WELCOME

TO THE SPRING 2025 EDITION!

Hooray! The warmer weather is here and we can finally get out and about to enjoy it with our little ones.

Take a look at a springtime recipe (p.21) to make with your budding chefs, our round up of family events even if it's chilly outside (p.10) happening near you, and lovely homemade craft perfect for a rainy day (p.20).

We also have a brand new activity page for our little readers to complete (p.12).

Of course there is so much more to do with your little one so if you are looking for classes to fill your week, our daily activity planner is split by area, weekday and class type so you can easily find what you are looking for. Check out the Daily Activity Planner from p.31. So, let's plan some adventures and get out in the warmer weather!

3 Tips to Manage Parental Stress

by Matt Buttery, CEO of Triple P

Parental stress is on the rise. Triple P conducts a survey each year of family support practitioners to understand the challenges parents are facing. The most recent results from 2024 are stark.

Triple P found practitioners reported an 81% increase in parental mental health concerns over the last year, and an 85% increase in parents identifying concerns around the cost of living. These external pressures can increase parental stress and impact family wellbeing.

Taking care of yourself is one of the best things you can do as a parent to manage stress, placing you in a better position to positively care for others. It is handy to think of the phrase, "You can't pour from an empty cup."

There is no such thing as a perfect parent. But these are my practical tips you can try out to feel calmer and boost your wellbeing.

1. PRACTICE SELF-CARE

There are small practical steps you can take to practice self-care, such as having a morning stretch, a quiet cuppa, or spending time with a friend.

Negative thoughts are normal, especially when parenting feels challenging. If critical thoughts are becoming a habit, it might be helpful to pause, acknowledge those thoughts and reframe them into something more constructive.

Instead of asking "Why can't I do this? Nothing I do is right," try "It's okay to make mistakes. I'll keep trying."

Remember that your children are watching and learning from you all the time. If you're calmer and kinder to yourself, there is a better chance of them being so too.

Matt Buttery is the CEO of Triple P UK & Ireland and Honorary Associate Professor at the University of Warwick. Triple P delivers evidence-based parenting programmes to support families, enhance child well-being, and strengthen communities across the UK and Ireland. www.triplep.net

2. SET REALISTIC ROUTINES

A clear routine can help to boost your confidence by getting everyone on the same page. If you find the morning rush stressful, try planning with your children to make sure things like lunchboxes, bags, and clothes are all ready the night before.

Things may go wrong, but a simple and consistent routine can help you feel more productive and calmer when chaos strikes, even if you still haven't found that missing sock!

3. SPEAK UP & SEEK SUPPORT

Alarmingly, 78% of practitioners from Triple P's study reported that parents were not accessing support due to the fear of being judged. Asking for support does not mean you have failed at parenting, and there is help available.

You'll find solace in shared experience. Consider reaching out to a loved one you feel safe with. If there are more serious concerns, there are referral pathways through a GP or mental health professionals.

Parenting programmes such as Triple P can also be an excellent resource. These can be completed independently, or in groups, and offer a range of evidence-based strategies.

When parents look after themselves, it can have a positive impact on their physical and mental health, in turn helping them to manage the demands of parenting to the benefit of their children and families too. Self-care isn't selfish - it's essential.

VIP CLUB READER REVIEW: JANOD THREADING BEADS

Written by Lily Snow, Toddler About Subscriber

These Vegetable Garden Threading Beads from Janod include 11 wooden farm-themed pieces and two easy-to-thread cards, perfect for developing fine motor skills and imaginative play. Ideal for ages 2+...ETA from www.toddle.co.uk.

We had the opportunity to try the Janod Threading Beads with our two-year-old, and it exceeded our expectations!

The first thing you'll notice is that the beads are wooden, not plastic. As wood is naturally antibacterial, shatterable, and more environmentally friendly, that's a big win in our book. Each piece is a great size - easy for little hands to hold but not small enough to pose a choking hazard.

The set includes several wooden beads featuring a tractor, scarecrow, and nine different fruits and vegetables. It comes with two threading cards, which was great as I could play alongside my daughters. I showed her how to thread a bead, and she copied me - perfect for independent learning or two children playing together while the supervising adult attempts five minutes to themselves!

Each card has a large slot at both ends, making threading easier, though some beads are trickier due to varied hole placements. This adds a nice challenge.

I've seen similar toys with pattern cards for extra difficulty, which could enhance this set, but I found no faults. Even without additional accessories, I give this toy five out of five stars!

Lily and her daughter were given this product as a freebie for writing this review.

SCREEN TIME: HOW MUCH IS TOO MUCH?

by Tim Freed, Founder of Toddle About

15 years ago, when we launched the very first Toddle About magazine (back in 2010!), we ran an article entitled 'The Evil TV'. It reflected concerns I had at the time about how much time children spent watching TV and how it might be affecting our little ones. So I did some research.

The article tried to be as objective as possible - looking at both the pros and cons of television for kids, and providing advice for parents based on recommendations from respected authorities. (You can see the article at www.toddle.fun/TheEvilTV).

Needless to say, things have changed a lot since 2010. In today's world, screens are everywhere —and the debate around screentime for kids is raging louder than ever. So I felt it was time we re-visited the topic.

Again, we've tried to be as objective as possible, to help us understand the impact of screen time on little ones—both positive and negative.

THE ALARMING STATISTICS

Recent studies show that screen time for young children is on the rise. A 2019 study published in the International Journal of Environmental Research and Public Health revealed that children aged 0-5 spend an average of 2-3 hours per day in front of screens.

A 2024 report by the UK's Education Committee, "Screen time: impacts on education and wellbeing", found that there has been a 52% increase in children's screen time between 2020 and 2022. Notably, 20% of children aged 3 to 4 own their own mobile phone, with nearly all children possessing one by age 12.

So the overall trend is pretty well established: screens are taking up more and more of our children's lives. But how worried should we be? And how much is too much screen time?

THE DANGERS OF TOO MUCH SCREEN TIME

Excessive screen time can have several adverse effects on young children, many of which can impact their development during these critical early years.

1. Delayed Cognitive Development: Research* has linked high levels of screen time to delayed language development and poorer cognitive skills in young children. Babies and toddlers learn best through direct interaction with caregivers and their environment. Excessive screen time can hinder their ability to explore, interact, and develop essential social and communication skills.

2. Sleep Disruption: The blue light emitted by screens can interfere with the body's production of melatonin*, the hormone responsible for regulating sleep*. This disruption can lead to difficulty falling asleep and poorer sleep quality. Given that sleep is crucial for a child's growth and brain development, any reduction in sleep quality or quantity can have significant consequences.

3. Increased Risk of Obesity: Several studies* have found a correlation between high screen time and an increased risk of obesity in children. This is often due to a sedentary lifestyle coupled with exposure to advertisements for unhealthy foods, which can influence eating habits from a young age.

4. Behavioural Issues: Excessive screen time has also been linked to attention problems and behavioural issues in children. When young children spend too much time on screens, they may become overstimulated and have difficulty focusing on other activities, such as playing with toys or interacting with others.

THE BRIGHT SIDE: HOW SCREEN TIME CAN BE POSITIVE

While the dangers of too much screen time are real, it's important to consider that not all screen time is harmful. When used appropriately, screens can be a valuable tool for learning and development.

1. Educational Content: High-quality educational programs and apps can help children learn new concepts, such as numbers, letters, and basic problem-solving skills. Interactive programs that encourage children to engage with the content rather than passively watch can be particularly beneficial.

2. Digital Storytelling: Digital books and storytelling apps can introduce children to the joy of reading from a young age. These tools often include interactive elements that can make the experience more engaging and help develop early literacy skills.

3. Video Chats with Family: For families living apart, video chatting can be a wonderful way to help young children develop relationships with distant relatives. This type of screen time is interactive and social, providing valuable opportunities for connection and communication.

SCREEN TIME RECOMMENDATIONS

Health experts, including the World Health Organisation and NHS, recommend limiting screen time for young children to support healthy development:

Babies (0-1 year) – No screen time at all.

Instead, focus on interactive play, tummy time, and storytelling.

Toddlers (1-2 years) – Minimal screen time.

The World Health Organisation advises none for 1-year-olds and a maximum of 1 hour for 2-year-olds—but less is better.

Preschoolers (3-4 years) – Max 1 hour per day.

Prioritise active play, real-world interactions, and quality sleep over screen use.

FINDING THE RIGHT BALANCE

It seems to me that, like so many things in life, the key to managing screen time for young children is balance. So here are some practical tips for finding that balance in your home:

1. Set Clear Limits: Establish and enforce clear guidelines for screen time. For children under two, try to avoid screens altogether, except for video chatting. For older toddlers and preschoolers, aim to keep screen time to no more than one hour per day, focusing on high-quality content.

2. Be Involved: Whenever possible, watch or play alongside your child. This helps you monitor the content they are consuming and provides opportunities for interaction.

3. Create Screen-Free Zones: Designate certain areas of your home, like the dining room or bedrooms, as screen-free zones. This encourages your child to engage in other activities, such as playing with toys, reading books, or spending time outdoors.

4. Prioritise Active Play and Social Interaction: Ensure that screen time doesn't replace other important activities like outdoor play, social interaction, and hands-on learning. These activities are essential for your child's physical, emotional, and cognitive development.

5. Lead by Example: Children learn by watching their parents. If you limit your own screen time and prioritise face-to-face interactions, your child is more likely to follow suit.

CONCLUSION

This article isn't intended as an exhaustive guide but rather a starting point for thought and discussion. Like most parents, I navigate screen time challenges daily, and I certainly don't have all the answers. But as screens continue to play an ever bigger role in our lives, I think it's worth reflecting on how we can use them mindfully—so they support rather than hinder our children's development.

Spring Craft: Homemade Bird Feeder

YOU WILL NEED:

- Empty juice carton (washed & dried)
- A pen, ruler, scissors & string
- A wooden skewer or stick
- Paint (acrylic is best)
- Birdseed

METHOD:

1. Draw a window shape on one side of the carton, leaving at least a 1" gap at the bottom. For small birds, a 1" hole is good. Bigger for larger birds.
2. Cut along the lines with scissors to remove the window piece. This might be a grown-up job!
3. Paint your carton to brighten up the birdhouse. Let your creativity shine!
4. Once the paint is dry, make a small hole just below your window using a pen or scissors. Then push the wooden skewer or stick right through to create a little perch.
5. Carefully poke 2 holes at the top of your carton; thread some string through the holes and tie to create a loop.
6. Fill the bottom with birdseed, then find a sheltered and safe spot to hang it outside. Now wait for the birds to arrive!

Mini Bunny Quiche Recipe

These delicious yet simple savoury creations from Annabel Karmel are perfect for spring! Get little ones helping to decorate by adding the bunnies' ears, eyes, nose and chive whiskers.

INGREDIENTS:

- 8 mini tortilla wraps
- Olive oil
- 2 onions, chopped
- 1 tsp fresh thyme, chopped
- 2 eggs
- 150 ml double cream
- 150 ml milk
- 120g Gruyere cheese, grated

TO DECORATE:

- Carrots, chives, spring onions

MAKES: 6 QUICHES

METHOD:

1. Preheat the oven to 180°C Fan. Grease 6 x size 1 ramekins with oil. Trim the wraps to 14cm diameter circles and line the ramekins, pushing them into the bases and up the sides.
2. Heat 1 tbsp of oil in a saucepan. Cook the onions for until soft. Spoon into the ramekins. Sprinkle with the thyme, mix the eggs, cream and milk together in a bowl. Season. Divide the Gruyere between the cases. Pour the custard on top. Bake for 20 minutes.
3. Cut out the bunny ears from the remaining 2 wraps. Brush the ears with oil and place on a baking sheet. Bake with the ramekins for 8 minutes until golden.
4. When the custard is set, remove from the oven and inset the ears into the quiche. Decorate with carrot for the bunnies' nose, chives for whiskers and spring onions for the eyes.
