NYBORG - WHITE OIL

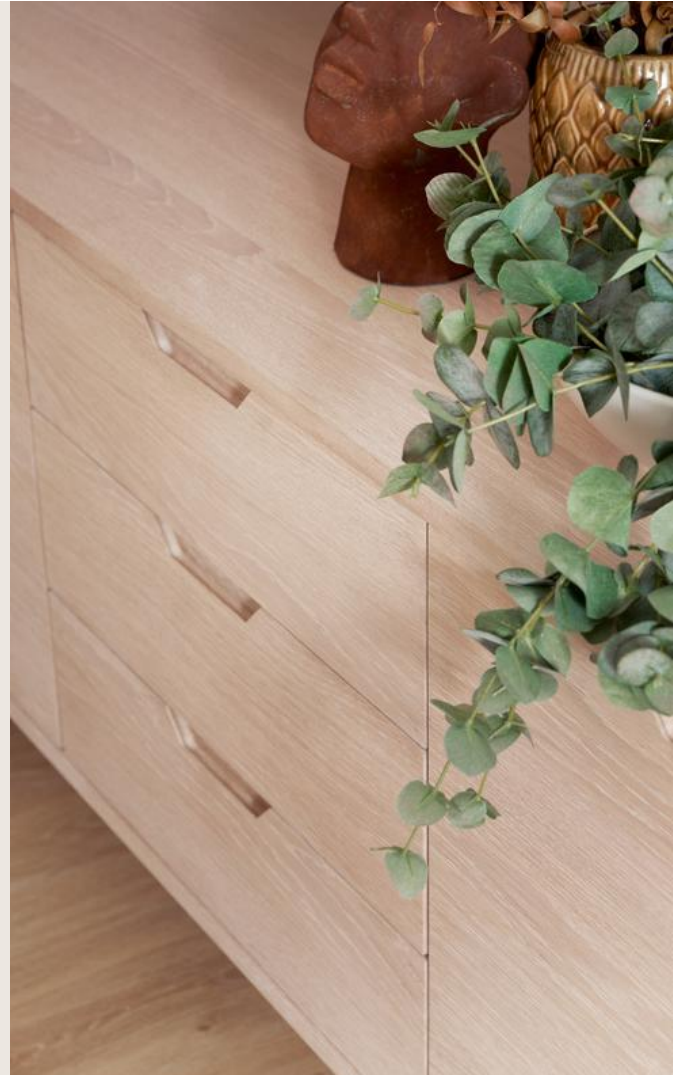

The Nyborg collection is an encounter with classic Nordic furniture design.

With its rounded corners, this dining room will fit beautifully into any home. The Nyborg dining room is made of white oiled oak veneer, which appears bright and natural with visible wood grain.

With soft-close in all doors and drawers and full extension in the drawers, a feeling of lightness is created when using the furniture in everyday life. With the built-in light in all glass cabinets, which can be easily turned on and off inside the cabinets, automatically creates joy and warmth in the dining room.

W H I T E O I L F I N I S H

A white-oil finish enhances the natural beauty of wooden furniture while providing superior protection. This finish infuses the wood with white pigments, highlighting its grain and texture, and creating a light, elegant appearance.

The oil penetrates deeply, nourishing the wood from within, which results in a durable and long-lasting surface that is resistant to moisture and wear. Ideal for maintaining the wood's organic look, the white-oil finish also allows for easy maintenance and touch-ups, ensuring your furniture remains beautiful for years to come.

NYBORG - NATURAL OIL

The Nyborg collection offers a delightful experience with classic Nordic furniture design. Featuring rounded corners, this dining room set seamlessly complements any home decor. Crafted from natural oiled oak veneer, it showcases a bright and organic appearance with its visible wood grain. The soft-close mechanism on all doors and drawers, along with full-extension in the drawers, enhances the ease of use, creating a sense of lightness in daily interactions with the furniture. Additionally, the built-in lighting in all glass cabinets can be effortlessly switched on and off, adding an element of joy and warmth to the dining area.

N A T U R A L O I L F I N I S H

A natural oil finish accentuates the beauty of wooden furniture while offering robust protection. This finish deeply penetrates the wood, enriching its natural grain and texture with a warm, rich hue. The oil nourishes the wood from within, creating a durable and resilient surface that guards against moisture and daily wear. Perfect for preserving the authentic look and feel of the wood, the natural oil finish also allows for straightforward maintenance and touch-ups, ensuring the furniture retains its timeless elegance and durability.
