From Father Will:

Usually the end of the first quarter signals the beginning of Holy Week and Eastertide. This year is a bit of an anomaly with Easter in the latter half of April, we are just now getting to the midpoint of Lent. With nearly three weeks remaining until our resurrection celebration, it may seem like the birds, bees, and blooms have begun to celebrate a little early. Maybe we can learn a little something from them though.

During the course of Lent, we have committed ourselves to the disciplines of fasting, praying, and alms-giving. While these are disciplines we commit to throughout the year, the duration and intentionality with which we commit ourselves at this time are unique. We are intentionally seeking to prepare our hearts for that great Easter feast day, when we celebrate our risen Lord. But we must not forget that each and every Sunday is a feast day unto itself.

While we still open worship with the Decalogue, refrain from saying the alleluias, and preach intentionally on Jesus' warnings which lead us towards repentance, each and every Sunday we are reminded of why we made these Lenten commitments in the first place. It's not because our Lenten disciplines perform any substantive work in helping us attain salvation or favor with our Lord. There is nothing we can do, in and of ourselves, that has any merit or worth apart from the redemptive work of Christ on the cross.

Every Sunday, we lay down our Lenten fasting. On Sundays we feast to give ourselves a small foretaste of the celebration ahead. The first Easter morning has already happened. We don't bury anything because every Sunday we are reminded that he is already risen! The azaleas are blooming, the bees are buzzing, and the birds are rejoicing with song at the knowledge that, though we persevere through this season of repentance and somber self-reflection, the work has already been done on the cross. Christ is risen, and one day we will be seated at the heavenly banquet in the presence of the God who loves us and gave his son that all who believe might be saved.

So this Sunday, take time to rejoice in the knowledge that we are redeemed, reconciled, and given the right to call ourselves adopted children of God thanks to what has already been done for us. As you do so, know that the feasting we do is merely a foretaste of what is still yet to be. As we reflect on this, we can be assured that the best is still yet to come.

Grace and Peace,

Will Klauber

Day School Diary: Springtime Events

Grandparents Day:

Each new month brings new activities and events to Good Shepherd Day School! In early February, we hosted Grandparent's Day.

We invited over 200 grandparents and special friends to join us for the day. It's quite an undertaking, but the assistant director, Krista Skenes, and all of our Parent Auxiliary Group members did a fantastic job with every detail! This annual event gives our ministry a chance to show our families who we are, how we serve, and what we do. We take them through our chapel time with Fr. Will, Mr. Evan, and Music Brenda, then on to music class, snack, recess, crafts, and then to the classroom where beautiful gifts are given.

It's a full day of activity and something we look forward to every year! We love our grandparents!

The “Liturgy of the Day School”

I’m not sure who coined this phrase, Fr. Will or Mr. Evan, but it couldn’t be more accurate as we entered into Lent. At the day school, our chapel takes Holy Week to a new level! From Ash Wednesday through our Easter chapel, which is on April 9th this year, we walk through Holy Week. Yep, 6 weeks from ashes to shouting “Jesus is Risen”! Unfortunately, school was canceled on Ash Wednesday, so we didn’t have that special chapel with the students this year. We also celebrate Easter together BEFORE Easter. When I first started at the school, I really struggled with the way the school had to break down the Liturgy because of the calendar. It’s just how it has to be and we make it work! Each chapel during this time is precious, from the Ash Wednesday service, Palm Sunday, washing the disciples feet, the last supper, Jesus’s arrest and crucifixion, through to Easter. It’s been a blessed March!

Teacher Appreciation Week

Many Good Shepherd members participated in donating to GSDS’s Teacher Appreciation Week. Thank you so much! Your support and prayers truly help this ministry and it means the world to the teachers that they have your support! From flowers and handmade cards, favorite snacks and drinks, generous gift cards, and sneakers for all the teachers decorated by the children, there was a lot of shared love on campus! Thank you!

Dads and Donuts

Our 4K class of 12 students and their teachers, Ms. Marlo and Ms. Amanda, worked very hard preparing to celebrate and honor the children's dad's at our annual Dads and Donuts event. These children performed a song Ms. Marlo created, made three-dimensional portraits of their fathers, played a game with them, and of course, ate delicious donuts! It was awesome!

Community Helper Day 2025

This is such a fun, all school event! On Friday, March 28th, we hosted Victor Sahaijram, a pilot, Tim Holt, a firefighter, Evan Jackson, our youth minister, Dr. Mike Bocklet, an orthodontist, Dr. Kyle White, a pediatrician, and Paul and Alexa DiMuzio, professional jugglers. What an awesome group of people!! The children LOVED this event. We station the helpers in classrooms and have each class rotate through each station giving them 12 -15 minutes to learn about what that particular helper does. If you ever feel called to share how you help the community, please reach out to me! denyse@goodshepherdsc.com

Family and Youth Ministry

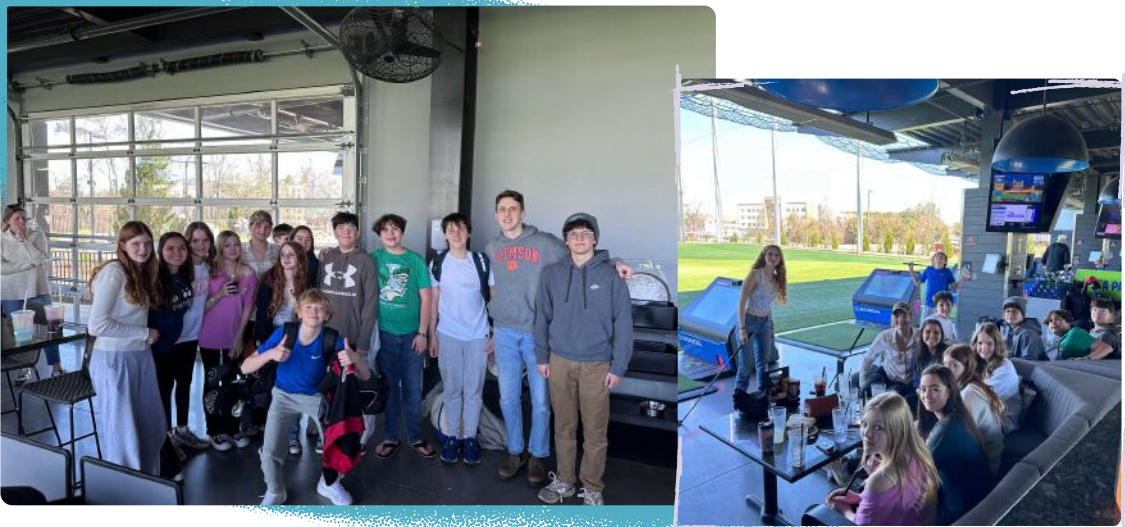

Dear Good Shepherd Family,

Hello! It has been a great spring season for Good Shepherd family ministries, from Little Lambs all the way to our middle and high school students. Let's recap what all has been happening this semester!

First, the Lenten Supper Series has been a huge success, with programs available for every age group: Little Lambs, our 3rd-5th graders, our youth group, as well as our adults! It reminds me that the gospel of Our Lord is for the childlike - whether they be five, fifteen, or seventy-five. A special thanks to every volunteer that has made those evenings possible.

Second, I have really enjoyed getting to know the Little Lambs on Sunday mornings! Their energy is contagious!. Each week in Little Lambs, we read a bible story together, pray together, and spend some time coloring and playing with toys. I have been struck by how willing the little ones are to pray - they love praying, and they love praying for everyone! Another huge thank you to the team of volunteers that sacrifice their time and energy ministering to God's children.

And finally, the Good Shepherd Youth Group has also had a great spring semester! We continue to meet each Tuesday evening to enjoy one another's fellowship, play games, and grow together in the knowledge and faith of The Lord. Thank you to every parent that has volunteered to bring meals or chaperone with the youth group!

Youth at Top Golf

This semester, our youth have been reading through the gospel of Luke. In our study, we have discussed multiple topics, such as what it means to follow Jesus, what it means to forgive others, how to pray, how to trust God as you walk through life, etc. These students are hungry for the spiritual truth of God – of a life with God. They always impress me with their insights into the text.

We've also had the opportunity to do some fun events this semester, including: throwing a super bowl party, serving together at the Pancake Supper, and taking a trip to Topgolf! We also have some fun events in the works as we inch closer to the end of the school year. A few events to look forward to on the calendar:

April 15: Youth Mini-Golf

May 16 -17: Youth Retreat at Lake Marion

More details to come about these events!

In Christ,

Evan
