INTERNATIONAL KEYNOTE SPEAKER, MENTALIST & MINDSET EXPERT

Andy Nunn combines mentalism and neuroscience to change the way you see the world. He's spent 20+ years on stage, speaking and performing across Australia and overseas. His TEDx talk, "Seeing Is Believing," built his reputation as a speaker who makes insight tangible.

Andy's sessions aren't lectures. They're live experiments. People feel bias, influence, and attention at work in real time. Then they learn how to use those insights the same day. Fortune 500 companies and the world's biggest brands trust Andy to shift how teams think, decide, and communicate.

Warm, intelligent, high energy. Andy turns complex ideas into clear actions that stick. Audiences leave entertained, challenged, and ready to change how they think.

MENTAL HEALTH ADVOCATE

Andy is a strong advocate for resilience, adaptability, and mental health. His keynotes show how hidden biases shape perception and limit potential, giving teams tools to shift their mindset in real time. As an ultra-endurance athlete, he's seen how mindset drives performance under pressure. Blending science with surprise, he helps leaders embrace change, build confidence, and create stronger connections across business.

SIGNATURE KEYNOTE & PRESENTATION TOPICS

SEEING IS BELIEVING

We like to think we see clearly but our minds constantly distort, filter, and fill the gaps.

Seeing Is Believing blends illusion, psychology, and behavioural science to show how perception shapes confidence, trust, and leadership.

Through live demonstrations, audiences experience how bias clouds judgment, how fear narrows focus, and how awareness helps people see themselves and others more clearly.

They walk away with tools to:

- Recognise hidden blind spots and bias
- Build trust through sharper communication
- Lead with awareness and confidence under pressure

It's thought-provoking, practical, and unforgettable. A mindset shift disguised as entertainment.

THINKING CLEARLY

In a world of constant noise and change, clarity is a superpower.

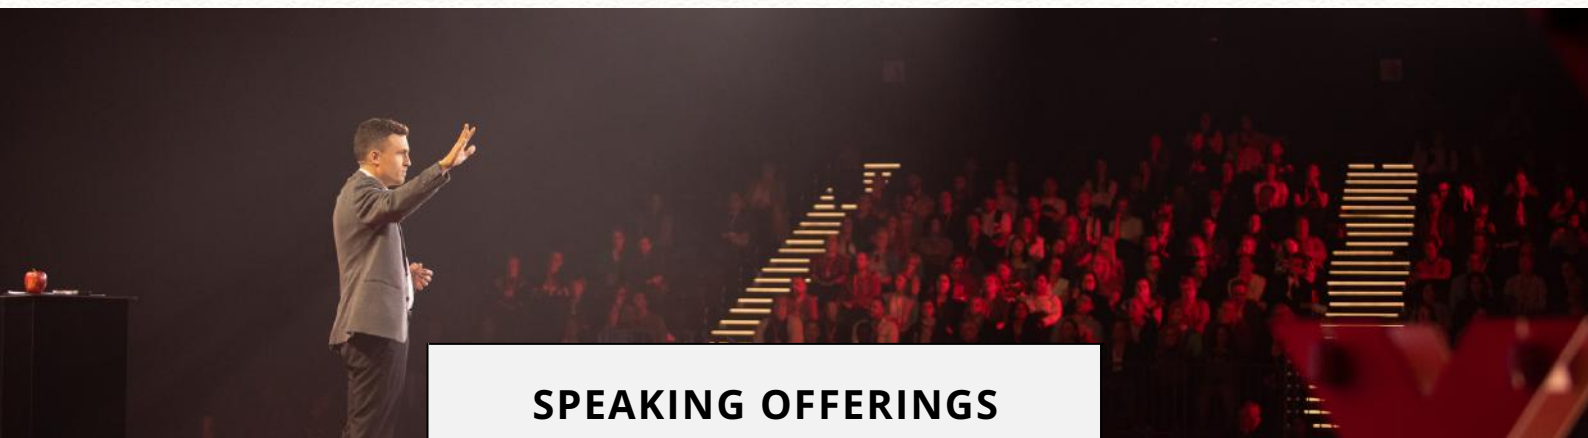

Thinking Clearly is an interactive keynote that reveals how to manage focus, emotion, and decision-making under pressure.

Through live experiments, audiences discover how overthinking slows action, how fear distorts judgment, and how clarity drives confident leadership and better choices.

They walk away with tools to:

- Think and decide effectively under pressure
- Build resilience through uncertainty
- Stay calm, clear, and focused when it matters most

It's an energetic and practical session designed to sharpen thinking when it counts.

RACHEL BATES

Andy Nunn's performance was nothing short of extraordinary. His engaging presence and mind-blowing mentalism captivated our entire audience, leaving everyone stunned and talking about it long after the event ended. What made Andy's act truly special was how seamlessly it tied into our session on Equity in the Workplace. His performance not only entertained but also provoked thought and reflection, complementing our theme in a powerful and memorable way.

Andy is a true master of his craft—thank you for an unforgettable experience!
