Commitment to sustainability

eco/smart[®]

The EcoSmart line is made from recycled materials and is designed to reduce the environmental impact of the manufacturing process while still providing high-quality hubs, docks, and power solutions.

Hyper's packaging is eco-friendly and sustainable, as it is FSC certified and made from 100% recyclable materials with no plastics.

Additionally, the use of soy ink further reduces the environmental impact of the packaging, making it a responsible choice for consumers.

HyperDrive[®] Next

Hyper's commitment to developing future-proof products with cutting-edge specifications contributes to environmental sustainability.

This approach prolongs the relevance of their products, resulting in less electronic waste and allowing customers to benefit from high-quality products for an extended period.

What's next for Hyper

We are committed to minimising our waste generation and adhering to a roadmap.

Currently, we are creating baselines for all our emissions and waste.

Target: Substantially reducing energy consumption and waste by 2025.

Target user: Hybrid office employee

Our 2023 Global Research Report states that 3 in 5 employees are still not working in the office full time. The top remote places that they prefer to work are home, client locations or co-working spaces, so it's important that all workers have access to hubs that are portable so that they can work from anywhere.

Apple users are more likely to have a hub for additional USB connection as part of their desk set up:
