Project Concept & Architectural Potential

The approximately 1,945 m² site at Konstanzerstrasse 55/57 in Tägerwilten offers a rare opportunity to develop a cohesive new construction project in a sought-after location near the border and the lake. The underlying development concept focuses on the three parcels 358, 730, and 879, which together form an extremely attractive project site with clear architectural potential.

Based on the existing framework conditions of the WA1.8 residential and commercial zone, the development of a modern multi-unit building with a flat roof, penthouse level, and underground parking garage appears highly feasible in principle. The established project logic assumes a buildable land area of approximately 1,945 m² and an above-ground building volume of up to approximately 4,202 m³.

Architecturally, a concept emerges that combines contemporary clarity with warm, regionally appropriate materials. A calm, modern design language with a recessed penthouse level, generous window areas, sheltered outdoor spaces, and a façade design that blends modernity with Swiss-influenced building traditions appears particularly harmonious. A high-quality wood or wood-hybrid aesthetic, clean lines, elegant loggias, and a welcoming façade depth would do particular justice to the location.

Project Concept & Architectural Potential

On the upper levels—particularly in the penthouse area—attractive apartments with panoramic views and a particularly high quality of living can be developed, while the standard floors can form a robust, marketable portfolio of apartments designed for contemporary living.

Inside, a high-end residential concept is conceivable, featuring open-concept living and dining areas, generous windows, high-quality materials, and clearly structured floor plans. An underground parking garage can provide a functional and elegant solution to parking requirements while helping to keep the above-ground areas quiet, green, and of high quality. Modern building services, energy-efficient construction, and a contemporary building design would further strengthen the project. The requirements relevant in Switzerland regarding civil defense shelters and civil protection regulations must also be considered early on and seamlessly integrated into the further planning. Overall, this presents an opportunity for a project that not only impresses architecturally but also fulfills the standards of a high-quality, sustainable, and long-term value-retaining residential product in terms of its appeal.

Location, Quality of Life & Local Character

The location uniquely combines the Swiss quality of life, proximity to the water, and excellent cross-border accessibility. Tägerwilten is one of the most sought-after residential areas within the immediate vicinity of Kreuzlingen and Konstanz and benefits from its location in the attractive canton of Thurgau. From here, everything is within easy reach—whether you're heading toward the city, nature, or the water. The Seerhein, with its waterfront areas, harbor, beach, and expansive recreational spaces, is conveniently close; depending on the route, these amenities can be reached in just a few minutes. It is precisely this interplay of water, open spaces, Swiss tranquility, and proximity to urban life that gives the location a high degree of practicality for everyday living while also fostering an almost laid-back lifestyle.

Added to this is the combination of quality of life and location advantages, which is particularly appealing to many buyers. The border with Germany is just a short drive away, as are Kreuzlingen and Konstanz with their comprehensive infrastructure, shopping options, dining options, and cultural institutions.

Location, Quality of Life & Local Character

The area also boasts excellent regional connections: major transportation routes are just a short distance away, as are links to the Lake Constance region, eastern Switzerland, and beyond to the Rhine Falls—one of the region's most impressive natural attractions—which are easily accessible. For residents, this means being well-connected to urban areas while enjoying a scenic setting and a pleasantly peaceful atmosphere.

It is precisely this lifestyle that makes the location so special. Here, you don't live in anonymous urban density, but in an environment that combines openness, water, nature, and a high standard of living. The riverside landscape of the Seerhein, the proximity to the harbor and beach, the location near the border, and the tax advantages evident in the canton of Thurgau combine to create a location that is exceptionally appealing to both homeowners and investors, as well as project-oriented developers. It is the combination of short distances, a high quality of life, living close to nature, and excellent accessibility that gives this project location its particular strength.

Location

Tägerwilen is one of the most sought-after residential areas in the immediate border region with Konstanz, combining the Swiss quality of life with exceptional proximity to the water. The town is located in the canton of Thurgau, where municipal tax rates are attractive by cantonal standards; Tägerwilen is one of the most tax-friendly municipalities in the region. At the same time, the town benefits from its immediate proximity to Kreuzlingen and Konstanz, as well as its location on the Seerhein, which connects the Upper and Lower Lakes.

The high quality of leisure and living is particularly appealing: the Seerheinbad Tägerwilen / Zellersguet, with its large sunbathing lawn, swimming islands, diving tower, and natural access to the Rhine, is a real asset to the location. The waterfront area, the harbor locations around Kreuzlingen and Gottlieben, and the paths along the water also convey precisely that peaceful, high-quality lifestyle that makes this region so special. Konstanz is only about 4 km away and can be reached by direct train in about 7 minutes.

The location also offers excellent infrastructure: Zurich Airport is very well connected by road and rail; the travel time from Tägerwilen is about 51 minutes by car and approximately 1 hour and 17 minutes by train. Bodensee-Airport Friedrichshafen is located within the broader regional catchment area and is also easily accessible via the Lake Constance region; the distance by road is approximately 79 km. Thus, the location combines nature-oriented living on the Seerhein with short travel times to Constance, Kreuzlingen, Zurich, and further into the entire Lake Constance region all the way to the Rhine Falls.
