

The First Page
Collection
Volume I

Poems By Aaron Smith

Poems based on the words from the first page of Hitchhikers Guide to the Galaxy by Douglas Adams

Roughly no unhappy
watches are orbiting
this planet

Many of the solutions largely remained utterly problems

People think this blue-green
planet is still neat and amazingly odd

a uncharted life

forms the most increasingly

concerned oceans

Digital problems are

unregarded in trees

which is rather mean

Living many miles from the pieces of a galaxy wasn't a mistake

A man with dark hair and glasses is shown in a close-up, smiling and holding a potted plant. The plant is in a black pot with a white geometric pattern. In the background, a smaller, more serious-looking version of the same man is visible. The text is overlaid in a bright blue, sans-serif font.

Millions of trees have time and the most insignificant unfashionable idea of ape descended people

A man with a beard, wearing sunglasses and a dark suit, is playing a trombone in a city street. He is looking to the left. The background shows a yellow awning and a building with ornate architecture. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, handwritten-style font.

whole
movements for digital
watches spiral on an arm of suggested
opinion

A hand is shown holding a stack of US dollar bills that are actively burning. The top bill is a $100 bill, with the portrait of Benjamin Franklin visible. The fire is concentrated on the right edge of the stack, with bright orange and yellow flames rising from the top. The background is a plain, light grey color.

all green
paper
problems are primitive
and should end

Transport Story, 2021

abunchoffailures.com

Only Blankets Art Collective

Santa Cruz, Ca 2022