Our story

The Regentiv story began over twenty-five years ago, when Harley Street Skin Specialist Elaine Thornhill set out to create a skincare range that would not only maintain healthy-looking skin, but also target concerns such as acne and problematic skin.

With years of experience working alongside leading plastic surgeons and developing products to support skin healing before and after surgery, Elaine understood that her formulations needed to combine the most effective, high-quality ingredients with the best of both science and nature.

And so, Regentiv Specialist Skincare was born.

We know, love, and use these products ourselves. Each one is created with care, expertise, and a deep understanding of how to support the skin through every stage of life.

Trusted by professionals and loved by our loyal customers, Regentiv continues to deliver specialist skincare that helps you feel confident and comfortable in your skin.

The Specialist Serum

Our most celebrated preparation helps diminish the signs of ageing and improves overall skin tone and appearance.

The Specialist Serum visibly reduces fine lines, wrinkles, blemishes, pigmentation, open pores, signs of skin ageing and helps repair sun damage, acne scarring and post-surgery scars.

Continuity is the key, it has been formulated so that it can be used each day and every day caring for your skin in the best possible way by nurturing it today and for the future.

Created by our Harley Street Skin Specialist with our team of scientists at the laboratory and in consultation with an eminent Plastic Surgeon, it was originally developed to aid skin healing and scar reduction after surgery. The other skin health benefits were recognised after many years of The Specialist Serum being used in treatments with patients and seeing the results first hand.

The Specialist Serum's unique combination of ingredients gives you the ultimate results without irritation. The special anti-ageing and preventative regenerative formulation includes:

- Retinyl Palmitate, reduces facial fine lines and wrinkles by stimulating collagen production and accelerating skin cell metabolism. It is a Vitamin A derivative and its beneficial effects stem from being converted to Retinol within the skin
- Pure Vitamin E boosts the skin's natural moisture barrier and supports skin repair and healing. It acts as a powerful antioxidant, protecting against free radical damage
- Natural Concentrated Aloe Vera, helps the skin through its moisturising, anti-inflammatory and wound healing properties
- SPF 6-8

And so much more!

Highly recommended by Plastic Surgeons to aid skin healing for both before and after cosmetic surgery including face lifts, eye bag removal, scarring, accidental trauma, superficial burns and bruising.

Even if you feel a problem is not yet visible, preventative care is always a desirable option.

Suitable for all skin types and ages, even the most sensitive.

The Specialist Serum is a favourite worldwide – no skin should be without it.

How to use - for optimum results: Apply twice daily to a thoroughly cleansed skin over the entire face and neck paying particular attention to the eye area up to the lashes, the vertical lines surrounding the mouth and from the base of the neck.
