Making cabinets since 1999

WELCOME

Welcome to James Adcock Furniture & Kitchens, making cabinets since 1999

James Adcock Furniture and kitchens are a family business based in the Cotswolds, with over 50 years experience in bespoke kitchen design and cabinet making. Our passion is design craft and character. The kitchens and furniture we craft will become a well loved feature in your home.

Our cabinetry is made from solid wood, using traditional skills, and will last a lifetime. We take time to understand your needs and design bespoke pieces that make your home truly yours. The furniture we make is as unique as the trees it has been crafted from..

MASTER CRAFTERS

Bespoke furniture and luxury interiors

James Adcock Furniture specialises in crafting hand-built wooden kitchens and furniture inspired by the enchanting gardens and woodlands of the Cotswolds. Each design captures the timeless beauty and natural charm of the countryside, blending organic textures with elegant craftsmanship. Using carefully selected wood, our skilled artisans create bespoke kitchens that celebrate individuality, functionality, and enduring quality.

Our framed wood cabinets provide a robust structure, while our oak drawer boxes with beautifully executed dovetail joints deliver both strength and character. This combination of classic construction techniques and contemporary aesthetics ensures a kitchen that is as durable as it is stunning.

Every detail, from the grain of the timber to the final finish, reflects our passion for nature and dedication to excellence. With a commitment to sustainability and timeless design, we bring the serene essence of the Cotswolds into the heart of your home.

“Exceptional craftsmanship and timeless design.
Our natural wood cabinets are stunning; each piece unique and full of character. A perfect balance of beauty and functionality.”

CLASSIC KITCHEN

Period charm with modern sophistication

The James Adcock Classic Kitchen range is a timeless celebration of period-inspired design, perfect for those who value charm and character in their homes. This range features beautifully crafted beading on the doors and drawers, adding a touch of elegance that evokes the style of a bygone era. By embracing the subtle details that define period aesthetics, the Classic Kitchen range effortlessly transforms your space into a warm and inviting room. Each piece is designed with care and precision, ensuring your kitchen reflects both your personal style and the enduring appeal of traditional craftsmanship.

To truly capture the essence of this period style, consider pairing the Classic range with paint colours inspired by heritage palettes. Muted tones and classic shades can highlight the intricate beading, while complementing traditional-style handles to create a cohesive and timeless look. For those seeking a bold statement, incorporating a striking colour as a focal point can add dramatic flair. An island, larder cupboard, or the area around your range cooker, painted in a rich, contrasting hue, creates depth and draws the eye, making your kitchen not only functional but also a true design centerpiece.

SHAKER KITCHEN

Modern simplicity or classic opulence

Our hand crafted shaker range exemplifies the minimalist and elegant clean lines of the American Shaker movement. Each piece is hand-painted in the colour of your choice, allowing you to create a kitchen that truly reflects your personality and style. With its clean lines and classic proportions, the Shaker design offers a harmonious blend of simplicity and sophistication, making it the perfect canvas for a variety of interior aesthetics.

This versatile range can be tailored to suit your vision, whether you're drawn to the cosy charm of a country kitchen or the sleek elegance of a contemporary space. Choose English heritage shades paired with traditional handles to evoke warmth and character, or opt for crisp, modern colours with streamlined handles for a fresh, minimalist look. Add depth and personality by incorporating bold colours in focal areas, such as an island or a feature cabinet. To enhance the flow and visual appeal of your kitchen, curved units can be used to soften lines and create a sense of movement in the heart of your home.

CONTEMPORARY KITCHEN

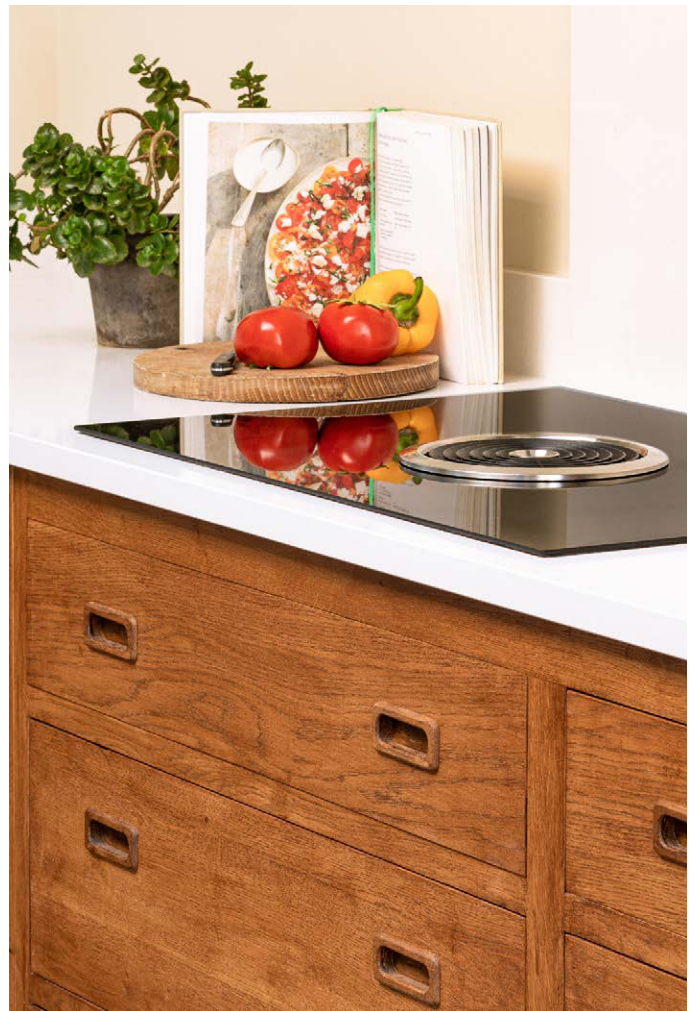

Blends modern style with traditional craftsmanship

The Contemporary Kitchen is a masterclass in streamlined design, perfect for homes that prioritise clean lines and functional elegance. Featuring flat door and drawer fronts, this range offers a minimalist aesthetic that can be customised to reflect your personal style. Hand tailored in oak or ash, creating a look that is both sophisticated and inviting.

Framed wood cabinets provide a robust structure, while oak drawer boxes with beautifully executed dovetail joints deliver both strength and character. This combination of classic construction techniques and contemporary aesthetics ensures a kitchen that is as durable as it is stunning.

Designed to adapt to the demands of everyday life, the Contemporary Kitchen is built with longevity and practicality in mind. Its sleek surfaces and thoughtful detailing make it easy to maintain, while the craftsmanship guarantees it will stand the test of time. Whether you're preparing meals, entertaining guests, or simply enjoying quiet moments at home, this kitchen is designed for living - offering a balance of beauty and functionality that enhances every experience.

HOW WE DO IT

We start with a blank piece of paper

Your journey with James Adcock Furniture begins with our designers meeting you in your home, where they get to know you, your home, style, tastes and needs.

Together, ideas are then formed and our designer will sketch their drawings of the room. This is a really exciting phase of the process as we narrow down the looks and bring soul to the designs.

These sketches are then taken back to the studio and drawn up. Along with a quotation to show the finished piece.

The cabinetry is then handmade using traditional methods in our workshops.

Our talented fitters are skilled scribes. When you work in period homes you get used to wobbly walls! With a careful eye for detail, they will fit your furniture with precision and care.

The final flourish is provided by our painters who hand finish in situ. Your project is then ready for you to admire and enjoy.

We look forward to designing your next room with James Adcock Furniture ...

ACORNS TO OAK TREES

We'd have to go back nearly 50 years to discover the acorn from which James Adcock Furniture & Kitchens has grown

James' father David began his career with furniture. James grew up in the family business making his first piece of furniture whilst he was still in primary school. When James and David started out in 1999 they decided the furniture should be made in Romania – its sensitively managed forests and skilled craftsmen made it an obvious choice.

We want our kitchens and furniture to be as eco-friendly as it can be. We've built our own solar powered kilns to dry our wood. The trees we use have been individually chosen; there is a no clear felling policy in the forests and the logs can be pulled out by horses to minimise ecological damage.

With our Cotswold showroom in Chipping Campden, we proudly celebrate our British heritage and artisanal craftsmanship.
