The Temple of Literature (Van Mieu – Quoc Tu Giam) is one of the oldest and most important architectural complexes in Hanoi and the largest Confucian relic in Vietnam. Here, the values of the Vietnamese people's esteem for education were fostered: the tradition of respecting teachers, being studious, and respecting talented people.

The Temple of Literature was built in 1070 in the southwest of Thang Long citadel during the reign of King Ly Thanh Tong (1054-1072) to worship the Immortals and Sages. In 1076, during the reign of King Ly Nhan Tong (1072-1128), Quoc Tu Giam was built behind the Temple of Literature to serve as the university exclusive for the offspring of the Royal Family and noble ministers. Later, it also accepted outstanding students from commoner families. Over more than 700 years of operation (1076-1802), thousands of talented people were trained here and had made many contributions to the development of the country. Quoc Tu Giam was the first and largest higher education center in Vietnam during the monarchy.

Currently, the Temple of Literature is oriented to develop into a true cultural activity center and a creative space of Hanoi City. A space to create emotions for creativity, to organize creative activities and to showcase products of creativity. The international watercolor painting exhibition "Colors of Cultures", with more than 200 selected watercolor artworks, which will be officially displayed for the first time at the Temple of Literature, is a continuation of the creative activities held regularly in recent times at the relic. In the ancient space, the presence of contemporary works in the exhibition from many different cultures will create a very interesting and unique dialogue, allowing the forever flow of communication between the culture of Vietnam and the world. It is expected that the exhibition would bring special emotions to the public, local and international tourists.

Sincerely!

On the 16th of March, 2024 in Hanoi, at the Temple of Literature (Van Mieu – Quoc Tu Giam) - 58 Quoc Tu Giam, Dong Da district - the opening ceremony of the International watercolor painting exhibition titled "Colors of Cultures" will take place with the participation of 463 artists from 60 countries. Among them, more than 200 selected watercolor paintings will be officially displayed at the Temple of Literature from 16.3 to 26.3. 2024. This is considered the largest watercolor painting exhibition in Vietnam ever, marking the outstanding development of Vietnam's watercolor industry.

Like its title "Colors of Cultures", the exhibition will bring art lovers unique collections of watercolor paintings from different countries. Unique cultural features are clearly expressed through familiar themes of nature, country, people, etc., and through the soft but decisive, delicate and flexible drawings of artists using watercolor materials.

Representative of VietnamInAcquarello, the main organizer, said: as a branch of an international non-profit organization, VietnamInAcquarello's mission is to create opportunities for domestic artists to interact and exchange techniques with other artists in the region as well as around the world, meeting artists, collectors, students and individuals and organizations interested in the art of watercolor. At this event, VietnamInAcquarello welcomes more than 60 artists from 22 countries such as Poland, Japan, Korea, Australia, England, Canada and France, etc.

As a companion to the event, Mr. Le Xuan Kieu - Director of the Van Mieu – Quoc Tu Giam Center for Cultural and Scientific Activities said: "the watercolor exhibition "Colors of Culture" is a meaningful art and culture event that would promote community spiritual and cultural values, contributing to gradually turning the Temple of Literature into a creative space. We always focus on diversifying cultural activities to better serve locals and international visitors.

The Embassy of the Republic of Poland in Hanoi, the main honorary patron of this significant event hopes that it would become a vibrant platform for cultural exchange, creativity and mutual appreciation. The support and patronage of the Embassy is a way to respect the heritage of the relations between Poland and Vietnam, which, at the very beginning, were built on people-to-people contacts. The event, thus, is truly a harmonious blend of artistic expressions reflecting the rich varieties of global cultures under the theme "Colors of Cultures", where art can create a visual dialogue that goes beyond language barriers.

Within the framework of the exhibition, 16 international artists will also demonstrate at the Temple of Literature in the morning of 16.3. This is a typical activity of international watercolor exhibitions. Through their performance, art lovers can directly follow the process of quickly forming a watercolor painting, as well as partly see the influence of cultures on the choices of theme and style of the artists.

Hanoi - Ninh Binh drawing tour from 18 to 20.3 is also a main activity of the event. The images of Vietnamese relics and people will be depicted in the paintings of participating artists and will partly contribute to promoting the images, culture and tourism of Vietnam to international friends.

The event is organized by VietnamInAcquarello (*) a branch of the world's largest watercolor organization headquartered in Italy, co-organized by the Van Mieu - Quoc Tu Giam Center for Cultural and Scientific Activities, Watercolor Artist Club Hanoi, Nhau Studio and Minh Dam Gallery under the honorary patronage of the Embassy of the Republic of Poland in Hanoi. A total of 463 paintings will be displayed at 2 locations: Temple of Literature (Van Mieu – Quoc Tu Giam) and Nhau Studio - 364 Doi Can, Ba Dinh - Hanoi from 16.3 to 26.3. 2024.

()VietnamInAquarello is a branch of the world's largest non-profit international watercolor organization network with a wide network in more than 100 countries and connecting more than 800,000 units and this is a meeting place, linked together through the FabrianolnAquarello Watercolor Art Symposium - held annually in Italy since 2010. In 2014, we held an event in Vietnam which attracted more than 1,000 applications. With the jury team who are the world's leading watercolor artists such as Liu Yi (China), Stanislaw Zoladz (Sweden), Michal Suffczynski (Poland), Paul Jackson (USA), Zeze Lai (Hong Kong), Thierry De Marichalar (France), Didier Brot (France), 463 watercolor paintings were selected (including guests) to be displayed at the following locations: the Temple of Literature, Nhau Studio and Minh Dam Gallery in March, 2024.*

Watercolour is a universal language.

It knows no borders or language barriers. It speaks to our heart and soul, and allows us to connect with each other through beauty and emotion.

VietnamInAcquarello 2024 with its wonderful team offers to us 462 unique and expressive works and an overview of the diversity of cultures and talents of more than 60 nations. This exhibition shows us that, despite our differences, we are all united by our love of art and our passion for creation.

Thanks to VietnamInAcquarello, especially Minh Dam giving us such a gift.
