Hello everyone!

I hope you have all been staying warm these past few months. I cannot believe it is only February! Does it just seem like January dragged on forever to anyone else? With all the snow and ice we have had lately, thinking about moving to a warmer climate sounds pretty darn appealing. Now that the temperatures are rising and the ice has melted, my backyard has turned into a bit of a mudslide! Those of you who live in warmer climates, I envy you! Though from what I have heard from some of you, you are dealing with the same mudslide I am.

As you read this edition of the Fluff, you will notice many innovative changes. We were using the Issue platform, but due to a significant annual price increase for downloading the Fluff, the Board decided to change providers. We have decided on Heyzine. It offers enhanced functionality, such as direct linking and page-specific access, making Heyzine a more viable and economical option.

With the NJWRC 2026 Nationals right around the corner, please keep in mind that if you have a specialty club and are interested in hosting the 2028 NJWRC Nationals, all bids are due by March 1st. The form can be found on our website, jerseywooly.org, under the members resource tab in the downloadable forms section. Be sure to check out the scholarship application as well if you know of a NJWRC member in good standing who will be graduating from high school this year. All youths who plan to continue their education in college, trade school, or any other post-secondary program may apply for a $ 1,000 scholarship. Scholarship applications are due April 1st. If you have any questions, please feel free to let me know.

If you have not already joined, be sure to check out the National Jersey Wooly Show Weekend page hosted by the Ohio Jersey Wooly Rabbit Club on Facebook to be kept updated on this year's Nationals in Canton, Ohio April 11th, 2026. It is sure to be an out-of-this-world experience! Hope to see you there! And as always, my inbox and PMs are always open for any questions or concerns.

Vice President Report

Vice President

Bailey Ledesma

bailey.ledesma@gmail.com

It's a new year, and it already feels like it's flying by at lightning speed! I can't believe how quickly Nationals will be here. It truly feels like it'll arrive in the blink of an eye. Here in Texas, we're right in the middle of stock show season, which means exciting opportunities for both our Open and Youth exhibitors at the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo, Houston Livestock Show & Rodeo, and the Texas State Show. While our friends around the country are having snowball fights and growing winter wool, we're still rocking t-shirts and shorts in January and February. It sometimes feels like we're stuck in a never-ending molt, living in perpetual summer!

As much as I can't wait to see all the beautiful bunnies and all our amazing members at Nationals, I want to take a moment to highlight one of the most important parts of our club, our volunteers.

One of the greatest strengths of our club is the incredible group of members who give their time, energy, and talents so generously. Volunteering truly is the heartbeat of everything we do. Whether it's planning events, supporting shows, auctions, youth activities, nationals, or conventions, none of it would happen without members willing to step up and help. Every volunteer role, big or small, matters. Whether you serve on a committee, help with setup or teardown, assist during shows, support youth programs, or work behind the scenes, your efforts make a real difference. These contributions may not always be visible, but they are deeply appreciated and never taken for granted. Our club simply would not run as smoothly or successfully without all of you.

As we look ahead, now is the perfect time to start thinking about how you might like to get involved. We will have committee positions opening, as well as opportunities to run for District Director roles and the Vice President position. Planning is already underway for the upcoming Convention in Reno, and there will be many ways for members to lend a hand and get involved. It is truly an honor to work alongside so many amazing individuals who care so deeply about this club. Thank you for everything you do. We truly could not do this without you.

And as always, remember to be kind.

Hello, all my wonderful Jersey Wooly friends!!

This winter has been an amazing time for Wild Meadows! Starting with getting BOSB at this past convention, and now Meadow and Bethany have gotten 3 RIS to add to their recent wins!!

Broken Sr. Buck, Wild Meadows Chucky, BIS St. Helens, Oregon, Frozen Friends Show 1/31/26
REW Sr. Doe, Wild Meadows, Betsy Johnson, RIS Centralia, WA, New Year's Eve show. 1/1/26
REW Sr. Doe, Wild Meadows Manon, RIS McMinnville, OR, Christmas show 12/20/25

Note: Meadow is in red in the shot with Manon.

Such an amazing job to do so well, especially with different rabbits! Congratulations!!!

At the Utah RBA, my daughter and I got 3 BOB and 2 BOSB. Venus, the tan BOG from convention, got an honorable mention. Congratulations also to Nancy and Lorin Millsap on their BOSB.

It seems the weather has been very different this year, and so it'll be interesting to see what kind of babies everyone gets for spring.

Please remember to breed for and join us in Reno for this upcoming convention! It would be so amazing to have record turnouts!! Don't let the record-breaking storms from the last Reno show scare you away.

Until next time ♥

Hello Woolly Peeps,

The Midwest has experienced some of the harshest winter weather we've seen in quite some time. I hope everyone has been managing as best as possible. I know for my herd, this meant more frequent trips to the barn and extra time spent checking on everyone.

This past weekend brought a surprising shift, with two record-high temperature days—such a welcome change! Unfortunately, this brief warm spell won't last long. Still, the unseasonably sunny weather definitely put my herd in the spring mood, so I took full advantage and bred several rabbits. I also enjoyed spending time observing, playing with, and evaluating some promising youngsters.

I hope everyone planning to attend Nationals in Ohio is as excited as I am! I'm really looking forward to seeing all my rabbit friends and their beautiful woolies soon.

Wishing everyone full nest boxes and a successful spring season!

As I am writing this, we are finally thawing out from the deep freeze! Time to start getting ready for shows again! As you all know, this coming National is in our District in Ohio this year! We are excited to be hosting! We hope you come on out to blast off for an out of this world time! We will not only be hosting the National and Specialty, but also adding some other fun things as well. We will be having an arts and crafts competition as well as a Woolly Judging contest! The judging contest was for youth only, but I have had some adults reach out to me to ask about adding adults! I would love to. If you have a class of four Woolies to bring and allow us to use, please email me at swoodylaurie@msn.com. If I can have at least three different classes, I will add an adult class! Also, for the youth, some wonderful Woolly breeders will be donating rabbits for the youth- only raffle table. Each youth exhibitor will get a ticket in their exhibitor bag. There will be raffle tickets available for purchase by youth only, as well as for more chances to win! There will also be other items that the youth can win if they do not wish to win a rabbit! If you wish to donate a rabbit or any other items to the youth-only raffle, just shoot me a message! We will also have a great raffle table that open exhibitors can buy tickets for. We will also be having a 50/50 silent auction on Sunday as well! I look forward to seeing everyone there!

Hello from snowy D7!! I hope that everyone had a wonderful holiday season and that you all made it through this crazy, cold weather, snow, and ice over the past month. As I am writing this, our PA weather is deciding to give us a taste of spring with tomorrow forecasted to be sunny and around 49! Heatwave!! I am planning to use that beautiful weather to get some much-needed cleaning and repairs done out in the rabbit shed.

Here in D7, our show season is starting to ramp up. We had a great show full of fun and laughter at the PASRBA convention in Lebanon, PA, at the beginning of Feb. Congrats to Dave Arnold for winning BOB in all 4 shows with your gorgeous doe Dandy and handsome buck Dean taking turns winning the honors. It was a nail-biter during BIS Group judging as Dandy strutted her stuff, but alas, it was not meant to be this year.

I hope that I get to see lots of you at the Cayuga Finger Lakes show in Auburn, NY 2/28 & 3/1. They are hosting 5 All Breed Shows, and North East Jersey Woolly Breeders is hosting an Open JW Specialty on Sunday, so you can show those beautiful 6 times that weekend and get a sneak peek at the location where our club will be hosting the 2027 JW Nationals in March of 2027.

Cody and I are very excited that we will be attending the 2026 JW Nationals in Canton, OH, this coming April. This will be Cody's last JW Nationals showing as a youth. He turns 19 in July, and we will be combining our 2 herds at that point and showing in Open together. Feels so weird to be saying that. I can't thank everyone enough for welcoming us with open arms 15 years ago. Cody and Ashley literally grew up with all of you, and we can't say enough wonderful things about our Jersey Woolly family. And don't worry, you are still going to be stuck with us for many more years to come. LOL!

Hi everyone! I apologize for the lack of a writeup last edition!

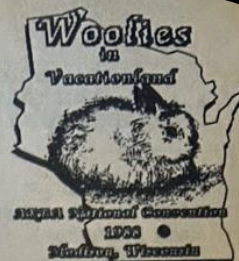

I would like to inform the readership that I have received the materials and have begun to look through them. For this article, however, I would like to reference an advertisement I found on a trip to the ARBA museum over the summer. Unfortunately, I don't have a scan of the advert but rather a picture. The advertisement was for a Jersey Woolly show in 1988! At the time, mail-in entries for the show were $4.00 a rabbit and phone entries (as-in, phone-in entries if it wasn't clear) would instead be $6.00 per rabbit. The show occurred during the ARBA convention in Madison, Wisconsin and was at a separate location. The club stated that they would provide maps and rides for those who need them, also including the fact it was a carry cage show. At the time of the article, Jersey Woolies weren't an official breed yet. In fact, it would be that convention in which woolies would be accepted! The advertisement credits the popularity of the breed to the small size, demeanor, and the easy-to-work with coat. The article even contains many of the sayings surrounding Jersey Woolies. For example, "Wild and Wooly" (featuring a Jersey Wooly with an adorable cowboy hat), or "Wuv the Wooly, the Fluff of the Fancy." While the article is from about 40 years ago, I think we can see how there is the same love and excitement of the breed! While it might just seem like some old advertisement, I think it's nice to see and have perspective to how much the breed has grown and the art of showing has changed from 1988 to 2026.

The Club

The National Jersey Wooly Rabbit Club was founded to support the Jersey Wooly breed, bring breeders and potential breeders together, share information on rabbit raising, and pursue a broader understanding of rabbit genetics to help improve the Wooly and all rabbit breeds.

The Club has been in existence for five years and has over 200 members. The Club's Newsletter is published approximately three times a year.

Back issues, which will give an idea of the Club's enthusiasm, participation and direction, are available at the Jersey Wooly Booth or from the address below.

The Jersey Wooly

The Jersey Wooly is a new breed which has been accepted twice by the ARBA Standards Committee. The first official showing of the Jersey Wooly at a national ARBA Convention was in 1984 in Orlando, Florida. The second official showing was at the Ohio Convention two years later. Woolies will be presented again this year in Wisconsin in anticipation of their third and final accepted showing.

There are presently about 300 breeders producing Woolies across the country. Many of the breeders have show-quality animals available for sale.

The Wooly's popularity can be credited to a number of things. It is a small rabbit whose average senior weight of three pounds enables breeders with limited space to keep a large enough number to work with. The wool coat adds beauty, and the type of wool requires very little grooming. Its round, appealing face and its quiet, gentle personality make it an especially winning breed.

Three Defining Characteristics of the Jersey Wooly

Three characteristics differentiate the Jersey Wooly from other breeds: A bold, blocky head; the distinctive rise; and wool texture.

Bold, blocky head

Many breeds call for a bold head; the same is true of the Jersey Wooly. In the Jersey Wooly, we want a head that is indeed bold; it should appear “blocky,” that is, wide and even in width from crown through eye and lower muzzle. It should not display any sign of a wedged or snipey muzzle. The Jersey Wooly head should be nearly square in profile, with its depth nearly equal to its width. We like to call this a “mug head.” Certainly, there is some curvature to the skull, but the blocky appearance will be exaggerated by a wool cap that consists of longer and denser wool from between the ears to above the eyes, as well as by the cheek furnishings, which should not stand out straight, but rather have enough length to blend into the chest and shoulder wool.

Rise

The rise in a Jersey Wooly is not the same as the rise in a New Zealand, nor any other breed. It starts behind the head, which should be mounted fairly high, but not on top of the shoulder. This allows for a slight dip at the neck, then it rises smoothly up and over the high point and down to the table in a smooth, full arc that is not undercut. The high point should be situated above the stifle (or knee) joint.

Texture

The wool coat in a Jersey Wooly is different from any other wool breed. We value texture above all else, as evidenced by the largest number of points given in this category. No other wool breed gives prominence to texture. Texture is displayed in a preponderance of guard hairs, which should be longer and thicker than the dense undercoat. That thickness in the guard hair will make it coarse; we call for a coarse coat, not a soft one, as compared to the other wool breeds. A guard hair that is shorter or thinner will create a softer, silkier coat, which is not what we are looking for. It is within this context that we want as much density as possible. A coat that carries too much density will be soft, cottony, and will stand erect. The Jersey Wooly coat should have enough density to stand up when fluffed, but enough texture to immediately drape down a bit, giving that flowing coat you’ll often see. The Jersey Wooly should have an easy-care coat; it is the texture that gives this quality.

This article is a short synopsis of three defining characteristics of our breed. In future articles, each of these areas will be explored in more detail.

Rabbit Care in the cold

Care of Rabbits in the Cold

Rabbits are naturally equipped to handle cooler temperatures, but cold weather still requires thoughtful care to keep them healthy, comfortable, and safe. Whether rabbits are housed outdoors, in barns, or indoors with exposure to drafts, winter conditions introduce risks that owners should actively manage.

How Cold Is Too Cold?

Rabbits tolerate cold far better than heat. Healthy adult rabbits can usually handle temperatures down to about 32°F (0°C) if they are dry, out of the wind, and well-fed. Problems arise when cold is combined with dampness, drafts, or inadequate shelter. Young kits, elderly rabbits, and those with illnesses need extra protection and should be kept in warmer environments.

Shelter and Housing

Proper housing is the single most important factor in winter rabbit care. For outdoor hutches or enclosures:

- Wind protection: Hutches or enclosures should be shielded from wind. Solid walls on at least three sides are ideal.
- Dry conditions: Moisture increases heat loss dramatically. Roofs should not leak, and floors should remain dry.
- Insulation: Straw (not hay) is excellent insulation for bedding. Thick layers allow rabbits to burrow and retain body heat.
- Elevated flooring: Raising hutches off the ground helps prevent cold from seeping up and reduces dampness.
- Ventilation without drafts: Fresh air is important, but direct drafts should be avoided.

For indoor rabbits, ensure enclosures are not placed near doors, windows, or unheated areas where cold drafts may occur.

Bedding and Nesting

Provide deep, clean straw bedding, refreshed regularly. Straw traps air and retains warmth better than shavings or hay. Rabbits will naturally create warm pockets within the bedding. For breeding does, additional nesting material is essential to protect kits from chilling.

Nutrition in Cold Weather

Rabbits burn more calories in cold temperatures to maintain body heat.

- Increase hay intake: Unlimited high-quality grass hay is critical. Digestion generates internal warmth.
- Fresh water: Water bottles and crocks can freeze quickly. Check multiple times daily and replace with warm (not hot) water as needed.
- Balanced diet: Maintain regular pellets, but may need to increase calories during extreme temperatures.

2025 Best Of Breed Indianapolis Indiana Jocelyn Byers & Money

Sounds like I missed a great ARBA Convention in Indianapolis. The self doe, Money, is from Laura and Kevin Ayers. My dad and Laura traded rabbits at the Louisville Convention with some terms. I guess you can't leave my dad unsupervised. I wasn't too happy with what he traded, but it worked out in the end. The trade with the Ayers taught me a different way to introduce a different line of Jersey Woollies without having to buy. This is why this hobby is fun, and it makes me try different ways to improve what I have. I want to congratulate everyone who attended. Max told me that there were a lot of beautiful woolies there. And I want to congratulate Carlie Boling for a beautiful agouti buck. I want to thank my dad and my brother Max for taking care of them during the week of Convention. Hopefully, my schedule will allow me to attend Nationals in Canton this spring. I hope everyone's nestboxes are full, and I can't wait to see everyone at the next show.

Carlie Boling & Chip

It feels like such an accomplishment to be writing this article. Jersey Woolys are my first love & where I started when I was 8 years old. I've watched my peers' herds get honored each year and wondered what that moment felt like for them. All the years & hours put in and so many Woolys I've just loved, but then to show up and see the others there just pushes the bar. I always hoped that one day one of my herd would be in this circle.

Being that chip is an agouti senior buck, he was the first class of the day to go on the table, I knew he was one of my top animals there, so watching Misty pull all the others off one by one, never touching him after the initial look, I steadily got more and more nervous. The time came for her to give him first. I was excited to receive first place, of course, but what really got to me was the way she went on and on about him, as she loved him as I do. I had to run to my parents and tell them all the things she said, and that I thought he had a chance to win best of group!

Chip did just that; he won Best of Group. I had other rabbits I loved, but weren't in their best coat for the show, so I watched them come off the table with top 5 placings, which I was proud of, but still focused on the fact that I still had one real contender up for Best Of Breed. When it was time for that, I didn't know if I could watch as she looked Chip up and down, back and forth with the others. Then, before realizing her mistake, my heart broke a little when she announced the shaded doe and the self doe for breed and opposite. As soon as she realized the mistake of picking 2 does, my heart did a little jump. When Misty reannounced her wins, her favorite buck was the "agouti buck," Boling Babies RC's "Chip". My buck just did it!!

Instantly, I was so overly excited that I cried. I had finally done it! And with a homegrown which is always super special! This wouldn't be possible without my mentors over the years. Terri Snell for getting me started from my first rabbit to my twentieth, Chase Austin for helping me find the perfect buck to help my herd when we couldn't bid any higher, and Chase went in and helped me win the auction. And last but certainly not least, Dave Arnold, who's renewed my spark & love for my Jerseys again. It's crazy to think we met when he bought a rabbit from us. Since then, he has been nothing short of amazing, from teaching, breeding, and sending me animals that would only help my herd, and being the one to restore my love for my jerseys by adding a personal friendship & fun that I personally needed to engage & have a "jersey" person to talk rabbits with. I also need to recognize one more who helped make this possible. Thank you to Landis "Panda" for giving me goals to breed for and making me work harder, but also for being out of coat for convention. 😊. Y'all have been great, and this was a day I'll never forget.

The Youth Committee sponsored and awarded two outstanding youth members who have gone Above and Beyond to help the National Jersey Wooly Club and promote our breed.

This year, the awards were presented to Cody Landis and Jordan Tucker.

Cody Landis has been dedicated to this breed for many years and is always willing to help whenever needed. Whether it's participating in the Golden Fleece Auction, setting up coops at conventions, or taking on general handyman tasks, he has never turned down a request for assistance. It seems that saying "no" is not in his vocabulary. Cody has also gone above and beyond to support breeders with their stock, and he consistently donates to the Golden Fleece Auction. We thank you, Cody, for being such a shining star.

Jordan Tucker is a dedicated individual breeder who stepped up when we faced an unfortunate withdrawal of a rabbit for our Youth Only Auction. As a youth herself, she thought it would be wonderful to have a rabbit donated by a young breeder for the youth. I gladly accepted her generous donation, which demonstrates her commitment to the breed and her desire to support other young enthusiasts. I look forward to seeing what this talented young lady accomplishes in the future.

Additionally, Jordan Tucker has taken on the role of NJWRC Youth Liaison! Thank you, Jordan!

breeder's SPOTLIGHT

Barb Sherlock of Barbie's Bunnies

As many rabbit exhibitors have done, my interest in Jersey Woolies began at the 2015 Albion Area Fair. I saw a smoke pearl and a Siamese Sable buck for sale and fell in love. No stranger to the show ring, I raised and showed Collies in my younger years, American Quarter Horses in my midyears, Yorkshire Terriers in my older years, and Jersey Woolies in my oldest years. So, a few weeks later, I decided to go to an ARBA show in Painesville, Ohio. There, I was immediately greeted enthusiastically by Jersey exhibitors Julie Aversa, Gail More, April Sefcik, and Judy Collins. You know these girls and what great mentors they are to anyone who shows an interest in this breed. Learning that my Jerseys were not show quality, Gail, April, and Judy offered me a starter group to begin with, and Barbie's Bunnies was born.

That day, April had a little Siamese sable buck, Hopewell's Victor. He was small, but gorgeous, and I had to wait a year for him to mature before he did any winning. He produced my first winning Jerseys, including BB47 Barbie's Victoria, 24 legs, and she won my first BIS and RIS. He also sired a very significant producer for me, BB264 Barbie's Smokin Gun, whose offspring include BB316 Barbie's Shasta, 28 legs, BB364 Barbie's Salty Salina, 10 legs, BB323 Barbie's Pippa, 3 legs, who produced BB487 Barbie's Patrick, 3 legs, who went on to win in the youth arena and BB474 Barbie's Smokin Jo, 13 legs.

In 2016, I bought a Rew Doe, Lyle Creek's Qwin, from Joni Moore, whom I bred to April Sefcik's Buck bred by April Stigall, ZA Qhuinn. One surviving black doe was raised by syringing goat milk. Her name was BB7 Barbie's Ebony, and I bred her to Elise's Sunny, a show buck whom my wonderful husband Jim bought for me as a surprise from Gail More. She had one of my most significant litters of five kits. I kept four; three showed well, but all were great producers and became the basis of my self-program. BB83 Barbie's Sunlit, a REW doe, bred to Barbie's Smokin Gun, produced BB316 Barbie's Shasta, 28 legs, the 2022-2023 9th Open Rabbit of the Year. She produced five other winners, including BB80 Barbie's Eclipse, 4 legs, a black buck, has had six offspring so far, (yes, 8 years old and still going strong). One, BB556 Barbie's Paula 24 legs, is the 2024-2025 5th Open Rabbit of the Year. BB82 Barbie's Sunbeam, 11 legs, A Rew doe, produced nine winners, including BB267 Barbie's Playboy, 6 legs, and BB466 Barbie's Sweet Dream, 5 legs, who were themselves producers.

When Lyle Creek's Qwin was bred to Hopewell's Kiss The Girls, another buck purchased from April, she produced BB Barbie's Snow White, 7 legs, who had five offspring. All went on to produce Jerseys that improved my herd. One, BB136 Barbie's Sonnet, 26 legs, was the 2019-20 4th Open Rabbit of the Year.

I am proud of my success, which includes being in the top 10 Open Sweepstakes since 2017 and in the top 5 since 2021. At the 2025 ARBA Convention, BB582 Barbie's Classy Chic, 28 legs, was 2nd in Open Senior Shaded Does, BB735 Barbie's Daphne was 7th, and BB536 Barbie's Paula was 8th in Open Senior Self Does.

Staying competitive takes a lot of hard work, as anyone with a woolled breed knows. Taking care of 100 plus Jerseys is a job in itself. And, in winter, it is even harder. Thank goodness for my husband, who helps me every day. Since I live in the winter lands of the snow belt in the northwest of Pennsylvania, I travel 2-4 hours to shows in PA, Ohio, and NY. Those hours on the road by myself are getting old. Thank you to Gail More, who takes me in hand on distant trips, along with fellow traveler Judy Collins. We meet up with April Sefcik and her husband Joe, who always finds us great places to eat.

As I was reviewing my records, thanks to Evans Software, I remembered all the really good jerseys that I was blessed with, from the different breeders who shared with me. Through the ups and downs of rabbit showing, friendships are made that can be counted on to be nurturing and encouraging. Thank you to all those friends who started me on the Jersey Wooly journey. And, thank you to all of my Jersey friends who continue to be special in my life. Best of luck to you all!

YOUTH breeder's SPOTLIGHT

John Harris Anderson of JoBre's Rabbitry

Number of Holes: 68

Location: Spring, Texas

Why did you choose Jersey Woolies as the breed to raise? When I was in 6th grade, my older brother, Owen, decided to join his high school's FFA program, and he wanted to raise rabbits. He researched the breeds and narrowed down his choices, and when he was deciding between breeds, his top two were Jersey Woolies and Flemish Giants. I got very interested in the rabbits, well, and I liked the Jersey Woolies the best due to their temperament, and I thought they were really cute. My brother ended up getting one Flemish Giant and two Jersey Woolies to show, and my parents let me get one Jersey Wooly, a little Chestnut doe that I named Sprout. She was my first show rabbit, and she is still in my barn.

What are your biggest challenges in caring for Jersey Woolies? Probably the fact that I live in an urban area in a neighborhood where space is very limited. My father renovated our garage for the Woolies, and we work hard to keep that space clean and well-ventilated. The other challenge would be the weather in Texas. It gets very hot and humid in the Houston area, and we must run AC units in the garage almost year-round, and it gets pretty expensive.

Sprout and I at our first show

What are your biggest challenges in showing Jersey Woolies? I am in my Junior year of high school and am active in FFA, marching band (I play percussion), and am taking advanced academics, so time is probably my biggest challenge. I enjoy showing, but having to balance band obligations, schoolwork, and just being a teenager with friends can be a challenge. I cannot show as many as a lot of youth exhibitors, so I definitely have to make choices about what shows I can attend and which ones I have to skip.

What are your goals in your rabbitry? I am really focused on breeding and showing homegrown Woolies and staying within the size of my rabbitry. Right now, I only want to purchase a rabbit if I really need to add something to my herd or to fix an issue that requires an outside line; otherwise, I am focusing on breeding and building a homegrown herd. I have to be very intentional about my breeding plans, since I am so limited on space. I got some really great advice from Kathy Hillery when my brother and I first started showing Woolies, and that was to focus on one or two groups and work to breed show quality in those groups before expanding to the other color groups. Initially, I focused on Agouti and Tan. I then expanded to Self and Broken. Now I am focused on breeding and improving my AOV (Oranges) and Shaded.

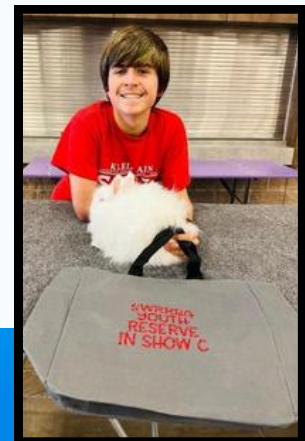

What are you most proud of in your breeding accomplishments? This year at Convention (Indy 2025), I took almost all homegrown, and they placed really well. I was very happy with the comments I received from Judge Misti Polasik, and my homegrown Sr Broken Buck, JoBre's Armstrong, won the Broken Group. This was my first Best of Group win at Convention, as in my previous two Conventions, I had won Best Opposite Groups but not Best of Group. In addition, I won Best Display, which really surprised me since I did not have a Breed win.

Do you raise any other breeds? No. I am a one-rabbit breed guy. I only raise Jersey Woolies.

What is your favorite part of the hobby? I think currently my favorite part of the hobby is helping new youth with their rabbits. My high school FFA program has several new students raising rabbits, and I am kind of known as the rabbit kid in FFA, so I enjoy answering questions and helping them at FFA shows and jackpot shows.

Do you have any special projects in the barn? I am definitely working on oranges and trying to improve the density of their coats. I have also been trying to get some nice broken oranges, but have yet to get one (I tend to get broken torts rather than broken oranges)!

Favorite Rabbit Memory: I have two favorite memories, a specific one and a more general one. Specifically, a favorite memory is the very first time I had a "big win" of Reserve in Show with my homegrown Sr Self buck, JoBre's Billy Idol. That win was such a surprise; my dad wasn't even in the showroom as he was packing the car. I remember I was so excited that I ran off to tell my dad and forgot to get a picture with the judge. And in general, a favorite memory is how much my family, especially my Grandma and Granddad, have loved the rabbits. Our first Christmas after we got the Woolies was so fun as my grandparents, aunt, and cousins all gathered and took turns holding and petting the Woolies. It was a lot of fun.

Hello NJWRC members!

As I write this, the season is around the halfway point, which seems a little crazy to me! The time to start watching points is now!

Please be consistent with how you enter shows and check in with me and/or Gail to be sure the entry name matches the membership list. For example, if your name is Greg Michael Smith, but you enter as G Michael Smith, that may not get caught. Gail & I can take extra notes on our end to be sure we're catching all your shows. Making things a little dicey as well is how names have to be put in the Easy2Show program – I understand punctuation isn't allowed, which makes multiple exhibitor partnerships just a string of names when I get the report. I'm usually able to figure these out, but if something seems off, please be sure to touch base. Lastly, if showing in a partnership, all exhibitors on the entry must be NJWRC members to receive points. Please keep an eye on your show reports – I've received some with 'old' partnership names that have led to points not being awarded due to one person no longer being a member.

These points are show dates from 7/2025 through 1/2026. As always, any questions/concerns, please contact me at njwrcsweeps@gmail.com! Till next time!

-Nicole

THE IMPORTANT NEWS OF THIS FLUFF

I want to thank Pam Schmidt for all the work she has done on The Fluff. I was sad to hear that she was leaving. I was asked to do the Fluff, and I agreed. There are some large shoes to fill. My priority was to find a new platform for our Newsletter, because Issuu took away the download feature from our current subscription. I found Heyzine. I hope that everyone enjoys this new platform. It has many new features that can be enjoyed. I hope to fill Pam's shoes.

So if you have any question about how to use any of the features please do not hesitate to reach out to me.

Notes on planning a Nationals Show:

- The preference is to have the Nationals show prior to any other shows (ie., the first time Woolies show is in the National show)
- Remember in choosing your show dates that people tend to prefer to take off fewer days from work.
- The NJWRC provides host clubs with a stipend of $1200, on a as needs basis, with the intention that this amount helps defray the cost of bringing in judges. This money is supplied upon request with proof of need to the NJWRC Treasurer. A report on how the money was spent is submitted to the Treasurer after the show along with a total accounting of the show.
- The NJWRC expects that in the year before Nationals (starting in May), there be an ad provided for the Fluff for each of 4 issues, starting with a "save the date" ad, and with increasing information over the course of the year. Newsletter ad submission dates are as follows: May 15, August 15, November 15, and February 15th.
- Shows may be assigned cooping, or "carrier" shows, but some cooping must be provided for animals that are flown in.
