The Trustees of The College of Podiatry Trust (who are also Directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are not remunerated.

Report of Trustees

College of Podiatry Trust history

When The College of Podiatry Trust was established, initial funding was provided by closing a research fund known as the Runting Foundation and transferring the funding of approximately £12,000 into the newly established College of Podiatry Trust. This, along with a grant from The College of Podiatry (as it was named at the time) provided a total available fund of £100,000 within the newly established Trust. During 2018, the College transitioned into one organisation and the functionality and workstreams of the original College (pre-merger) transferred to the Directorate of Clinical Leadership and Education within The College of Podiatry at the half year stage. During the 2020 financial year there was no activity as planning took place to decide The College of Podiatry Trust's future operations, and in 2021 & 2022 further delays took place due to the pandemic. In March 2023, the Trust started to award grants.

Structure, governance and management

The Royal College of Podiatry is the sole member of The College of Podiatry Trust for the purposes of company law. Through its Council, the Royal College appoints the Trustees of The College of Podiatry Trust. The College of Podiatry Trust is a company limited by guarantee, a registered charity in England and Wales, and a charity registered in Scotland. The Royal College is governed by its Articles of Association, as well as the Charities Act and any related legislation. New Trustees undergo an induction programme, and all Trustees have further group or individual training where specific needs are identified. Day-to-day running of the Trust is delegated by the Board of Trustees to the Chief Executive, senior staff, and staff of the College.

Public benefit

The Trustees have paid due regard to the guidance on public benefit published by the Charity Commission in exercising their powers and planning the activities of the charity. The Trustees are satisfied that the Trust, as a charitable trust as well as a company limited by guarantee, has charitable purposes as set out in the Charities Act 2011 covering the advancement of health, research and education and the relief of poverty for the public benefit.

Future plans

The Royal College of Podiatry, parent company of The College of Podiatry Trust, wishes to maintain its status as the leading professional organisation for chiropodists and podiatrists. The Royal College wishes its members to be leaders in their field with the knowledge and skills that will raise the prestige of podiatry even higher. To achieve this, our members need the opportunities, infrastructure, and quality resources to maintain and improve on their clinical skills and operational processes.

Functions of the Trust

The functions of the Trust are wide and varied however fall into four separate categories:

- Research
- Podiatric Education
- Travel to explore overseas practice and knowledge sharing
- Policy Development

Research

To retain the research ethos of the Runting Foundation, one of the main functions of The College of Podiatry Trust is in the field of research. The Trust is not restricted in the types of research it will fund. The funds will be distributed as a grant and could be used to enable an early-career researcher to carry out a small piece of work or alternatively form part of a collaboratively funded research project submitted by a University / NHS research group. The research carried out must contribute to the body of knowledge which constitutes the profession of podiatry and/or contributes to data collection supporting the everyday work of The Royal College of Podiatry.

Podiatric Education

Podiatric education may fall into several categories, however, The College of Podiatry Trust may consider funding Continuing Professional Development to support existing and future podiatric practice. Funds may be released as a contribution to pump prime short course development and delivery. All short courses benefiting from The College of Podiatry Trust should align with The Royal College of Podiatry's strategic plan. Following successful delivery of the short course the loan must be repaid in full to the College of Podiatry Trust.

Travel

Clinical development, learning a new technique or procedure often requires the member or Fellow to travel either locally or internationally. Many clinicians currently may be unable to fund such development, and this may impede their clinical development. The College of Podiatry Trust may be utilised to fund, or part fund, such activity.

Following Brexit, undergraduate students no longer have access to Erasmus funded activity. In the past the Erasmus scheme has been used to fund student exchange and conference attendance. The College of Podiatry Trust may be utilised to fund or part fund this type of undergraduate activity.

Policy Development

Policy development in podiatry is evolving rapidly as governments around the United Kingdom and abroad grapple with issues such as health and social care. Public consultations and policy papers play an essential role in the process of regulating in new and rapidly developing areas and they provide vital opportunities for our organisation to provide input into the policy process.

The Royal College of Podiatry regularly submits comments to UK and international consultations in a variety of areas. The combination of research policy and data expertise ensures that the responses are targeted, informed and effective. The public policy functions can also advise on the clinical and practice developments.

Services include:

- Monitoring legislative initiatives on policy makers, governments and regulators
- Drafting formal responses to consultation papers and monitoring consultation processes
- Stakeholder and policy maker mapping
- Drafting position papers and advocacy
- Attending stakeholder engagement meetings
- Preparing draft provisions of legislation or guidance

The College of Podiatry Trust would enable future policy work to be developed to support and underpin future consultations and political influencing strategies.

Financial review

The total income for the year was £8,416 (2022: £Nil). Expenditure in 2023 was £8,416 (2022: £Nil). As explained previously within this report, there was no expenditure during 2021 and 2022 as we had just come out of Covid and the structures and strategies were being initiated, thus very little activities happened before in the past few years.

Designated reserves

The College of Podiatry Trust has previously designated the £100,000 grant from the Royal College for the purpose of maintaining a balance sheet reserve of £100,000 at the financial year 31st December 2023.

Reserves policy

The Royal College of Podiatry, as the parent organisation, acts as a guarantor for The College of Podiatry Trust and has sufficient reserves for its own and the Charity's reserve policy of a level equivalent to meeting six months of operating costs and maintaining them at this level.

Risk management

The Trustees have instituted procedures to identify and examine the major strategic, business and operational risks that the charity faces. The necessary systems have been established to enable regular reports to be provided to them to ensure that action is taken to mitigate the effect of the identified risks.

Going concern

The Trustees have set out above a review of financial performance and the charity's reserves position, including its relationship with The Royal College of Podiatry. In their view, the charity has adequate financial resources, and the Trustees remain well placed to manage the business risks. The Trustees' planning process, including financial projections, has taken into consideration the current economic climate and its potential impact on the various sources of income and planned expenditure. The Trustees have a reasonable expectation that the charity has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. The Trustees believe there are no material uncertainties that call into doubt the charity's ability to continue. The accounts have therefore been prepared on the basis that the charity is a going concern.

In the preparation of this report, advantage has been taken of the small companies exemption under section 415A of the Companies Act.

Trustees' responsibilities

The Trustees (who are also the Directors of The College of Podiatry Trust for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Report of the Trustees and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (UK Accounting Standards). Company law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under company law, the Trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period.

In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP; make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charitable company's transactions, disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006 and the provisions of the charity's constitution. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Trustees are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the corporate and financial information included on the Royal College's website. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

So far as each of the Trustees at the date of this report is aware, there is no relevant audit information of which the charity's auditors are unaware. Each Trustee has taken all the steps that he/she ought to have taken as a Trustee in order to make himself/herself aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the charity's auditors are aware of that information.

Independent Auditors' Report to the Trustees and Members of The College of Podiatry Trust

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of The College of Podiatry Trust (the 'charitable company') for the year ended 31 December 2023 which comprise the Income and Expenditure Accounts, Balance Sheet, Statement of Changes in Funds, Cashflow Statement, and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland" (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion, the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 31 December 2023 and of its loss for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice;
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate. Our evaluation of the trustees' assessment of the company's ability to continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting included review of forecasts prepared by management and post year end performance of the entity.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the annual report. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of the audit:

- the information given in the trustees' report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the trustees' report has been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the trustees' report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit period

Responsibilities of Trustees

As explained more fully in the trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 5, the trustees are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

The extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud

Irregularities are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. The objectives of our audit are to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding compliance with laws and regulations that have a direct effect on the determination of material amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, to perform audit procedures to help identify instances of non-compliance with other laws and regulations that may have a material effect on the financial statements, and to respond appropriately to identified or suspected non-compliance with laws and regulations identified during the audit.

In relation to fraud, the objectives of our audit are to identify and assess the risk of material misstatement of the financial statements due to fraud, to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the assessed risks of material misstatement due to fraud through designing and implementing appropriate responses and to respond appropriately to fraud or suspected fraud identified during the audit.

However, it is the primary responsibility of management, with the oversight of those charged with governance, to ensure that the entity's operations are conducted in accordance with the provisions of laws and regulations and for the prevention and detection of fraud.

In identifying and assessing risks of material misstatement in respect of irregularities, including fraud, the audit engagement team:

- obtained an understanding of the nature of the industry and sector, including the legal and regulatory framework that the company operates in and how the company is complying with the legal and regulatory framework;
- inquired of management, and those charged with governance, about their own identification and assessment of the risks of irregularities, including any known actual, suspected or alleged instances of fraud;
- discussed matters about non-compliance with laws and regulations and how fraud might occur including assessment of how and where the financial statements may be susceptible to fraud.

As a result of these procedures we consider the most significant laws and regulations that have a direct impact on the financial statements is GDPR legislation. During the course of the audit we did not identify any breach of GDPR legislation.

The most significant laws and regulations that have an indirect impact on the financial statements are those in relation to the Care Act 2014. We performed audit procedures to inquire of management whether the charitable company is in compliance with these law and regulations and inspected correspondence with regulatory authorities.

The audit engagement team identified the risk of management override of controls as the area where the financial statements were most susceptible to material misstatement due to fraud. Audit procedures performed included but were not limited to testing manual journal entries and other adjustments and evaluating the business rationale in relation to significant, unusual transactions and transactions entered into outside the normal course of business, challenging judgments and estimates applied. A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at:

<http://www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities>

This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

1 ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) Company information

The College of Podiatry Trust is a company limited by guarantee and incorporated in England and Wales (02836276). The entity is also a registered charity in the United Kingdom (1145855) and Scotland (SC043965). The registered office is Quartz House, 207 Providence Square, Mill Street, London, SE1 2EW.

The charity's operations and principal activities are disclosed in the Report of the Trustees.

b) Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019) - (Charities SORP (FRS 102)), the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) and the Companies Act 2006.

The College of Podiatry Trust meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102. Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at historical cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policies.

The financial statements are prepared in sterling, which is the functional currency of the company. Monetary amounts in these financial statements are rounded to the nearest £.

c) Fund accounting

Current College funds are all unrestricted. They can therefore be used at the discretion of the Trustees in furtherance of Objects of the Charity.

d) Income

Income is recognised when the charity has entitlement to the funds, it is probable that the income will be received, and the amount can be measured reliably.

e) Expenditure

All expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and includes VAT under partial exemption rules. Expenditure is allocated to relevant activity categories on a basis that is consistent with the use of the resource.

f) Cash

Cash includes cash in hand and at bank. There are no cash equivalents.

g) Financial instruments

The charity only has financial assets and financial liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments (debtors owed to parent and accrued income). Basic financial instruments are recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at their settlement value.

h) Judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

In the application of the charitable company's accounting policies, the Trustees are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amount of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates. The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised where the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods where the revision affects both current and future periods. There are no areas of significant judgement/estimation.

i) Going concern

At the time of approving the financial statements, the Trustees have a reasonable expectation that the charity has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. The Trust holds a bank balance of £100,000 from which the donations are funded, the College as sole shareholder of the Trust is obliged to top up the balance to £100,000 at the end of each year. Thus, the Trustees continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the financial statements.

2 CHARITABLE ACTIVITIES

The College of Podiatry Trust has charitable status and is exempt from capital and income taxes. Only partial exemption from value added tax is obtained.

3 EXPENDITURE

Support costs are allocated to activities in proportion to the number of staff engaged in each area. Total governance costs are included in support costs and are allocated to activities in proportion to the number of staff engaged in each activity.

4 AUDITORS' REMUNERATION

All costs in relation to the charity audit are paid by the parent company, The Royal College of Podiatry.

5 STAFFING

No staff cost was charged against the Trust in 2023 nor 2022.

6 TRUSTEES' EXPENSES AND REMUNERATION

The Royal College considers its key management personnel to be its Board of Trustees. No Trustee received remuneration for services during the years 2023 and 2022.

11 PARENT UNDERTAKING

The ultimate parent undertaking of The College of Podiatry Trust is The Royal College of Podiatry, which also exercises control over the reporting entity. This control is demonstrated through the three Trustees with an oversight from The Royal College of Podiatry Council. The College of Podiatry is a company registered in England and Wales (company registration number 400709).

The parent is established for the promotion and regulation of the profession of chiropody and podiatry and all the matters affecting chiropodists and podiatrists. In the opinion of the Trustees of the parent company, the income and net assets of the College Trust is not material in the context of The Royal College of Podiatry accounts, and therefore consolidated group accounts have not been prepared.

In the current and prior period, the following transactions took place between the Royal College and the College Trust:

At 31 December 2023, £8,936 was owed to the College Trust (2022: £520).
