Bring on the collards New Year's traditions vary all over the world--from Turkey to Spain

By Henry E. Green

We all have different ways of welcoming in the New Year, and different traditions.

Here in the South we eat collards and black-eyed peas to ensure prosperity. In other parts of the country, not so much...

"We don't eat collards," said a friend who grew up in Pennsylvania.

No, in the Keystone State, mashed potatoes and sauerkraut are apt to be on the New Year's Day menu, we're told.

New Year's Day traditions vary, of course, not only throughout the United States but around the world. According to bestlifeonline. com

--In Spain, people will eat 12 grapes at the stroke of midnight on New Year's Eve.

--In Brazil, people throw white flowers into the ocean and then drinking the sub-on New Year's Eve. --Italians like to wear red underwear to ring in the New Year. In Italian culture, the color red is associated with fertility.

--Greeks hang onions on their doors on New Year's Eve, as onions are a symbol of rebirth.

--In Chile, New Year's Eve masses are typically held in cemeteries, allowing for people to sit with deceased family members and include them in festivities.

--In Denmark, it is a tradition to throw china at the front doors of friends and neighbors on New Year's Eve. The thought is that by doing so you leave aggression and hard feelings behind before the New Year comes in.

--Russians have a New Year's tradition of writing down their wishes on paper, burning them with a candle, sequent ashes in a glass of champagne.

--In Turkey, it is customary to sprinkle salt on your doorstep as soon as the clock strikes midnight on New Year's Eve.

--Finally, according to www.tasteofhome.com. there is in Colombia a New Year's Eve tradition involving potatoes.

On the last night of the year, Colombians place three potatoes beneath the bed--one peeled, one not peeled, and one half-peeled.

At midnight, they reach under the bed and the first potato they touch will signify what kind of luck they will have in the New Year.

A peeled potato will mean financial problems, one with its skin intact means abundance, and one that is half-peeled somewhere in between.

By Henry E. Green The year 2021 produced a number of good things for the City of Abbeville.

The City was awarded a number of grants, among them a $500,000 basic infrastructure grant from the South Carolina Rural Infrastructure Authority for the North Main Waterline Replacement project.

The Abbeville Spring Festival, presented annually by the City of Abbeville had been canceled in 2020 due to COVID concerns, but the City brought the festival back in 2021.

In other news, the City named a new Director of Public Works--Greg Barfield.

In addition, the City replaced aging seats at the Opera House, Abbeville's community theater.

City Council member Benji Greeson was elected Mayor Pro Tem by his fellow City Council members.

Also, in a special City Council election to fill the seat vacated by Trey Edwards when he was elected Mayor last year, John Sutherland was elected to City Council,

On a less positive note, 2020 Census figures showed that the City had lost population over the past 10 years.

Please note: The Press and Banner will be closed Friday, December 31st in observance of New Year's Eve. We will return to our regular hours on Monday, January 3rd. Have a happy New Year!

Blame it on the 'o' Covid-19 pandemic dragged on in 2021, thanks to the omicron variant

By Henry E. Green

Should we call it the year of disappointment?

Many were hoping that 2021 would be the year that the pandemic would be vanquished and life finally would get back to normal. Alas, it was not to be.

Blame it on the "O," as in "omicron variant." This variant of COVID-19 replicated at a dizzying rate, prompting a massive surge in infections in the latter part of the year.

Still, the silver lining was real. December of 2021 cannot compare with the sheer terror of April 2020.

As President Biden noted, we now have vaccines--and booster shots--and we are far more knowledgeable about the virus.

Restaurants are open, movie theaters are welcoming people to the silver screen, and people are traveling, but in places like New York the lines are long for people waiting to be tested for COVID.

There are far too many "breakthrough" cases of fully vaccinated people getting infected, but the chances that these people will get seriously ill are low.

Still, the question, "Have you been tested?" is being heard far too often.

Adding to the pandemic woes is the roaring lion of inflation--the worst it has been in decades.

All we can do is grit our teeth and press on.

Meanwhile, here in Abbeville County, 2021 has had its share of interesting happenings.

Among the things that caught our attention:

Abbeville City Council acquired a new City Council member this year. John Sutherland came out on top in a special election held to fill the seat vacated when Trey Edwards was elected Mayor of Abbeville.

Calhoun Falls elected a new mayor--challenger Terrico Holland defeated incumbent Chris Cowan in November.

Calhoun Falls Town Council member Wayne Pless died in January after an illness.

In April, Howard Harmon won a special election to fill Pless's unexpired term. And the Abbeville County School District Board of Trustees saw a changing of the guard. Trustee Buster Taylor retired from the board after many years of service, and taking his place, in a special election in which she ran unopposed, was Glynda Bryson.

These are just a few of the things that occupied our attention in 2021. There are many more--look at this edition of The Press and Banner to check them out.

Nourishing things UCMAC has food pantry system

By Henry E. Green

Anyone who has seen the musical Oliver! knows the song "Food, Glorious Food." It's a safe bet that the folks who operate the food pantry system of the United Christian Ministries of Abbeville County can relate to it.

The United Christian Ministries of Abbeville County food pantry system helps feed people in need, and has been the beneficiary of a number of food drives this year.

Westwood Elementary, Department of Social Services, Piedmont Technical College, and Abbeville High School FBLA have all recently conducted food drives for UCMAC. odist Church supplies beef stew, while Grace United Methodist Church is the "peanut butter church"--just to name a few.

These commodities are among the items that go into each box of food given out by the food pantry system. Each box of food contains the following items: beef stew, tuna, peanut butter, jelly, canned fruit, green beans, corn, spaghetti, spaghetti sauce, macaroni and cheese, pinto beans, rice and grits.

"We're very fortunate and blessed," Shirley said. UCMAC also buys food from organizations such as Second Harvest.

The organization distrib-

"We do not charge anything for the food or services that the families enjoy," said Shirley. "But if they receive food stamps or SS disability they are approved for UCMAC food. If they do not receive any assistance, then we use the Federal income guidelines for family size and help for approval."

The Abbeville pantry, located at Main Street United Methodist Church in Abbeville at 300 North Main, is open on Friday mornings from 9:30 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. The Calhoun Falls pantry is open on the first and third Thursdays of every month from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The Lowndesville pantry is open on the third Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.

There was a Veterans Day parade in Calhoun Falls in November of 2021, and this float featured local veterans. (Staff photo by Henry E. Green)

Happy New Year, and thanks for being such wonderful neighbors!

Abbeville Farm Bureau presented a $1,000 donation for the food pantry.

"They are very much appreciated," said Shirley.

Most of the food distributed through the food pantry system is supplied by local churches, each of which provides a particular commodity.

For example, First Baptist Church of Abbeville supplies spaghetti sauce, and Main Street United Methutes food through three pantries--one in Abbeville, one in Calhoun Falls, and one in Lowndesville.

Shirley works with a group of volunteers at the food pantry network--15 volunteers at the Abbeville pantry, about eight in Calhoun Falls, and a variable number in Lowndesville.

"They prepare the boxes and distribute them to clients," he said. And the clients? The food pantry system is one of three component ministries making up UCMAC--the other two include a medical clinic and an emergency assistance ministry.

UCMAC is a nonprofit, all-volunteer organization built on a network of collaborating churches.

AHS cheerleaders enjoy trip to Hawaii

By Henry E. Green

Three Abbeville High School cheerleaders recently enjoyed a trip to Hawaii, where they performed as part of a Pearl Harbor memorial parade, helping mark the 80th anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor. The group included junior Riley Jones, senior Drew Beauford, junior Kamaria Gray, and coaches Maggie Jameson, Samantha Sutton and Bethany Minick.

They were among 600 cheerleaders and dancers invited to participate in the Varsity Spirit Pearl Harbor Memorial Parade activities in Honolulu Dec. 4-8, said Jameson, who is also the AHS athletic director.

"The girls had a great time and were able to enjoy the beaches of Hawaii and travel to spend a day at Pearl Harbor," said Jameson.

"Although the majority of the week was very rainy, the rain cleared just in time for the parade and to allow us to have two full days of sunshine which we used to snorkel, hike Diamond Head, and go to a luau, thanks to the support of the community."

All three girls are also on the Abbeville Competition Cheer Team, and Drew was accompanied by her family as well, Jameson went on to say.

Individuals chosen to perform were among those chosen as All Americans during cheerleading camps held throughout the country. In Hawaii, the cheerleaders performed prior to the parade and during the parade itself.

Sponsors for the trip included Diana Pet Foods, Kathy Baughman, Hite and Stone, Matt Horne Surety, and the Magnet Group and Castelli. She also thanked all the members of the community who contributed during the numerous fundraisers the group had in preparation for the trip.

"They would not have been able to attend without the support of the community," she said.

Another new item on the City scene was the Juneteenth festival, held in the city the weekend of June 19.

Featuring a blend of speakers, music, and food, Juneteenth commemorated the

a Word from "THE WORD"

Rev. Dr. John Keith

Refuge

jkeithfbca@gmail.com

Psalm 9:9 "The Lord also will be a refuge for the oppressed, a refuge in times of trouble."

There is no doubt that we live in troubled times. The more one listens to the news the more one becomes agitated and stressed. Sometimes I feel like Charlie Brown. He is listening to the news and the newscaster says, "More bad news..." and Charlie Brown muses out loud, "How bad is it?" And the announcer says, "It is so bad there will be no details at 11." I can identify with that and more than likely you can as well.

Psalm 9:9 shares some good news with us-we have a refuge for troubling times-it is none other than the Lord Himself. Twice in this verse the word refuge is mentioned, that is an emphasis. Three thoughts come to mind concerning a refuge.

The first thought is, when does one need a refuge? When one is hurt, a refuge is needed. This world in which we live inflicts hurt indiscriminately on folks: good folks, bad folks, wealthy folks, poor folks, etc. No one is exempt from the hurts of this world.

If you are hurting, Jesus is the refuge you need. Run to His sheltering arms. A refuge is needed when one is fatigued. Life can be fatiguing, you may be frazzled to the point of exhaustion-many folks are this time of year. If that describes you, Jesus is the refuge you need. Go to Him, rest in His loving arms. One needs a refuge when an enemy is putting pressure on you. David knew that feeling well when he was running and hiding from Saul. You too may know the pressure of an enemy putting pressure on you. Run to the arms of Jesus and let him be your refuge.

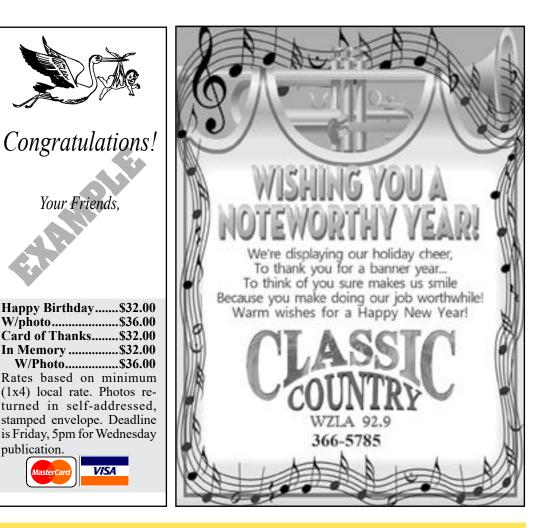

The second thought is, why does one need a refuge? A refuge is necessary in order for us to recover. Sometimes the most spiritual thing you can do is get away and rest for awhile. A refuge is necessary when one is at the end of his endurance. Sometimes we get at the end of our rope, so to speak. When that happens, run to Jesus. Let Him be your refuge to rest and recover your strength.

The third thought is, what happens in a refuge? One gets new vigor, new vitality that is necessary to continue on with life's struggles. A refuge often gives one a new vision for what he ought to do. It is surprising what one learns when he takes time out to reflect and think over a situation-often new insight its the result and along with that renewed strength.

Wherever you are in your life, spend some time in the refuge that Jesus offers. You just might be amazed at the results.

These folks are waiting for their chance to take the "Walk through Bethlehem" at Cold Springs Mennonite Church in rural Abbeville County recently. Two churches mark significant birthdays

By Henry E. Green Two Abbeville County churches celebrated significant birthdays in 2021.

The First Baptist Church of Abbeville celebrated its 150th birthday, and Lebanon Presbyterian Church marked 200 years of history. First Baptist is located in the city of Abbeville, on North Main, and Lebanon Presbyterian is on the Mt. Carmel Road between Abbeville and Calhoun Falls. Both churches marked these significant anniversaries with special programs. At First Baptist, former pastors were among the speakers for a homecoming program held in May.

Lebanon Presbyterian's roots go back to 1821, and the church, like First Baptist, held a special program, highlighting the church's history.

Lebanon pastor John Butler had been spearheading an effort to identify what is believed to be a burial site, located behind the church, for enslaved people, a burial site dating from the 19th century.

Dixie won state title in girls cross country

By Henry E. Green

The year 2021 saw its share of news for local schools.

Here were just a few of the news tidbits which made headlines in 2021.

The Dixie High School girls cross country team won the state championship in 2021, under the guidance of coach Cayce Prescott, and the boys cross country team came in second in the state. In football, Abbeville High School captured the Region title, but lost in the playoffs to Gray Collegiate.

Despite the loss, the Panthers had some memorable moments during their season.

Panther Jeremiah Lomax had an incredible string of pick sixes during the regular season.

Dixie High School was upset in the first round of the state playoffs in 1-A football by Great Falls.

Dixie also finished second in the state in 1-A softball. The Lady Hornets clinched the Upper State championship, but lost in the state championship series to Lake View.

Artist Guild to use ALT space at Library

By Henry E. Green

The Abbeville Artist Guild is expected to be joining forces with the Abbeville County Library System in 2022.

The Guild is planning a busy January, starting with a new way to use an Abbeville County Library space that opened this year.

Beginning on Wednesday, Jan. 5, at 2 p.m. and continuing on the first Wednesday of every month, Guild members will gather in the Abbeville County Library's ALT space to create art and receive help from fellow artists.

"We can critique work, offer opinions, and share techniques and tips," according to the Guild news release.

"If you know of a particular product that is working especially well for you, bring it in and tell everyone. Bring in artwork that is giving you a hard time, or just bring your supplies and create. If you have art or hobby supplies, that you are no longer using, donate them to the ALT."

There will also be an Artist Guild awards party on Saturday, Jan. 15, at the Village Grill at 6 p.m.

Finally, the Guild will present a workshop on Saturday, Jan. 29, entitled "Acrylic Pour, Do it Your Way," from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. with artist Buddy Wilson.

The ALT, meanwhile, is located within the Abbeville County Library System's main branch, located on North Main in Abbeville, ALT is shorthand for "alternative space."

The ALT opened earlier this year, and Library System director Mary Elizabeth Land described in an interview how the space can be used for a great many things.

"It will be a multi purpose area with a stage for speakers and performances," she said. "It will also have numerous stations for creative activities. There will also be a station with classic games like Monopoly and Trivial Pursuit."

The Abbeville Artist Guild is a nonprofit organization that promotes the arts here in Abbeville County.

What Really Happened in Jonestown?

By Geoff Hult

First off, this writing is not about racial issues or race relations in any way. It is about a historical event that involved the mass death of over 900 Americans that the American people have not been told the truth about.

The official version of history is that 913 primarily black Americans committed mass suicide in a compound known as Jonestown in the jungles of the South American country of Guyana on November 18th, 1978. They were part of a religious cult known as The People's Temple under the complete control of their charismatic leader Jim Jones, who convinced them to commit suicide by drinking poison laced Kool-Aid. Jones then allegedly shot himself in the early morning hours of November 19th.

The CIA had opened a file on Jones long before Jonestown, perhaps because he was indeed a cult leader who was practicing faith healing, voodoo, and ESP; and perhaps for his eventual incorporation into the CIA. Jones established The People's Temple in 1965 in Ukiah, CA, and then moved it to San Francisco. He was very well connected and despite numerous reports of defectors being murdered, sexual abuse, and people being defrauded out of money and possessions, Jones was protected by the power structure. He moved The People's Temple to Jonestown in 1977. The land on which the compound of Jonestown sat had been purchased in 1974 by George Phillip Blakey, a CIA operative, and had been used by the CIA to train black mercenaries in what was known as "The Shalom Project" for warfare in Angola. Jones did not have to set up camp so to speak, the camp was ready and waiting. San Francisco based US Congressman Leo Ryan had authored and initiated legislation, The Hughes-Ryan amendment, which stipulated that the CIA must disclose to Congress the details of their covert operations. Ryan suspected Jonestown was perhaps a CIA medical/mind control operation under project MK-ULTRA, and repeatedly asked the State Department for any and all information about the goings on down there. They refused to cooperate with Ryan's requests for information, and instead provided Jim Jones information about all of Ryan's inquiries. Ryan and others arrived Jonestown unannounced on November 17th for their own investigation. Included in Ryan's entourage was State Dept. Representative Richard Dwyer, who also happened to be undercover CIA. Some members of the cult were allowed to leave with Ryan but at the local airport on November 18th, a group of gunmen opened fire on the group, killing Congressman Ryan, 2 NBC crewmen, and 2 others. The Hughes-Ryan legislation conveniently died in Congress soon after Ryan's death.

In the early morning hours of November 19th, a CIA radio channel reported a mass suicide had taken place in Jonestown. Initially, the number of bodies reported by the Guyanese authorities was 408. Over the course of the next week, the official count came to 913. The explanation that bodies were lying under other bodies for this discrepancy does not pan out. This was apparently an experiment to see if people could be brainwashed to commit mass suicide but they didn't, and instead fled. The 500 plus people who attempted to flee into the jungles were caught and executed by, in all likelihood, US and British special forces who were, coincidentally, on "training missions" in the area at the time. They were then brought back and laid face down and the scene was staged to appear as a peaceful mass suicide. It was also widely reported that heavily armed white soldiers guarded Jonestown prior to the event. The bodies were left to rot in the sun for a week, making it difficult to later conduct autopsies and determine what had really happened. They were eventually sent back to the US by the military and the majority cremated. What has been edited out of official history is that the top Chief Medical Examiner of Guyana, Dr. Leslie Mootoo, examined the bodies on site and determined that approximately 80% of them had been forcibly injected from behind in their left shoulder blade with cyanide, and that the rest of them had been either shot or strangled to death. Jonestown was a mass murder, not a mass suicide. Also, there was a sophisticated hospital in Jonestown where people received daily medical "checkups." There were enough drugs at the site to drug the capital of Georgetown. The drugs included quaaludes, valium, morphine, demerol, sodium pentathol(truth serum), cyanide, and thorazine. All these drugs were known to have been used in previous MK-ULTRA experiments. A medical facility and abundance of drugs such as this on site strongly indicates involvement of high levels of the power structure and something beyond the scope of one cult leader like Jim Jones.

At a press conference on May 23rd, 1980, former Aide to Congressman Ryan, Joseph Holsinger, stated: "I received a lot of documentation, which I provide for you here today, that indicates the strong possibility that Jonestown and The People's Temple was, in reality, a mass mind control experiment conducted by the CIA as a follow up to MK-UL-TRA." Holsinger also cited a 1979 article entitled "The Penal Colony" by Berkeley psychologist Richard Ofshe. From this article: "There can be no doubt that the control of the human mind and behavior, of individuals, groups and entire populations has been a top priority and central strategy of US intelligence agencies for 30 years. MK-ULTRA coordinated 149 projects involving thousands of experiments and operations on prisoners, mental patients, and others in the US and elsewhere. Tens of thousands of people were subjects of experimentation against their will or knowledge. The research of hundreds of scientists was coordinated, unknown to them, by CIA front organizations. Every possible technique for influencing people against their will or knowledge was tested." 20 months after Leo Ryan's death, his 5 adult children filed a lawsuit alleging that Jonestown was infiltrated with agents of the Central Intelligence Agency and using it as an MK-ULTRA experiment. Also, that Richard Dwyer of the CIA knew and did not inform Ryan of this before going down, although Ryan suspected it. This suit of course went nowhere because to acknowledge it as valid exposes the entire system of being a massive criminal enterprise. The major media and the rest of government covered for Jim Jones and this operation, before and after the fatal event, demonstrating the interconnected nature of the system. It is also worth noting that the masterminds behind the birth of MK-ULTRA were Nazi scientists that were incorporated into US intelligence after World War 2. US Senate As Inflation Soars, Scott Stands Up For Farmers and Ranchers

Submitted by Senator Tim Scott

WASHINGTON - U.S. Senator Tim Scott (R-S.C.) joined Senate Agriculture Committee Ranking Member John Boozman (R-Ark.), Senator John Thune (R-S.D.), and several of their colleagues in urging federal financial regulators to provide community banks, credit unions, and Farm Credit institutions with the regulatory flexibility they need to responsibly work with their agriculture clients as the profit margins of farmers and ranchers shrink from higher input costs. The senators are also requesting that federal financial regulators monitor how inflation and inflationary-related pressures are affecting the agriculture industry and, in turn, the community financial institutions that serve it.

"The destructive impact of inflation has already affected individuals, families, and businesses across the nation, and no one is immune from these price increases," the senators wrote. "Caused in large part by an unprecedented increase in federal government spending, in addition to supply chain bottlenecks, these higher prices are not just increasing grocery bills and home heating costs, but they are also raising costs on businesses, including on our nation's farmers and ranchers."

The letter was also signed by Senators John Barrasso (R-Wyo.), Mike Braun (R-Ind.), Bill Cassidy (R-La.), Chuck Grassley (R-Iowa), Bill Hagerty (R-Tenn.), James Inhofe (R-Okla.), John Kennedy (R-La.), James Lankford (R-Okla.), Jim Risch (R-Idaho), and Thom Tillis (R-N.C.).

Senator Scott is committed to investigating and pushing back against any actions taken by the administration that contribute to inflation, which takes its greatest toll on low-income Americans.

US Senate Senators Scott and Hassan Introduce Bill to Expand Educator Tax Deduction

Submitted by Senator Tim Scott

WASHINGTON – Today, U.S. Senators Tim Scott (R-S.C.) and Maggie Hassan (D-N.H.) introduced a bill to extend the educator Expense Tax Deduction to K-12 athletic coaches and administrators. This bill will amend the tax code to allow K-12 coaches to be classified as "eligible educators" in order to be eligible for tax deductions for out-ofpocket expenses relating to instructional expenses.

"Coaches and athletic administrators are often integral to the success of students both in and out of the classroom," said Senator Tim Scott. "It is only right that we expand the tax code of getting tax cuts to help cover out-of-pocket costs for supplies when all other teachers have that option. I am glad to introduce this bill with Senator Scott that would include athletic directors and coaches in the group of educators who can get certain out-of-pocket expenses covered, and I urge my colleagues to join us in supporting this legislation."

Several organizations have expressed support for this bill including Nike, Inc, adidas America, Inc, Sports and Fitness Industry Association, and the National Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association (NIAAA).

"We thank Senator Tim Scott (R-SC) and Senator Maggie Hassan (D-NH) for this bill that directly offers a positive benefit to interscholastic athletic administrators." said NIAAA Executive Director Dr. Mike Blackburn. "Just as the original 1986 IRS code allows deductions for outof-pocket educator costs, this bill offers the same financial option to those in the profession of high school and middle school athletic administration and coaching. We appreciate our supportive members of the U. S. Congress, as well as our advocates, and NIAAA Board of Directors."

"Interscholastic athletics is an integral component of the education system. First and foremost, we are thankful for the actions of Senator Tim Scott (R-SC) and Senator Maggie Hassan (D-NH) for recognizing interscholastic athletic administrators and interscholastic athletic coaches as educators. The financial options of the tax bill is a welcomed addition and is very much appreciated," said NIAAA President Dr. Lisa L. Langston. BACKGROUND

Under current law, only "eligible educators" are able to utilize the $250 tax credit for out-of-pocket related instructional expenses.

"For YaHuWaH shall bring every work into judgment, including all that is hidden, whether good or whether evil." (Ecclesiastes 12:14)

Geoff Hult nonwo222@gmail.com to ensure that they receive the same benefits as they continue to personally invest in the future of students across America."

"Athletic directors and coaches across New Hampshire play an important role in setting students up for success, including by fostering health and wellness and helping student-athletes get on the road to college," Senator Hassan said. "It is nonsensical that coaches are left out "Eligible educator" means, with respect to any taxable year, an individual who is a kindergarten through grade 12 teacher, instructor, counselor, principal, or aide in a school for at least 900 hours during a school year.

Athletic administrators and coaches can be considered eligible educators and receive these tax deductions as they also provide critical instruction to students and often pay for their expenses out of their own pockets.

Rep. Duncan Introduces "Protecting Our Democracy by Preventing Foreign Citizens from Voting Act"

Submitted by Congressman Jeff Duncan

Washington, D.C.-Congressman Jeff Duncan announced he will introduce the Protecting Our Democracy by Preventing Foreign Citizens from Voting Act, which would prohibit the disbursement of Federal funds to State and local governments that allow non-citizens of the United States to vote in any Federal, State, or local election. This legislation builds upon previous work from Congressman Duncan, originally introduced in 2018, to prohibit non-citizen voting in elections.

"Voting in this country is a right that should solely be limited to American citizens. Allowing non-citizens or illegal immigrants to vote, even if only in state or local elections, gives foreign nationals influence on some of the most important decisions impacting our families, our rights, and our representation in government," said Congressman Jeff Duncan. "Non-citizen voting has the potential to exacerbate the border crisis and cause a greater erosion of confidence in our electoral process. Non-citizen voting is not some sort of farfetched idea—it is currently allowed in New York, San Francisco, and even in the suburbs of our nation's capital. I will not stand for this sort of globalist extremism that attempts to undermine what it means to be an American citizen. I am honored to work with Senator Marco Rubio on this very important effort to safeguard the security of our elections."

"It's ridiculous that states are allowing foreign citizens to vote," Senator Marco Rubio said. "However, if states and localities do let those who are not U.S. citizens to vote in elections, they shouldn't get U.S. citizen taxpayer money."

"Today, it's local elections, but tomorrow, it could be state or nationwide elections. These egregious policies allow the voice of the American citizen to be diluted at the voting booth, and we must fight to protect the integrity of our elections and the value of American citizenship," said Congressman Jeff Duncan. "Voting is the hallmark of our democracy, and non-citizen voting completely undermines election integrity."

5 Tips for Sticking to a Schedule in the New Year

(StatePoint) Sticking to a schedule is good for health, wellness and productivity, and the start of a new year is the perfect time to form great habits. Resolve to adhere to a daily routine with the following tips and tricks:

• Write it down: The act of writing things down can help reinforce priorities. Keep a list of short- and long-term goals, events and meetings. Be sure to check items off your list as you complete them. Doing so can help you stay motivated.

 Get a good watch: Keep yourself accountable with a good watch. The line-up of Edifice watches by Casio are not only stylish, they contain must-have productivity features, such as multiple alarms, as well as countdown timers displaying the remaining time until the alarm beeps.

They also connect with your smartphone and offer cool, sync-up features that help you keep your essentials organized, such as "phone finder." If you prefer a sportier timepiece, Pro Trek watches offer similar alarm features, along with step counters and sensor technology like altimeters, compasses and more, all of which are great for hikes, fishing expeditions and other outdoor activities.

 Keep it consistent: Keep both bedtime and the time you awake consistent day-to-day. Doing so can mean better quality slumber so you will be more alert, energized and ready to tackle tasks. Consistent meal times can also be beneficial, helping you maintain your energy throughout the day, manage metabolism and avoid hunger.

· Don't overdo it: It can be tempting to try to schedule more tasks and to-dos into your day than is actually realistic. Doing so however can leave you feeling constantly stressed, and always in catch-up mode. Be sure your schedule offers you sufficient time to actually complete tasks and travel between appointments.

 Practice self-care: Downtime is essential. Whatever self-care looks like to you, be sure to build it into your schedule, whether that means relaxing with a good book, getting together with friends or working out. Make 2022 the year you finally create and maintain a well-balanced schedule. With wearable tech and smart habits, you'll be more inclined to stick with the program.

P and B to close for New Year's

A visit from the King An Elvis tribute artist helps brighten the Christmas of an AAMC patient

By Henry E. Green Christmas is all about reaching out.

That's exactly what happened recently when Abbeville Area Medical Center personnel joined forces to help provide a brighter Christmas for a patient.

That patient is a big Elvis fan, and AAMC personnel teamed up to bring Elvis to the hospital.

But, wait a minute, Elvis died back in the Seventies, you say.

Well, that's true. But the King made something of a comeback in the form of Elvis tribute artist Jacob Eder. Eder, who graduated from Abbeville High School and from Piedmont Technical College, started his career at Wings 101 in Abbeville, and he has been a tribute artist for approximately six years.

He has performed at the Opera House, and indeed throughout the Southeast, from Florida to Georgia to Maryland.

"I've sung at Graceland," he said.

AAMC physician Dr. Bryan Casey said that hospital personnel invited Eder to come out to AAMC to meet the patient.

So it was that on the chilly evening of Wednesday, Dec. 22, Eder went out to the hospital, and met with al the patient.

We caught up with the Elvis tribute artist as he was leaving the hospital.

Meeting with the patient was a high point for him. "I wanted to give back," he said. "I was honored to do it." The patient appreciated it as well. "We sang 'Blue Christmas' together," Eder recalled.

The patient's sister, Angela Powell of Townville, was very appreciative.

"We were thrilled," said Powell.

"We just wanted to make his Christmas brighter," said Casey, who is one of the patient's attending physicians.

Wishing you and yours a New Year that outshines all the rest. May it shower you with good luck, good health, happiness and success.
