Claire Morgan, Pro Vice-Chancellor Education and Student Experience

"As Pro Vice-Chancellor for Education and Student Experience, I am committed to working in genuine partnership with our students-listening to your voices and, more importantly, acting on them.

Student Academic Reps play a vital role in this process. You are one of the many ways we ensure that the voices of Cardiff University students are heard and reflected in everything we do–from feedback on courses to shaping the wider student experience.

We are continuing to take forward ambitious plans to support student success, and your role is essential in making that happen. By keeping students informed and working closely with the Students' Union, you help us enhance the experience for everyone at Cardiff.

Welcome to the team-and thank you for the valuable work you're about to embark on."

Maria Pollard, SU President

"Llongyfarchiadau!

Congrats on becoming a student rep. You have joined a team of people dedicated to representing the interests of the student body in academia. While it is a lot of responsibility, remember to pace yourself and don't take on too much. You will want to be go to as many Student-Staff panels as you can, but don't forget to keep your ear to the ground on what is concerning students. There may be things being discussed outside of your immediate circle that you have no idea about, so keep your mind open.

This role is open to your interpretation; you decide what you make of it. While you have a responsibility to the students you represent, this is also a chance for you to grow professionally and expand your horizons.

I will be looking forward to how everyone decides to take on this role. Remember that your friends at the SU are always here for support!"

Sean Strong, VP Postgraduate Students (Education and Welfare)

"Congratulations on becoming an Academic Rep! Being a Rep was one of the more rewarding roles that I undertook during the early part of my PhD.

Over the next year you will have the opportunity to represent your cohort, provide crucial feedback to your school, and college, and fight the good fight to create some positive change. You will also have the opportunity to network and make important connections, learn new transferable skills, as well as creating and shaping a student experience you can be proud of. I look forward to meeting you and working with you throughout the next year and please remember that the Students' Union is always here to help along the way. Good luck!"

Joshua Lloyd Tandy, VP Heath Park (Education and Welfare)

"Felicitations! I hope you have a wonderful year in your role.

The role of an academic representative should not be understated. You can make real actionable change. Student representation is one of the core principles of the SU and is highly important in ensuring that all students have the best time possible during their university experience.

When I was a student, I was Chairman of the BIOSI reps for all 3 years of my degree and thoroughly enjoyed my time in the role.

During that time, I made great connections with students and staff, fixed many different issues from timetabling and missing learning materials to giving feedback on modules which was taken on and used to restructure the degree programmes. This shows that you can make real change and proves that you can do it too!

My top tips for being a rep are to be understanding to students and staff. You are the bridge between both and need to be mindful of each other's positions to be most effective. To be open and confident, it helps you gather feedback as people see you as a person who they are willing to talk to. Finally, be a clear communicator, keep things simple and short when giving feedback to staff or feeding back changes to students.

Being a rep comes with rewards! The personal experience you gain and connections you make should not be forgotten, personal progression is one of the most valuable things you will get out of this role and is great to stick on a CV. Towards the end of the year Enriching student life awards take place and if you have done some amazing work you may be nominated or even win!

In summary, the year is what you make it. Represent your peers, be the change you want to see and have fun doing it!"

Cynwal ap Myrddin, VP Cymraeg

"First of all, a big congratulations to you on being appointed as an academic representative for this year. This will be a valuable experience for you, as you have the ability to influence the experiences of students within your school, quite a responsibility!

But don't worry, you are now part of a large society of enthusiastic individuals who want to work together with their fellow students and academic staff in order to create change that will benefit students. Remember that you now represent a large group of students, it is therefore key that you voice your opinion in Student-Staff meetings in order to represent your peers.

Also remember that if you have any question you need an answer to, the Union is here to help. Good luck this year, do your best and you'll smash it!"

Hanan Haliru, VP International Students (Education and Welfare)

"Félicitations! Welcome to the Student Rep team.

You and hundreds of other students will be working together to act as the bridge between the wider student body and the University. You can directly shape the student experience.

This is a valuable opportunity to be a voice for you and your peers as well as to amplify their needs. You have a lot of responsibility that comes with this power!

Don't worry too much about it, because all of us at the SU will be proud to support you on your journey through this role. Don't hesitate to come to us for questions.

This role is really what you make of it. Engage with Student-Staff panels as much as possible, listen to the feedback from your peers, and be bold in leading campaigns that you're passionate about and think will benefit students. This is an opportunity to not only develop the student experience, but to develop yourself and your skills as well.

I'm looking forward to seeing what you get up to this academic year. Wishing you all luck for the year ahead. Hwyl!

(Student Staff Panels)

Student Staff Panels (SSPs) are the key meetings attended by Student Academic Reps and staff within your school. The purpose of these meetings is to talk about ideas and areas for improvement on your course and general educational experience. You are expected to attend these meetings with feedback from your cohort. Two Reps (Chair and Vice Chair) will be responsible for chairing the meeting and a staff member from the school will be responsible for taking minutes.

What can I expect from a Student Staff Panel?

Your SSP will be the main opportunity for you to provide feedback to relevant staff. It is essential that you prepare for the meeting by gathering feedback from your peers in advance, and by reading through any documentation that is sent to you. If you were assigned an action at a previous meeting, make sure you have an update to provide to all staff and students.

Who will be there?

Student membership:

- Elected Chair and Vice Chair
- Student Academic Representatives
- Committee member from relevant academic society (where applicable)

Staff membership:

- Student Rep Coordinator
- Appropriate school staff
- Director of Learning and Teaching
- Subject librarians
- Any other member of staff who is deemed essential to an agenda item

If you have something specific you want to discuss, make sure you request to add it to the agenda in advance. This will give the Chair or Student Rep Coordinator the opportunity to invite any further necessary staff members to attend.

How often are SSPs?

Your SSP should meet at least three times per year – once per term. As a Student Academic Representative, you are expected to attend every SSP. If you are unable to attend, you must send apologies (and an update on any feedback you have received) to the panel in advance. Each school is different, so you may be invited to more SSPs over the course of the year. It is important that you maintain good attendance and speak to your Student Rep Coordinator if you are struggling.

Please note that if you do not attend SSPs and do not send apologies then you may be removed from your role.

Got an idea or issue before your SSP?

Some issues can't wait until a Student Staff Panel. If there is a pressing issue it is worthwhile raising it with a member of staff before the meeting. If you need support in doing so, please contact StudentReps@Cardiff.ac.uk.

(Gathering Feedback)

Gathering feedback from students forms a key part of the Student Academic Rep role. It is important to remember to reach out to all students when gathering feedback, but you can do this in a way that's most comfortable to you. Please be mindful of making your communication accessible for all students. Here are some examples of ways through which you can gather feedback, and the pros and cons of using these methods:

Face-to-Face

Pros:

- Some people are more comfortable communicating in person
- Feedback often translates better verbally
- It can be easier to strike up a natural conversation

Cons:

- It can be hard to get evidence of issues in writing
- It can be hard to get everybody together to ask for feedback

Email

Pros:

- Everybody should have access to their university email
- It keeps the process professional

Cons:

- Students may not check their email very regularly
- There may be concerns that emails are being monitored leading to a reluctance to provide feedback
- Long email chains can be disorganised and ineffective

Social Media

Pros:

- Many people feel more comfortable using informal tools
- You can see when people have viewed a message
- You will have the ability to create groups, polls and private messages

Cons:

- Some social media platforms are banned in certain countries
- Students may prefer to keep their personal and professional lives separate
- It encourages students to respond outside of regular hours

WhatsApp )

Pros:

- Lots of people will already use WhatsApp as it is easily available
- It is good for prompting quick responses and discussions

Cons:

- The app is not available in every country
- Students may not want everyone to have access to their phone number
- It encourages students to respond outside of regular hours

Online Meetings

Pros:

- Allows for easy discussion even when people cannot be in the same place
- Allows for more interactive discussion
- The chat function encourages people to add comments to the conversation

Cons:

- It can be hard to find a suitable time when people have different schedules
- Some students may dominate the discussion

Mentimeter

Pros:

- An easy way to quickly gather feedback
- Interactive and immediate
- People can post feedback anonymously

Cons:

- You would still need to distribute the code to access the survey/poll
- It is better used in conjunction with online meetings or similar

The Feedback Loop

This is the Feedback Loop, which shows how feedback is raised and reviewed through the Student Academic Rep (SAR) system. The feedback loop forms a continuous process that SARs and University staff follow throughout the academic year.

Completing the feedback loop is really important to make sure that students see the changes and decisions that can happen within their course from sharing their thoughts to SARs & University staff. SARs and University staff should work together to update students on any decisions made as a result of student feedback. Students can then provide any comments they have on these actions/decisions to the SARs and this allows the feedback cycle to continue.

The feedback loop helps to keep students informed on where their feedback is going and what actions/decisions are made because of it.

(College Forums

If there are issues that have arisen during SSPs that cannot be solved within the school, these can be brought to the College Forum. This might include issues with IT or library resources. College Forums are also a great opportunity to give an overview to the College Deans of what items have been discussed at your SSP.

Each College Forum runs in a slightly different way to suit the needs of the College.

College Forums are chaired by a Students' Union elected Officer – the VP International Students, VP Postgraduate Students, VP Heath Park, and VP Cymraeg. The meetings are set up and facilitated by the Student Voice Team, and a Student Voice Assistant will take minutes to be published on the Students' Union website. You will be invited to provide a short update about the main items you have discussed at your SSP, and seek advice where necessary on any ongoing concerns.
