THE SMART KIOSK VISIONARY

BY:MEGAN & KOKO

THOUGHTS FROM THE TOP

Team,

I would like to start with mentioning the current difficult situation in Israel and In light of these recent events, we want to express our heartfelt support and solidarity with our Israeli colleagues and their communities. The reports of casualties are deeply saddening, and we understand the uncertainty and fear this situation has brought.

In these challenging times, we emphasize the importance of standing together as a team and as a family. Your strength and unity are inspiring, and we have faith in your ability to overcome these challenges. We are here for you, and as we closely follow the news, please know you are not alone.

On a positive note, I'd like to discuss a few September wins that further cement our position as leaders in the industry.

Firstly, I am proud to announce that we have secured a significant purchase order from the Israel Train Company. OmniQ has been entrusted to deploy its cutting-edge, AI-based Machine Vision System across its infrastructure. This collaboration underscores our shared vision of creating smarter and safer stations for millions of commuters.

But that's not all. El Salvador International Airport, a bustling gateway serving 3.5 million passengers per year, will be the very first international airport in Central America to deploy omniQ's AI. This represents not only a prestigious association but also opens doors to a fresh market teeming with potential in Central America. I wish to extend my heartfelt gratitude to TAS, our esteemed partner in the region. Their reputation as a premier technology provider played a pivotal role in fortifying this partnership.

THOUGHTS FROM THE TOP

There is an update on the public safety side of the business as well, Bill Fisher will be stepping away. We appreciate Bill's contributions and his legacy will always be a part of omniQ. As we bid him farewell, we also ushered in a new era with John Whiteman taking the reins of omniQ Vision. With unwavering confidence, I believe John is poised to guide us through the next chapters of our journey.

The recent successes of omniQ coupled with these new ventures highlight our dynamism and commitment. I encourage everyone to extend their fullest support to John, ensuring our tradition of excellence remains unbroken.

Regrettably, it is with a heavy heart that we announce the passing of one of our esteemed board members, Andy McMillan. We bid him a heartfelt farewell and offer our unwavering support to his bereaved family during this difficult time.

In conclusion, this last month has been both challenging and rewarding. I wish to express my deepest gratitude to each member of the omniQ family. It's your hard work, dedication, and belief in our vision that propels us to new horizons. Let's embrace the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead with renewed vigor.

Here's to forging new paths and scaling greater heights!

Sincerely,
Shai Lustgarten

THE VISIONARY BEHIND OUR SMART KIOSKS - MEET ITZIK

A Pioneer in the Industry

With over two decades of experience in the industry, Itzik is no less than a luminary when it comes to self-service kiosks. His commitment and passion for the kiosk industry began in the early days of his career. As he was completing his degree, he showcased his visionary outlook in 2004 by publishing a pioneering paper on the future of self-service products. The potential and innovation captured in that paper didn't go unnoticed, as it quickly grabbed the attention of a major signage manufacturer in Israel.

The Inception of a Kiosk Legacy

With a desire to revolutionize the kiosk landscape, Itzik embarked on a new journey with the signage company, where he initiated and led their first-ever kiosk division. During this phase, he formed a robust supplier-customer relationship. The synergy and combined industry expertise became a cornerstone for the division's growth.

The Dangot Era

Eleven years ago, destiny had bigger plans for Itzik. Recognizing his unparalleled expertise, Dangot approached Itzik with an irresistible offer - to spearhead and establish the Smart kiosks division at Dangot. Itzik seized the opportunity, and under his leadership, our kiosk division has witnessed immense growth and innovation. Today, with the same unwavering enthusiasm, Itzik is optimistic about the expansive horizons of self-service kiosks.

Beyond the Work Desk

Outside of his groundbreaking professional achievements, Itzik, at 46, is a doting father to his 12-year-old son. He recently acquired his "Skipper" License and can be seen hitting the water when he isn't revolutionizing the tech world.

In Conclusion

Itzik's story is a testament to what vision, dedication, and relentless hard work can achieve. He's not just an asset to Dangot but a true inspiration for all of us at OmniQ. We're fortunate to have such a seasoned and passionate professional leading one of our key divisions.

GLOBAL PRESENCE

A SOMBER FAIRWELL

ANDREW J. MACMILLAN

It is with a heavy heart that I share the news of the passing of our esteemed colleague and valued Board Member, Andrew J. MacMillan. Andrew's sudden departure has left us deeply saddened and reflective of the significant contributions he made during his time with OMNIQ.

Andrew joined our Board of Directors in April 2017, bringing with him a wealth of experience and expertise in the corporate communications and investment banking domains. With over two decades of experience in the global securities industry and 18 years in investment banking, Andrew's influence and insight have been instrumental in shaping our company's strategic direction.

His remarkable career included roles at prominent financial institutions, where he demonstrated his commitment to excellence and innovative thinking.

Andrew was a director of NTS, Inc. and held the Chairman position of its Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, showcasing his dedication to effective governance and ethical leadership.

A SOMBER FAIRWELL

Andrew's journey took him across various roles, from Senior Vice President of Corporate Communications and Government Affairs at Ameriprise Financial to Head of Corporate Communications (Americas) at Barclays Capital. His leadership and guidance also extended to The Nasdaq Stock Market and Credit Suisse First Boston, where he held vital corporate communication positions.

Beyond his professional accomplishments, Andrew was known for his warmth, humility, and strong sense of integrity. His commitment to mentoring and nurturing talent was a testament to his character and his belief in the power of collaboration.

As we remember and honor Andrew's legacy, let us also extend our thoughts and condolences to his family during this difficult time. In his memory, let us continue to embody the values he held dear - dedication, innovation, and a commitment to fostering an environment of growth and excellence. Thank you for joining me in remembering and celebrating the life of Andrew J. MacMillan.
