MEDICAL SKIN NEEDLING

Skin needling involves the use of a device equipped with fine needles that create tiny, controlled micro-injuries to the skin's surface, stimulating the body's natural healing response, triggering the production of collagen and elastin, which are essential for youthful, firm, and glowing skin.

3D AREOLA TATTOO

3D areola tattooing is a highly specialized form of medical tattooing designed to restore the natural appearance of the nipple and areola after breast reconstruction surgery. Using advanced shading and colour techniques, a realistic, three-dimensional effect is created — bringing softness, balance, and a sense of wholeness back to the breast area.

This treatment is deeply personal and emotionally significant. It marks the final step in a long and often difficult journey through breast cancer, mastectomy, or reconstruction. Each tattoo is done with the utmost care, privacy, and respect, honouring both the physical and emotional healing process. My goal is to help you feel confident, complete, and comfortable in your body again — because you deserve to feel whole after all you've endured.
