Message from the VICE-CHANCELLOR

Dear Prospective Students,

Welcome to the Fiji National University, where dreams come to life. We believe in the power of every dream, and we are here to help you cultivate and achieve them.

At the Fiji National University (FNU), we understand that dreams are the catalysts for greatness. Whether you envision yourself as a doctor, carpenter, fashion designer, world-class chef, engineer, artist, or entrepreneur, we have the experienced faculty, world-class facilities, and abundant resources to support you every step of the way.

Our doors are open not only to dreamers from Fiji and the Pacific but to individuals from all corners of the world. Embracing the warm and welcoming "Bula" spirit that Fiji is renowned for, we are proud and ready to welcome you into our diverse FNU family. In this vibrant community, creativity, innovation, and collaboration thrive. Ideas are shared, dreams are realized, and possibilities are endless. We are proud to have a diverse and inclusive community that fosters a spirit of creativity, innovation, and collaboration. When you join FNU, you become part of a family that believes in your dreams and wants to see them become a reality.

At FNU, we offer the finest programmes in both Higher Education and Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET). No matter your age, race, or socio-economic background, we have a programme tailored specifically for you. Whether you are a fresh high school graduate, a working professional looking to enhance your skills, or someone seeking a career change, we have a solution that will suit your unique needs.

Welcome

TO THE
FIJI NATIONAL UNIVERSITY

I hope you can use this Prospectus to imagine great things in your future, because these are the first steps you will take in pursuing it. This Prospectus will give you all of the facts you need to aid your decision to choose to study at FNU and we hope that you can also imagine how life beyond the classroom will be from the information you will find here.

Studying at FNU is not just an opportunity, it is a chance in a lifetime for personal development in the broadest sense. As you embark on your educational journey, you will be faced with a crucial decision – choosing the right programme of study. This decision will shape your future and bring you one step closer to who you want to become.

At FNU, we understand the significance of this decision, and we are here to guide you towards discovering your potential. With an array of programmes designed to cater to a multitude of areas of study, we ensure that you have the freedom to explore your passion and carve your own path.

Our university not only focuses on academic excellence but also emphasizes the overall growth and well-being of our students. We believe that education is not confined to the lecture halls; it extends beyond into real-life experiences and personal connections. That is why we strive to create the best possible student experience.

Imagine a campus filled with opportunities, vibrant student communities, and a supportive network of faculty and staff. Picture yourself engaging in meaningful discussions, participating in groundbreaking research, and gaining hands-on experience in your chosen field. At FNU, we cultivate an environment that fosters a holistic growth mindset, where you can thrive academically, socially, and professionally.

Our commitment to providing the best student experience is evident in the state-of-the-art facilities, cutting-edge resources, and dedicated support services we offer. FNUSA President

Bula Vinaka,

At Fiji National University (FNU), and within the Fiji National University Students' Association (FNUSA), the mantra "Dream It, Weave It, Achieve It" resonates deeply within the hearts and minds of students, faculty, and staff alike. It embodies not only the aspirations of individuals but also the collective commitment to excellence, innovation, and success in education.

In the tapestry of life, our dreams are the threads that weave the fabric of our future. Each aspiration, each hope, and each vision contributes to the intricate design of our journey. "Dream It, Weave It, Achieve It" encapsulates the essence of this journey – the process of envisioning, crafting, and ultimately realizing our aspirations.

Dreaming is the first step in this journey. It's the spark that ignites the flame of possibility within us. Our dreams are the blueprints of our desired destinations, the visions that guide us through the labyrinth of life. They inspire us to reach beyond the confines of the present and strive for something greater. Whether big or small, our dreams fuel our ambition and propel us forward.

Yet, the true measure of our journey lies in our ability to achieve our dreams. Achievements are not merely the destination but the milestones along the way - the markers of progress and growth. They signify the culmination of our efforts, the realization of our potential, and the fulfillment of our dreams. Achievements are the proof that we dared to dream, that we dared to weave, and that we dared to pursue our aspirations with unwavering determination.

Dreaming at FNU is more than just envisioning a future; it's about daring to imagine the unimaginable, to aspiring beyond boundaries, and to embracing the power of possibility. As students, we dream of a brighter future for ourselves, our communities, and our nation. We dream of becoming leaders, innovators, and change-makers who will shape the world around us. Our dreams fuel our passion for learning, driving us to p u r s u e knowledge, skills, and experiences that will empower us to make a difference.

But dreaming alone is not enough. At FNU, we understand that dreams must be woven into the fabric of our educational journey through dedication, perseverance, and hard work. Weaving our dreams requires active engagement in the learning process – attending classes, participating in discussions, and pursuing opportunities for growth and development. It's about taking the threads of our aspirations and transforming them into actionable plans and goals. As members of FNUSA, we weave the dreams of our fellow students into the rich tapestry of campus life, advocating for their needs, supporting their endeavours, and fostering a culture of inclusivity and belonging.

Achievement is the culmination of our efforts – the realization of our dreams and the evidence of our determination. At FNU, we celebrate not only academic success but also personal growth, resilience, and character development. Achieving excellence requires discipline, resilience, and a willingness to overcome obstacles along the way. As students, we are supported by dedicated faculty and staff who guide, mentor, and inspire us to reach our full potential. Through their encouragement and support, we are empowered to achieve greatness in our academic pursuits and beyond.

The mantra "Dream It, Weave It, Achieve It" serves as a guiding principle for education at FNU and within FNUSA. It reminds us that education is not just about acquiring knowledge but it is also about empowering individuals to realize their dreams and fulfill their potential. It challenges us to dream boldly, to weave diligently, and to achieve relentlessly in pursuit of our goals. As members of the FNU community, we are committed to fostering a culture of excellence, innovation, and inclusivity where every student has the opportunity to dream, to weave, and to achieve.

In conclusion, "Dream It, Weave It, Achieve It" is more than just a mantra; it's a philosophy that embodies the spirit of education at Fiji National University and within FNUSA. It reminds us that education is a journey of discovery, growth, and transformation – a journey that empowers individuals to dream big, to weave their dreams into reality, and to achieve their fullest potential. As we continue this journey together, let us embrace the power of our dreams, the strength of our resolve, and the promise of our potential to create a brighter future for ourselves and for generations to come.

Testimonial

I only studied until Year 4, and then I joined vocational studies, so I struggled with Accounting and Finance at first, but the lecturers were so nice, approachable, and understanding. They were always happy to assist and kept encouraging me. I am happy that I chose FNU to help turn my dreams into reality!

Fiji National University (FNU)

Establishment of the College of Engineering and Technical Vocational Education and Training (CETVET), Pacific Centre for Maritime Studies (PCMS), and College of Humanities, Education and Law (CHEL)

2020s

Fiji National University (FNU)

The Fiji National University celebrated its 10th Anniversary as a contemporary Fijian educational and training institute dedicated to achieving academic, training and research excellence. The University continuously enhances its programme delivery, support services and infrastructure to ensure we meet the current and future workforce needs of the nation. FNU remains committed to providing accessible and quality education to all Fijians and our regional and international students.

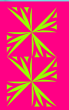

2010s

Fiji National University (FNU)

Formally established in 2010, FNU now has campuses throughout the country, running a total of more than 300 different programmes registered under the Fiji Higher Education Council (FHEC), with a staff complement of more than 2000. As a new and dynamic institution, yet one with an illustrious history within its parts, FNU is daily developing, innovating, and expanding to provide Fiji and the region with the education and training that they most need.

Training and Productivity Authority of Fiji (TPAF)

The Training and Productivity Authority of Fiji (TPAF), formerly known as the Fiji National Training Council (FNTC), was established in 1973 by the Fiji National Training Act. TPAF became part of FNU in 2011 as the National Training and Productivity Centre (NTPC) to run the University's short courses that are designed to meet the local industry's needs.

A Walk Through Time

As an institution of TVET and higher learning, Fiji National University has a long history of being relevant to the nation's needs and aspirations, dating back more than 130 years.

1885

Fiji School of Medicine ✨

The Fiji School of Medicine was originally established in 1885 as the Suva Medical School to train vaccinators. It has since developed into the premier medical institute of the South Pacific and continues to strive toward excellence in the training and education of health professionals in the region and is now known as the College of Medicine, Nursing, and Health Sciences (CMNHS).

Fiji School of Nursing ✨

The Fiji School of Nursing is one of the oldest nursing education institutions in the Pacific and has been in existence since 1893. It is now part of the College of Medicine, Nursing, and Health Sciences and offers programmes for local and regional students.

Fiji College of Advanced Education ✨

The Fiji College of Advanced Education established in Nasinu and the Lautoka Teachers College (LTC) have become parts of the University's College of Humanities and Education (CHE). LTC is now FNU's Natabua Campus.

1954

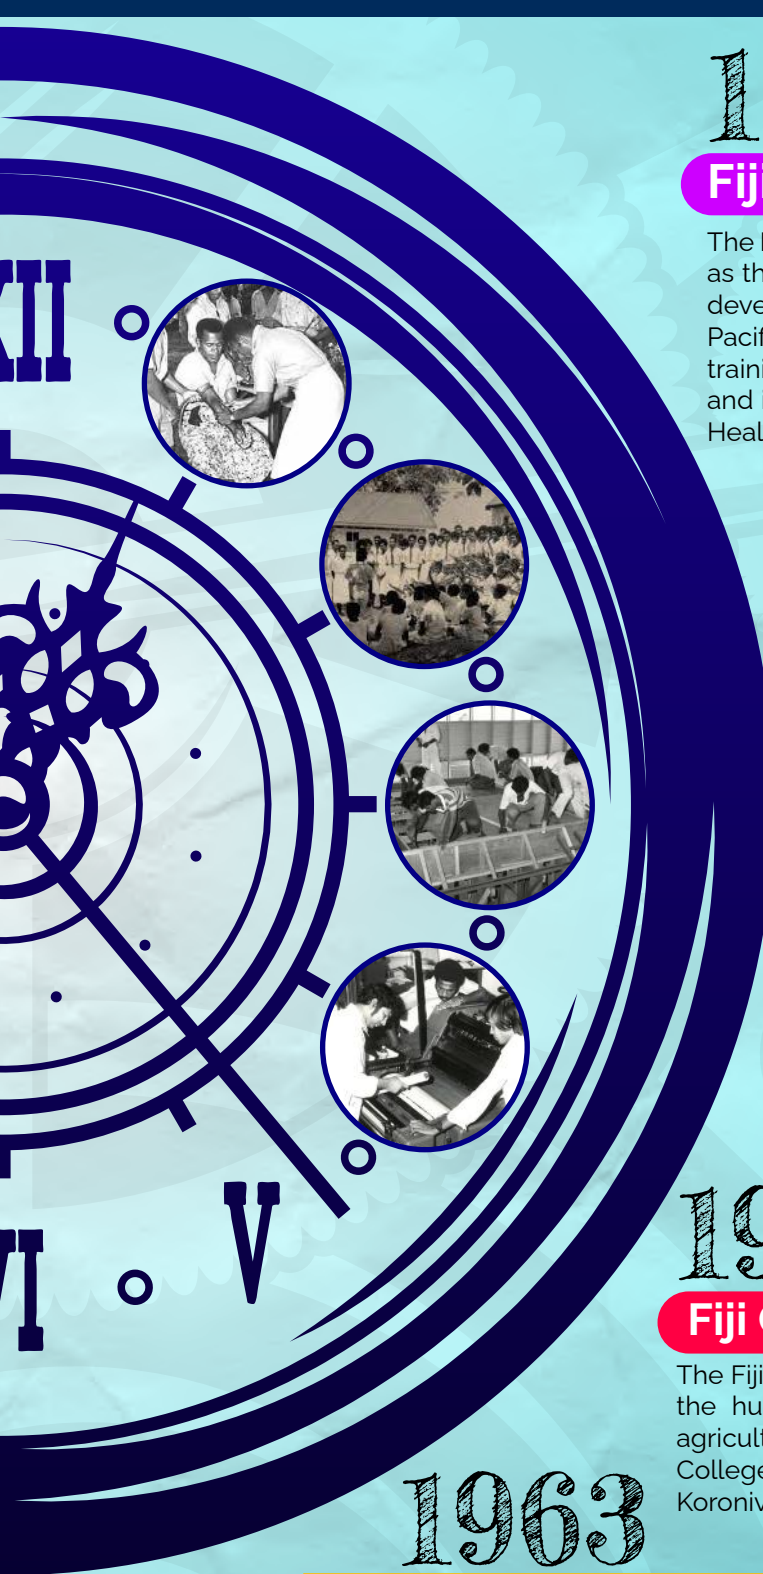

Fiji College of Agriculture ✨

The Fiji College of Agriculture was established in 1954 to meet the human resource needs of the country in all areas of agriculture. The College has developed into the University's College of Agriculture, Fisheries, and Forestry (CAFF) at the Koronivia Campus.

1963

✨ Fiji Institute of Technology (FIT)

The former Fiji Institute of Technology (FIT) is now part of the FNU College of Engineering, Science, and Technology (CEST) and it is known as the University's Derrick Campus in Samabula, Suva. It was established to train students in technical and vocational disciplines to meet the human resource needs of Fiji and the region in the fields of engineering, information technology, and sciences. FIT was also a starting point for the College of Business, Hospitality, and Tourism Studies (CBHTS).

Student Life

ORIENTATION DAY

One of the most important things you can do as a new student getting ready to start college is to make sure you attend university orientation. This will help you set yourself up for success. Your transition from high school or your prior circumstances to being a university student is greatly aided by attending university orientation. It can have a significant influence on your experience as a university student and is frequently one of your first encounters as a new student.

LIVING ON CAMPUS

New students should think about the exciting and special opportunity that is living on campus. You will get a taste of what college life is really like, be right in the thick of things, and create enduring memories with your fellow students. You won't have to worry about missing class because you slept in too late or got caught in traffic. STUDENT Support

We are here to support you at FNU!

Our Student Support services are intended to address students' questions and assist them with their everyday well-being. A few of the student support services that make for an engaging time for FNU students are the Unclinic, Career Services, Residential Life, Student Health & Wellness, and Counseling. Our top priority is always the success and well-being of our students. Ultimately, we think that the calibre of our school is reflected in the calibre of our student support services. To make sure that our students are heard, supported, and empowered throughout their academic journeys, we offer a wide range of support services.

STUDENT HEALTH AND Wellness

You probably have many responsibilities as a student, including going to class, finishing assignments, working, keeping up with friends and family, and a long list of other commitments. It should come as no surprise that looking after your health and wellbeing can occasionally take a backseat. But it's crucial to always remember that taking care of yourself comes first. It's very hard to succeed in school or in your personal life if you're exhausted, stressed out, or ill. We're excited to highlight the resources available to FNU students in the area of health and wellness because of this. FNU is committed to helping students in all facets of their lives, offering resources for healthy living, mental health support, and on-campus healthcare services.

COUNSELLING

FNU also provides mental health resources. For students who may be experiencing stress, anxiety, depression, or other mental health concerns, the university offers free and private counseling services. It's critical to keep in mind that mental and physical health are equally vital and frequently more connected than we realize. Our mental health can be negatively impacted by the pressures of academic life, so it's important to get help when you need it. FNU is striving to make sure that students can flourish both academically and personally while they are studying at our institution by offering easily accessible and encouraging mental health resources.

UNICLINIC

Selecting the appropriate healthcare provider can have a significant impact. Selecting where to go can be difficult due to the abundance of options. But the university clinic is probably your best bet if you're a staff member, faculty member, or student at a university. The UniClinic is easily found on campus. This implies that getting the care you require won't require you to travel far. You don't have to leave campus to get care, even if you just need a regular checkup or something urgent.

CAREER Services

Show employers you have what they are looking for!

FNU career services are an invaluable resource for students. They offer a wide range of services that can help ease the transition from student life to the workforce. By taking advantage of these services, students can better prepare themselves for the competitive job market and increase their chances of securing a job after graduation. So, as daunting as the prospect of finding a job may seem, with the help of university career services, it can be a more manageable and rewarding experience. Some of the initiatives include:

- Workshops on CV Writing,
- Practice Interviews and
- Careers Fair and Employer Chat Sessions

STUDENT DISABILITY Services

Equal access to education!

Inclusion is at the core of FNU's values, and we are proud to say that our policies and actions reflect this. From admission to graduation, we strive to create a welcoming, encouraging, and empowering atmosphere for students with special needs. Our goal is to make sure that these students are not only given equal opportunities but also thrive and achieve their full potential. One of the key aspects of our commitment to inclusivity is the provision of support services to students with special needs. We have a dedicated Student Services team that works closely with these students to ensure that they have the necessary resources and assistance to succeed academically. Inclusion is at the core of FNU's values, and we are proud to say that our policies and actions reflect this. From admission to graduation, we strive to create a welcoming, encouraging, and empowering atmosphere for students with special needs. - Glossary of Terms – is a list of terms and abbreviations used at FNU.

Flexible and E-Learning

Students at Fiji National University have the option to pursue their studies at their own pace from any location that suits them, including their home, place of employment, or other convenient location. This flexible learning and e-learning allows students maximum convenience. The University's Center for Flexible and E-Learning works collaboratively with colleges to offer courses and programmes through both fully online and blended online/in-person modalities using Moodle, the University's learning management system.

Students have flexibility in both the types of assessments given and their scheduling for completion. Using Moodle, students can access course materials, participate in online quizzes and exams, engage with instructors and classmates, and submit assignments. Additionally, students may use Mahara to build and submit electronic portfolios for evaluation and Turnitin to check assignments for plagiarism electronically.

Flexible and online learning provides an excellent option for students unable to regularly attend classes on campus or with only limited in-person attendance capacity. For more information, contact cfel@fnu.ac.fj.

STUDENT FINANCIAL SUPPORT TO UNLOCK YOUR

Talents

FNU Bursary SCHEME

The Fiji National University Student Bursary Scheme provides financial assistance to full-time local private students who have enrolled on any undergraduate bachelor's degree programmes or Postgraduate Studies programmes at FNU.

WHO IS Eligible TO APPLY?

Entry is open to all enrolled students at FNU who have paid the mandatory enrolment fees and enrolled in a bachelor's degree programme or a postgraduate programme with a full load (60 credit points).

To be considered, the applicant must have applied to the Student Bursary Scheme and met the following conditions:

- Be a Fiji Citizen.
- Must have obtained a high school passing mark (Year 13) and have a minimum of 60% pass in each subject aligned to the respective discipline.
- Continuing students to have obtained an average of B.
- Postgraduate students should have a minimum average GPA of 3.0 and above in their undergraduate degree programme.
- Must not receive any other scholarship at the time of application and during the study.
- Combined household salary of less than $30,000.
- Applicants should not have any disciplinary cases.
- Applicants should not have any outstanding fees or fines.

SCHOLARSHIP Value

$2,000 Tuition Assistance

for the year shall be given on a semesterly basis.

At Fiji National University, we recognise the vital importance of ensuring all individuals have access to outstanding educational opportunities. To this end, FNU offers a robust portfolio of financial aid options for students, including scholarships and support packages designed to help alleviate the costs associated with pursuing higher education. In addition, FNU maintains some of the most affordable tuition rates in the country. Through these combined efforts, we can help our students focus their full attention and energy on achieving academic success in their chosen fields of study.

STUDENT Financial Aid PROGRAMME

The Fiji National University Student Financial Aid Programme provides employment opportunities for privately enrolled undergraduate students. Through this initiative, eligible students may work for the University during non-instructional periods. Appropriate payroll deductions, such as Fiji National Provident Fund contributions, will be taken from students' compensation. Funds will then be directed to the University to offset tuition and fees owed.

For further information please visit the links below:

<https://www.fnu.ac.fj/study/student-support/financial-support/>

OPTION/ MODE OF Payment

Fiji National University allows students to pay their tuition and fees through the University's Finance Office. Payments may be structured into instalment plans with specified due dates at the start of each academic term. Instalments must be paid on time according to the terms outlined in the University's payment agreement. The entire payment plan must be completed at an agreeable timeline by you and our Finance Office. Students are responsible for fulfilling all payment obligations established in the plan, even if the student later cancels their registration.

For more information on payment options and financial assistance, please visit the Fiji National University website at:

<https://www.fnu.ac.fj/study/student-support/financial-support/>.

The scholarship will be held by the student for a term of three years. To be eligible to continue to receive an allocation in the second term, the student must maintain a full load, be enrolled, and have an average of B grade. The scholarship may be terminated if the student withdraws, has any disciplinary issues, or does not meet the criteria.

Graduation

Fiji National University holds graduation ceremonies each year to celebrate students who have completed their studies. This joyous occasion brings together the entire University community as we recognise the accomplishments of those who have earned their certificates, diplomas, bachelor's degrees, and postgraduates.

During the commencement exercises, graduates proudly wear academic regalia such as caps and gowns. They are then presented with their hard-earned diplomas, validating the culmination of their academic endeavors.

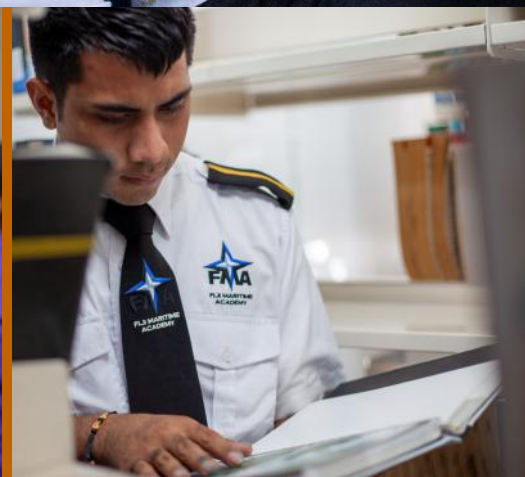

In attendance at graduation are members of the University Council and Senior Leadership Team, as well as academic and support staff from each College. Family, friends, and supporters of the new graduates also witness this milestone event in person. For those unable to attend in person, live-streaming services allow international and regional loved ones to share in the celebration from afar.

LIBRARY

Testimonial

All the lecturers had their own way of teaching, whether it was through practical work, storytelling, academic quizzes or model making, and it kept things interesting instead of focusing on a singular mode of learning.

The College of Humanities, Education and Law (CHEL) consists of four schools and eight departments that offer a variety of programmes ranging from certificate to doctoral-level degrees.

The College continuously modifies and reviews its course offerings to remain aligned with the needs of industry and community. To enhance access to education, CHEL provides options for online and blended learning modalities.

Notable Mentions

The college works closely with stakeholders to engage students in industrial placements. For instance, the School of Communication, Language and Literature collaborates closely with representatives from Fiji's media industry so that undergraduate Media and Journalism students can gain hands-on experience in their field. A similar industry partnership model is employed by the Hairdressing Department and School of Education.

The Commission for Higher Education prioritises recycling and environmental improvement initiatives. It collaborates with faculty and students to make the Fiji National University campuses more sustainable and enhance the natural surroundings of local communities.

The College of Medicine, Nursing, and Health Sciences (CMNHS) was established by consolidating two of Fiji's longest-standing health and medical institutions, the Fiji School of Medicine, and the Fiji School of Nursing. CMNHS is composed of five schools and nineteen departments that offer a range of academic programmes from certificates to master's degrees, all of which are internationally accredited. At the postgraduate level, the college also provides specialized training in fields such as Medicine and Nursing.

Notable Mentions

This college has a diverse student body comprising of Fijian and Pacific islanders from nations such as Tonga, Samoa, Federated States of Micronesia, Tokelau, Tuvalu, Papua New Guinea, Vanuatu, Solomon Islands and East Timor among others.

Students continue to serve their communities by undertaking practical projects as part of their coursework. The college remains committed to its vision of being the premier institution for health education, workforce training and research in Fiji and the region.

The College of Engineering and Technical Vocational Education and Training (CETVET) provides high-quality education, training, and applied research to assist economic and social development with beneficial societal impact. Engineers and scientists play critical roles in our increasingly complex modern world using their creative abilities.

CETVET's goal is to produce graduates qualified with the right skills ready for their field. It encourages hands-on training in workshops and labs simulating real work. CETVET works closely with industries to develop quality graduates meeting human resource needs.

It promotes a positive learning environment accepting diversity for a sustainable future. As a driver for progress, CETVET invites joining its efforts for the nation's future.

Notable Mentions

The College recognises the importance of pursuing international accreditation and benchmarking for its academic programmes. Engineering New Zealand (ENZ) is currently seeking international accreditation for the Bachelor of Engineering (Honors) programs in Civil, Electrical, Electronics, and Mechanical Engineering. Five Diploma (Level 6) programs received international accreditation in 2023 from ENZ in the fields of civil, electrical, electronics, and mechanical engineering.

The College of Business, Hospitality and Tourism Studies consists of four schools and eight departments offering a variety of programmes from Certificates through PhD-level degrees. The college serves as the central location for many technical and vocational education and training programmes.

Notable Mentions

The college continues to maintain its accreditation and recognition from respected organisations such as CPA Australia and the Fiji Institute of Accountants.

Regarding learning and instruction, CBHTS began implementing Assurance of Learning (AoL), which saw first-year students benefit from effective educational services through an improved pedagogical approach. CBHTS is also developing global connections by appointing several international scholars as adjunct professors for research guidance and instruction, as well as hosting visiting international academics at the College.

The Pacific Center for Maritime Studies (PCMS), previously known as the School of Maritime Studies, FNU was established in 1970 by the Government of Fiji to increase the number of qualified mariners and seafarers in Fiji and the Pacific region. It shifted to its current location Laucala Bay in 1982. In 2007, the School included the Fisheries Program in its curriculum and was renamed the School of Maritime and Fisheries.

In January 2014, the School was re-branded to the "Fiji Maritime Academy".

PCMS has been providing maritime training to seafarers of Fiji as well as nationals from the South Pacific region. Courses offered enable high school graduates to obtain certification to work as navigation or engineering officers on local and international ships.

Programmes at the Pacific Centre for Maritime Studies are approved by the Maritime Safety Authority of Fiji. Diploma and certificate programs at PCMS are accredited by Fiji National University and registered at the Fiji Higher Education Commission.

The Centre has conducted courses in compliance with the Standards of Training, Certification and Watchkeeping for Seafarers (STCW) '78 code as amended in 2010. All operational and management-level certificates of competency are issued by the Maritime Safety Authority of Fiji.

The National Training and Productivity Centre (NTPC) is the leading organisation in providing skills training to the industries in Fiji. Offering more than six hundred short courses each year, NTPC aspires to deliver the right skills with the right motivation, to continuously build a healthy and productive workforce that is competitive globally.

The training programmes offered by NTPC are ISO 9001 compliant. The technical programmes offered at NTPC consist of 70 per cent practical learning and 30 per cent theory and ensure students are kept abreast of Fiji's industrial practices. NTPC has over 20 years of experience in delivering international franchised qualifications in Fiji. This allows our graduates to gain superior recognition locally, as well as in Australia and New Zealand.

NTPC has always been at the forefront of providing Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) programmes to the trade sectors in Fiji. The Departments of Automotive and Mechanical; Construction, and Electrical and Electronic Engineering spearhead the provision of TVET courses.

NTPC continues to run successful skills training short courses and in-house skills training to suit the dynamic of Fiji's vibrant industries.

Some of the significant events/conferences that NTPC hosts are:

- Fiji Business Excellence Awards
- Fiji OHS Conference and Awards
- National Conference on IT
- National Quality and Innovation Conference
- National Hospitality Conference
- Business Excellence Conference

National Apprenticeship Training Scheme

The objective of the scheme is to develop a more skilled Fijian workforce that delivers long-term benefits for our nation and international competitiveness. The scheme is a tripartite agreement between the apprentice, employer and NTPC, and the apprentices are monitored and trained by competent personnel from the industry for a duration of three to four years. It allows the individual (apprentice) to be paid as an employee while they learn on the job, and simultaneously study for academic awards on a part-time basis at the University.

Apprenticeship Scheme is one of the most significant skills development programme in Fiji, and its contribution towards the national growth has been invaluable.

The Apprenticeship Scheme is an investment for employers to develop a robust pool of qualified talent ultimately investing in business success. When companies have ready access to potential employees who possess the specialised skills necessary to succeed, they gain the ability to develop a workforce that will drive enhanced productivity, reliability, safety, and quality.

National Trade Testing Scheme

NTPC is the responsible authority for overseeing the skills certification through its National Department of Trade Testing, enabling workers in Fiji to obtain accreditation for their skills.

RESEARCH AND INNOVATION at Fiji National University

Research and innovation are critical components of Fiji National University's (FNU) vision for knowledge creation and knowledge sharing as a regionally relevant and globally competitive institution.

To achieve this vision, FNU has prioritized applied research with real-world impact as a key pillar of its 2024-2026 Strategic Plan.

FNU offers higher degree by research programs at both the Master's and Doctor of Philosophy level across all disciplines. It provides a supportive learning environment for researchers, faculty, graduate students, and collaborative partners including top global universities.

Considering the global importance of sustainability and responding to climate change issues regionally, FNU welcomes and looks forward to contributions in these important areas.

Sustainable Development Goals

Fiji National University (FNU) is dedicated to realizing the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals through its focus on learning, teaching, and research. FNU aims to address 17 interconnected global issues through this work, many of which are pertinent to core University operations.

Sustainable Development Goal 4 emphasizes the importance of quality education. This directly aligns with FNU's objective to serve as Fiji's premier national University, providing excellent and applicable higher education, technical and vocational training, as well as research and development.

Quick Fact

- FNU was ranked for the second time in the Times Higher Education (THE) 2023 Impact rankings
- Measured an institution's research, outreach, teaching, and stewardship.

OPEN DAY

#DreamsToReality

2023

Each year, Fiji National University opens its doors to welcome potential students and allow them to discover all that the University's campus has to offer. The Open Day provides prospective learners a chance to explore the facilities and gain a deeper understanding of the academic and professional opportunities available.

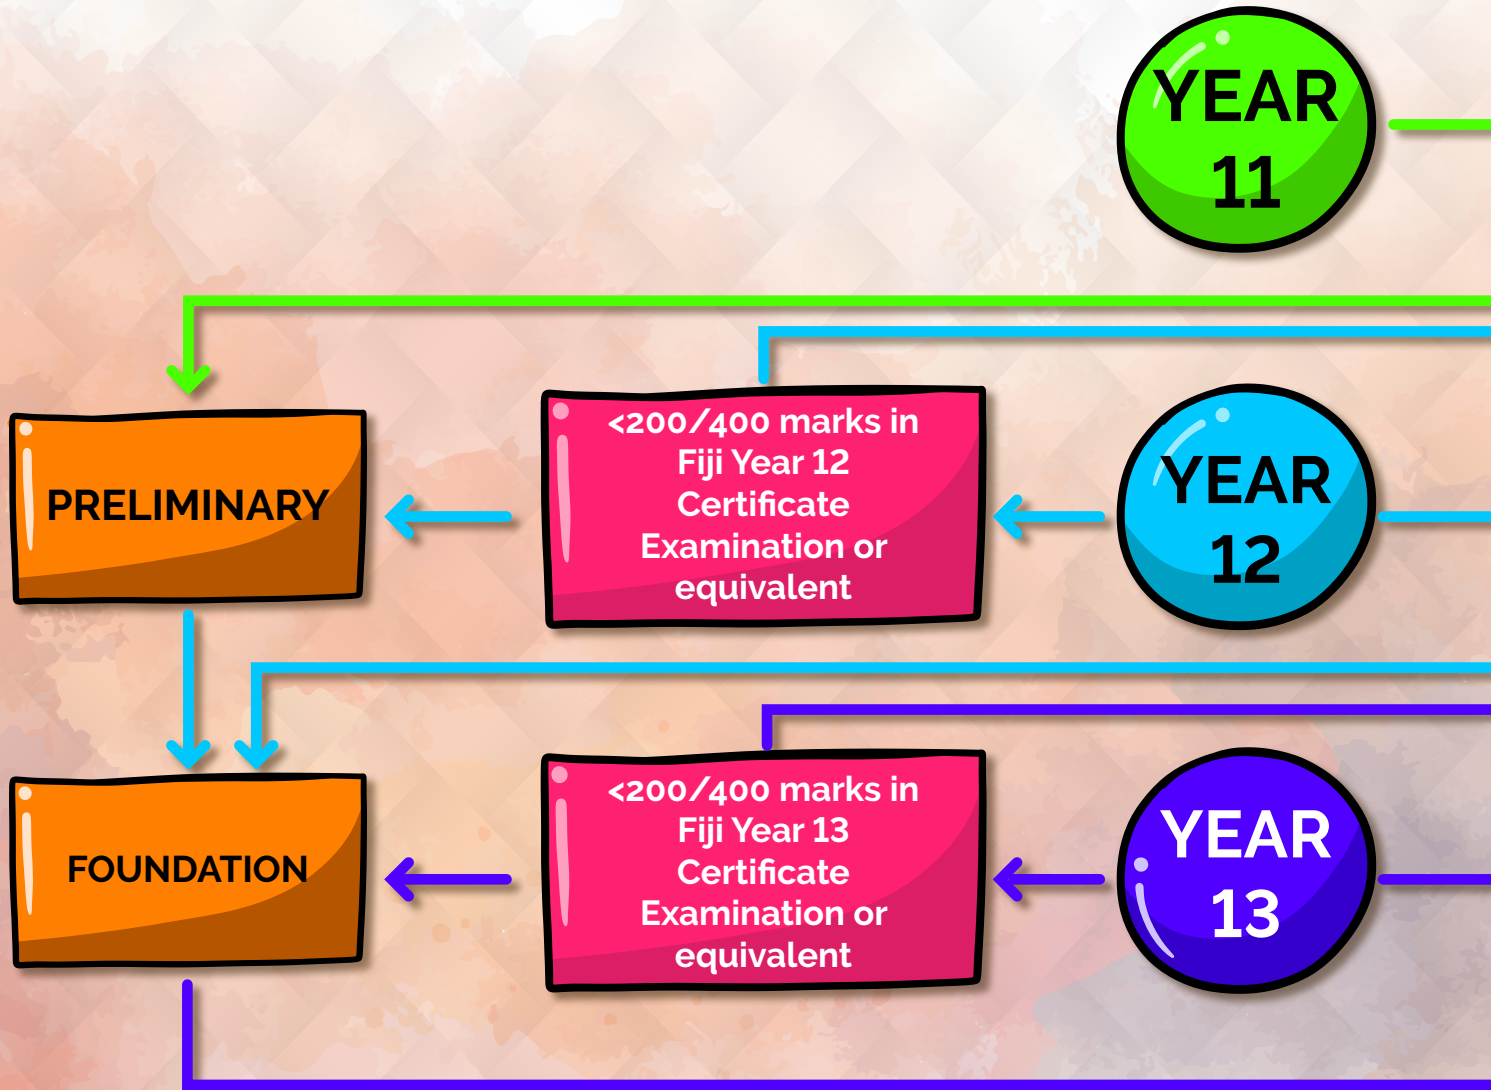

Attendees of the Open Day can learn more about the University's educational programs and the support services available to students. They may also discover scholarship and funding options. The event aims to introduce potential students, parents or guardians, partners, and community members to the FNU learning community experience.

The Open Day serves as an ideal platform for prospective learners to explore their options and envision themselves as part of the University environment. Fiji National University looks forward to welcoming visitors and sharing all that it has to offer future students.

TVET Pasifika encompasses our five colleges of technical and vocational studies, the National Training and Productivity Center, and the Fiji Maritime Academy.

TVET Pasifika offers prospective students a centralized location to explore, research, and enroll in FNU's programs that enhance employability and meet personal and professional objectives.

Why TVET at FNU?

FNU has a demonstrated history of delivering technical and vocational education and training (TVET) at the highest standard, directly applicable to in-demand industries and occupations.

To cultivate exceptional graduates, our TVET faculty possess requisite academic qualifications as well as substantive industry experience - enabling them to competitively prepare students for local, regional, and global career success.
