

Backyard BEASTIES

The orange spider wasp

By Jenny Thynne

I've caught a tasty tent spider for my egg.
When the grub hatches, it can feast for days.

I need to drag it back to my nest hole. Phew!

Home sweet home.

I'll leave it here while I check the size of the entrance hole.

Hmmm. The spider should fit easily.

Let's get this inside—it looks like rain.

I can't quite—make it—fit. Argh!

Okay, I'll measure the hole. So, it's about this big ...

... and the spider is about this big.

I just need to make this hole a little wider.

Turn it a little ...

Nearly there ...

Time to lay that egg!

Stay tuned for more
Backyard BEASTIES

CREDITS:

IMAGES BY

Jenny Thynne

WORDS BY

Wenda Shurety

LAYOUT BY

Gigi Lapid

