Celebration of Life

Joyful memories of the past will prevail over despair.
Broken hearts will be mended by knowing I'm there.
My spirit, my essence, surrounds you each day. Let the love you have for me push the sadness away. Do not mourn my death, make my life a celebration. know that I'm with you and have no hesitation... that life will go on, it gets easier over time. Stay strong for me and you will find peace of mind. Let my absence remind; you're not promised tomorrow... Honoring my memory will remove all the sorrow. It is everyone's fate; I have reached my destination. Do not mourn my death, make my life a celebration.

The dash BETWEEN

I knelt there at the headstone of one I loved and cried.

Name, with dates of birth and death, were perfectly inscribed.

I pondered these two dates and how little they both mean when compared to the tiny dash that lies there in between.

For the dash is as an emblem of our time here on the earth.
And although small, it stands for all our years of life and worth.

And our worth will be determined by how we live each day.

We can fill our dash with goodness, or waste our life away.
To ourselves, as well as others, let's be honest, kind and true...

And live our lives in the way we know God wants us to.

Let us look for opportunities to do a worthy deed, showing love and understanding to those who are in need.
For if our hearts are full of love, throughout our journey here, we'll be loved by all who knew us and our memory they'll hold dear.

And when we die, those memories will bring grateful, loving tears to all whose lives were touched by the dash between our years.

In My Heart

Since Heaven has become your home

I sometimes feel I'm so alone;

& though we now are far apart,
you hold a big piece of my heart.

I never knew how much I'd grieve when it was time for you to leave,

or just how much my heart would ache from that one fragment you would take.

God lets this tender hold remain, reminding me we'll meet again, and one day all the pain will cease when He restores the missing piece.

For Jesus heals each tiny part that holds your memory
in my heart.

This tearful heart reminds me of when He'll unite us in His love.

CLOSE THE GATE

For this one farmer the worries are over, lie down and rest your head,
Your time has been and struggles enough, put the tractor in the shed.

Years were not easy, many downright hard, but your faith in God transcended, Put away your tools and sleep in peace, the fences have all been mended.

You raised a fine family, worked the land well and always followed the Son, Hang up your shovel inside of the barn; your work here on earth is done.

A faith few possess led your journey through life, often a jagged and stony way,
The sun is setting, the cattle are all bedded, and here now is the end of your day.

Your love of God's soil has passed on to your kin; the stories flow like fine wine, Wash off your work boots in the puddle left by blessed rain one final time.

You always believed the good Lord would provide and He always had somehow, Take off your gloves and put them down, no more sweat and worry for you now.

Your labor is done, your home now is heaven, no more must you wait,
Your legacy lives on, your love of the land, and we will close the gate.

life of love, you left behind.

Through drought and storm, you never wavered, Your spirit steadfast, a love we

if you could see me now. you wouldn't shed a tear.

 Remember my spirit, that's the real me.
 I'm still very much alive, oh, if you could only see!
 I've beheld our Father's face. I've touched my Savior's hand.
 The angels all rejoiced as I entered the Promised Land.
 Beyond gates of pearl, I walk on golden streets.
 I've touched the walls of jasper, dipped my foot in the crystal sea.
 The beauty is beyond words, nothing can compare.
 I've even seen your mansion; someday I will meet you there.
 Allow Jesus to be your guide. His word will show you the way.
 So, please, don't cry! We will meet again someday.

A FARMER'S CALLING

I am called to be an artist of the land,
Only by the grace of God's mighty hand.
I work his fields to care for my own,
I'm honored to call this farmstead my home.

His crops spring forth before mine eyes,
As I take off my gloves, I look to the skies,
For I know the miracles He generously sends,
So I feed the world as, I pray, He intends.

I care for His animals as if they are mine,
I'm honored to do this work so divine.
I give thanks for every gently falling rain,
It waters His fields which are growing His grain.

I heed the Lord's calling to farm this ground,
I believe in my mission, His blessings abound;
His miracles surround me with fields so lush,
Yes, I paint the land with a master's brush.

Butterflies from Heaven

When a butterfly comes to you, I've been told
That it is from someone in Heaven, a past soul.

If you keep a look out, if you open your heart,
The things that were ordinary will now stand apart.
That your loved one isn't past, not forever, not gone.

That they are just not here, that they just moved on.
It is said that there is not death, just life and transitions,
From the teachings of Buddha to the belief of Christians.

So from my heart, from my hope, and belief,
May you find many butterflies to assist with your grief.

Grief is like a snowflake . . .

sometimes it comes one flake at a time; other times, it comes like a blizzard.

It melts away,

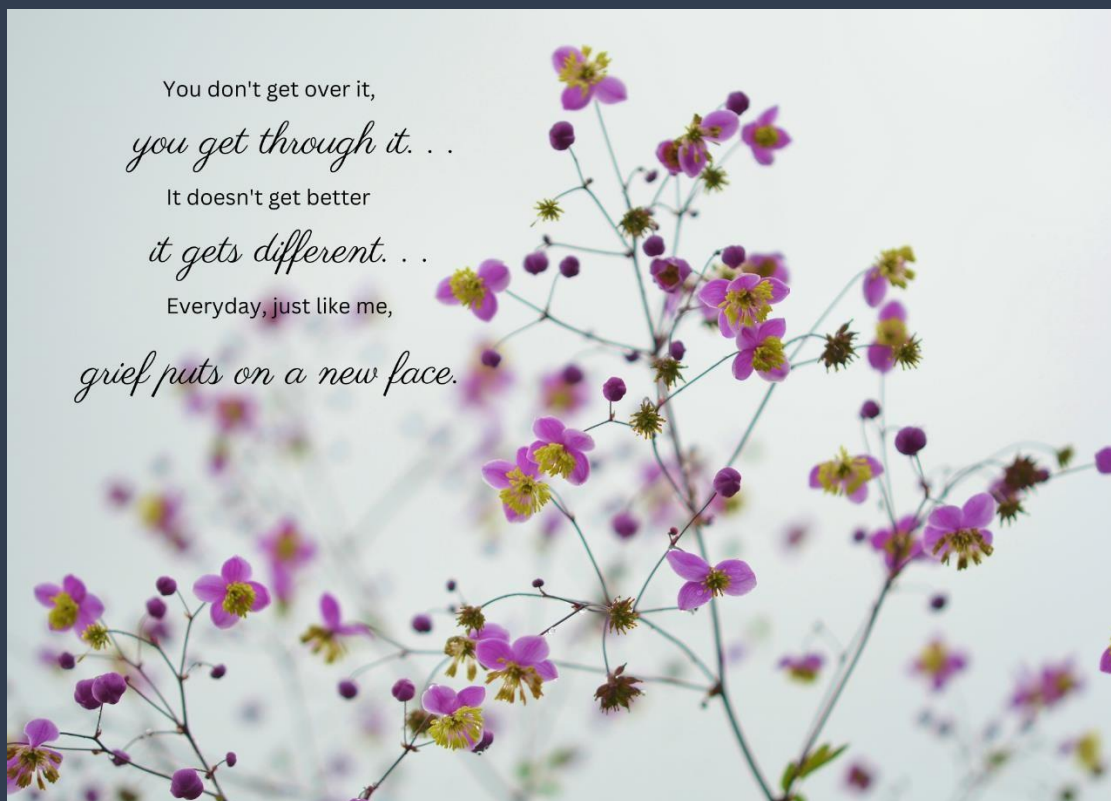

but it always comes back.

Just as each snowflake is unique, each person experiences grief in their own unique way.

Too Soon

Not near enough adventures in way too short a time,
Thick mud to trounce through, many trees left to climb,

Laughing out loud, that contagious impish grin,
Teasing, playing, joking with your eternal fire within,

Ever grateful for every precious, busy day,
Each ball for throwing, every stick for swordplay

Many places to go and endless things to do Thankful you know God and He knows you.

Back home to Heaven now you have gone,
We'll pick up the pieces and - somehow- go on,

To ponder the reasons, the questions, the 'why's'
Warmed by your spirit as we look to the skies,

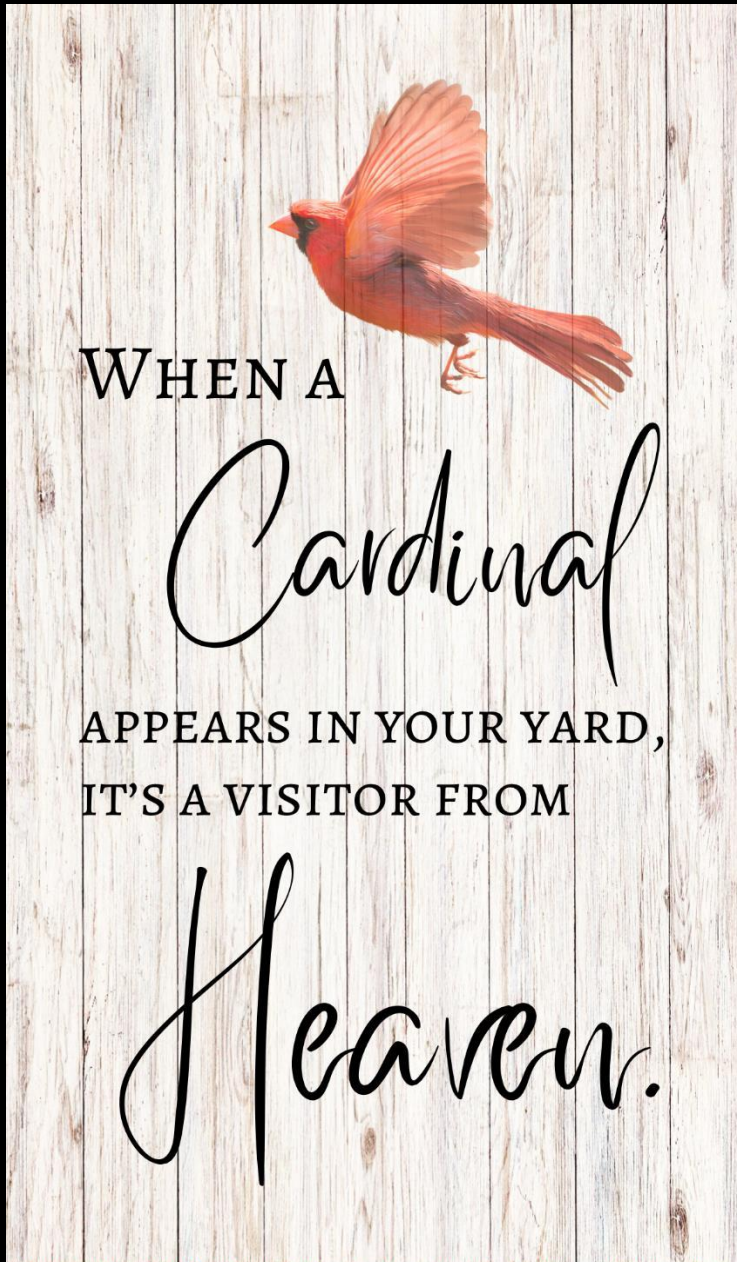

Even though it was just for a little while,
Blessed, we can recall your genuine smile,

God is good and God is great,
We'll meet you again at Heaven's gate.

A Classic

SAD1177 The Farmer 12x16 rustic brown frame $18.50 min 2

IT CAME TO ME

that every time

I LOSE A CAT

they take a piece
of my HEART with them,

AND EVERY NEW CAT

who comes into my life

GIFTS ME WITH A PIECE

Of their heart.

If I live long enough

all the components

OF MY HEART

will be CAT, and I will become

as generous and LOVING as they are.

IT CAME TO ME

that every time

I LOSE A DOG

they take a piece
of my HEART with them,

AND EVERY NEW DOG

who comes into my life

GIFTS ME WITH A PIECE

Of their heart.

OF MY HEART

will be DOG, and I will become

Don't forget the family pets.

I gave you a home.

You gave me joy.

I gave you treats.

You gave me loyalty.

I gave you walks.

You gave me friendship.

I gave you my heart.

You gave me

Unconditional love.

The Dash Between

I knelt there at the headstone of one I loved and cried.
Name, with dates of birth and death, were perfectly inscribed.

I pondered these two dates and how little they both mean when compared to the tiny dash that lies there in between.

For the dash is as an emblem of our time here on the earth.
And although small, it stands for all our years of life and worth.

And our worth will be determined by how we live each day.

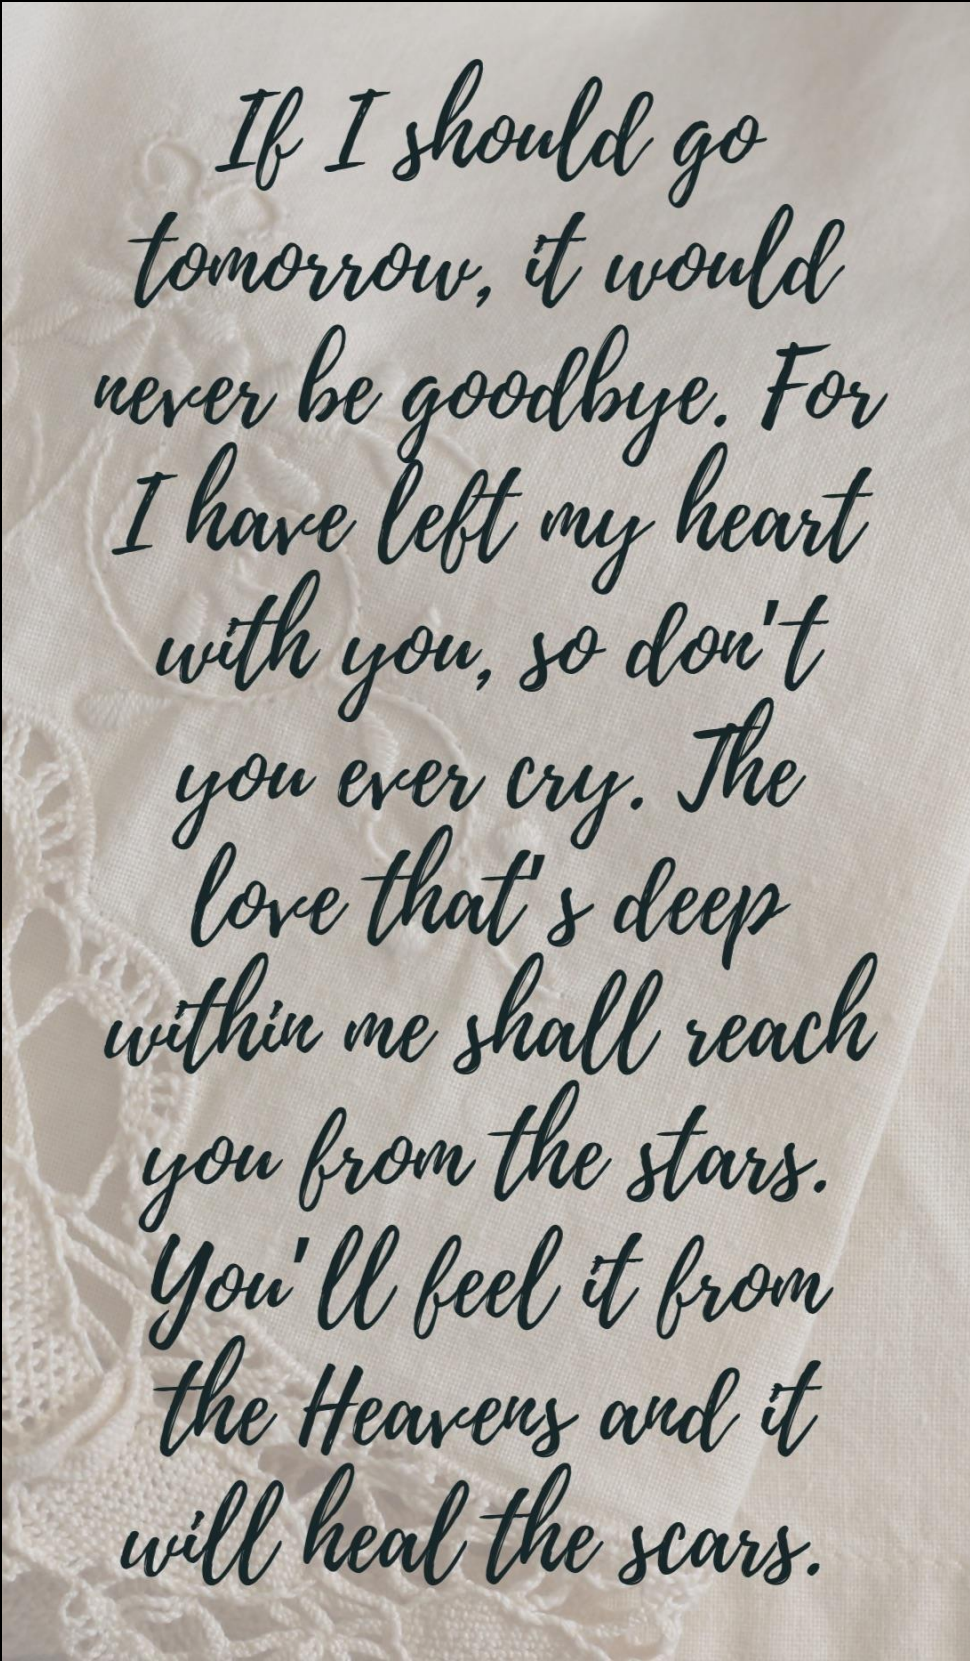

We can fill our dash with goodness, or waste our life away.
To ourselves, as well as others, let's be honest, kind and true...

And live our lives in the way we know God wants us to.

Let us look for opportunities to do a worthy deed, showing love and understanding to those who are in need.

For if our hearts are full of love, throughout our journey here, we'll be loved by all who knew us and our memory they'll hold dear.

And when we die, those memories will bring grateful, loving tears to all whose lives were touched by the dash between our years.

If I should go tomorrow, it would never be goodbye. For I have left my heart with you, so don't you ever cry. The love that's deep within me shall reach you from the stars.
You'll feel it from the Heavens and it will heal the scars.
