual Writer's Resolution Retreat each January!

One of the most amazing things I discovered when I started volunteering over a decade ago is that our Festival has many possibilities for a "once in a lifetime moment" every single year—you might just happen to be in one of the sessions or events that lines up with the universal magic of creativity, insight and presence. I am blessed to have many and I have included this sweet photograph of my dear friend Bryan Batt and his lifelong friend, Patricia Clarkson who joined us for an amazing evening in 2019.

Bryan Batt, Patricia Clarkson, and Lawrence.

I am personally committed to honoring Tennessee Williams genius in writing about life in such rich dimensions of hope, love, tragedy, and trauma. The Stella Shouting Contest is now an awareness-raising and fundraising campaign for the New Orleans Family Justice Center, a partnership of agencies dedicated to ending domestic violence. This year we are also bringing a visible awareness of the suicide prevention and crisis line "988" to share the quick access available for those in need.

AND...I'm super excited for Saturday night's Last Bohemia Soiree hosted by Tony Award winner John Cameron Mitchell in the ballroom of his splendid Bywater home, known as The Temple. Come join us for an after-hours extravaganza!

We are once again thrilled to offer a celebration of Life, Connection, Friendship, Literature, Theatre, Music, Food, Celebrity, and Bohemia of New Orleans and the World.

Step into the fray of all the magic that will be created in the next few days of unforeseen connection and revelry within all our programs—truly, something for everyone!

Lawrence Henry Gobble

President

PHOTO BY RIDE HAMILTON

Tracy Cunningham, Managing Director and Paul J. Willis, Executive Director

Important Reminders

The Tennessee Williams & New Orleans Literary Festival is a 501(c)(3) non-profit, tax-exempt organization. Contributions are deductible according to the provision of current tax laws. Please note that during the Festival, many activities may be recorded for archival and/or commercial purposes. By attending Festival events, you hereby grant to The Tennessee Williams & New Orleans Literary Festival and others permission to photograph and record you visually and orally for various TV and/or film productions. You grant universal rights for any reproduction of your image, likeness, or voice, throughout the Festival weekend.

Table of CONTENTS

Saints + Sinners 2024	1
Board of Directors/Welcome	2
Festival Event Grids	4
Map of Festival Sites	8
Opening Night	9
The Last Bohemia Fringe Festival	10
Walking Tours	12
Thursday Schedule	13
TW Scholars Conference	16
Friday Schedule	17
Saturday Schedule	20
Drummer & Smoke	24
Sunday Schedule	25
Funding Support for the Festival	27
Festival Participants	31

Official Festival Bookstore:

Octavia Books
513 Octavia Street • New Orleans, LA 70115
504.899.7323 • www.octaviabooks.com

Cover:

Photo by Marco Rasi
Follow Marco on Twitter @marcorasi1960.

Program layout and graphics:

Toan Nguyen

Printer:

Pel Hughes Printing
3801 Toulouse St. • New Orleans, LA 70119 • 504.486.8646 info@pelhughes.com • pelhughes.com

Tennessee Williams & New Orleans Literary Festival

938 Lafayette St., Suite 514 • New Orleans, LA 70113 • 504.581.1144 info@tennesseewilliams.net • www.tennesseewilliams.net

64 PARISHES

ALL ABOUT LOUISIANA

1 YEAR FOR $25

2 YEARS FOR $40

Subscribe now at 64parishes.org.

or by scanning the QR code below published by

LOUISIANA
ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

2024 FESTIVAL EVENTS

THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 2024

HOTEL MONTELEONE QUEEN ANNE PARLOR
9:00 AM New Orleans Writing Marathon
10 AM - 12 Noon Historic Storyville Walking Tour
11 AM - 12:30 PM LGBTQ+ French Quarter Walking Tour
Various Times Author Book Signings

HOTEL MONTELEONE ROYAL SALON
10 - 11:15 AM M.O. Walsh 3 Levels, 2 Questions, & the Weirdest Thing: Some Totally Non-Guaranteed Tips on How To Write A Great Novel
11:30 AM - 12:45 PM Stacey Balkun Reflections & Omissions: Writing with the Unsaid
1:30 - 2:45 PM Adrian Van Young "Thy Creature": Literary Monsters in Theory & Practice
3 - 4:15 PM Alex Jennings Setting & Worldbuilding

VARIOUS LOCATIONS
1 - 3 PM History of Queer Nightlife in New Orleans Tour Crossing Bar
5:45 - 7:15 PM French Quarter Ghosts & Legends Tour Pirates Alley Café
6:30 - 9 PM Tribute Reading: Tennessee After Dark—The Erotic World of Tennessee Williams New Orleans Jazz Museum
7:30 - 8:30 PM Last Bohemia Fringe Festival Presents: The Sinking Opulence Show The Twilight Room
7:30 PM The Tennessee Williams Theatre Company of New Orleans Presents: Kingdom of Earth by Tennessee Williams Loyola University, The Marquette Theatre
7:30 PM Delgado Community College Theatre Department Presents: Five by Tenn Delgado Community College, Timothy K. Baker Theatre
7:30 PM The Fire Weeds Presents: Outraged Hearts: The Pretty Trap & Interior: Panic Big Couch New Orleans
9 - 10 PM Last Bohemia Fringe Festival Presents: This Is the Peaceable Kingdom, or Good Luck God The Twilight Room

38th Annual Tennessee Williams & New Orleans Literary Festival

Our Headquarters is on the Mezzanine of the Hotel Monteleone, where you can pick up passes, buy Festival merchandise and tickets, and become a Friend of Tennessee.

Hours are Thursday through Saturday, 9 AM – 4 PM and Sunday, 9 AM – 2 PM.

Our BOOK FAIR, hosted by Octavia Books, is also on the Mezzanine. Hours are Thursday through Saturday, 9 AM – 4 PM and Sunday, 9 AM – 2 PM.

NEW FROM THE ACCLAIMED BIOGRAPHER CYNTHIA CARR, A LONG-OVERDUE LOOK AT CANDY DARLING

“Deftly reported, Cynthia Carr’s Candy Darling allows us to see—truly, for the first time—this celluloid wisp of a Warhol superstar in all her humanity.”

—Brad Gooch, author of Radiant: The Life and Line of Keith Haring

AVAILABLE WHEREVER BOOKS ARE SOLD

2024 FESTIVAL EVENTS

FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 2024

HOTEL MONTELEONE QUEEN ANNE PARLOR
10 AM - 12 Noon Historic Storyville Walking Tour
2 - 4 PM Tennessee Williams Literary Walking Tour
3:30 - 5 PM LGBTQ+ French Quarter Tour
Various Times Author Book Signings

HOTEL MONTELEONE QUEEN ANNE BALLROOM
10 - 11:15 AM A Truman Capote Reading & Discussion
11:30 AM - 12:45 PM Voices from the Past: Hearing Our Ancestors in the Present
1 - 2:15 PM Exploring Blanche Dubois & the Women of Tennessee Williams
2:30 - 3:45 PM Writers of a Certain Age
4 - 5:15 PM Featured Conversation: Maureen Corrigan, Michael Cunningham, & Justin Torres

HOTEL MONTELEONE ROYAL SALON
10 - 11:15 AM Wendy Chin-Tanner The Dual Gaze: Writing Fiction Inspired by True Events
11:30 AM - 12:45 PM Colm Tóibín Fact And Fiction
1:30 - 2:45 PM Michael Cunningham Character: Finding The Missing Persons
3 - 4:15 PM Stephanie Burt Poetry & Talking Things
5:30 - 6:30 PM Presentation of the Diana Pinckley Prizes for Crime Fiction

WILLIAMS RESEARCH CENTER
9 - 10:30 AM The Archive, the Motel, and the Con Man: Queering in and with Williams
10:45 AM - 12 NOON Getting the Male: Learning to Read the Semiotics of Men in Williams
1:15 - 2:45 PM Williams and the Postwar Broadway and Beyond
3 - 4:15 PM An Outrage for the Stage: Williams Productions in the 21st Century
4:30 - 5:15 PM A Staged Reading of Entrances to Heaven

VARIOUS LOCATIONS
10 - 11:15 AM Tennessee 101 with Augustin J Correro Hotel Monteleone, Royal D
1 - 3 PM History of Queer Nightlife in New Orleans Tour Crossing Bar
5:45 - 7:15 PM French Quarter Ghosts & Legends Tour Pirates Alley Café
7:30 - 8:30 PM Last Bohemia Fringe Festival Presents: The Sinking Opulence Show The Twilight Room
7:30 PM The Tennessee Williams Theatre Company of New Orleans Presents: Kingdom of Earth by Tennessee Williams Loyola University, The Marquette Theatre
7:30 PM Delgado Community College Theatre Department Presents: Five by Tenn Delgado Community College, Timothy K. Baker Theatre
7:30 PM The Fire Weeds Presents: Outraged Hearts: The Pretty Trap & Interior: Panic Big Couch New Orleans
9 - 10 PM Last Bohemia Fringe Festival Presents: This Is the Peaceable Kingdom, or Good Luck God The Twilight Room

2024 FESTIVAL EVENTS

SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 2024

HOTEL MONTELEONE QUEEN ANNE PARLOR	HOTEL MONTELEONE QUEEN ANNE BALLROOM	WILLIAMS RESEARCH CENTER	VARIOUS LOCATIONS
10 AM - 12 Noon Historic Storyville Walking Tour	10 – 11:15 AM From the Writing Room to the Theater: Adapting Book to Screen	10 – 11:15 AM Parables of a World Corrupted—Politics in the Plays of Tennessee Williams	8:30 – 9:45 AM Books & Beignets with Gary Richards 3rd Block Depot Kitchen + Bar
Various Times Author Book Signings	11:30 AM – 12:45 PM Making an Entrance: New Fiction Voices with Style	11:30 AM – 12:45 PM The Other Side of Desire: Tennessee Williams on Life, Love, & Death	10 AM - 12 Noon Tennessee Williams Literary Walking Tour Hotel Monteleone, Royal A
HOTEL MONTELEONE ROYAL SALON	1 – 2:15 PM Writing Southern Gothic in Modern New Orleans	1 – 2:15 PM Featured Conversation: Seeing Our History on the Page	1 - 3 PM History of Queer Nightlife in New Orleans Tour Crossing Bar
10 – 11:15 AM Great Stories from New Orleans Institutions	2:30 – 3:45 PM History Is my Muse: Finding Present Inspiration in the Past	2:30 – 3:45 PM Literary New Orleans	2 – 4 PM Tennessee Williams Literary Walking Tour Hotel Monteleone, Royal A
4–5:15 PM Featured Conversation: Maureen Corrigan & Colm Tóibín	4 – 5:15 PM Legends of Burlesque		2:30 PM and 7:30 PM The Fire Weeds Presents: Outraged Hearts: The Pretty Trap & Interior: Panic Big Couch New Orleans
	7 – 8:30 PM Mendacity: Act 2 of Cat on a Hot Tin Roof		7 - 8:30 PM Last Bohemia Fringe Festival Presents: Tennessee Rising: The Dawn of Tennessee Williams The Twilight Room
			7:30 PM The Tennessee Williams Theatre Company of New Orleans Presents: Kingdom of Earth by Tennessee Williams Loyola University, The Marquette Theatre
			7:30 PM Delgado Community College Theatre Department Presents: Five by Tenn Delgado Community College, Timothy K. Baker Theatre
			8:30 - 10 PM French Quarter Ghosts & Legends Tour Pirates Alley Café
			8:30 PM Doors; 10 PM Show The Last Bohemia Soirée, Including a performance of Nightingale The Temple Ballroom

2024 FESTIVAL EVENTS

SUNDAY, MARCH 24, 2024

HOTEL MONTELEONE QUEEN ANNE PARLOR

9:00 AM
New Orleans
Writing Marathon

1 – 2:30 PM
LGBTQ+ French Quarter Tour

Various Times
Author Book Signings

HOTEL MONTELEONE QUEEN ANNE BALLROOM

10 – 11:15 AM
Creating the Writer's City

11:30 AM – 12:45 PM
Otherworldly Fiction

1 – 2:15 PM
Defining Character:
Three Unorthodox
Biographies

2:30 – 3:45 PM
Festival Closing Event:
A Celebration of Writers

HOTEL MONTELEONE

ROYAL A
10 AM - 12 Noon
Tennessee Williams
Literary Walking Tour

VIEUX CARRÉ ROOM
11 AM – 12:15 PM
The Nola Project Presents
Tennessee X Three

ROYAL SALON
11:30 AM - 12:45 PM
Why the Art of Improv Endures

ROYAL SALON
1 – 2:15 PM
New Vistas,
Grand Outlooks: Rendering
the Landscape in Poetry

ROYAL A
2 - 4 PM
Tennessee Williams
Literary Walking Tour

PALM COURT JAZZ CAFÉ

11:30 AM - 12:45 PM
Drummer & Smoke
John Boutté

1 - 2:15 PM
Drummer & Smoke
Amanda Shaw

2:30 - 3:45 PM
Doyle Cooper Jazz Band

VARIOUS LOCATIONS

1 - 3 PM
History of Queer Nightlife in New Orleans Tour
Crossing Bar

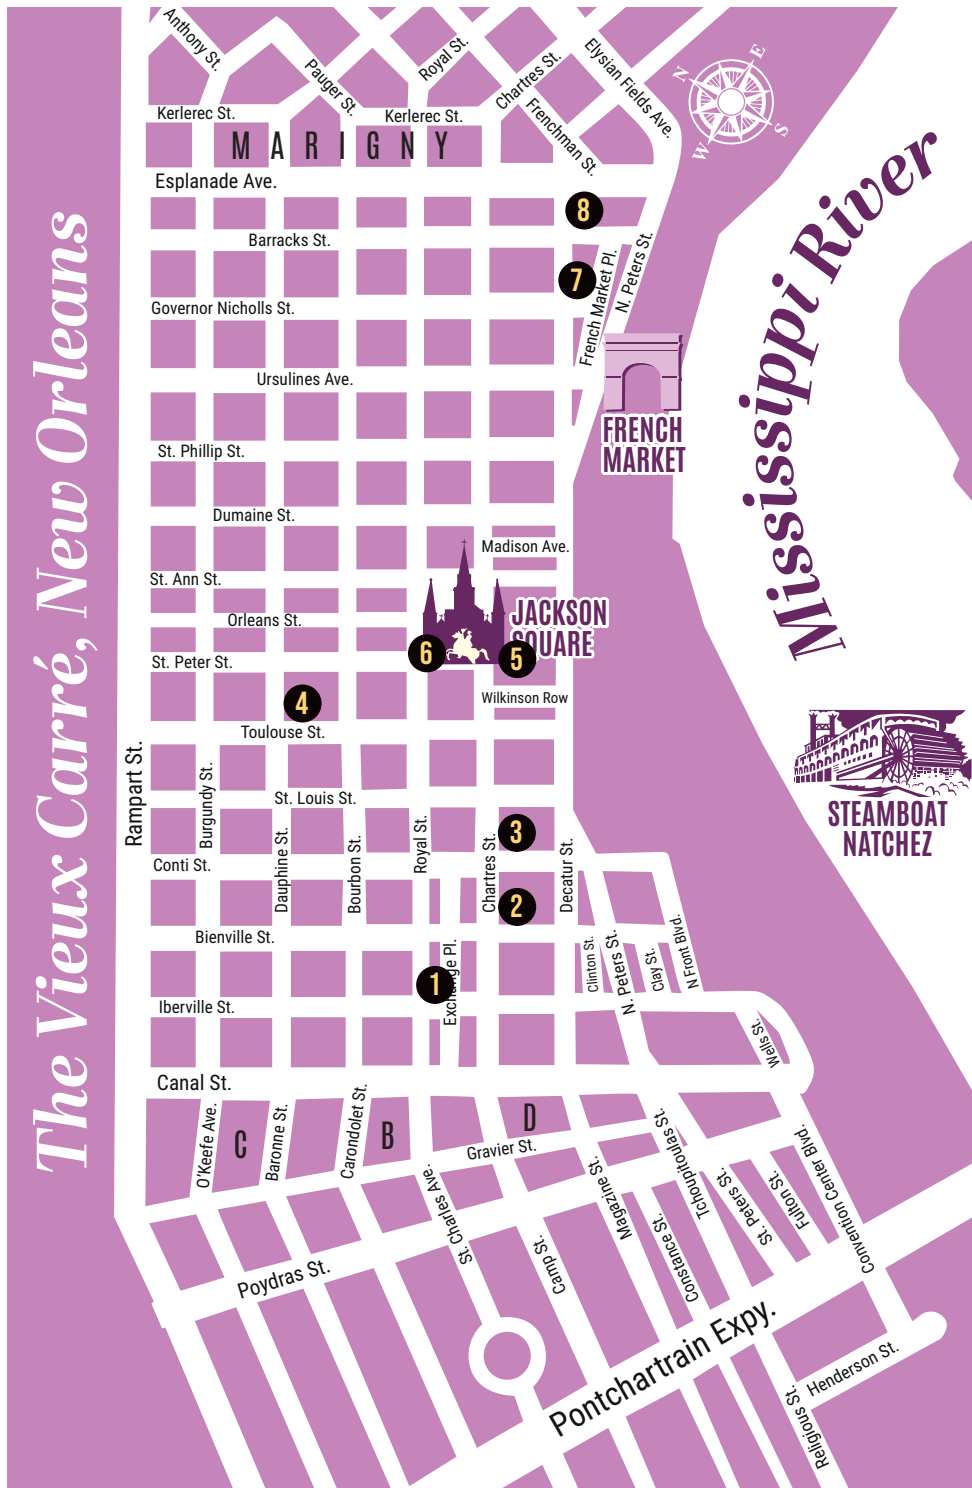

2:30 PM and 7:30 PM
The Fire Weeds Presents:
Outraged Hearts:
The Pretty Trap
& Interior: Panic
Big Couch New Orleans

3 PM
The Tennessee Williams
Theatre Company of New Orleans Presents:
Kingdom of Earth by Tennessee Williams
Loyola University,
The Marquette Theatre

5:30 - 7 PM
French Quarter Ghosts
& Legends Tour
Pirates Alley Café

2024 FESTIVAL SITES

1. Hotel Monteleone
214 Royal Street
2. 3rd Block Depot Kitchen + Bar
310 Chartres Street
3. Williams Research Center at
The Historic New Orleans Collection
410 Chartres Street
4. Crossing Bar
439 Dauphine Street
5. Jackson Square
St. Peter Street for Shouting Contest
6. Pirates Alley Café
622 Pirates Alley
7. Palm Court Jazz Café
1204 Decatur Street
8. New Orleans Jazz Museum at the Old U.S. Mint
400 Esplanade Avenue

EVENTS/VENUES OUTSIDE THE FRENCH QUARTER

STEAMBOAT NATCHEZ

Kingdom of Earth by The Tennessee Williams Theatre Company of
New Orleans
Marquette Theatre at Loyola University
6363 St. Charles Avenue

The Last Bohemia Fringe Festival
The Twilight Room at
The AllWays Lounge
2240 St. Claude Avenue

The Last Bohemia Soiree
The Temple Ballroom
3151 Dauphine Street

Outraged Hearts by The Fire Weeds
Big Couch New Orleans
1045 Desire Street

Five by Tenn by Delgado Community College Theatre Department
Timothy K. Baker Theatre, Delgado
Community College
615 City Park Avenue

Save the DATE

39th Annual Tennessee Williams
& New Orleans Literary Festival will be March 26 – March 30, 2025

SUNDAY, MARCH 17

2 - 3:15 PM

STELLA SHOUTING CONTEST

Our beloved Stella Shouting Contest KICKS OFF our Festival on Sunday! Join us in Jackson Square for the annual competition to see who can best impress our judges with their rendition of Stanley Kowalski's iconic line. Contestant signup begins at 1:30 and we take the first 25. We're excited to have Beth Bartley d'Amour and Todd d'Amour as our Stella and Stanley. Plus, we're once again making the Shouting Contest an awareness-raising and fundraising campaign for the New Orleans Family Justice Center, a partnership of agencies dedicated to ending domestic violence. The NOFJC provides access to free crisis services and shelter, legal aid, advocacy and case management, trauma counseling, and prevention education.

Sponsored by the Goldring Family Foundation.
Jackson Square, free and open to the public.

PHOTO BY RIDE HAMILTON

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20

7:30 PM - 9 PM—Special Event

OPENING NIGHT: TENNESSEE RISING

Tennessee Rising: The Dawn of Tennessee Williams, a solo play written and performed by Jacob Storms and originally directed for the stage by Alan Cumming, explores the formative period from 1939 - 1945 in which an unknown writer named Tom becomes the acclaimed playwright known as Tennessee, wherein his most iconic character emerges: himself.

PHOTO BY ELLEN MODERMOTT

Our Festival Opening Night kicks off with cocktails and a visit from Tallulah Bankhead, portrayed by Leslie Castay. Doors open at 7 PM with a cash bar and music by Delta Revue.

This event is sponsored by Joy and Boysie Bollinger.
Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom, $40 or VIP Pass.

Going through it? 988 can help.

The 988 helpline provides emergency emotional support to Louisiana residents.

Call or text "988" for immediate support, 24 hours a day.
Or, chat online.

- You'll be quickly connected
- Staffed by expert 988 specialists
- Available 24 hours a day
- Free and confidential
- Safe and supportive care

Louisiana988.org

FRINGE FESTIVAL

THE LAST BOHEMIA FRINGE FESTIVAL MARCH 21–23, 2024

The Last Bohemia Fringe Festival is a program of the Tennessee Williams & New Orleans Literary Festival in conjunction with the Saints and Sinners LGBTQ+ Literary Festival.

Please buy tickets in advance and you'll be on our door list.
No cash sales at the door.

Tickets available: tennesseewilliams.net/tickets

PERFORMANCES

Thursday, March 21 and Friday, March 22

7:30 - 8:30 PM—Theatre

LAST BOHEMIA FRINGE FESTIVAL PRESENTS:

THE SINKING OPULENCE SHOW

Back by popular demand! A Cabaret celebrating the sinking of the ship that we are all aboard! Overheard as the audience was leaving, "Tennessee would have loved this—it's an explosion POW of camp." Like the legendary tale of The Titanic band playing as the ill-fated ocean liner sank into history's depths, Tsarina Hellfire, Stanley Roy, and their motley crew of maritime monsters will titillate your ears and tickle your imagination. It's the last big hurrah until the inevitable glug-glug! An over-the-top romp of Storyville style live music, theater, burlesque, and a delightful devastation of all of your senses! Brought to you by the producers of New Orleans best night out, the widely successful Les Vampyres Cabaret.

The Friday night performance includes a talkback moderated by Fauxnique.

The Twilight Room, 2240 St. Claude Avenue, $35 cocktail table, $20 general admission, or VIP Pass.

Thursday, March 21 and Friday, March 22

9 - 10 PM—Theatre

LAST BOHEMIA FRINGE FESTIVAL PRESENTS:

This Is The Peaceable Kingdom, Or Good Luck God
by Tennessee Williams

This funny and shocking one-act play, published in 1981, was inspired by a real-life news item from New York City's borough of Queens, reporting on a four-day nursing strike in the spring of 1978. In Williams's hysterical—in every sense of the word—farce, the children of some very cranky seniors are forced to take care of their parents.

The Peaceable Kingdom of the title is a famous idyllic painting in which born enemies find peace and the lion lies down with the lamb. That doesn't happen in the Queens nursing home, where the dying are not going gently or even politely. Even so, God appears. Or does God appear? This almost never seen production will be staged with puppets and live actors by the New Orleans Mudlark Public Theatre, directed by Pandora Andrea Gastelum.

The Friday night performance includes a talkback moderated by David Kaplan.

The Twilight Room, 2240 St. Claude Avenue, $35 cocktail table, $20 general admission, or VIP Pass.

Saturday, March 23

7 - 8:30 PM—Theatre

THE LAST BOHEMIA FRINGE FESTIVAL PRESENTS:

TENNESSEE RISING: THE DAWN OF TENNESSEE WILLIAMS

Tennessee Rising: The Dawn of Tennessee Williams, a solo play written and performed by Jacob Storms and originally directed for the stage by Alan Cumming, explores the formative period from 1939 - 1945 in which an unknown writer named Tom becomes the acclaimed playwright known as Tennessee, wherein his most iconic character emerges: himself. Includes a talkback with Jacob Storms moderated by Augustin J Correro.

The Twilight Room,
2240 St. Claude Avenue,
$35 cocktail table,
$20 general admission, or VIP Pass.

Jacob Storms

PHOTO BY ELLEN McDERMOTT

Saturday, March 23

8:30 PM Doors

10 PM Show

THE LAST BOHEMIA FRINGE FESTIVAL PRESENTS:

THE LAST BOHEMIA SOIRÉE, INCLUDING A PERFORMANCE OF NIGHTINGALE

A magical evening of music and performance hosted by Tony award winner John Cameron Mitchell in the ballroom of his splendid Bywater home, known as The Temple. Rub elbows with fellow festival goers and a who's who of NOLA creatives set to a concert by San Francisco sarod master Kenny Annis. Then enjoy a seated performance of Vinsantos' Nightingale followed by a talkback moderated by John Cameron Mitchell. Nightingale is a hauntingly nostalgic semi-biographical concept musical that revolves around the blurred life of Vinsantos, a multi-talented and enigmatic real life performer and Tennessee Williams' Nightingale the callow youth turned callous tubercular painter.

Set in an eclectic Bohemian and Art Nouveau backdrop, the audience follows Vinsantos on a journey of self-discovery, exploring the challenges and triumphs of a unique and unconventional career in the arts. As the titular character, Vinsantos brings a distinctive flair to the show, blending elements of drama, comedy, and the surreal. The narrative delves into the complexities of identity, artistic expression, and the pursuit of failed dreams, offering viewers a front-row seat to the captivating world of Nightingale.

The humour noir is complemented by a rich and diverse score that propels the satirical and grotesque themes throughout the show. The compelling storytelling not only morphs Vinsantos and Nightingale into a twin flame but also bedims the fourth wall of the theater. Nightingale is an imperative theatrical spectacle for those seeking a fresh and original take on the mutilated characters of Tennessee Williams, anchored by the charismatic presence of Vinsantos. Get ready to be transported into a realm where creativity knows no bounds, and the night comes alive (or faces death) with the mesmerizing performance of Nightingale.
The Temple Ballroom, 3151 Dauphine Street, Preferred Seating $70, general seating $40.

ARTIST BIOS

Kenny Annis is a San Francisco based bon vivant. Kenny is a member of the notorious punk band The Heathens, a music scholar, and the Executive Chef of the wildly successful Vegan Sky Cafe. He is a master of the sarod, the protégé of the great Ali Akbar Khan.

Pandora Andrea Gastelum is a puppeteer, dollmaker, designer, and performer. She owns and operates the Mudlark Public Theatre in New Orleans' 9th Ward and is the Artistic Director of that space's resident theatre company, the Mudlark Puppeteers.

Tsarina Hellfire is a chanteuse, comedian and cabaret force on New Orleans' performance art scene. A regular at the Double Dealer in the Orpheum Theater, Frenchmen Street live music clubs, and Shrimp Boil Cabaret, Tsarina is one of the most visible local cabaret performers. Her long-running Les Vampyres Cabaret is arguably the best night out in New Orleans.

Stanley Roy is a singer-songwriter and comedic storyteller on the New Orleans' cabaret scene. Both a performer and producer, Roy is responsible for many of the most popular regular performance clubs in New Orleans for tourists and locals.

Jacob Storms is best known for his recurring role (Serge) on Steven Soderbergh and Gregory Jacobs' Amazon Original Series, Red Oaks. Storms is also writer/actor of the solo play Tennessee Rising: The Dawn of Tennessee Williams, originally directed for the stage by Alan Cumming, for which Jacob won the United Solo Award for Best One-Man Show. Most recently he performed a critically-acclaimed, twenty-three back-to-back performance run of Tennessee Rising at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival with Assembly, for which Jacob was nominated for the Off-West End (Offie) Award and shortlisted for the Brighton Fringe Award for Excellence. Storms has also performed at Carnegie Hall, The Guggenheim Museum, Jazz at Lincoln Center, Bill T. Jones' New York Live Arts, BAM, Symphony Space, The St. Louis, New Orleans, and Provincetown Tennessee Williams Festivals, The Hollywood Bowl, L.A.'s Disney Concert Hall, PICA's Time-Based Art Festival, Rochester Fringe Festival, and more. Jacob is also the youngest actor in the world to have ever performed Doug Wright's Pulitzer Prize winning, forty-character solo play, I Am My Own Wife.

Vinsantos is a conceptual performance artist living and working in New Orleans and San Francisco. His original music, storytelling, and cabaret work are informed by his visual art and dollmaking practice.

Vinsantos formed his first band, the New Romantic 'Mourning Becomes Electra' in 1986 and has been producing work and evolving musical styles ever since. He is known for a modern approach to the Weimar Cabaret of the 1920s. Blending original and classic songs, storytelling, comedy, costumes, and visuals, a highly intimate relationship is built with the audience. Vinsantos has performed at art museums, dive bars, cabarets, drag shows, festivals and recently across the US on tour with goth legends Bauhaus and alternative post-punk icons Love and Rockets. A key figure in the legendary San Francisco Drag club Trannyshack and the creator of the New Orleans Drag Workshop, he is known as an innovator propelling forward new forms in these vibrant performance art enclaves. Vinsantos' community engagement work was the subject of the full-length documentary Last Dance created by French filmmaker Coline Abert that premiered at the 2022 Frameline Film Festival in San Francisco. Currently Vinsantos is working on his first musical inspired by Tennessee Williams' sinister character, Nightingale, from the play Vieux Carré.

David Kaplan is the author of Tennessee Williams in Provincetown (2006) and Tenn Years (2015), a collection of essays about Williams in production. He is the editor of Tenn at One Hundred (2011) the centennial collection of essays about Williams' reputation. He has staged Suddenly Last Summer in Russia (1993), The Eccentricities of a Nightingale in Hong Kong (2003), Ten Blocks on the Camino Real in Uruguay (2012) and Ghana (2016), and The Rose Tattoo in St. Louis (2021). He is curator/cofounder of the Provincetown Tennessee Williams Theater Festival, whose 19th season will be September 26-29, 2024. See TWPTown.org

OUR HOST FOR THE LAST BOHEMIA SOIRÉE

John Cameron Mitchell directed, starred in and wrote, with Stephen Trask, the film Hedwig and the Angry Inch (2001), for which he won Best Director at the Sundance Festival and was nominated for a Golden Globe as Best Actor. His recent Broadway production of Hedwig garnered him Tony Awards for his performance and for Best Revival. He won an Obie Award for Hedwig Off-Broadway as well as for starring in Larry Kramer's The Destiny of Me. He directed Tennessee Williams' Kingdom of Earth Off-Broadway with Cynthia Nixon and Peter Sarsgaard. He directed the films Shortbus (2006), Rabbit Hole (2010) and How to Talk to Girls at Parties (2018) both starring Nicole Kidman, who was nominated for Best Actress Oscar for the former. Recent TV roles include Hulu's Shrill, HBO's Girls and Vinyl, CBS's The Good Fight, and Amazon's Mozart in the Jungle. He stars in, wrote (with Bryan Weller), and directed the musical podcast series Anthem: Homunculus featuring Cynthia Erivo, Glenn Close, Patti Lupone, Denis O'Hare, Laurie Anderson and Marion Cotillard, which is playing on Luminary podcast platform.
John will also moderate the talkback after the performance of Nightingale.

TALKBACK MODERATORS

Augustin J Correro is a Founding Co-Artistic Director of the Tennessee Williams Theatre Company of New Orleans. The company has produced over 20 Williams plays, many of which Correro has directed. He has also directed and assistant directed Williams plays in New York, Virginia, Mississippi, and Massachusetts. He holds an MFA in Theatre Pedagogy from Virginia Commonwealth University and a BA in Theatre from Mississippi University for Women. He is a resident of New Orleans and a native of the Mississippi Delta. His book Tennessee Williams 101 was released in 2021, based on his TW Fest presentations.

Monique Jenkinson is an artist, choreographer, performer and writer. Her work dwells at the intersection of contemporary dance, cabaret and essay, and considers the performance of femininity as a powerful, vulnerable and subversive act. Her alter-ego Fauxnique made herstory as the first cis-woman ever, anywhere, crowned as a pageant-winning drag queen, and her original works have toured nationally and internationally in wide-ranging contexts from nightclubs to theaters to museums. Her memoir, Faux Queen is out now on Amble Press.

Thank you to our venue sponsor,
The AllWays Lounge!

WALKING TOURS

PHOTO BY JOÃO FRANCISCO

LGBTQ+ FRENCH QUARTER LITERARY TOUR

Thursday, March 21, 11 AM - 12:30 PM

Friday, March 22, 3:30 - 5 PM

Sunday, March 24, 1 - 2:30 PM

This leisurely stroll through the French Quarter focuses on New Orleans' enchanting past with an emphasis on the neighborhood's queer history and its rich literary heritage. See where writers lived and wrote, and learn about the incredible contributions lesbians and gay men have made to the city over its 300-year old history. Other highlights include Jackson Square, Free People of Color, the French Market, the birth of jazz, Voodoo, and a wide diversity of architecture. The tour is guided by long-time French Quarter resident Frank Perez, a local historian and professional tour guide who has written four books about French Quarter history.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Parlor, $30 or VIP Pass.

HISTORIC STORYVILLE WALKING TOUR

Thursday, March 21 - Saturday, March 23, 10 AM - 12 NOON

Join Dianne "Gumbo Marie" Honoré on this unique, intriguing walk through parts of what was once the most notorious red-light district in the country, Storyville. Hear stories of cribs, chippies, the Tango Belt, and the last madam, along with the mayhem each night brought forth. Louis Armstrong referred to his childhood neighborhood of Black Storyville as the "worst" area in the city during Jim Crow-era New Orleans. It was also home to the beginnings of jazz, popular music joints, second lines, the birth of the baby dolls Mardi Gras tradition, and Jelly Roll Morton's other profession.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Parlor, $30 or VIP Pass.

TENNESSEE WILLIAMS LITERARY WALKING TOUR

Friday, March 22, 2 - 4 PM

Saturday, March 23 and Sunday, March 24, 10 AM - Noon and 2 - 4 PM

New Orleans, and especially the French Quarter, played a vital role in shaping Tennessee Williams. When he came here for the first time, he was Tom Williams. When he left here a couple of months later, he was known as Tennessee, having undergone a tremendous change in his personal life and his creativity. A man perpetually on the move, Tennessee considered this city his "spiritual home" and had at least eight residences in its famous neighborhoods. Visit the homes and hangouts where he lived, worked, and returned to throughout his adult life, beloved spots that helped to make Tennessee America's greatest playwright.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Parlor (FRI); Lobby Level, Royal A (SAT/SUN), $30 or VIP Pass.

HISTORY OF QUEER NIGHTLIFE IN NEW ORLEANS TOUR

Thursday, March 21 - Sunday, March 24, 1 - 3 PM

A 2-hour deep dive into the joy, heartbreak, and history of the New Orleans Queer Underground from the 1850s to the present. Follow the stories of sex worker street gangs, drag queens working for the mafia, jazz artists, and the queer community of today to discover the ways the queer underbelly of New Orleans has shaped the history of the entire world. With over 900 five star reviews, calling the tour "hilarious," "deeply researched," and "a life changing experience," the tour restores New Orleans to its rightful place in Queer History as one of the most dynamic cultures shaping what it even means to be queer. All tours are led by artist, community organizer, and alleged spirit medium Quinn L Bishop. Total tour walking distance is just under 2 miles.

Crossing Bar, 439 Dauphine Street, $35 or VIP Pass.

FRENCH QUARTER GHOSTS AND LEGENDS TOUR

Thursday, March 21 and Friday, March 22, 5:45 - 7:15 PM

Saturday, March 23, 8:30 - 10:00 PM

Sunday, March 24, 5:30 - 7:00 PM

Join acclaimed local author and storyteller Ariadne Blayde for an immersive twilight walk exploring the dark local history and lore of the historic French Quarter, considered one of the most haunted districts in America. Learn about true crime, yellow fever, pirates, ghosts, and the city's fascinating colonial history through visits to the Quarter's most haunted places, including the infamous LaLaurie Mansion, the historic Mississippi riverfront, New Orleans' oldest and most haunted bar, and more. Feel free to bring a drink!

Pirates Alley Café, 622 Pirates Alley, meet outside next to the Cathedral, $30 or VIP Pass.

THURSDAY SCHEDULE

THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 2024

9 AM – 4 PM

Festival Headquarters open to pick up VIP and LitPasses, purchase Fest merchandise, and to buy tickets. Save time by buying tickets in advance online at www.tennesseewilliams.net/tickets.

HOTEL MONTELEONE, Queen Anne B.

9 AM – 4 PM

Book Fair hosted by Octavia Books with books from our Festival speakers, titles by Tennessee Williams, and much more.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne A.

9 AM—Special Event

THE NEW ORLEANS WRITING MARATHON

Jumpstart your writing with the New Orleans Writing Marathon! Hosted by founder Richard Louth, participants write their way across the French Quarter in cafés, pubs, bookstores, and anywhere a small group of writers can sit, write, and share their work. It's all about writing in the moment, writing for the joy of it, and finding inspiration in one's place. We start at the Hotel Monteleone before going out to explore the French Quarter as writers. For more information, visit www.writingmarathon.com and for questions, contact the NOWM at info@writingmarathon.com.

Writing Marathons begin at 9 AM on Thursday and Sunday. You can end your writing marathon at whatever time best fits your schedule.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Parlor, free and open to the public but please register at www.writingmarathon.com.

10 – 11:15 AM—Writer's Craft Session

THREE LEVELS, TWO QUESTIONS, AND THE WEIRDEST THING: SOME TOTALLY NON-GUARANTEED TIPS ON HOW TO WRITE A GREAT NOVEL—M.O. WALSH

Ever wanted to write a real page-turner? What about a literary masterpiece? Why not write a book that is both lauded by critics and adored by fans? All these dreams are attainable! After all, if you're going to spend this much time on something, you might as well do it right. In this session, New York Times bestselling novelist M.O. Walsh highlights a few ideas aspiring writers might want to keep in mind as they tackle their first novel (or second or third). Is this advice guaranteed to make your novel an international bestseller? Well, no. Might it help turn your current draft into a better version of itself, though? Heck yeah! What more can we ask for than that?

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon, $25 or VIP Pass.

11:30 AM – 12:45 PM—Writer's Craft Session

REFLECTIONS AND OMISSIONS: WRITING WITH THE UNSAID—STACEY BALKUN

"In a field, I am the absence of field," writes Mark Strand, reminding us that not all absence is nothingness. As an instrument must have a resonating chamber in order to sing, texts too depend on empty space. This craft session will focus on what can be found in the white space of a text: how can omissions render a new narrative? How can reflection and recursion pronounce and echo? What can best be represented through absence? Turning to poets who have mastered the unsaid, this craft session will explore strategies to suspend logic, narrative, and even syntax in favor of lyric and gesture.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon, $25 or VIP Pass.

1:30 – 2:45 PM—Writer's Craft Session

"THY CREATURE": LITERARY MONSTERS IN THEORY AND PRACTICE—ADRIAN VAN YOUNG

Was Scary Stories to Tell in the Dark your favorite book as a child? Did Bram Stoker's Dracula make you weep? Was It your most recent and memorable beach-read? If you answered "Yes!" to any of these questions, then this craft session is for you. Taking our bearings from the father of all literary monsters, the creature from Mary Shelley's Frankenstein, this craft session led by creature-enthusiast and short story writer Adrian Van Young will explore literary monsters in both a literal and figurative sense of the word. Together, we'll become taxonomists of the monstrous in fiction, investigating, discussing, and trying out monster-oriented literary principles and techniques such as: how to effectively describe your monster; how to characterize one; how and when to reveal one; and what various functions a monster can serve in the hideous cosmos that summon them forth. But never fear: our monster-investigations won't stop there! Midway through, the craft session will shift gears into identifying and dissecting metaphorical monsters as well as literal ones. In the process, we'll address concepts such as: the monster with a human face; the monster as a human foil; how monsters reflect their cultures of origin; the monster as a marker of otherness/difference; and—everyone's favorite—monster lovers! Utilizing excerpts from acclaimed literary monster-engineers like Victor LaValle, Brian Evenson, Kelly Link, Carmen Maria Machado, Nathan Ballingrud, Kelly Link, Mariana Enriquez and Guillermo Del Toro, we'll get our monster faces right! Prepare to gnash your fangs and growl.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon, $25 or VIP Pass.

38TH ANNUAL
TENNESSEE
WILLIAMS &
NEW ORLEANS
LITERARY
FESTIVAL

3 – 4:15 PM—Writer’s Craft Session

SETTING AND WORLDBUILDING—ALEX JENNINGS

We think of worldbuilding as a consideration limited to imaginary-world fantasy or science fiction stories. But worldbuilding is something we do for ourselves every day the moment we wake up, remember our present circumstances, and start our day. Alex Jennings has lived in many different places over the years, from suburban Maryland to North Africa to New Orleans, and is intimately acquainted with the feeling of culture shock. We’ll look at what culture shock is, how it can be a valuable tool for building perspective, and rooting our stories in specific times and places.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon, $25 or VIP Pass.

6:30 – 9 PM—Special Event

TRIBUTE READING:

TENNESSEE AFTER DARK—

THE EROTIC WORLD OF TENNESSEE WILLIAMS

This year’s tribute reading looks at the erotic side of Tennessee Williams in all the poetic, dramatic, comical, and surprising incarnations it has appeared. It was through the screen adaptations of his plays and the pulp movie tie-in editions they occasioned that Williams’ reputation as a writer of the salacious and steamy was cemented. However, a closer and less reductive look at his work tells a different story: depictions of sexual intensity are there to be sure, but so is tenderness, humor, beauty, exuberance, and a compassionate view of the physical connections human beings make with one another in their erotic complexity. Williams’ feelings on the subject were articulated by the character of Hannah in The Night of the Iguana when she said, “Nothing human disgusts me, unless it’s unkind, violent.” Readers this year will include Festival luminaries Jubi Ariolla-Headley, Maureen Corrigan, Michael Cunningham, Margot Douaihy, Monique Jenkinson, Jacob Storms, and Colm Toibin, who will share selections from the playwright’s plays, poems, essays, letters, and screenplays. The annual tribute reading is curated by Festival Director Paul J. Willis and Williams editor Thomas Keith (who also hosts).

Sponsored by a generous grant from the New Orleans Theatre Association.

Hors d’oeuvres and a cash bar at 6:30 PM;

Performance at 7:30 PM.

New Orleans Jazz Museum, 400 Esplanade Avenue, $45 or VIP Pass.

7:30 – 8:30 PM—Theatre

LAST BOHEMIA FRINGE FESTIVAL PRESENTS:

THE SINKING OPULENCE SHOW

See page 10 for full description

The Twilight Room, 2240 St. Claude Avenue, $35 cocktail table, $20 general admission, or VIP Pass.

7:30 PM—Theatre

THE TENNESSEE WILLIAMS THEATRE COMPANY OF NEW ORLEANS

PRESENTS:

KINGDOM OF EARTH BY TENNESSEE WILLIAMS

TWTC opens its eighth season with the Tennessee Williams thriller, Kingdom Of Earth. A dark, stormy night with the levee soon to burst amplifies the tension of the Ravenstock estate where Lot has returned home for a showdown with his half-brother Chicken. Between these two forces of nature, Myrtle finds herself suspended on a tightrope of desire, desperation, and danger. Will she, or any of the trio, survive the night? And what is there to fight over when the water threatens to wash the world away?

Performance Schedule: Thursday – Saturday, March 21 – 23 at 7:30 PM; Sunday, March 24 at 3 PM.

The Marquette Theatre, Loyola University New Orleans, 6363 St. Charles Avenue. Prices vary. Tickets at www.twtheatrenola.com.

7:30 PM—Theatre

DELGADO COMMUNITY COLLEGE THEATRE DEPARTMENT PRESENTS:

FIVE BY TENN

We travel through five short plays by one of America’s greatest playwrights meeting characters such as Mrs. Hardwicke-Moore, a tenant in a New Orleans cockroach-infested boarding house and a young couple desperately in love trying to put things together, as they fall apart. We are introduced to New Orleans visitors during Mardi Gras in the 1890’s who hear about an encounter with Lord Byron. There is Bertha, a “scarlet lady” who has fallen on hard times, and, finally, Miss Dorothy Simple, proprietor of the Simple Notions Shop in Primandproper, Mass., who has barricaded her house and heart behind a double row of petunias. The five Tennessee Williams one-acts are The Lady of Larkspur Lotion, Talk to Me Like the Rain and Let Me Listen, Lord Byron’s Love Letter, Hello from Bertha, and The Case of the Crushed Petunias.

Performance Schedule: Thursday – Saturday, March 21 – 23 at 7:30 PM

Timothy K. Baker Theatre, Delgado Community College, Bldg. 1 Room 106W, 615 City Park Avenue. $12 or VIP Pass. Tickets at

<https://www.dcc.edu/academics/liberal-arts-social-sciences-education/programs/theatre/plays/default.aspx>

7:30 PM—Theatre

THE FIRE WEEDS PRESENTS:

OUTRAGED HEARTS: THE PRETTY TRAP AND INTERIOR: PANIC

Female-driven theatre company, The Fire Weeds, presents their debut production in association with the Tennessee Williams & New Orleans Literary Festival. Come discover the rarely produced prototypes for American classics The Glass Menagerie and A Streetcar Named Desire. Co-Directed by Jaelyn Bethany and Lindsey Neville, Outraged Hearts is a powerful, immersive evening featuring two early Tennessee Williams’ one-act plays. Get ready to be captivated by Williams’ unique storytelling and unforgettable characters with an unflinching feminist gaze that promises to be a night of raw emotions and powerful performances. Don’t miss this opportunity to experience the magic of Tennessee Williams.

Performance Schedule: Thursday - Friday, March 21 - 22, 7:30 PM;

Saturday - Sunday, March 23 - 24, 2:30 PM and 7:30 PM.

Additional performance Tuesday - Saturday, March 26 - 30.

Big Couch New Orleans, 1045 Desire Street, $35 adults and $12 for students, or VIP Pass. Tickets at <https://outragedhearts.bpt.me/>

9 – 10 PM—Theatre

LAST BOHEMIA FRINGE FESTIVAL PRESENTS:

THIS IS THE PEACEABLE KINGDOM, OR GOOD LUCK GOD

See page 10 for full description

The Twilight Room, 2240 St. Claude Avenue, $35 cocktail table, $20 general admission, or VIP Pass.

The Tennessee Williams Theatre Company of New Orleans

KINGDOM OF EARTH

BY TENNESSEE WILLIAMS

March 8-24 | Marquette Theatre on the campus of Loyola University New Orleans

Tickets & Information at www.TWTHEATRENOLA.com

or call 504.264.2580

This season of TWTC is supported by a grant from the New Orleans Theatre Association (NOTA). This season is also supported by a grant from The New Orleans Tourism & Cultural Fund. This season is sponsored by Jason & Anjali Gillette.

2024 TENNESSEE WILLIAMS SCHOLARS CONFERENCE

The Historic
New Orleans
Collection

MUSEUM • RESEARCH CENTER • PUBLISHER

Williams Research Center at The Historic
New Orleans Collection, 410 Chartres Street

$10 per session or Scholars Conference Pass, LITPass, or VIP Pass

FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 2024

About the TWSC

Founded in 1995, the Tennessee Williams Scholars Conference is a full day of sessions led by highly acclaimed Williams scholars from across the US and abroad. As part of the Tennessee Williams & New Orleans Literary Festival, the TWSC coincides with the publication of the Tennessee Williams Annual Review, founded in 1998. The journal's managing editor, Margit Longbrake, serves as the TWSC coordinator and is a member of the TW Festival Board of Directors.

The TWSC is open to the public and is for anyone who wants to know more about the life and works of Tennessee Williams.

9:00 – 9:05 AM

Welcome: Margit Longbrake, The Historic New Orleans Collection

9:05 – 9:15 AM

Opening remarks: Bess Rowen, Villanova University

9:15 – 10:30 AM

The Archive, the Motel, and the Con Man: Queering in and with Williams

Scholars track queerness in Williams's work as it destabilizes ideas, traditions, and places many in the US take for granted: the literary canon, the archive, and even public spaces look different when viewed through the lens of Williams plays.

Moderator: Bess Rowen, Villanova University; Kelly I. Aliano, New-York Historical Society; Stephen Cedars, Graduate Center, City University of New York; Benjamin Gillespie, Baruch College, City University of New York

10:45 AM – 12:00 NOON

Getting the Male: Learning to Read the Semiotics of Men in Williams

Silent, scene-stealing studs? Violent villains in—and victims of—an oppressive society? Radical rewriters of the male-female binary? All of the above? Scholars and directors from the US and Germany look at the challenges Williams's men characters pose to actors, directors, audiences, and rigid societal structures in the 21st century and ask why it matters.

Moderator: John "Ray" Proctor, Tulane University; Caroline Bühler, Ludwig Maximilians University, Munich; David Kaplan, Provincetown Tennessee Williams Theater Festival; Bess Rowen, Villanova University

12:00 – 1:15 PM

Lunch Break

1:15 – 2:45 PM

Williams and the Postwar Broadway and Beyond

R. Barton Palmer, editor-in-chief of the Tennessee Williams Annual Review, engages a quartet of the field's most distinguished scholars in a lively, thought-provoking discussion of Williams and the postwar Broadway renaissance—and of the surprising legacies of his boldly transgressive work and public persona. Moderator: R. Barton Palmer, Clemson University (emeritus); Mark Charney, Texas Tech University; Brenda Murphy, University of Connecticut (emerita); Annette J. Saddik, Graduate Center and City Tech, City University of New York; Henry I. Schvey, Washington University, St. Louis

3:00 – 4:15 PM

An Outrage for the Stage: Williams Productions in the 21st Century

Perspectives of the scholar, the playwright, the director, and the performer meet in a kaleidoscopic panel that looks at contemporary stagings of works by and about Williams on two continents. Productions discussed incorporate autoethnography, aesthetics of speed and trash, McCarthyism, 20th-century blues artists . . . and even have the audacity to present Williams's work as social realism.

Moderator: Annette J. Saddik, Graduate Center and City Tech, City University of New York; John Michael DiResta, Skidmore College; Levi Frazier, Jr., Southwest Tennessee Community College; Joshua Polster, Emerson College; Kerstin Schmidt, Ludwig Maximilians University, Munich

4:30 – 5:15 PM

A Staged Reading of Entrances to Heaven

Theater director, actor, and educator Nisi Sturgis and her University of Illinois theater company present a six-person staged reading of Entrances to Heaven, a version of an early, never-produced Williams play born of the playwright's fascination with the 20th-century troubadour poet Vachel Lindsay. Written less than a decade after Lindsay's tragic suicide, the play features a young couple whose knife-throwing act is suffering. On a train they meet the ghost of Lindsay, traveling back to his childhood home in Illinois. Lindsay declaims his verse and recounts the difficulties of his later years, inviting audiences to connect him with the wandering poet Val Xavier from Orpheus Descending and other Williams characters forever struggling in a world without a place for them.

Tennessee Williams scholar and professor emeritus Tom Mitchell introduces the piece and offers insights about its history and evolution.

PRESENTED BY The Historic New Orleans Collection

FRIDAY SCHEDULE

FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 2024

38TH ANNUAL
TENNESSEE
WILLIAMS &
NEWORLEANS
LITERARY FESTIVAL

9 AM - 4 PM

Festival Headquarters open to pick up VIP and LitPasses, purchase Fest merchandise, and to buy tickets. Save time by buying tickets in advance online at www.tennesseewilliams.net/tickets.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne B.

9 AM - 4 PM

Book Fair hosted by Octavia Books with books from our Festival speakers, titles by Tennessee Williams, and much more.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne A.

10 - 11:15 AM—Writer's Craft Session

THE DUAL GAZE: WRITING FICTION INSPIRED BY TRUE EVENTS— WENDY CHIN-TANNER

Do you have a piece of family lore that haunts you? Are you obsessed with a particular place and time? Did something happen in real life that you just can't get out of your head? Led by Wendy Chin-Tanner, author of the novel King of the Armadillos, this craft session will examine some of the elements of writing fiction inspired by true events. Focusing on research and its methods, purpose, implementation, and challenges, we'll explore how to balance fact and fiction to create a compelling, page-turning narrative. "Research is formalized curiosity," writes Zora Neale Hurston. "It is poking and prying with a purpose." This sentiment will be our touchstone for discussing: How to find the story inside the history; how to become a story detective, zeroing in on what your reader needs to know; how to let gossip (or the concept of it) be your guide; how to avoid info dumping; how to conduct detailed research; how to keep your research lean and mean so you don't waste time, get overwhelmed, or otherwise drive yourself nuts. Topics will also include creative license, ethics, authenticity, conflict, urgency, narrative arcs, stakes, and more. We'll do some writing exercises, workshop some ideas, and troubleshoot any issues you might have. No matter where you are with your work-in-progress, our goal is for you to gain a clearer sense of what's at the heart of your story and how to research it with purpose.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon, $25 or VIP Pass.

10 - 11:15 AM—Literary Discussion

TENNESSEE 101 WITH AUGUSTIN J CORRERO

Tennessee 101 is a fast-paced, fun, and informative introduction to Tennessee Williams! It's focused on Williams' unique relationship to New Orleans, as well as the various bits of trivia and lore relating to the theatre offerings at the Festival this year. Whether you're new to the world of Williams or a long-time fan, come prepared to learn something. Presented by Augustin J Correro, Co-Artistic Director of The Tennessee Williams Theatre Company of New Orleans. There's a Q&A session at the end, and be sure to get your copy of Tennessee Williams 101 for a brief signing to follow.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level,
Royal D, $10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

11:30 AM - 12:45 PM

—Writer's Craft Session

FACT AND FICTION WITH COLM TÓIBÍN

How history, biography and journalism, or an overheard remark, or a story half told, or an experience, can make their way into fiction, and how life can be completed using fictional methods, with special attention to Henry James's The Turn of the Screw and Thomas Mann's Death in Venice. With these two stories, we have evidence (from James's Notebooks and from Katia Mann's memoirs) about the origin of the stories. We can then study the story, learning how the authors made use of facts to create their fiction and how the imagination was nourished by fact, by anecdote, and by experience that were then transformed as the work progressed.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level,
Royal Salon, $25 or VIP Pass.

10 - 11:15 AM—Literary Discussion

A TRUMAN CAPOTE READING AND DISCUSSION

Celebrating the 100th year of Southern writer Truman Capote's birth with readings, discussion, and stories are moderator and Capote scholar, Stuart Noel, Ph.D., who founded and chairs the Truman Capote Literary Society; Brenda Currin, who portrayed Nancy Clutter in Capote's In Cold Blood; Anna Christina (Tina) Radziwill, daughter of the late Prince Stanislas Radziwill of Poland and Lee Bouvier Radziwill, sister of Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy Onassis. Tina's mother and Truman Capote were close friends for many years; Novelist Colm Toibín appeared in the 2019 documentary, The Capote Tapes; and Gary Richards, Southern literature scholar.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom, $10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

11:30 – 12:45 PM—Literary Discussion

VOICES FROM THE PAST:

HEARING OUR ANCESTORS IN THE PRESENT

Whether as editors, translators, or anthologists, writers are often called to steward the works of their predecessors alongside creating their own work. Poet Benjamin Morris will moderate a panel exploring the challenges of shepherding books from the past into the present: fiction writer Kayla Min Andrews edited her late mother Katherine Min's novel The Fetishist, now published posthumously. Poet and professor Ariel Francisco has a forthcoming translation of Haitian poet Jacques Viau Renaud, killed at age 23 in the Dominican Revolution. And Gina Ferrara has recently revived the New Orleans Poetry Journal Press, first founded by Maxine Cassin decades ago, with a new anthology of 100 contemporary New Orleans poets. Each of these writers will discuss how they brought these voices to modern ears, and what literary citizenship means for writer and reader today.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom,
$10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

1 – 2:15 PM—Literary Discussion

EXPLORING BLANCHE DUBOIS AND THE WOMEN OF TENNESSEE WILLIAMS

This panel will explore contemporary Williams and discuss interpretations of his most inspired creation, Blanche DuBois and his adjacent women. A panel of writers and performers will discuss the significance and complexities of his female characters and the female gaze on Williams' work. The panel will be moderated by Jaclyn Bethany, writer, director, actor and rising Williams scholar, and will include panelists Beth Bartley d'Amour, who has played Blanche as well as numerous Williams women; Lin Gathright, actress and co-artistic director (with Bethany) of New Orleans' new female focused theater company, The Fire Weeds; LaKeshia Glover, actor, producer, and creator of the production company, Tootsie's Production; Nancy Shoenberger, author of Blanche: The Life and Times of Tennessee Williams's Greatest Creation; and Judy Lea Steele, interdisciplinary actress, playwright, poet and performance artist.

Sponsored by Helen and George Ingram.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom,
$10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

1:30 – 2:45 PM—Writer's Craft Session

CHARACTER: FINDING THE MISSING PERSONS—MICHAEL CUNNINGHAM

What I hear most often from students is that they have trouble with plot. My response always is, I suspect what you're telling me is, you're having trouble with character. Because fully-imagined characters always produce a story. Usually more than one story. Usually more than two. In this session, we'll build a character together. Then we'll build a second character. Then we'll look at their various qualities—ranging from their ages and occupations to their desires and fears—and find the stories. The stories are always there.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon, $25 or VIP Pass.

2:30 – 3:45 PM—Literary Discussion

WRITERS OF A CERTAIN AGE

Being published is hardly a young person's game, but that's the perception the world has of writers. How many "under 30/40" lists are there? The implicit assumption is that those who haven't already made it by the time they've hit 50 are never going to get published. This is, of course, absurd, as many brilliant, successful writers have proven! Working in the youth-obsessed world of publishing as writers born in or before the Ford administration, these panelists have experience proving the world wrong. Learn about the challenges, successes and strategies as writers of a certain age. Miles Harvey moderates this discussion with Jubi Arriola-Headley, Teresa Tumminello Brader, Chin-Sun Lee, and Rose Norman.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom,
$10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

3:00 – 4:15 PM—Writer's Craft Session

POETRY AND TALKING THINGS WITH STEPHANIE BURT

Who speaks a poem? Is it the poet? Is it the reader? What if it's a window, or a Muppet, or a giant toad? We'll look at the history of poems in the voices of characters who do not exist in our world, of animals that can't talk, and of inanimate objects, going back to ancient Greece and forward to today's farrago of robots, mutants, and self-portraits as many things. We'll ask why poets draw on this resource, long ago and today. And we'll find out—if we can—what's queer about this kind of poetry, what's contemporary about it, and how it speaks to the kinds of persons that you—yes, you—might be, or hope to become.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon, $25 or VIP Pass.

4 – 5:15 PM—Featured Conversation

IN CONVERSATION: MAUREEN CORRIGAN, MICHAEL CUNNINGHAM, AND JUSTIN TORRES

The distinguished critic Maureen Corrigan of Fresh Air and the "Book World" section of The Washington Post talks with two award-winning American novelists: Michael Cunningham, Pulitzer Prize winner for The Hours, and Justin Torres, National Book Award winner for Blackouts. Both have new books out—Cunningham's Day is a heartbreaking look at the pandemic years, and Torres' Blackouts is about the search for a mysterious book. Both of these writers achieved early acclaim, both have had works adapted for film, and all are teachers—Corrigan at Georgetown, Cunningham at Yale, and Torres at UCLA. Join us for what is sure to be a scintillating literary conversation.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom,
$10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

5:30 – 6:30 PM—Special Event

PRESENTATION OF THE DIANA PINCKLEY PRIZES FOR CRIME FICTION

The Pinckley Prizes for Crime Fiction were established in 2012 for women writers to honor the memory of Diana Pinckley (1952-2012), a longtime crime fiction columnist for The New Orleans Times-Picayune, and her passion for mysteries. After a brief hiatus (COVID, Hurricane Ida), the Prizes return this year with a presentation ceremony and reception. This event honors the 2022 winner, Sascha Rothchild, author of the debut novel, Blood Sugar; the 2023 winner Margot

Douaihy, author of Scorched Grace. Alafair Burke, the winner for the Distinguished Body of Work Prize, is unable to attend. Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon, free and open to the public.

7:30 – 8:30 PM—Theatre

LAST BOHEMIA FRINGE FESTIVAL PRESENTS: THE SINKING OPULENCE SHOW

See page 10 for full description

The Twilight Room, 2240 St. Claude Avenue,
$35 cocktail table, $20 general admission, or VIP Pass.

7:30 PM—Theatre

THE TENNESSEE WILLIAMS THEATRE COMPANY OF NEW ORLEANS PRESENTS:
KINGDOM OF EARTH BY TENNESSEE WILLIAMS

See page 14 for full description

The Marquette Theatre, Loyola University New Orleans, 6363 St. Charles Avenue.

Tickets at www.twtheatrenola.com.

Rebecca Elizabeth Hollingsworth as Myrtle in The Tennessee Williams Theatre Company production of Kingdom of Earth.

7:30 PM—Theatre

DELGADO COMMUNITY COLLEGE THEATRE DEPARTMENT PRESENTS: FIVE BY TENN

See page 14 for full description

Tickets at

<https://www.dcc.edu/academics/liberal-arts-social-sciences-education/programs/theatre/plays/default.aspx>

Timothy K. Baker Theatre, Delgado Community College, Bldg. 1 Room 106W, 615 City Park Avenue.

$12 or VIP Pass.

7:30 PM—Theatre

THE FIRE WEEDS PRESENTS:
OUTRAGED HEARTS:

THE PRETTY TRAP AND INTERIOR: PANIC

See page 14 for full description

Big Couch New Orleans, 1045 Desire Street,
$35 adults and $12 for students, or VIP Pass.

Tickets at <https://outragedhearts.bpt.me/>

9 PM—Theatre

LAST BOHEMIA FRINGE FESTIVAL PRESENTS: THIS IS THE PEACEABLE KINGDOM, OR GOOD LUCK GOD

See page 10 for full description

The Twilight Room, 2240 St. Claude Avenue, $35 cocktail table, $20 general admission, or VIP Pass.

9TH ANNUAL
TENNESSEE WILLIAMS
FESTIVAL
ST. LOUIS

AUG. 08-18, 2024
GRAND CENTER, ST. LOUIS

TWSTL.ORG

SATURDAY SCHEDULE

SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 2024

9 AM – 4 PM

Festival Headquarters open to pick up VIP and LitPasses, purchase Fest merchandise, and to buy tickets. Save time by buying tickets in advance online at www.tennesseewilliams.net/tickets.
Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne B.

9 AM – 4 PM

Book Fair hosted by Octavia Books with books from our Festival speakers, titles by Tennessee Williams, and much more.
Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne A.

8:30 – 9:45 AM—Special Event

BOOKS AND BEIGNETS WITH GARY RICHARDS

This year's focus shifts to beloved fiction writer Eudora Welty (1909-2001). A native of Jackson, Mississippi, she explored the US South in novels such as Delta Wedding, Losing Battles, and The Optimist's Daughter, but scholars and readers alike often feel that her most brilliant work was with her short stories. The group will sample a half-dozen of these to get a taste for Welty's sly humor, exquisite style, and impressive range: "Lily Daw and the Three Ladies," "Why I Live at the P.O.," "A Curtain of Green," "Powerhouse," "Moon Lake," and "No Place for You, My Love," the last of which is set in New Orleans and the coastal areas of southeastern Louisiana. They are available in The Collected Stories of Eudora Welty (ISBN: 978-1328625649).

3rd Block Depot Kitchen + Bar, 316 Chartres Street, $35 or VIP Pass.

10 – 11:15 AM—Literary Discussion

FROM THE WRITING ROOM TO THE THEATER: ADAPTING BOOK TO SCREEN

What's it like to see your book make it to the screen as a film or television series? How do writers navigate the world of film? Our panelists include Sascha Rothchild, author of Blood Sugar and an Emmy-nominated screenwriter who has worked on GLOW, The Bold Type, The BabySitters Club, and The Carrie Diaries. She also adapted her article "How to Get Divorced by 30," into a screenplay for Universal Studios. You can see Sidney Thompson's Bass Reeves Trilogy of western novels as a series now airing on Paramount. Justin Torres' award-winning debut novel, We the Animals, became a feature-length film. M.O. Walsh's charming The Big Door Prize, became a mini-series for Apple TV, heading into its second season this April. Clint Bowie of the New Orleans Film Society moderates the discussion.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom, $10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

10 – 11:15 AM—Literary Discussion

GREAT STORIES FROM NEW ORLEANS INSTITUTIONS

Every city with a long history has stewards who care for its treasures, whether they be institutions or ideas. In The Building of the National World War II Museum, founder and president Gordon "Nick" Mueller describes the inception and growth of what has become the city's leading museum. Robert Becker, in New Orleans City Park: From Tragedy to Triumph, chronicles his 20-year tenure as CEO of City Park and the hard work of staff and volunteers to bring the park through Katrina and COVID and ensure its financial security. Journalist and historian Errol Laborde celebrates unique New Orleans moments in New Orleans' cultural history in When Rex Met Zulu. Documentarian Peggy Scott Laborde, whose most recent work is Literary New Orleans, moderates.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon, $10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

10 – 11:15 AM—Literary Discussion

PARABLES OF A WORLD CORRUPTED— POLITICS IN THE PLAYS OF TENNESSEE WILLIAMS

In a 1967 interview, when Tennessee Williams was asked if he ever wrote directly about the struggle for civil rights or about the American war in Viet Nam, he replied, "I am not a direct writer, I am always an oblique writer, if I can be; I want to be allusive, I don't want to be one of those people who hits the nail on the head all the time." The playwright's answer reinforced a longstanding idea that Williams was not a political writer when, in fact, politics are woven into the fabric of everything he wrote—often quite directly! This panel will examine some of Williams' politics both onstage and off, looking at the most overt examples of politics in plays such as Camino Real, Sweet Bird of Youth, Orpheus Descending, and The Red Devil Battery Sign, as well as the powerful ways in which politics surround and support narratives in his other plays. At times the indirect approach can be an even more potent way to reach an audience and is found in plays as divergent as The Glass Menagerie, Stairs to the Roof, Cat on a Hot Tin Roof, and Green Eyes. The panelists will include Thomas Keith, Tom Mitchell, and Bess Rowen. Benjamin Gillespie will moderate.

Williams Research Center, 410 Chartres Street, $10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

11:30 AM – 12:45 PM—Literary Discussion

MAKING AN ENTRANCE: NEW FICTION VOICES WITH STYLE

Readers love finding a new writer who has a fresh and exciting style or captivating point of view, and we're excited to welcome these new voices in fiction. Novelist and poet Chin-Sun Lee's first book, Upcountry, about a couple who moves from New York City to a small country town, with all the social change that that implies, was listed among Publishers Weekly's Big Indie Books of Fall 2023. Annell López's debut short story collection, I'll Give You a Reason, about the lives of immigrants in New Jersey, is the winner of the Louise Meriwether First Book Prize from the Feminist Press Award, and will appear in April. Jess Armstrong is the author of The Curse of Penryth Hall, the winner of the Mystery Writers of America/Minotaur First Crime Novel Competition. Julia Malye's English debut takes readers back to the French colonial Gulf Coast in The Pelican Girls, a novel about strong women based in historical reality. Nick Medina, a member of the Tunica-Biloxi Tribe of Louisiana, weaves tribal myths into the contemporary world of crime and casinos in Sisters of the Lost Nation and Indian Burial Ground. Moderated by New Orleans writer, C. Morgan Babst, author of The Floating World.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom,
$10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

11:30 AM – 12:45 PM—Literary Discussion

THE OTHER SIDE OF DESIRE: TENNESSEE WILLIAMS ON LIFE, LOVE, AND DEATH

When Blanche DuBois arrives in the French Quarter of New Orleans in the first scene of A Streetcar Named Desire, she tells Eunice, "They told me to take a streetcar named Desire, and then transfer to one called Cemeteries and ride six blocks and get off at—Elysian Fields!" So, from the very beginning of the play, we are reminded that death and desire have a symbiotic relationship. Whether dramas, comedies, full-length, or one-acts, death is present in all of Williams' plays, both onstage and off, and so is life. For Williams, sexual desire is part of the life force, the urge to live, and so a counterbalance to the inevitability of death. This panel will explore the many ways Williams deals with death and life in his work. Scenes and characters that will be examined come from plays including A Streetcar Named Desire, The Rose Tattoo, Cat on a Hot Tin Roof, The Milk Train Doesn't Stop Here Anymore, Vieux Carré, A House Not Meant to Stand, Kingdom of Earth, I Can't Imagine Tomorrow, The Mutilated, The Day on Which a Man Dies, and Something Cloudy, Something Clear, to name just a few. Panelists include Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist John Pope, Augustin J. Correro, Margit Longbrake, and Annette J. Saddik, moderated by Thomas Keith.

Sponsored by Helen and George Ingram.

Williams Research Center, 410 Chartres Street,
$10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

1 – 2:15 PM—Literary Discussion

WRITING SOUTHERN GOTHIC IN MODERN NEW ORLEANS

Exploring themes such as religious intensity, moral disorder, ancestral homes in resplendent decay, systemic racism, endemic poverty, and the encroachment of the supernatural on everyday life, William Faulkner, Flannery O'Connor, Zora Neale Hurston, Tennessee Williams, and Carson McCullers pioneered this often romanticized and occasionally parodied genre into the American consciousness in the early 20th-century. Now, in the 21st, writers like Jesmyn Ward, Karen Russell, Silvia Moreno-Garcia and Toni Morrison have dynamically furthered those first explorations, in many instances reinventing them entirely. This mixed-genre panel of fiction writers, essayists, and poets will seek to unearth Southern Gothic then and now, posing such questions as: Where do we find ourselves on the so-called pantheon of early-to-mid 20th-century Southern Gothic writers? What does it mean to write Southern Gothic in the most Gothic city in America? At what point does Southern Gothic go from being an exploration of a society in decay to a fetishization of that same decay? How do we expand our definitions of Southern Gothic to take in the "Global South," to include Latin American and Caribbean works of Southern Gothic, as well? How have the objects of social critique in Southern Gothic literature (racism, classism, evangelicalism, feudalism, criminality) shifted over time, illuminating new corners of a region in freefall? Come get a little creepy—but a little thoughtful, too—with panelists Anya Groner, Carolyn Hembree, Alex Jennings, and Adrian Van Young, moderated by Brad Richard.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom,
$10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

1 – 2:15 PM—Featured Conversation

SEEING OUR HISTORY ON THE PAGE

Historian, author and journalist Errol Laborde, whose most recent book is When Rex Met Zulu and Other New Orleans Experiences, and John Lawrence, former director of Museum Programs and Curator of Photographs at the Historic New Orleans Collection, engage in a wide-ranging discussion based on John's book, Louisiana Lens: Photographs from the Historic New Orleans Collection (2023), touching on historical topics, the nature of photography, building a photographic collection for research use, photographers working in Louisiana, and "reading" photographs in ways that transcend their content.

Williams Research Center,
410 Chartres Street,
$10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

2:30 – 3:45 PM—Literary Discussion

HISTORY IS MY MUSE:

FINDING PRESENT INSPIRATION IN THE PAST

History is a gold mine for the discerning writer, prospecting for nuggets from the distant—or recent—past in archives and the historical record. Fordham University professor Edward Cahill takes us back to the pre-Stonewall era in Disorderly Men, a story of a police raid on a gay bar and its complicated consequences. Julia Malye tells a tale of resourceful women, "volunteers" shipped from France to the Louisiana Territory, in Pelican Girls. Louisiana State University professor and author Maurice Carlos Ruffin imagines what his female ancestors would have done to resist the Confederacy in the antebellum era in The American Daughters. Wendy Chin-Tanner draws on her father's experience as a patient in what was then known as the leprosarium in Carville, Louisiana, for her first novel, King of the Armadillos. And Colm Toibín has crafted many novels—Brooklyn and the forthcoming Long Island among them—from the rich history of Ireland and New York. Miles Harvey, author of The King of Confidence moderates.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom,
$10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

2:30 – 3:45 PM—Film and Discussion

LITERARY NEW ORLEANS

The city of New Orleans has served as a setting for many of the world's most famous literary works, including A Streetcar Named Desire, Interview with the Vampire and A Confederacy of Dunces. This documentary takes an up-close look at the locally written word over a more than three-century history. Included are interviews with Anne Rice, Tennessee Williams and Thelma Toole, the mother of John Kennedy Toole. Among the authors and literary experts interviewed are Edwin Blair, Douglas Brinkley, Nancy Dixon, Rien Fertel, Dr. Kenneth Holditch, Walter Isaacson, Susan Larson, T. R. Johnson, Maurice Carlos Ruffin, Dr. Mona Lisa Saloy and Kalamu Ya Salaam. Produced and narrated by Peggy Scott Laborde, who will be on hand for a brief discussion following the showing of the program.

Williams Research Center, 410 Chartres Street,
$10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

2:30 PM—Theatre

THE FIRE WEEDS PRESENTS:

OUTRAGED HEARTS:

THE PRETTY TRAP AND INTERIOR: PANIC

See page 14 for full description

Big Couch New Orleans, 1045 Desire Street, $35 adults and $12 for students, or VIP Pass.

Tickets at <https://outragedhearts.bpt.me/>

4 – 5:15 PM—Literary Discussion

LEGENDS OF BURLESQUE

Over the last century, vaudeville's naughtier cousin, burlesque, has become a truly American art form, full of irreverence and dynamism. Though considered a sultry and bawdy form of entertainment, by the 1950s it was practically mainstream, especially in New Orleans with its main entertainment strip lined with nightclubs featuring both national and local dancers. Through memoirs and interviews, Historic New Orleans Collection curator Nina Bozak remembers some of these dancers in their own words from memoirs and interviews and through images of their signature acts. Hear about Blaze Starr's first time on stage as a stripper, the lesson Kalantan learned from Lili St. Cyr, and the connection between Rita Alexander and New Orleans legendary drummer Smokey Johnson. See a photographic series of Stormy Lawrence's signature number and watch Sally Rand's famous Bubble Dance. And be titillated by a special performance by one of New Orleans's current burlesque legends, Bella Blue!

This event is sponsored by The Ethel and Herman L. Midlo Center for New Orleans Studies.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom, $10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

4 – 5:15 PM—Featured Conversation

MAUREEN CORRIGAN AND COLM TOIBÍN

Maureen Corrigan, the beloved and influential book critic for NPR's Fresh Air and author of Leave Me Alone, I'm Reading and And So We Read On: How the Great Gatsby Came to Be and Why It Endures, appears in conversation with the prolific and award-winning author, Colm Toibín, known for The Master, The Magician, The Blackwater Lightship, Brooklyn, Nora Webster, and many other novels and works of nonfiction. Imagine two Irish storytellers, sharing a Catholic background and a love of New York and fine literature, settling in for a long chat.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon, $10 or LitPass or VIP Pass.

7 – 8:30 PM—Theatre

MENDACITY: ACT 2 OF CAT ON A HOT TIN ROOF

Three-time Emmy winner Christian Jules le Blanc (The Young and the Restless) and actor/producer Matt de Rogatis, of Ruth Stage, reprise their critically acclaimed Off-Broadway roles of "Big Daddy" and "Brick" in this one of a kind experience! Le Blanc and de Rogatis will perform an edited version of Act 2 of Cat on a Hot Tin Roof from their 2022 New York City production. Afterwards, the two actors will participate in a talkback about bringing this Pulitzer Prize-winning play to the Off-Broadway stage. Afterward, David Kaplan, curator/cofounder of the Provincetown Tennessee Williams Theater Festival, will moderate a talkback with the actors.

Matt De Rogatis and Christian Jules Le Blanc in Cat on a Hot Tin Roof

"There is only one aristocracy. The aristocracy of passion." —Tennessee Williams

This event is underwritten by St. Ignatius Catholic School, George Town, Cayman Islands.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom, $20 or VIP Pass.

7 – 8:30 PM—Theatre

THE LAST BOHEMIA FRINGE FESTIVAL PRESENTS:

TENNESSEE RISING: THE DAWN OF TENNESSEE WILLIAMS

See page 10 for full description

The Twilight Room, 2240 St. Claude Avenue, $35 cocktail table, $20 general admission, or VIP Pass.

7:30 PM—Theatre

THE TENNESSEE WILLIAMS THEATRE COMPANY OF NEW ORLEANS PRESENTS: KINGDOM OF EARTH BY TENNESSEE WILLIAMS

See page 14 for full description

The Marquette Theatre, Loyola University New Orleans, 6363 St. Charles Avenue. Tickets at www.twtheatrenola.com.

7:30 PM—Theatre

DELGADO COMMUNITY COLLEGE THEATRE DEPARTMENT PRESENTS: FIVE BY TENN

See page 14 for full description

Tickets at <https://www.dcc.edu/academics/liberal-arts-social-sciences-education/programs/theatre/plays/default.aspx>

Timothy K. Baker Theatre, Delgado Community College, Bldg. 1 Room 106W, 615 City Park Avenue. $12 or VIP Pass.

7:30 PM—Theatre

THE FIRE WEEDS PRESENTS:

OUTRAGED HEARTS: THE PRETTY TRAP AND INTERIOR: PANIC

See page 14 for full description

Big Couch New Orleans, 1045 Desire Street, $35 adults and $12 for students, or VIP Pass. Tickets at <https://outragedhearts.bpt.me/>

8:30 PM Doors

10 PM Show

THE LAST BOHEMIA FRINGE FESTIVAL PRESENTS:

THE LAST BOHEMIA SOIREE, INCLUDING A PERFORMANCE OF NIGHTINGALE

See page 11 for full description

The Temple Ballroom, Preferred Seating $70, general seating $40.

Vinsantos in Nightingale.

PHOTO BY RIDE HAMILTON

THE FIRE WEEDS IN ASSOCIATION WITH TENNESSEE WILLIAMS & NEW ORLEANS LITERARY FESTIVAL PRESENTS "OUTRAGED HEARTS"

The Pretty & Tragic Interior: Panic

ONE ACTS BY TENNESSEE WILLIAMS
THAT INSPIRED CLASSICS THE GLASS MENAGERIE AND A STREETCAR NAMED DESIRE

Co-directed by Jaclyn Bethany and Lindsey Neville

BIG COUCH NEW ORLEANS

1045 DESIRE STREET

$35, $12 STUDENTS

EVENING SHOWS

7:30 PM

MAR. 21-24, 27-30

MATINEES

2:30 PM

MAR. 23, 24, 30

To buy tickets please visit
tennesseewilliams.net
outragedhearts.bpt.me
Box Office will be open pre-performance

THE FIRE WEEDS

BIG COUCH

Scan to Buy Tickets

DRUMMER & SMOKE MUSIC EVENTS

at the PALM COURT JAZZ CAFÉ SUNDAY, MARCH 24

Sponsored by the New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival and Foundation Community Partnership Grants Program

11:30 AM - 12:45 PM—Music
JOHN BOUTTÉ

On Sundays as the red beans were soaking for Monday's dinner, John Boutté was awakened by the sounds of his New Orleans neighborhood. Voices carried over the fence from the church behind his home in the Seventh Ward, the home where he grew up, where most of his Creole family still lives and sings. Past the front yard, second-line parades rolled by, matching the madness of Carnival season and the transcendent joy of the jazz funeral. This roux of influences created John Boutté, and serves him to this day. John played coronet and trumpet in marching bands and also sang in high school, then continued to hone his talent while an officer in the U.S. Army. After that he devoted himself to what has become a long and acclaimed musical career. John will be joined by Oscar Rossignoli and Nobumasa Ozaki on bass.

Palm Court Jazz Café, 1204 Decatur Street, $10 or VIP Pass.

1 - 2:15 PM—Music
AMANDA SHAW

Energetic Louisiana fiddler Amanda Shaw blazes trails with her clever songwriting and exciting performances. With over 20 years of experience, Shaw captivates audiences of all sizes - from intimate listening rooms to national television audiences. Shaw blends authentic Cajun culture with endearing local charm, delivering shows that burst with Louisiana flavor.

Palm Court Jazz Café, 1204 Decatur Street, $10 or VIP Pass.

2:30 - 3:45 PM—Music
DOYLE COOPER JAZZ BAND

Raised in a musical family, it was always a matter of what Doyle Cooper would play, not if he would play, and he began playing trumpet at the age of 10. He was immersed in Traditional Jazz since his grandfather and mother both performed for years. From New Orleans, Doyle is dedicated to traditional jazz that has shaped the culture of his hometown. Doyle, or "Red" as he is known by most, has studied and performed with many world-renowned Jazz musicians. Doyle graduated from the Jazz Studies program at NOCCA and Loyola University. He was awarded the Grand Prize in the "Seeking Satch" competition.

Palm Court Jazz Café, 1204 Decatur Street, $10 or VIP Pass.

Come Visit the Historic Cutrer Mansion...

Blanche Cutrer Smith with sister-in-law Stella Cook Cutrer holding Stella's twins on the grounds of the Cutrer Mansion. Circa 1921, Private Collection

Where the Past and the Present Touch the Future

www.cuttermansion.com

In 1999, the Cutrer Mansion was #1 on the 10 Most Endangered Places List for the Mississippi Heritage Trust. Today, 25 years later, the J.W. Cutrer House serves as a cultural centerpiece in the Mississippi Delta, an anchor for the Coahoma County Higher Education Center, the headquarters for the Mississippi Delta Tennessee Williams Festival and as the location for a new federally funded student support program called Writers for Life.

We are making a difference and moving forward.

For more information, contact Jen Waller at jwaller@coahomacc.edu or 662-645-3555.

COAHOMA
COMMUNITY COLLEGE

On a mission...

SAVE THE DATE for the 32nd Annual MS Delta Tennessee Williams Festival in Clarksdale, MS Thursday through Saturday • October 17-19, 2024 • <https://deltawilliamsfestival.com/>

SUNDAY SCHEDULE

SUNDAY, MARCH 26, 2023

38TH ANNUAL
TENNESSEE
WILLIAMS &
NEW ORLEANS
LITERARY FESTIVAL

9 AM – 2 PM

Festival Headquarters open to pick up VIP and LitPasses, purchase Fest merchandise, and to buy tickets. Save time by buying tickets in advance online at www.tennesseewilliams.net/tickets.
Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne B.

9 AM – 2 PM

Book Fair hosted by Octavia Books with books from our Festival speakers, titles by Tennessee Williams, and much more.
Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne A.

9 AM—Special Event

THE NEW ORLEANS WRITING MARATHON

Jumpstart your writing with the New Orleans Writing Marathon! Hosted by founder Richard Louth, participants write their way across the French Quarter in cafés, pubs, bookstores, and anywhere a small group of writers can sit, write, and share their work. It's all about writing in the moment, writing for the joy of it, and finding inspiration in one's place. We start at the Hotel Monteleone before going out to explore the French Quarter as writers. You can end your writing marathon at whatever time best fits your schedule. For more information, visit www.writingmarathon.com and for questions, contact the NOWM at info@writingmarathon.com.
Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Parlor, free and open to the public but please register at www.writingmarathon.com.

10 – 11:15 AM—Literary Discussion

CREATING THE WRITER'S CITY

In a discussion sparked by his book, New Orleans: The Writer's City, scholar T.R. Johnson shares his particular vision of a complicated literary landscape. Novelist Maurice Carlos Ruffin has envisioned a New Orleans of the future in his first book, a contemporary city in his second, and in his third, The American Daughters, he paints an unforgettable portrait of the antebellum world here. Maira Crone's vision of the drowned city in The Not-Yet is so persuasive that architecture students have been inspired to create models of it. And poet Skye Jackson, who studied at UNO, is a leading light of the new generation of writers. Novelist George Bishop moderates.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom.
$10 or Literary Discussion Pass or VIP Pass.

11 AM – 12:15 PM—Theatre

THE NOLA PROJECT PRESENTS TENNESSEE X THREE A Staged Reading of Three Tennessee Williams One-Acts Auto Da Fé

This 1941 short play tells the story of a sexually repressed Eloi, a young postal worker in early 20th-century New Orleans. Eloi lives with his overbearing mother in her boarding house. He is confronted with the depravity and sin of New Orleans. This frustration ends in an attack on a female boarder in the cottage and the eventual burning of the cottage, his mother, and the female boarder.

In Our Profession

Annabel, an actress, wants to be looked at as more than just her looks and her profession, but the gentlemen pursuing her, Richard and Paul, don't seem to want to let her.

Every Twenty Minutes

After a late party, an unnamed couple is relaxing in their upscale city apartment by sniping at each other, still dressed in black ties. He's arguably more committed to the decanter and glass at his side than he is to anything his wife says. This is especially true when she shares a shocking statistic she just read in the paper. Though he is unimpressed by the news, her outlook on life is completely altered.

Hotel Monteleone, Vieux Carré Room, $20 or VIP Pass.

11:30 AM – 12:45 PM—Music

Drummer & Smoke Music Series: JOHN BOUTTÉ

On Sundays as the red beans were soaking for Monday's dinner, John Boutté was awakened by the sounds of his New Orleans neighborhood. Voices carried over the fence from the church behind his home in the Seventh Ward, the home where he grew up, where most of his Creole family still lives and sings. Past the front yard, second-line parades rolled by, matching the madness of Carnival season and the transcendent joy of the jazz funeral. This roux of influences created John Boutté, and serves him to this day. John played coronet and trumpet in marching bands and also sang in high school, then continued to hone his talent while an officer in the U.S. Army. After that he devoted himself to what has become a long and acclaimed musical career. John will be joined by Oscar Rossignoli and Nobumasa Ozaki on bass.

Palm Court Jazz Café, 1204 Decatur Street, $10 or VIP Pass.

PHOTO BY RIDE HAMILTON

11:30 – 12:45 PM—Literary Discussion

OTHERWORLDLY FICTION

The skill of worldbuilding is essential to fine fiction, inviting the reader to enter the author's fully created world. Ariadne Blayde enters into the world of French Quarter ghost tours to give us a New Orleans we've only glimpsed before. Tara Lynn Masih takes us to the boundaries of nature and place, known for her skill in flash fiction, and Nick Medina explores the intersection of indigenous crime fiction/horror and the tensions between the life of reservation community and the burgeoning casino culture. David R. Slayton writes the sorts of books he always hoped to read, fantasies of warlocks and druids. All of these writers are skilled in the uses of imagination and atmosphere. Moderated by author Adrian Van Young. Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom.

$10 or Literary Discussion Pass or VIP Pass.

11:30 – 12:45—Conversation

WHY THE ART OF IMPROV ENDURES

Improv scholar Randy Fertel, author of A Taste for Chaos: The Art of Literary Improvisation and Winging It: Improv's Power and Peril in the Time of Trump, talks with literary scholar T.R. Johnson, author of New Orleans: A Writer's City, about the ongoing relevance of improvisation in the larger culture. Seen through Fertel's discerning eye, improv is everywhere—from the music of Louis Armstrong to the smash musical Hamilton, the rise of AI, and the off-the-cuff, unmediated remarks of Donald Trump, whom Fertel calls the Improviser-in-Chief. He uses neuroscience, bioevolution, and cultural texts to illuminate his subject. Johnson, who writes about the complex interactions between writers and place, adds his thoughts about improvisation in New Orleans literature.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon.

$10 or Lit Pass or VIP Pass.

1 – 2:15 PM—Literary Discussion

DEFINING CHARACTER:

THREE UNORTHODOX BIOGRAPHIES

How does a biographer present the facts of a life and also capture the atmosphere, the impact on culture, and perhaps even some of the magic left behind by their subject? Three writers present a trio of expertly researched life stories that transcend typical biography. In Radiant: The Life and Line of Keith Haring, author Brad Gooch chronicles the emblematic artist of 80s-era New York whose renegade art inspired radical social change. Cynthia Carr profiles Warhol superstar and transgender icon Candy Darling in a new groundbreaking biography. Nancy Schoenberger gives one of Tennessee Williams' most complex creations, Blanche DuBois from A Streetcar Named Desire, a thorough psychological examination in a multifaceted study of the fictional figure. Moderated by David Johnson.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom.

$10 or Literary Discussion Pass or VIP Pass.

1 – 2:15 PM—Literary Discussion

NEW VISTAS, GRAND OUTLOOKS:

RENDERING THE LANDSCAPE IN POETRY

This panel will feature poets Rodney Jones, Christine Kwon, Louisiana Poet Laureate Alison Pelegrin, and Gina Ferrara (moderator) discussing ways that landscapes inform their work and sharing poems from their latest collections.

Hotel Monteleone, Lobby Level, Royal Salon.

$10 or Literary Discussion Pass or VIP Pass.

1:00 – 2:15 PM—Music

Drummer & Smoke Music Series: AMANDA SHAW

Energetic Louisiana fiddler Amanda Shaw blazes trails with her clever songwriting and exciting performances. With over 20 years of experience, Shaw captivates audiences of all sizes – from intimate listening rooms to national television audiences. Shaw blends authentic Cajun culture with endearing local charm, delivering shows that burst with Louisiana flavor.

Palm Court Jazz Café, 1204 Decatur Street, $10 or VIP Pass.

2:30 – 3:45 PM—Special Event

FESTIVAL CLOSING EVENT: A CELEBRATION OF WRITERS

Our 2024 closing event celebrates writers who are award-winning and accomplished, alongside some up-and-coming writers to watch. We'll begin with a poetry reading by our new Louisiana Poet Laureate, Alison Pelegrin. Also included are readings by our writing contest winners and judges, including our Very Short Fiction Judge, Tara Lynn Masih, and a staged reading of the winning one-act play, directed by David Hoover. We'll also feature readings from local community writing groups who support and promote emerging writers by hosting writing marathons, readings, submission happy hours, and free writing workshops, including M.A. Nicholson of LMNL Arts.

Hotel Monteleone, Queen Anne Ballroom, Free and open to the public.

2:30 PM – 3:45 PM—Music

Drummer & Smoke Music Series: DOYLE COOPER JAZZ BAND

Raised in a musical family, it was always a matter of what Doyle Cooper would play, not if he would play, and he began playing trumpet at the age of 10. He was immersed in Traditional Jazz since his grandfather and mother both performed for years. From New Orleans, Doyle is dedicated to traditional jazz that has shaped the culture of his hometown. Doyle, or "Red" as he is known by most, has studied and performed with many world-renowned jazz musicians. Doyle graduated from the Jazz Studies program at NOCCA and Loyola University. He was awarded the Grand Prize in the "Seeking Satch" competition.

Palm Court Jazz Café, 1204 Decatur Street, $10 or VIP Pass.

2:30 PM—Theatre

THE FIRE WEEDS PRESENTS:

OUTRAGED HEARTS:

THE PRETTY TRAP AND INTERIOR: PANIC

See page 14 for full description

Big Couch New Orleans, 1045 Desire Street,

$35 adults and $12 for students, or VIP Pass.

Tickets at <https://outragedhearts.bpt.me/>

3 PM—Theatre

THE TENNESSEE WILLIAMS THEATRE

COMPANY OF NEW ORLEANS PRESENTS:

KINGDOM OF EARTH BY TENNESSEE

WILLIAMS

See page 14 for full description

The Marquette Theatre,

Loyola University New Orleans,

6363 St. Charles Avenue.

Tickets at www.twtheatrenola.com

7:30 PM—Theatre

THE FIRE WEEDS PRESENTS:

OUTRAGED HEARTS:

THE PRETTY TRAP AND INTERIOR: PANIC

See page 14 for full description

Big Couch New Orleans, 1045 Desire Street,

$35 adults and $12 for students, or VIP Pass.

Tickets at <https://outragedhearts.bpt.me/>

Jaclyn Bethany
and Lin Gathright
The Pretty Trap.

IMAGE CREDIT EDWARD SIMON

Friends of TENNESSEE

2023 – 2024 Friends and Donors as of March 8, 2024

Blanche DuBois depended on the kindness of strangers, and the Festival depends on the kindness of Friends! You can become a Friend of Tennessee and enjoy membership level perks, become part of a strong literary arts community, and help us continue on our mission of supporting artists. You can join Friends of Tennessee in our Headquarters or online at www.tennesseewilliams.net.

BABY DOLL

Joe Azegami-Hyer
Beau Bratcher
Gabino Cabanilla
Jacqueline Clowney
Elizabeth Costello
Timothy G. Crowley
Tracy & Sonny Cunningham
William Demaree
Nancy Dixon
Pamela Ebel
Patty Friedmann
Lawrence Henry Gobble
Scott Jakubowski
Anna Leightman
Kathi McCord
Sandra Nickel
Michael Normancy
Barbara Rosenthal
Paulette & Cecil Shuffler
Elisa Speranza
Richard Wise

SERAFINA DELLE ROSE

Maggie Bobbitt
Linda Dawson
Rebecca F. Hale, Ph.D.
Candice Hensen
David Hoover
Hélène Inayetian
Margit Longbrake
James MacDonald
Bev & Butch Marshall
Mary N. Mitchell
Connie & Brian Nelson
Joseph Bishop & Stuart Noel
Nancy Pond
Michael Sartisky
Richard Stewart

Ronald Swartz
Ruby & Jerry Tremont
Sara Woodard

GENTLEMAN CALLER

Gregory Gajus
Ted & Mary Merle Laborde
Laura Lane McNeal
Kathy Higgins & Terry Verigan

MAGGIE THE CAT

Janet Daley Duval
Margaret Dziedzic
Wendy Griswold
Michele Kaminski
Amelia Koch
Ruth Koffman
Peggy & Errol Laborde
Gary Matus & Dan Sheehan

BIG DADDY

George & Helen Ingram

FESTIVAL DONORS

C. Morgan Babst
Carolyn Bain
Joy & Boysie Bollinger
Jay Haykes
Heymann-Wolf Foundation
In Memory of Thomas Kiczula Jr.,
aka Tommy Kicz
Connie Lewis
Marcia O'Connell

AUCTION DONORS

Adventure Quest Laser Tag
Austin's
C. Morgan Babst
Baldwin & Co. Coffee & Bookstore

John Barthe Art
Boutique du Vampyre
Bywater Books & Amble Press
Cafe Amelie
Criollo
Timothy Cummings
Cheyanne Dise, Psychic Medium
Dr. Bob Art
Ruby Noble Evans
Faulkner House Books
The Fire Weeds
Fleurty Girl
Franco's
French Truck Coffee
Macon Fry
Galatoire's
Hazelnut
Head Quarters Hair Salon
The Historic New Orleans
Collection
Home Malone
Hotel Monteleone
Isabelle Jacopin
JAMNola
Jefferson Performing Art Society
Jezebel's
Jupiter Salon New Orleans
K.Co Press
Errol & Peggy Scott Laborde
L'Auberge Casino Resort
John & Priscilla Lawrence
Le Petit Theatre
Link Restaurant Group
Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities
The Luminary and Co.
Michalopolous Gallery
Miss Claudia's Vintage Clothing & Costumes

National WWII Museum
Nelson Hat Co.
New Directions Publishing
New Orleans Museum of Art
New Orleans Pharmacy Museum
New Orleans Saints
New Orleans Secret Tours
New Orleans Writers Workshop
NOLA Craft Culture
Nola Healer
NOLA Waxing & Skincare
Over Easy Marketing
Papier Plume
Paul Morse Photography
Frank Perez
Dusty Porter & Tim Ring
Rebel Satori Press
Rock N Bowl
Scarlet Pearl Casino Resort
Scriptura
Shrimp Boil Cabaret
TQ Sims
Sinister Wisdom
Southern Food & Beverage Museum
Jacob Storms
The Tennessee Williams Theatre
Co. of New Orleans
Total Wine & More
Unemployed Philosophers Guild
Billy Warren
Wellington & Company Fine
Jewelry
And thank you to our anonymous donors!

wyes  PBS

WYES IS

New Orleans'
STORYTELLER

WYES.ORG

FUNDING SUPPORT FOR THE 38TH ANNUAL TENNESSEE WILLIAMS & NEW ORLEANS LITERARY FESTIVAL

Goldring Family Foundation

THE UNIVERSITY OF
NEW ORLEANS
CREATIVE WRITING WORKSHOP

City of New Orleans
Mayor LaToya Cantrell

This program is supported in part by a Community Arts Grant made possible by the City of New Orleans as administered by Arts New Orleans. Programming also supported in partnership with City of New Orleans Mayor's Office of Cultural Economy and by a grant from the Louisiana Division of the Arts, Office of Cultural Development, Department of Culture, Recreation and Tourism in cooperation with the Louisiana State Arts Council. Additional funding through a 2023 Rebirth Grant, provided by the State of Louisiana and administered by Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities. Any views, findings, conclusions or recommendations expressed in this program do not necessarily represent those of the Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities. This project is supported in part by the National Endowment for the Arts. To find out more about how National Endowment for the Arts grants impact individuals and communities, visit www.arts.gov.

WOMEN'S NATIONAL BOOK
ASSOCIATION
NEW ORLEANS

3RD

BLOCK DEPOT
KITCHEN + BAR

你好

Studying Chinese at Xavier

Learn Chinese and/or enroll in the Chinese Minor Program at Xavier University of Louisiana

Study abroad in Taiwan

Each Year over 15 Huayu BEST Scholarships for 2 to 4 months and receiving TWD 25,000 (about US $800) per month for each student studying in Taiwan

&

Multiple, substantial scholarships from Xavier to cover international travel

Email
Chineselanguage@xula.edu for more information

Press Forward. Fear Nothing.
1925 – 2025

Thanks for choosing Octavia Books as your independent bookstore

2024 FESTIVAL PARTICIPANTS

38TH ANNUAL
TENNESSEE
WILLIAMS &
NEW ORLEANS
LITERARY
FESTIVAL

Kelly I. Aliano is the Manager of Education Special Projects at New-York Historical Society and teaches in the English Department at LaGuardia Community College. She is the author of Theatre of the Ridiculous: A Critical History (McFarland, 2019) and The Performance of Video Games (McFarland, 2022), as well as the forthcoming Immersive Storytelling and Spectatorship in Theatre, Museums, and Video Games (Routledge, 2025). She currently serves as the Member-at-Large for Focus Group Representatives for the Association for Theatre in Higher Education.

Kayla Min Andrews is a biracial, Korean American writer living in New Orleans. She has a piece forthcoming from The Massachusetts Review and has been published in Cagibi for fiction, Halfway Down the Stairs for nonfiction, and Asymptote for literary translation. Her work was nominated for a Best of the Net 2020. She was a finalist in the Tennessee Williams and New Orleans Literary Festival's Very Short Fiction Contest in 2023. Kayla assisted Putnam on the posthumous publication of her mother's novel The Fetishist, including editing the manuscript. She is an MFA candidate in fiction at Randolph and is working on a novel.

Jess Armstrong's debut novel The Curse of Penryth Hall won the Mystery Writers of America/Minotaur First Crime Novel Competition. She has a masters degree in American History but prefers writing about imaginary people to the real thing. Jess lives in New Orleans with her historian husband, two sons, yellow cat, speckled dog, and the world's most pampered school-fair goldfish. And when she's not working on her next project, she's probably thinking about cheese, baking, tweeting or some combination of the above.

Jubi Arriola-Headley (he/him) is a Black queer poet and storyteller and author of Original Kink: Poems (Sibling Rivalry Press), recipient of the 2021 Housatonic Book Award. His second collection, Bound, will be published by Persea Books in February 2024. Jubi's work has received support from Yaddo, Millay Arts, Lambda Literary, the Virginia Center for the Creative Arts, and the Atlantic Center for the Arts, and his poems have been featured in Literary Hub, Kweli Journal, and Southern Humanities Review, on PBS NewsHour's Brief But Spectacular, and elsewhere. He's currently at work on a memoir in essays, an excerpt of which received the 2023 First Pages Prize. Jubi lives with his husband in South Florida on ancestral Tequesta, Miccosukee, and Seminole lands.

C. Morgan Babst is a native of New Orleans. Her essays and short fiction have appeared in such publications as The Washington Post, Saveur, The Oxford American, Guernica, Garden and Gun, the Harvard Review, and the anthology Horse Girls. Two of her essays are listed as Notable in Best American Essays. Her debut novel, The Floating World, was named one of the best books of 2017 by Kirkus Reviews, Amazon, Southern Living, and the Dallas Morning News and was a New York Times Editors' Pick.

Stacey Balkun is the author of Sweetbitter and co-editor of Fiolet & Wing. Winner of the 2019 New South Writing Contest, her work has appeared in Best New Poets, Mississippi Review, Pleiades, and several other anthologies and journals. Stacey holds an MFA from Fresno State and teaches online at The Poetry Barn and The Loft. She lives and writes in New Orleans.

Robert Becker, Ph.D., was chief executive officer of New Orleans City Park from 2001 to 2021, during which he created a nationally recognized master plan that led to its first public funding—over $200 million in capital investment. Prior to managing City Park, Dr. Becker held senior management positions at the Audubon Nature Institute and was director of the New Orleans City Planning Commission. He received a National Planning Award from the American Planning Association, a Lifetime Achievement Award from the Bureau of Governmental Research, a Special Recognition Award from the National Park Service, and was named a Hero of the Katrina Recovery by New Orleans Magazine. His book, New Orleans City Park: From Tragedy to Triumph, came out in 2023.

Jaclyn Bethany is an actor, writer, and Emmy winning filmmaker, as well as a rising Williams scholar. She is co-artistic director of the new female driven company, The Fire Weeds. A native of Jackson, Mississippi, Jaclyn is a graduate of Fordham University, the London Film School (MA) and the American Film Institute (MFA, Directing). She recently played the role of Laura in The Glass Menagerie at New Stage Theatre and performed with the Tennessee Williams Theatre Company of New Orleans in The Six Blanches. She has directed six feature films which have played prestigious festivals and received distribution worldwide. She recently wrapped indie feature In Transit starring Jennifer Ehle and is slated to shoot All Five Eyes starring Greta Bellamacina and Honor Swinton-Byrne in the UK later this year. She is on faculty at Loyola University, New Orleans and presented at the Williams scholars conference in 2023.

George Bishop, Jr., grew up in Louisiana but has lived and taught in Slovakia, Turkey, Indonesia, Azerbaijan, Kyrgyzstan, India, and Japan. His novel, Letter to My Daughter, was published by Random House in 2010. His second, The Night of the Comet, also with Random House, was chosen by Kirkus Reviews as one of the "Best Books of 2013." In a former life, he starred as Murphy Gilcrease the teenage vampire in the 1988 New World Pictures release Teen Vamp.

Ariadne Blayde is a playwright and fiction writer based in America's last true bohemia, New Orleans. Her first novel, Ash Tuesday, is out from indie press April Gloaming, and her play The Other Room is produced around the world. Her short stories have won contests including the Saints and Sinners Fiction Prize and the Quantum Shorts People's Choice Prize, and her writing has appeared in various anthologies. She writes speculative fiction, historical fiction, and work focusing on social and environmental justice. Ariadne moonlights as a ghost tour guide in the French Quarter.

Bella Blue is a New Orleans born and raised mover, shaker, stripper, artist, and pleasure seeker. Since 2007, she began to explore beyond the bounds her formal dance training to expand into forms of movement that were more sensual. While the majority of her career has been as a burlesque performer, she is also an accomplished pole dancer and movement coach. She's had the honor of representing New Orleans by headlining festivals and events all over the US and Europe. She has solidified her standing as one of the leading producers and educators within the burlesque industry. Everyone's most loved (and sometimes hated) Unicorn Stripper Momme.

Clint Bowie is the Artistic Director of the New Orleans Film Society, where he manages the curation of the organization's year-round programming, including the Academy Award-qualifying New Orleans Film Festival. He has served on review committees for ITVS, Creative Capital, National Endowment for the Arts, and Latino Public Broadcasting, and has spoken on panels organized by Sundance Institute, Firelight Media, Center for Asian American Media, and others. He previously worked as a print journalist at publications across the country.

Nina Bozak is the curator of rare books at The Historic New Orleans Collection who previously worked in the special collections of both Tulane and Dillard Universities before joining the staff of THNOC in 2010. In addition to her work with its rare books, Nina is also a curator for THNOC's performing arts collections. As a founding member and choreographer of New Orleans's first neo-burlesque group, The Shim Shamettes, and a longtime dancer and choreographer in New Orleans, she works closely with its growing dance-related collections.

Teresa Tumminello Brader is a New Orleanian, spurred on to writing by the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. Her first book, Letting in Air and Light, is a work of hybrid memoir/ fiction from Belle Point Press. A collection of short stories is forthcoming in Spring-Summer 2025 from the same press. Her stories, essays, poetry, and reviews can be found at various online literary sites, as well as in print anthologies. She has a bachelor of arts in English from Marquette University, her four years in Milwaukee the only time she lived away from the city of her birth.

Caroline Bühler is a graduate student in the American History, Culture, and Society Program at Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität in Munich, Germany. Born in Munich and growing up in Marseille, France, she completed her bachelor's in English Literature and Creative Writing at Concordia University in Montreal, Canada. She focuses on intersectional studies, namely the representation of minority groups and systemic injustices in literature and media. Passionate about writing, she has delved into non-fiction by exploring themes related to gender, sexuality, and culture.

Stephanie Burt is a poet, literary critic, and professor with nine published books, including two critical books on poetry and three poetry collections. Her essay collection Close Calls with Nonsense was a finalist for the National Book Critics Circle Award. Her other works include We Are Mermaids; Advice from the Lights; The Poem is You: 60 Contemporary American Poems and How to Read Them; The Art of the Sonnet; Something Understood: Essays and Poetry for Helen Vendler; The Forms of Youth: Adolescence and 20th Century Poetry; Parallel Play: Poems; Randall Jarrell on W. H. Auden; and Randall Jarrell and His Age. Her writing has appeared in the New York Times Book Review, the London Review of Books, the Times Literary Supplement, the Believer, and the Boston Review.

Edward Cahill is the author of the novel Disorderly Men (2023) and the scholarly monograph, Liberty of the Imagination: Aesthetic Theory, Literary Form, and Politics in the Early United States (2012). He is Professor of English at Fordham University, where he has taught since 2005. He lives on the Upper West Side of Manhattan.

Cynthia Carr is the author of Fire in the Belly: The Life and Times of David Wojnarowicz, winner of a Lambda Literary Award and finalist for the J. Anthony Lukas Book Prize. Her previous books are Our Town: A Heartland Lynching, a Haunted Town, and the Hidden History of White America and On Edge: Performance at the End of the Twentieth Century.

Leslie Castay, Broadway, film and TV veteran, recently portrayed legendary bad girl Tallulah Bankhead to critical acclaim in Matthew Lombardi's play Looped at Jefferson Performing Arts Society, directed by Janet Shea. She won Big Easy awards for her portrayals of Little Edie Beale in Grey Gardens, Diana in Next to Normal, and for her direction of JPAS' production of Holiday Inn last season. She can be seen on TV as the recurring character Alicia Mayfair in Anne Rice's Mayfair Witches on AMC TV currently filming its second season. Other TV and Film credits include The Big Short, Green Book, NCIS: New Orleans, Good Girls, and many others.

Stephen Cedars is a writer, director, teacher and scholar originally from south Louisiana. His plays have been produced or developed both in New York City and throughout the U.S. and Canada, and published by Original Works and Words of Choice. As a producer and director in NYC, he has created work for stages in three boroughs, including several years of community programming. As a scholar, he has presented his work at major conferences and published his work in journals in the U.S. and U.K. Amongst his awards are the Theater Masters Visionary Playwright Award, the Gloria Ann Barnell Peter Award, and the John Golden Playwriting Prize. He earned his MFA in Dramatic Writing from NYU, which he attended as a Rita and Burton Goldberg Fellow, and is currently pursuing a Ph.D. in Theatre and Performance Studies with the CUNY Graduate Center.

Mark Charney earned his M.A. at the University of New Orleans and his Ph.D. from Tulane and is Chair of Theatre and Dance at Texas Tech University. He was Associate Director of the National Critics Institute for the O'Neill Theatre Center for 19 years and is Professor Emeritus at Clemson University. His play The Power Behind the Palette won the David Mark Cohen Award and a stage reading at ATHE in Los Angeles. His The Balloon Handler Makes Good was performed at the New Plays Festival in California, the ATHE in DC, Ten for Tenn Festival, and Warner International Festival. International premieres include Empty Roads with Cars, Turkey; Shooting Blanks, Prague; Public Domain: A Play with Footnotes, Dubai; and The Decameron Project, Edinburgh Fringe Festival. Upcoming credits and events include If Christ Were Born in a Barn, Dyin' in a Van Ain't so Bad, the West End; Revenge of the Oompa Loopas, Rose Theatre in DC; induction into the College of Fellows of the American Theatre in April, Kennedy Center. He is an honorary member of the Actors Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony in L.A. based on his work in criticism and dramaturgy nationwide, and is also Artistic Director of the International Association of Schools of Southeast Asia. Charney created several experiential learning programs at Texas Tech, including the Tennessee Williams Festival Institute in Provincetown, and he helped to raise 50 million dollars for a new theatre and dance complex.

Wendy Chin-Tanner is the author of the poetry collections Turn and Anyone Will Tell You, editor of Embodied: An Intersectional Feminist Comics Poetry Anthology, and copublisher at A Wave Blue World, an independent publishing company for graphic novels. Born and raised in New York City, she lives in the Hudson Valley with her family. King of the Armadillos is her first novel.

Augustin J. Correro is a Founding Co-Artistic Director of the Tennessee Williams Theatre Company of New Orleans. The company has produced over 20 Williams plays, many of which Correro has directed. He has also directed and assistant directed Williams plays in New York, Virginia, Mississippi, and Massachusetts. He holds an MFA in Theatre Pedagogy from Virginia Commonwealth University and a BA in Theatre from Mississippi University for Women. He is a resident of New Orleans and a native of the Mississippi Delta. His book Tennessee Williams 101 was released in 2021, based on his TW Fest presentations.

Maureen Corrigan, book critic for NPR's Fresh Air, is The Nicky and Jamie Grant Distinguished Professor of the Practice in Literary Criticism at Georgetown University. She is the winner of the 1999 Edgar Award for Criticism, presented by the Mystery Writers of America. In 2019, Corrigan was awarded the Nona Balakian Citation for Excellence in Reviewing by the National Book Critics Circle. In 2023, Corrigan received the Washington Monthly "Kukula" Award for Excellence in Nonfiction Book Reviewing, as well as the John Seigenthaler "Legends" Award. In 2023, Corrigan wrote and filmed a 24-lecture series on banned books, "Forbidden Literary Works," for Wondrium/ Great Courses. Corrigan's book So We Read On: How The Great Gatsby Came To Be and Why It Endures, was a New York Times Editors' Choice in 2014. Corrigan's literary memoir, Leave Me Alone, I'm Reading! was published in 2005.

WOMEN'S NATIONAL BOOK ASSOCIATION

NEW ORLEANS

Encouraging the reading of banned books since Eleanor Roosevelt co-founded us.

Moira Crone, a New Orleanian, has published six books of fiction and her stories have appeared in the New Yorker, Oxford American, and Fantasy and Science Fiction. Her novels are Period of Confinement, The Ice Garden (2016), winner of the Independent Booksellers Gold Medal, and The Not Yet (2012, 2024), finalist for the Philip K Dick Prize for paperback sci fi novel of the year. The Not Yet is a text in courses on Eco-Futurism, architecture, and Southern decadence, reprinted in 2024 with new design by UNO Press. She is also a visual artist represented by Sullivan and New Orleans Art Center Galleries.

Michael Cunningham is the author of six novels: A Home at the End of the World, Flesh and Blood, The Hours, Specimen Days, By Nightfall, and The Snow Queen, as well as a story collection, A Wild Swan and Other Tales, and a book of nonfiction, Land's End: A Walk in Provincetown. The Hours won the PEN Faulkner Award and the Pulitzer Prize in 1999. It was made into a film starring Meryl Streep, Julianne Moore, and Nicole Kidman. His new novel, Day, was published in November 2023.

Brenda Currin, an Obie Award winner, has worked extensively in the NY theater. More recent films include Daughter of the Bride and Gossamer Folds. Earlier films include In Cold Blood, The World According to Garp, Reds, Taps, C.H.U.D., and Out of Blue. TV work includes Gossip Girl, Claws, and Wu-Tang, An American Saga. New Orleans theater performances have included roles in Confederacy of Dunces, Dividing the Estate, Orpheus Descending, and Suddenly Last Summer, and at the St. Louis TW Festival, The Glass Menagerie. With David Kaplan, she adapted and performed Eudora Welty's work for the stage. Brenda co-founded What Girls Know, a theater program for the healthy development of adolescent girls. In February 2024, Brenda opened in the World Premiere of Tina Howe's last play, Where Women Go, for a limited run at the HERE Theater in New York.

Beth Bartley d'Amour made her Broadway debut in the Tony-nominated play, Fortune's Fool, directed by Arthur Penn. Film credits include Richard Linklater's new film Hitman in the role of Jill and upcoming The Climbing Rose of the Garden District in the role of Feydau Klaus. Williams roles include Blanche DuBois in A Streetcar Named Desire, Catherine Holly in Suddenly Last Summer, and Carol Cutrere in Orpheus Descending (dir. Austin Pendleton). Beth is a graduate of the Interlochen Arts Academy and The Juilliard School.

Todd d'Amour is from New Orleans, Syracuse U. (BA Psy); AADA (NYC). NYC credits include Broadway - Airline Highway; Off-Bway - Lie of the Mind, Stanley, Red Tide (Taylor Mac), Nita & Zita (OBIE). NOLA credits include Airline Highway, Father Comes Home From The Wars (S-Lori Parks), Orpheus Descending, Numb (Goat in the Road), Baby Doll Regional: Detroit, Airline Hwy (Steppenwolf/J Mantello), Stanley - A Streetcar Named Desire, Venus in the Fur, Charlie Chaplin - Silent Lives, George Bailey - It's a Wonderful Life. Film/TV: Wendell - Wendell & The Lemon (SLAMDANCE, Best Actor NYCV-Fest), Heart Wants (N.O.F.F. '14), Get Out Fast (Prod, SLAMDANCE), Preacher, Claws, Bigger, C'Mon C'Mon (Joaquin Phoenix), The Purge, NCIS, Stranger Things, Florida Man (Netflix), Bandit (E.Cuthbert, Josh Duhamel, Mel Gibson). Thanks, Beth & Daddy-O.

Matt de Rogatis is the Chairman and Creative Director of Ruth Stage, a non profit multimedia organization based out of the New York City area. Previous NYC Off Broadway acting credits for de Rogatis include "Frederick Clegg" in the United States premiere of The Collector (59E59), "Roy" in Lone Star (Theatre Row), "Richard III" in Austin Pendleton's Wars of the Roses (124 Bank Street Theatre), "Tom Wingfield" in The Glass Menagerie (Wild Project), and "Brick" in the first ever Off Broadway production of Cat on a Hot Tin Roof in 2022 opposite Christian Jules Le Blanc as well as the subsequent re-engagement in 2023. Matt is the first man in history to both produce and star in Off Broadway productions of The Glass Menagerie and Cat on a Hot Tin Roof. For more information on Matt and Ruth Stage please visit www.ruthstage.org.

John Michael DiResta is a theater director, dramaturg, adapter, playwright, and Assistant Professor at Skidmore College. His work focuses on new play dramaturgy, site-responsive theater, community engagement, and queer liberation. He is particularly interested in the intersections between new work development and theater for social change and highlights in his work the importance of repositioning audience experience in new plays. John's current projects focus on the development of consent-based, trauma-informed, anti-racist pedagogical and rehearsal practices. John Michael has directed at Steppenwolf, LaMama, New Dramatists, Atlantic Theater, MCC Theater, The Hangar Theater, The Dramatists Guild, and The Drama League.

Margot Douailhy is the author of Scorched Grace (Gillian Flynn Books, 2023). The second book in the Sister Holiday Mystery series, Blessed Water, will be released March 12, 2024 from Gillian Flynn Books. She received her Ph.D. in Creative Writing from the University of Lancaster and her BA in English from the University of Pittsburgh. She is the author of the poetry collections Bandit/Queen: The Runaway Story of Belle Starr, Scranton Lace, and Girls Like You (Clemson University Press). She is a founding member of the Creative Writing Studies Organization and an active member of Sisters in Crime and the Radius of Arab American Writers. Her writing has been featured in Colorado Review, The Florida Review, North American Review, PBS NewsHour, Portland Review, Queer Life, Queer Love, Wisconsin Review, and elsewhere.

Gina Ferrara's poetry collections include Ethereal Avalanche (Trembling Pillow Press, 2009), Amber Porch Light (Word Tech 2013), Fitting the Sixth Finger: Poems Inspired by the Paintings of Marc Chagall (Kelsay Books 2017) and Weight of the Ripened (Dos Madres Press, 2020), a finalist for the Eyelands' Poetry Prize. Amiss, also published by Dos Madres Press, is her fifth collection. Her work has appeared in numerous journals including Callaloo, The Poetry Ireland Review and Tar River Poetry and was selected for publication in the Sixty-Four Best Poets of 2019 by Black Mountain Press. Since 2007, she has curated The Poetry Buffet, a monthly reading series in New Orleans and most recently edited The Poetry Buffet: An Anthology of New Orleans Poetry.

Randy Fertel, a former professor of English, is passionate about great stories and fresh ideas. Kirkus Reviews called his award-winning book, A Taste for Chaos: The Art of Literary Improvisation, “A smart blend of psychology, philosophy and literary history.... A tour de force of reading in the fields of literary theory and history befitting a George Steiner or Erich Auerbach.” His The Gorilla Man and the Empress of Steak: A New Orleans Family Memoir unspools untold tales as he tries to make sense of his parents—and himself—in a colorful, food-obsessed New Orleans. His latest, Winging It: Improv’s Power and Peril in the Time of Trump, explores improv’s brilliance and its darkness.

Ariel Francisco is the author of the forthcoming All the Places We Love Have Been Left in Ruins (Burrow Press, 2024), Under Capitalism If Your Head Aches They Just Yank Off Your Head (Flowersong Press, 2022), and A Sinking Ship is Still a Ship (Burrow Press, 2020), and the translator of Haitian-Dominican poet Jacques Viau Renaud’s Poet of One Island (Get Fresh Books, 2024) and Guatemalan poet Hael Lopez’s Routines/Goodbyes (Spuytten Duyvil, 2022). A poet and translator born in the Bronx to Dominican and Guatemalan parents and raised in Miami, his work has been published in The New Yorker, American Poetry Review, Academy of American Poets, POETRY Magazine, The New York City Ballet, Latino Book Review, and elsewhere. He is Assistant Professor of Poetry and Hispanic Studies at Louisiana State University.

Levi Frazier, Jr. is a short story author, award-winning playwright of over 50 plays, a director, producer, screenwriter, actor, and educator. He is Professor Emeritus in theatre at Southwest Tennessee Community College and also taught at the University of Memphis and State Technical Institute at Memphis. His work has been produced nationally in major theatrical markets such as New York, Chicago, Miami, Austin, Hollywood and Memphis. A Tribute to Richard Wright was produced by invitation at the Sorbonne for the African-American and Europe International Festival in Paris, France. In 2022 and 2023, Frazier’s W.C., Tennessee, The Blues, and Me was produced at the Mississippi Delta Tennessee Williams Literary Festival. Frazier is co-founder with his wife, Deborah, of Beale Street Repertory Company and Blues City Cultural Center, where he now serves as Artistic Director.

Lin Gathright is co artistic director of New Orleans’ new female focused theater company, The Fire Weeds. She is an actress in theater, film, and television. She is currently starring in Outrage Hearts: The Pretty Trap and Interior Panic, written by Tennessee Williams and presented by The Fire Weeds at Big Couch.

Benjamin Gillespie, Ph.D. (he/him) is Doctoral Lecturer in Communication, Gender Studies, and Theatre at Baruch College, City University of New York. His research centers on the intersection of gender, sexuality, and aging in contemporary theatre and drama. Benjamin is Co-Editor of the Journal of American Drama and Theatre and Contributing Editor of PAJ: A Journal of Performance and Art. He is currently editing a critical anthology on the New York-based, lesbian-feminist theatre company Split Britches titled Split Britches: Fifty Years On (University of Michigan Press, 2024). He is also editing a scholarly anthology titled Late Stage: Theatrical Perspectives on Age and Aging with Dr. Cindy Rosenthal (University of Michigan Press, 2025). His articles and reviews have appeared in Theatre Journal, Theatre Topics, Performance Research, Modern Drama, Theatre Survey, PAJ, Theatre Research in Canada, and Canadian Theatre Review, along with numerous scholarly anthologies.

LaKeshia Glover is a stage, film, and television actor. She was last seen in The St. Louis Black Repertory Theater’s production of Dontrell Who Kissed the Sea, which she also performed with The Nebraska Repertory. Other theatre credits include Seven Guitars with the Saint Louis Black Repertory Theater, String from Mojo and String with No Dream Deferred, Small Craft Warning with the Tennessee Williams Theater Company, and House of Bernarda Alba with In Good Company, just to name a few. Film and television credits include The Adulterer, Regret, Saturdays on Disney, Leverage: Redemption, Secrets of Sulphur Springs, and Killing It. She’s currently raising funds to finish filming her own television series, Rosebud. Learn more or donate at www.Lakeshaglover.com

Brad Gooch is a poet, novelist, and biographer whose previous ten books include Flannery: A Life of Flannery O’Connor, which was a National Book Critics Circle Award finalist, a New York Times Notable Book of the Year, and a New York Times bestseller; City Poet: The Life and Times of Frank O’Hara; Godtalk: Travels in Spiritual America; and the memoir Smash Cut. He is the recipient of National Endowment for the Humanities and Guggenheim fellowships, and lives in New York City.

Anya Groner is a journalist, fiction writer, and essayist, with work in Guernica, The New York Times, The Oxford American, Orion Magazine, and The Atlantic. Her audio reporting and production is featured in Monument Lab’s podcast Plot of Land as well as in WWNO/ WRKF’s podcast Sea Change. Groner is a recipient of numerous awards, including those from the Cincinnati Review, Studio in the Woods, Virginia Quarterly Review, Meridian Magazine, and the Louisiana Board of Regents. She teaches creative writing at the New Orleans Center for Creative Arts and the New Orleans Writers Workshop.

Miles Harvey is the author of The King of Confidence (Little, Brown & Co., 2020), a New York Times Book Review Editors’ Choice selection. Harvey also wrote Painter in a Savage Land (Random House, 2008) and The Island of Lost Maps (Random House, 2000), a national bestseller. His collection of short stories, The Registry of Forgotten Objects, will be published later this year by Mad Creek Books. Harvey teaches creative writing at DePaul University in Chicago, where he chairs the Department of English and is a founding editor of Big Shoulders Books, a nonprofit, social-justice publisher.

Carolyn Hembree’s third poetry collection, For Today, is forthcoming from LSU Press as part of their Barataria Series, edited by Ava Leavell Haymon. Carolyn is also the author of Skinny and Rigging a Chevy into a Time Machine and Other Ways to Escape a Plague, winner of the Trio Award and the Rochelle Ratner Memorial Award. Her poems appear in Beloit Poetry Journal, Copper Nickel, Poetry Daily, The Southern Review, and other publications. She teaches at the University of New Orleans and serves as the poetry editor of Bayou Magazine.

Skye Jackson was born and raised in New Orleans, Louisiana. Her work has appeared in The Southern Review, Electric Literature, Green Mountains Review, RATTLE and elsewhere. Her work has been a finalist for the 2023 Iowa Review Poetry Award, the RATTLE Poetry Prize, the RHINO Founders’ Prize, and in 2021 she received the AWP Intro Journals Award. Skye’s work was also selected by Billy Collins for inclusion in the Library of Congress Poetry 180 Project. Her debut full-length poetry collection, Libre, will be published by Regalo Press and distributed by Simon & Schuster in Spring 2025. She currently teaches at Xavier University.

Monique Jenkinson is an artist, choreographer, performer and writer. Her work dwells at the intersection of contemporary dance, cabaret and essay, and considers the performance of femininity as a powerful, vulnerable and subversive act. Her alter-ego Fauxnique made herstory as the first cis-woman ever, anywhere, crowned as a pageant-winning drag queen, and her original works have toured nationally and internationally in wide-ranging contexts from nightclubs to theaters to museums. Her memoir, Faux Queen is out now on Amble Press.

Alex Jennings’ writing has appeared in Current Affairs Magazine, podcastle.org, pseudopod.org, Strange Horizons, New Suns, Volumes 1 and 2, and is forthcoming in From a Certain Point of View, the Return of the Jedi 40th-Anniversary anthology. He is the Director of DreamFoundry’s Con or Bust Program and an instructor of Popular Fiction at the Stonecoast MFA program. He writes a speculative poetry review column, “Chapter and Verse,” for the Magazine of Fantasy and Science Fiction. His debut novel, The Ballad of Perilous Graves (2022) was short-listed for numerous awards and prizes including The Ernest J. Gaines Award, The Ray Bradbury Prize for Speculative Fiction, the Locus Award for Best Debut Novel, and the World Fantasy Award. Born in Germany, he trotted the globe until settling in New Orleans. He is the winner of the inaugural Imagination Unbound Fellowship at Under the Volcano in Tepoztlan, Mexico and the 2023 Compton Crook Prize from the Baltimore Science Fiction Society. Jennings is a graduate of the University of New Orleans.

David Johnson is the Director of Marketing and Engagement for the Jefferson Parish Library. He previously served as the digital media editor for OffBeat magazine, communications director for the New Orleans Museum of Art, and editor of Louisiana Cultural Vistas magazine and KnowLA, the Digital Encyclopedia of Louisiana, at the Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities.

T. R. Johnson has taught at universities in Boston and Louisville, and works now in the Department of English at Tulane. He has lived in the 9th Ward of New Orleans since 1999, and has been hosting a contemporary jazz radio program at WWOZ 90.7 FM since 2001. He is the editor of New Orleans: A Literary History and the author of New Orleans: A Writer's City.

Rodney Jones is the author of eleven poetry books, including Transparent Gestures, winner of the National Book Critics Circle Award, Elegy for the Southern Drawl, a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize, and Salvation Blues, winner of the Kingsley Tufts Poetry Award. His other awards include fellowships from the Guggenheim Foundation and the National Endowment for the Arts. In 2016, he became the second poet to be inducted into the Alabama Writers Hall of Fame.

David Kaplan is the author of Tennessee Williams in Provincetown (2006) and Tenn Years (2015), a collection of essays about Williams in production. He is the editor of Tenn at One Hundred (2011) the centennial collection of essays about Williams' reputation. He has staged Suddenly Last Summer in Russia (1993), The Eccentricities of a Nightingale in Hong Kong (2003), Ten Blocks on the Camino Real in Uruguay (2012) and Ghana (2016), and The Rose Tattoo in St. Louis (2021). He is curator/cofounder of the Provincetown Tennessee Williams Theater Festival, whose 19th season will be September 26-29, 2024. See TWPTown.org

Thomas Keith has edited the Tennessee Williams titles for New Directions since 2002, over twenty volumes, and wrote the introductions for A House Not Meant to Stand and Now the Cats with Jeweled Claws. Co-editor of Letters of Tennessee Williams and James Laughlin, Keith edited Love, Christopher Street—a collection of LGBTQ essays about New York City. His writing has appeared in American Theatre magazine, the Gay & Lesbian Review, and Studies in Scottish Literature. His chapter on Frederick Douglas and Burns was just published in The Oxford Handbook of Robert Burns. He has served as dramaturge for Sundance Institute Theater Lab and teaches theater at Pace University in New York.

Christine Kwon writes and teaches in New Orleans. Her debut book of poems, A Ribbon the Most Perfect Blue, is winner of the Cowles Poetry Book Prize and published by Southeast Missouri State University Press (2023). She lives in a yellow shotgun house with her husband and newborn son, Louis.

Errol Laborde is executive vice president and editor-in-chief of Renaissance Publishing Company. He has won over twenty New Orleans Press Club awards, including three Alex Waller Awards and the Lifetime Achievement Award in 2016. He was also the recipient of the 2013 City & Regional Magazine Association award for column writing. His books include New Orleans: The First 300 Years, Mardi Gras: Chronicles of the New Orleans Carnival, and Krewe: The Early Carnival from Comus to Zulu. His most recent book is When Rex Met Zulu and Other Chronicles of the New Orleans Experience (February 2024). Laborde holds a PhD in Political Science from the University of New Orleans. He is a founder of the Tennessee Williams & New Orleans Literary Festival and served as its first president.

Peggy Scott Laborde has been the senior producer for the New Orleans PBS station, WYES-TV, since 1987. She has produced over 35 documentaries, including A Conversation with Tennessee Williams and, most recently, Literary New Orleans. She is the recipient of a Suncoast Emmy Award. Laborde also produces and hosts Steppin' Out, New Orleans' only weekly arts and entertainment review program, now in its 37th season. Laborde is a founding member and former President of the Tennessee William/New Orleans Literary Festival. She is the co-author of five books.

John H. Lawrence, a New Orleans native, was responsible for building the extensive photographic holdings at The Historic New Orleans Collection, where he worked for 46 years before retiring as director of museum programs at the end of 2020. As THNOC's head of curatorial collections, Lawrence oversaw holdings numbering more than half a million items. He has written and lectured widely about contemporary and historic photography and about the administration and preservation of pictorial collections, and he has curated dozens of exhibitions on a wide range of photographic, artistic, and general historical topics. He holds degrees in literature and art history from Vassar College and a certificate in museum management from the Getty Leadership Institute, formerly the Museum Management Institute. His book, Louisiana Lens: Photographs from The Historic New Orleans Collection, was published in November 2023.

Provincetown TENNESSEE WILLIAMS 19th Season
 Theater Festival
MEMORY PLAYS
 "Truth in the pleasant disguise of illusion"
THE GLASS MENAGERIE | SUDDENLY LAST SUMMER
 SOMETHING CLOUDY, SOMETHING CLEAR AND MUCH MORE...
SEPT 26 - 29, 2024 TWPTOWN.ORG

Christian Jules le Blanc's theater credits include the role of Big Daddy in Ruth Stage's Off-Broadway production of Cat On A Hot Tin Roof; Ladies In Retirement, with the legendary actresses Julie Harris and Eileen Brennan, in Los Angeles; Mimi in Richard Kondolian's Fairy Garden; Neil and Paul in the original plays Arc Light and The Fresca Wars, respectively, and No Orchids for Miss Blandish, The Catonsville Nine, and Appearances to the Contrary, a series of Joe Pintauro's one acts directed by Charles Nelson Reilly. Television credits include series regular roles on In the Heat of the Night and As the World Turns. Le Blanc has just celebrated his 30th anniversary on The Young and the Restless in the role of Michael Baldwin, for which he has been awarded three Emmys for Outstanding Lead Actor.

Chin-Sun Lee is the author of the debut novel Upcountry (Unnamed Press 2023), listed among Publishers Weekly's Big Indie Books of Fall 2023 and Debutiful's Most Anticipated Debut Books of 2023. She's one of Poets & Writers' 5 Over 50 Debut Authors of 2023 and is also a contributor to the New York Times-bestselling anthology Women in Clothes (Blue Rider Press/Penguin 2014). Her stories, essays, and reviews have appeared in The Georgia Review, The Rumpus, Joyland, and The Believer Logger, among other publications.

Margit Longbrake, managing editor of the Tennessee Williams Annual Review, has overseen the first-time publication of a number of primary Williams texts unearthed from the archives. As senior editor at The Historic New Orleans Collection, she acquires and edits books and museum publications, including Afro-Creole Poetry in French from Louisiana's Radical Civil War-Era Newspapers, translated and introduced by Clint Bruce (THNOC, 2020), winner of the Lois Roth Award for Literary Translation and longlisted for the ALTA National Translation Award in Poetry. Before joining THNOC, she worked at the Modern Language Association, where she acquired and developed pedagogical anthologies and literary translations and contributed to the eighth edition of the MLA Handbook.

Annell López is a Dominican immigrant. She is the winner of the Louise Meriwether First Book Prize and the author of the short story collection I'll Give You A Reason, forthcoming in 2024 from the Feminist Press. A Peter Taylor Fellow at the Kenyon Review Writers Workshops, her work has also received support from Tin House and has appeared in Guernica, American Short Fiction, Michigan Quarterly Review, Brooklyn Rail, and elsewhere. López received her MFA from the University of New Orleans. She is an assistant fiction editor for the New Orleans Review and is working on a novel.

Richard Louth taught English literature and writing courses for 45 years as a Professor of English at Southeastern Louisiana University, where he was founding Director of the Southeastern Louisiana Writing Project. As founder of the "New Orleans Writing Marathon" (NOWM), he has led Writing Marathons in New Orleans and other cities across the country for over 20 years. He edited The Writing Marathon: In Good Company Revealed and has published in Speak, Louisiana Literature, and Country Roads.

Julia Malye is the author of four novels published in France and works as a translator for Les Belles Lettres publishing house. At the age of 21, she moved to the United States to study the craft of fiction and graduated from Oregon State University's MFA program in 2017. Since 2015, she's taught creative writing to hundreds of students, both in the United States and in France. She wrote her fourth novel, La Louisiane, and English debut, Pelican Girls, both in French and in English. Pelican Girls is being translated in 25 languages.

Tara Lynn Masih is a National Jewish Book Award Finalist and winner of the Julia Ward Howe Award for Young Readers for her debut novel My Real Name Is Hanna. Her anthologies include The Rose Metal Press Field Guide to Writing Flash Fiction and The Chalk Circle: Intercultural Prizewinning Essays. Her latest collection, How We Disappear: Novella & Stories, won a 2022 Florida Book Award, and she has published multiple chapbooks with the Feral Press that are archived in universities such as Yale and NYU. She founded the Intercultural Essay Prize in 2006 and The Best Small Fictions series in 2015. Masih received a finalist fiction grant from the Massachusetts Cultural Council, an Inspirational Woman in Literature Award from AITL Media, and several national book awards including an IBPA Benjamin Franklin Award for her role as an editor.

Nick Medina, born in Chicago, Illinois, and a member of the Tunica-Biloxi Tribe of Louisiana, appreciates local and Native folklore, which, along with research into the Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls (MMIWG) epidemic, inspired his debut novel, Sisters of the Lost Nation. When he's not writing, he enjoys playing guitar, exploring curiosities and oddities, and spending time with family. His latest novel, Indian Burial Ground, will be available April 16, 2024.

Tom Mitchell is emeritus professor of Theatre at the University of Illinois and Festival Scholar for the Tennessee Williams Festival St. Louis. His edition The Caterpillar Dogs: Early Stories by Tennessee Williams was published by New Directions in 2023, and another critical edition Tennessee Williams: Early Stories from St. Louis will be available from the University of Iowa Press in 2025. Mitchell edited "Why Did Desdemona Love the Moor?" and "The Lost Girl" for the Tennessee Williams Annual Review. Most recently, Tom staged "Men from the Polar Star," a science-fiction story, for the Provincetown Tennessee Williams Festival.

Benjamin Morris, a native of Mississippi, is the author of one book of nonfiction and two prior books of poetry, most recently Ecotone (Antenna/Press Street Press, 2017). His work has appeared in The Oxford American, Lithub, and The Southern Review, and received fellowships from the Mississippi Arts Commission and Tulane University. Winner of the 2021 Words & Music Writing Competition for Poetry, judged by Aimee Nezhukumatathil, his next collection of poetry is forthcoming from Belle Point Press in 2025. He lives in New Orleans, where he serves as one of the coordinators for the New Orleans Poetry Festival.

Gordon "Nick" Mueller, Ph.D., is President and CEO Emeritus of The National WWII Museum. He assisted historian Stephen Ambrose in founding the institution, initially known as The National D-Day Museum, and led the organization as Chairman of the Board from 1998 through its construction and fundraising to its opening on June 6, 2000. Since stepping into semi-retirement in 2017, Dr. Mueller is now engaged in research and writing, drawing from his 33-year career as a professor at the University of New Orleans.

Brenda Murphy is Distinguished Professor of English Emeritus at the University of Connecticut and past president of the American Theatre and Drama Society. Her scholarly work reflects her interest in placing American drama, theater, and performance in the broader context of American literature and culture. Among her books are The Theatre of Tennessee Williams (2014) and Tennessee Williams and Elia Kazan: A Collaboration in the Theatre (1992). Recently, she has focused on writing fiction, including When Light Breaks Through: A Salem Witch Trials Story (2023), Becoming Carlotta: A Biographical Novel (2018), and After the Voyage: An Irish American Story (2016).

M.A. Nicholson is a New Orleans poet, editor, educator, journalist, and a co-founder of LMNL Arts. An alumna of Loyola University and a M.F.A. graduate from the University of New Orleans—where she served as an Associate Poetry Editor for Bayou Magazine—M.A. was the recipient of the 2021 Andrea-Saunders Gereighty Academy of American Poets Award and was selected for publication in Best New Poets 2022. Her debut poetry collection, Around the Gate (Word Works Books, 2024), was selected by judge Carolyne Wright as a winner for the Hilary Tham Capital Collection prize.

Stuart Noel, Ph.D., is Professor of English and Film at Georgia State University in Atlanta. He has lectured widely both here and abroad as a scholar of Tennessee Williams and Truman Capote. Dr. Noel founded and chairs the Truman Capote Literary Society. He is the recipient of the 2018 Scholar's Award at the Tennessee Williams Tribute in Columbus, Mississippi, the birthplace of Tennessee Williams. He is currently editing the book Studies in the Works and Life of Truman Capote for Cambridge Scholars Publishing to be released in late 2024.

Rose Norman is a retired college professor who taught English at the University of Alabama in Huntsville for 27 years. She directed the Business and Technical Writing Program, co-founded and was first Director of Women's Studies, and for her last four years chaired the English Department. Her work as general editor of the Southern Lesbian Feminist Activist Herstory Project led her to co-edit six special issues of Sinister Wisdom and over ten years' research on the Pagoda residential community and cultural center. The Pagoda: A Lesbian Community by the Sea (2024) is her first book.

R. Barton Palmer is Calhoun Professor of Literature emeritus at Clemson University. An award-winning translator and critic, he is the author or editor of more than sixty books in the fields of cinema studies and medieval literature.

Alison Pelegrin is the Louisiana Poet Laureate. Her most recent collection is Our Lady of Bewilderment (LSU Press 2022). Other Books include Waterlines (2016), Hurricane Party (2011) and Big Muddy River of Stars (2007). The recipient of a Creative Writing Fellowship from the NEA and an ATLAS Grant from the Louisiana Board of Regents, she is Writer-in-Residence at Southeastern Louisiana University. Her work has appeared in Bennington Review, The Missouri Review, the Southern Review, and as printable broadsides at Broadsided Press.

Joshua E. Polster, Ph.D., is an Associate Professor of Theatre at Emerson College. He previously served as President of the Arthur Miller Society and is currently a member of their Board of Directors, as well as the Editorial Board of the Arthur Miller Journal. He is the author of several articles on U.S. theatre and performance. His books include Stages of Engagement: U.S. Theatre and Performance 1898-1949, The Routledge Anthology of U.S. Drama, Reinterpreting the Plays of Arthur Miller, and Methuen Drama's critical editions of Arthur Miller's A Memory of Two Mondays and Incident at Vichy.

John Pope, a New Orleans-based reporter since 1973, was a member of The Times-Picayune team that won two Pulitzer Prizes, a George Polk Award and a National Headliner Award for coverage of Hurricane Katrina and its aftermath. He earned bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Texas, where he worked on the student newspaper and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Pope is a co-author of Building on the Past: Saving Historic New Orleans (2019) and author of Getting Off at Elysian Fields: Obituaries from the New Orleans Times-Picayune (2015). He is a member of the Society of Professional Obituary Writers, whose members call themselves Grimmies.

John "Ray" Proctor, Ph.D., is an Assistant Professor of Theatre at Tulane University, Department of Theatre. He holds a BA in English (Webster University), an MFA in Acting (West Virginia University), and a Ph. D. in Theatre Research (University of Wisconsin Madison). He has played Mercutio in Romeo and Juliet (The Organic Theatre), Shylock in The Merchant of Venice (Arizona Repertory Theatre), Othello (The Greenbriar), and Airline Highway and Father Come Home from the Wars (Southern Rep). He directed Into the Woods (Summer Lyric Theatre), Derek Walcott's Pantomime (Crescent City Stage), and Alice Childress' Trouble in Mind (Tulane University). In September 2022 his essay "Romeo and Juliet at an HBCU" was published in the essay collection Romeo and Juliet, Adaptation, and the Arts: 'Cut Him Out in Little Stars' (The Arden Shakespeare). In January of 2023 his essay "Reconsidering and Recasting" was published in Contemporary Black Theatre and Performance: Acts of Rebellion, Activism, and Solidarity (Bloomsbury Press). His primary research examines the intersection of race, casting, and the peculiarities and specifics of Identity-Conscious casting practices, particularly in Shakespeare.

Anna Christina (Tina) Radziwill is the daughter of the late Prince Stanislas Radziwill of Poland and Lee Bouvier Radziwill, sister of Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy Onassis. President John F. Kennedy was her uncle and godfather. Tina's mother and Truman Capote were close friends for many years, and Tina fondly recalls Capote through warm memories and family anecdotes.

Brad Richard's fifth poetry collection, Turned Earth, is forthcoming from LSU Press in Spring 2025. Other publications include Parasite Kingdom (The Word Works, 2019—winner of the 2018 Tenth Gate Prize) and the chapbook In Place (Seven Kitchens Press, 2022—winner of the 2021 Robin Becker Series Prize). He has taught at the New Orleans Center for Creative Arts, The Willow School, Louisiana State University, and Tulane University, and currently teaches for New Orleans Writers Workshop and the Kenyon Review Writers Workshop for Teachers. Series editor of The Word Works's Hilary Tham Capital Collection, he lives in New Orleans.

Gary Richards is Professor of English at the University of Mary Washington in Fredericksburg, Virginia, where he teaches courses in southern literature and culture, US literature, and gender and sexuality studies. He is the author of Lovers and Beloveds: Sexual Otherness in Southern Fiction, 1936-1961, as well as numerous essays on southern literature, including works by Tennessee Williams, William Faulkner, Eudora Welty, Alfred Uhry, and Beth Henley.

Sascha Rothchild is an Emmy award-winning writer, executive producer and showrunner who has written and produced the critically acclaimed global hits XO, Kitty, The Baby-Sitters Club, The Bold Type and GLOW to name a few. Sascha also adapted her LA Weekly cover article, "How To Get Divorced by 30," about her failed first marriage, into both a memoir for Penguin and a screenplay for Universal Studios. Amidst her screen work and personal articles seen in Elle, Women's Health and Psychology Today, Sascha has published her first novel, Blood Sugar, with Putnam. It was listed as a New York Times 'Best of' in 2022 and 2023. Sascha hails from Miami Beach, lives in Los Angeles, and always wears sunscreen.

Bess Rowen is an Assistant Professor of Theatre at Villanova University. She is a theatre theorist, historian, and practitioner. Her work focuses on what she terms "affective stage directions," which are stage directions written in ways that engage the physical and emotional responses of future theatre makers. Her first book, The Lines Between the Lines: How Stage Directions Affect Embodiment, was published by University of Michigan Press in October 2021. Her next book project focuses on representations of teenage girls on stage. She is a member of the Actors' Equity Association and currently works as an Intimacy Choreographer.

Maurice Carlos Ruffin is the author of the forthcoming historical novel, The American Daughters, as well as The Ones Who Don't Say They Love You, which was a One Book One New Orleans selection, a New York Times Editor's Choice, and was longlisted for the Story Prize. His debut, We Cast a Shadow, was a finalist for the PEN/Faulkner Award, the Dayton Literary Peace Prize, and the PEN America Open Book Prize. Ruffin is the winner of the Iowa Review Award in fiction and the Louisiana Writer Award. Ruffin is a professor of Creative Writing at Louisiana State University.

UNO Press salutes
the new edition Moira Crone's
The Not Yet

UNIVERSITY OF NEW ORLEANS PRESS

Annette J. Saddik, Ph.D. is Distinguished Professor of Literature and Theatre at the City University of New York, specializing in 20th and 21st century drama, most notably the work of Tennessee Williams. She has published four books, including Tennessee Williams and the Theatre of Excess, and a collection of Williams' late plays, The Traveling Companion. Saddik has served as a Lortel voter, advises on productions internationally, and participates regularly in audience "talk-backs" on and off Broadway. She sits on the board of the Journal of Contemporary Drama in English, and is Performance Review Editor of The Tennessee Williams Annual Review.

Kerstin Schmidt is Professor of English and Chair of American Studies at the University of Munich's "Amerika-Institut." In over 10 monographs/ edited volumes and over 30 essays, she has written on 19th and 20th-century American literature and culture, focusing on American drama and theater, race and diaspora studies, theories of space/ place as well as on media theory and documentary photography. She is deputy director of the Bavarian American Academy (BAA) and president of the German Society for the Study of Theater and Drama in English (CDE).

Nancy Schoenberger is a poet and biographer, author of three prize-winning books of poetry and several biographies. Her co-authored books, Furious Love: Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton, and the Marriage of the Century, and The Fabulous Bowvier Sisters, were New York Times bestsellers. Her family hails from Louisiana, but she currently lives in Virginia with her partner and sometimes co-writer, Sam Kashner.

Henry Schvey is professor of Drama and Comparative Literature at Washington University in St. Louis, the university where Tennessee Williams studied during 1936-37. Prior to arriving at Washington University, he was Associate Professor of English at Leiden University in the Netherlands. There, he founded the Leiden English Speaking Theatre. He has published extensively on modern and contemporary American drama, including essays on Albee, O'Neill, Ibsen, Mamet, Shepard, and Miller. He has published widely on Tennessee Williams, including a forthcoming essay on Summer and Smoke in the Tennessee Williams Annual Review. His most recent book is Blue Song: St. Louis in the Life and Work of Tennessee Williams, published in 2021.

David R. Slayton (He/Him) grew up in Guthrie, Oklahoma, where finding fantasy novels was pretty challenging and finding fantasy novels with diverse characters was downright impossible. Now he lives in Denver and writes the books he always wanted to read. His debut, White Trash Warlock, was a finalist for the Colorado Book Award. In 2015, David founded Trick or Read, an initiative to give out books along with candy to children on Halloween, as well as uplift lesser-known authors or those from marginalized backgrounds. His latest release is Dark Moon, Shallow Sea, an epic fantasy.

Judy Lea Steele is an interdisciplinary actress, playwright, poet and performance artist, receiving her MFAW from the School of the Art Institute in Chicago in 2023. As a writer, her focus is women and the dualities they must employ in order to thrive, sometimes survive. Her work across disciplines has been shared and recognized in New Orleans, Chicago, New York and Los Angeles, most recently at Imnl arts Winterfest in New Orleans. An avid Tennessee Williams fan, she has a large, well-worn library and the good fortune to have brought many of his female characters to life, often here at home.

Jacob Storms is best known for his recurring role (Serge) on Steven Soderbergh and Gregory Jacobs' Amazon Original Series, Red Oaks. Storms is also writer/actor of the solo play Tennessee Rising: The Dawn of Tennessee Williams, originally directed for the stage by Alan Cumming, for which Jacob won the United Solo Award for Best One-Man Show. Most recently he performed a critically-acclaimed, twenty-three back-to-back performance run of Tennessee Rising at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival with Assembly, for which Jacob was nominated for the Off-West End (Offie) Award and shortlisted for the Brighton Fringe Award for Excellence. Storms has also performed at Carnegie Hall, The Guggenheim Museum, Jazz at Lincoln Center, Bill T. Jones' New York Live Arts, BAM, Symphony Space, The St. Louis, New Orleans, and Provincetown Tennessee Williams Festivals, The Hollywood Bowl, L.A.'s Disney Concert Hall, PICA's Time-Based Art Festival, Rochester Fringe Festival, and more. Jacob is also the youngest actor in the world to have ever performed Doug Wright's Pulitzer Prize winning, forty-character solo play, I Am My Own Wife.

Nisi Sturgis is an actress, educator, director, adapter, collaborator, a grateful partner, and delighted and exhausted parent. As an AEA and SAG member, she's appeared On and Off Broadway, and spent five years as June Thompson on HBO's Boardwalk Empire. Regionally she has worked at theatres including the Chautauqua Theatre Company, Denver Center, Old Globe, Shakespeare Theatre of NJ, Illinois Shakespeare Festival, and toured in Disgraced at the Goodman, Seattle Rep, and Berkeley Rep. She has performed at St. Louis, Provincetown, and is very happy to be returning to the New Orleans Tennessee Williams Festival. Nisi is a Ragdale Foundation Fellow. At University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, she is grateful to serve as an Assistant Professor of Acting. LOVE & ART!

Sidney Thompson is the author of The Bass Reeves Trilogy, award-winning historical fiction that is the inspiration for Lawmen: Bass Reeves, the upcoming Paramount+ miniseries directed by Taylor Sheridan (Yellowstone, 1883, and 1923) and starring David Oyelowo, Dennis Quaid, and Donald Sutherland. Bass Reeves became the most successful lawman of the American Old West after escaping slavery and inspired the fictitious character the Lone Ranger. Thompson holds a Ph.D. in American literature/ African-American narratives and an M.F.A. in creative writing. Thompson currently lives in Fort Worth, where he teaches creative writing and African-American literature at Texas Christian University.

Colm Tóibín was born in Ireland in 1955. He is the author of eleven novels, including The Master, winner of the Los Angeles Times Book Prize; Brooklyn, winner of the Costa Book Award; and The Magician, winner of the Rathbones Folio Prize; two collections of stories, and several books of criticism. He has been three times shortlisted for the Booker Prize. In 2021, he was awarded the David Cohen Prize for Literature. He is the Irene and Sidney B. Silverman Professor of the Humanities at Columbia University and was appointed the Laureate for Irish Fiction 2022-2024. Tóibín lives in Dublin and New York. His latest novel, Long Island, the sequel to his prize-winning, bestselling novel Brooklyn, comes out May 17, 2024 from Scribner.

Justin Torres is the author of Blackouts (October 2023), which won the 2023 National Book Award for Fiction. His debut novel, We the Animals, won the VCU Cabell First Novelist Award, was translated into fifteen languages, and was adapted into a feature film. He was named a National Book Foundation "5 Under 35," a Wallace Stegner Fellow at Stanford University, a fellow at the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study at Harvard University, and a Cullman Center Fellow at the New York Public Library.

Adrian Van Young is the author of the short story collection, The Man Who Noticed Everything (Black Lawrence Press), the novel, Shadows in Summerland (Open Road Media), and the short story collection, Midnight Self (Black Lawrence Press in October 2023). His fiction, non-fiction, and criticism have been published or are forthcoming in Electric Literature's Recommended Reading, Black Warrior Review, Conjunctions, Guernica, BOMB, Granta, McSweeney's, and The New Yorker online, among others. He teaches high school Creative Writing and English, and lives in New Orleans with his family.

M.O. Walsh is from Baton Rouge, LA. He is the author of three books, the novels The Big Door Prize and My Sunshine Away, and the story collection The Prospect of Magic. My Sunshine Away was a New York Times Bestseller and winner of the Pat Conroy Book Prize. The Big Door Prize was a semifinalist for the Thurber Award for American Humor and is now streaming as a TV series on Apple TV+, adapted by David West Read (Emmy winning Writer/Producer of Schitt's Creek). Walsh is the director of the Creative Writing Workshop at UNO.

Delgado Theatre Production—Five by Tenn

Delgado

COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Step Closer to Unstoppable.

Delgado has served the New Orleans region since 1921—more than a century.

Delgado is one of the Top 50 community colleges in the nation (Intelligent.com) offering 100+ degree and certificate programs including programs in theatre, music, communications, and the humanities.

Affordable | Flexible | Transferable
dcc.edu

Five by Tenn

The Lady of Larkspur Lotion

Talk to Me Like the Rain and Let Me Listen

Lord Byron's Love Letter

Hello from Bertha

The Case of the Crushed Petunias

by Tennessee Williams

Thursday, March 21

Friday, March 22

Saturday, March 23

7:30 p.m.

Thursday, March 21 performance includes American Sign Language interpretation

*Delgado Theatre production
+
special arrangement with Dramatists Play Service*

Purchase tickets in cash at the door or at tinyurl.com/yphnunft

$12 General Admission

$10 Students & Employees of Delgado & Seniors

Delgado Community College
City Park Campus - Building 1
Timothy K. Baker Theatre
615 City Park Avenue
New Orleans, LA 70119
504.671.6360

Winner Thom Gunn Award for Gay Poetry

Invisible History

The Collected Poems of Walta Borawski

"The poems are truthful, snappy, plenty of low life & local detail, sparky mind of the young poet sassing & observing his environment, gay & grim, still romantic. Who doesn't love romance? Lots of intelligence in the line, mindful measure of spoken speech music." —Allen Ginsberg

Rebel Satori Press

AWARD WINNING POETRY

Blue Like Apples
Rasma Haidri

Love(ly) Child
Emanuel Xavier

cran
eran eads

Imperative to Spare
Scott Hightower

Twenty+ Years of Independent Publishing

QUEER MOJO • QUEER SPACE • ARABI MANOR • THE LIBRARY OF HOMOSEXUAL CONGRESS

www.rebelsatori.com

The courtyard of Tennessee Williams' former apartment at 722 Toulouse Street in 1953.
Source: The Collins C. Diboll Vieux Carré Digital Survey at The Historic New Orleans Collection.

Midlo Center for New Orleans Studies

THE UNIVERSITY of NEW ORLEANS

Celebrates the Tennessee Williams Festival and the literary history of
New Orleans.

Do you know the location of Tennessee Williams' French Quarter courtyard?

Explore our digital tour 'Writers' Blocks: Literary History in the French Quarter' to find out and learn more about the writers who lived and wrote in—and about—New Orleans!

Download the app or visit www.neworleanshistorical.org for more.

I went out drinking that night in the company of friends that were mine, not yours,
and when I returned after midnight, a telephone call let me know that you had died at eleven.

—from “The Final Day of Your Life,” by Tennessee Williams

Tennessee Williams Annual Review

Volume 23 (2024)

edited by R. Barton Palmer

Appearing for the first time in print, Tennessee Williams’s moving poem “The Final Day of Your Life” describes the playwright’s last visit with Frank Merlo, his life companion of nearly 15 years. Midcentury discrimination kept their loving, turbulent same-sex relationship out of the public eye, but in private Williams could pen his conflicted grief in straightforward language. Inside the issue, scholars explore a little-known painting by Williams and highlight new biographical material—while a treasure trove of essays on inventive stage productions shows the playwright’s work reflecting and shaping cultures on two continents.

Founded in 1998, the Tennessee Williams Annual Review remains the only journal devoted to Williams’s works, influence, and cultural context. Many issues showcase a previously unpublished work by Williams. Submission guidelines and back issues are available at tennesseewilliamsstudies.org.

published by The Historic New Orleans Collection softcover • 6" x 9" • 128 pp. • $15
ISSN 1097-6035 • ISBN 978-0-917860-92-8

Cover image: Frank Merlo and Tennessee Williams in Key West, 1958. Photo by John Vachon. Library of Congress, LC-L9-58-7797-E, no. 12.

 The Historic
New Orleans Collection
MUSEUM • RESEARCH CENTER • PUBLISHER

(504) 523-4662 | hnoc.org

520 Royal Street | 410 Chartres Street

Purchase your copy at hnoc.org/ourbooks.

Follow @visit_thnoc on social media!

