Understanding dad...

What is it like to meet dad? Celebrating his identity, knowing his anecdotes, interests and passions, scrutinizing his daily life by sharing our processes, in conclusion, understanding that in him, you have a friend.

In the social atmosphere, everyday life is observed, being close to an emblematic holiday such as Honduran Father's Day, honoring this pillar figure within each Honduran family can go unnoticed. However, it is important to understand that around the idealization of a father there is a person, with whom we rarely connect and understand, readers will wonder: What is it like to meet dad? Celebrating his identity, knowing his anecdotes, interests and passions, scrutinizing his daily life by sharing our processes, in conclusion, understanding that in him, you have a friend. The art is to perceive that at the moment of celebrating this day it is not to provide a material object which highlights the role of the father, for that friend, confidant, they must keep in mind that the most precious gift will be to understand that traveling man, the companion passionate about football, the friend who would never lack a smile and a word of encouragement, it is a great joy to call him dad.

VALENTINE'S DAY

Celebrate love today and always...

The most favorable day to celebrate love universally is February 14, it is where our heart beats more than ever to express our affection towards a couple, friendship and family, however, this demonstration can be carried out throughout the year. , our Roatan Today research team , will show you how to do it.

We are in favor of celebrating love every day, but the light rhythm full of stress of life does not let us stop and think, so it is always a good time to celebrate love, in the year there are several dates alluding to this nature, we have the 21st January "International Hug Day" , created by the American Kevin Zaborney, with the aim of increasing demonstrations of affection in public since this habit is in decline, on the other hand, there is "International Kiss Day" celebrated on the 13th April , arose from the longest kiss in the world, the event happened in Thailand, also promoted by the Love Foundation organization, May 1, "World Day of Love."

However, it is important to emphasize that the purpose of the different celebrations is to invite people to unite in wisdom, peace and love, projecting a simple vision to positively help humanity in the midst of so much stress of the daily routine, be part of the change by creating a different way to show and receive affection daily, don't wait for a date, the world will thank you.

SIMPLE WAYS TO SHOW LOVE

Dedicate time to the significant people in your life.

Validate and respect the emotions of others.

Demonstrate physical contact in public.

Give space for your partner to express their fear and concern.

It offers symbolic details such as: a song, a drawing, a poem, a phrase inspired by her or him.

Express what you feel.

Ask how the other person feels.

ISLAND WOMEN CELEBRATE WOMEN'S DAY

VII edition of the International Chocolate Festival and its dedication

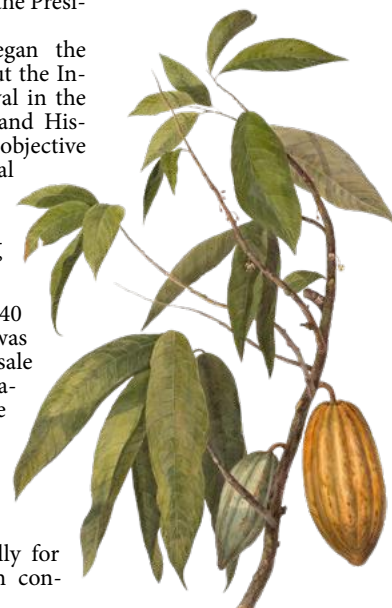

The event took place at the Museum of Anthropology and History in San Pedro Sula, opening with a conference of experts and the exhibition of delicious products made from cocoa.

In a press conference, Roberto Ramírez, director of the museum, expressed that the festival is in honor of Teresa Campos, who was one of the scholars of the archaeological vestige of Currusté and an activist to reactivate the Venus of Currusté, before her death she occupied the position of current minister of the Presidency of Honduras.

Campos, before dying, began the efforts to be able to carry out the International Chocolate Festival in the Museum of Anthropology and History of the Sula Valley, the objective was to show the historical trajectory, the cultivation of cocoa and the museum, there is also one of the vestiges of the "drink of the Gods" in Honduras.

Likewise, the presence of 40 Honduran cocoa producers was estimated to hold an expo sale each year, seeking to encourage their production, publicize their properties and increase their export.

From February 9 to 11, conferences were held to highlight the importance of cocoa nationally and internationally for its flavor and aroma which connects us to our land from anywhere in the world, for this reason Dr. Santiago Velez, Director of the Inter-American Institute for Cooperation on Agriculture (IICA) in Honduras, thanked the support received by the different State agencies, emphasizing that "He is grateful for believing in our dreams, projects and trusting in his organization."

The story of the Honduran Baleada

According to the research team of our magazine Roatan Today, there are many theories about the origin of the baleada, one of the general explanations is that it emerged in the mid-20th century. It is speculated that its name comes from the fact that in the fifties the bean was called bala, hence the name “baleada” since this food is the main ingredient of this dish. On the other hand, it is said that its origin was because a woman had a street stall, and they shot her, that is, “she had been shot” as Honduranism indicates. However, this soft food was born in a city in the Caribbean of Honduras called “La Ceiba”, being a key region for banana cultivation, becoming popular in the fifties and then expanding to the other departments of the country, this is how this delicious delicacy evolved in its preparation. Currently, there are different ways to make a baleada, the original one contains (beans, butter and cheese), but you can add (banana, avocado, egg, chorizo), but from a short period of time until now in different departments they incorporate meat in this typical dish, which makes this food the most versatile in Honduras, being a recipe adaptable to the palate of every Honduran and foreigner who lives in love with this exuberant food. In conclusion, to forge patriotism, it is stipulated to celebrate the day of the shooting on the third Saturday of June.

On Saturday, June 16, 2018, “National Baleada Day” was celebrated for the first time in Honduras, with activities in the cities of Tegucigalpa, San Pedro Sula and La Ceiba.

BALEADA:

It consists of a wheat flour tortilla approximately one hand in diameter, folded in half and filled with fried beans and other accompaniments. The basic recipe commonly includes red beans—preferred in Honduras—with butter and/or grated cheese, which is called “simple baleada.”

DIVE

LISTED AS THE BEST PLACE IN THE WORLD FOR DIVING.

Useful Diving Capital

The dream of every diver is to scuba dive on this sparsely populated beach, with abundant marine life, so it connects with this sport. We are talking about Útila, a small but charming island located in the Caribbean Sea of Honduras. Known as the best place in the world for diving, it is a haven of tranquility, it is the most traditional and conservative of the Bay

Islands, despite the changes it experienced decades ago after the transfer from the British to the Honduran government in the 19th century, from being a closed community dedicated to fishing to being one of the most cosmopolitan places in the country. It managed to position itself as one of the best tourist destinations in the Caribbean and an example to follow for the rest of the region. To achieve the preservation of the environment, UN delegates met in Geneva to talk about various topics such as global emissions of CO2, the Kyoto Protocol, Útila Honduras and the new international agreements to lower pollution levels in Third World countries. It has been recognized as a sanctuary for marine life, and is fully prepared to receive all visitors for Holy Week in 2024, to enjoy snorkeling, fishing, and observing its diversity of aquatic species.

JENNIFER FUNES

A young woman with a big heart and altruistic spirit

A woman with a big heart, loyal, humble, unique and ambitious qualities characteristic of Jennifer Funes who positioned herself in the public eye after being chosen as the most outstanding palillona in the 2017 patriotic parades, a young woman with conscious respect and love for animals. That animals feel and deserve to be respected, values instilled by their family, which always help protective homes, making the adoption of animals a characteristic habit in the family.

In this way, the idea of the charismatic influencer was born, creating The Honduran Foundation for the Protection of Animals (FUHOPPA), with its motto "We are heroes, and together we do more", aims to use its networks and reach to help animals getting adoptions, being the voice of all those animals that suffer or do not have a home in the country.

"This project is its own non-governmental and non-profit" Funes emphasized, this foundation operates from social networks, I still do not know how to run a shelter because the general concept is to be the media voice for all animal shelters, people can donating medicines, food or other supplies can be directed to their social networks such as @fuhoppa. This team delivers donations to those who need them and is always on the lookout to make any complaint viral. On the other hand, the toughest in Honduras will return to journalism with her own studio for interviews and podcast of her program "HERE AMONG US WITH JENNIFER FUNES", for those who follow her career know that it is a project that began in a pandemic, but I wanted to give it a more professional approach, exclusively Jennifer shared with us that this month begins with the segment which will be broadcast on her social networks: YouTube and Facebook, "without leaving aside music and other endeavors for this year," she noted.

"My family has always been guided by that part of art, for example in painting, singing, music, so I was even in the worship ministry, I liked to write poems, music, etc. since I was little and I currently continue along that line, apart from the fact that I have very good acquaintances in the musical field and I enjoy it," Funes stressed.

However, he does not plan to venture into music due to the demand for time in it since his area is journalism, but in his free time he releases musical songs and composing, he has collaborations with dollar, DJ SY, Lil Roy, Mr. JC, Jaso beat, Little baby. The beautiful catracha has demonstrated her versatility, in all the areas for which she is passionate, saying goodbye with a beautiful message to the entire Honduran population, "Learn to guard your heart, do not waste your energy with anything negative or allow anyone to steal your energy." peace. May they always be learning, may they work, may they improve as much as they can as humans. May they always do good, even though there is so much evil and may fear God, may they value the good because life is one."

With respect and love towards animals, aware that animals feel and deserve to be respected, values instilled for his family.

CHOCOLATE FLAVOR

The legacy of cocoa in Mosquitia is led by women, the process begins with planting and cultivation and then carefully selecting high-quality seeds, supervising the cycles of nature and respecting the knowledge of their ancestors.

The chocolate is positioned as the best Swiss chocolates, at the beginning of its export a prize was awarded for its quality in the European country, thanks to the hands of each Honduran who adopted it as a means to have income for seven and eight years, which serves to meet needs such as food, health, education and housing.

Chocolate making

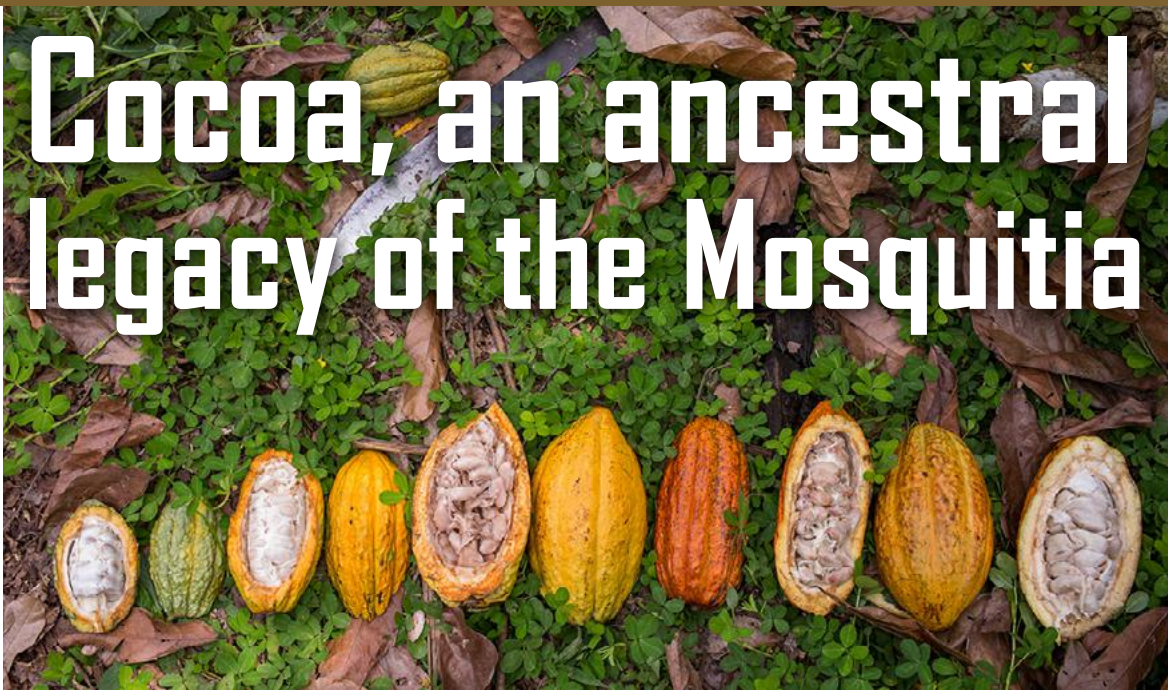

After fermentation, the seed is dried in the sun, spread on patio or palm fiber mats for slow dehydration, this guarantees the conservation of cocoa.

It continues, roasting the cocoa seeds, placing them on comales or special fire pans, stirring constantly to prevent burning, providing characteristic flavors and aromas when removed from the pan.

After toasting, the cocoa beans are peeled. The outer shell of the seeds is removed, revealing the cocoa beans in their purest form. These almonds are the base for making chocolate.

Without a doubt, Miskito women are an example of the determination, traditionally and ancestral knowledge in the production of Honduran food, keeping this craft alive and instilling it from generation to generation, leaving a contribution to biodiversity, sustainability and cultural prevention.

Cocoa, an ancestral legacy of the Mosquitia

Ash Wednesday and Valentine's Day are compatible in Catholicism

On February 14 of this year, Valentine's Day, a marketing date par excellence, and Ash Wednesday, inclined towards Christianity, coincided.

Why did this event occur? Every four years the leap year occurs, Ash Wednesday does not have an established date, it is linked to Easter Sunday, this year it will fall on March 31, according to a calculation of the lunar calendar, to find the date of Ash Wednesday, we go back six weeks, leading to the First Sunday of Lent, and four days before that is Ash Wednesday, February 14, joining with Valentine's Day.

Although both celebrations do not coincide based on their meaning, they simultaneously obtained an incredible combination, In the sixties of the 20th century, both could not be celebrated with the same solemnity, since Saint Valentine of Rome, the priest who is said to have inspired the festival of lovers throughout the West, is no longer included in the Catholic calendar.

The decision to remove the Roman saint from the Catholic calendar was made by the Vicar of Christ, Pope Paul VI, in 1965, who sought to re-define the canon to leave aside the saints whose history is based more on a legend than on historical data that reaffirms his existence.

Currently, Pope Francis wanted to revive the celebration of Valentine's Day to rescue the original reason, far from national and international commercial celebrations, which is why, 10 years ago, Pope Francis brought together more than 20,000 wedding couples from 28 countries in the world, which exceeded the expectations of the Vatican, which expected only 3,000 couples.

The current businesswoman, in the midst of unemployment without income or savings, began her venture as an eyelash extensionist, a course in which she specialized in the United States, which she studied before becoming a mother for the second time.

Galeano explained “knowing that I could decide my time to be with them is one of the main reasons why I decided to undertake this long path, I wanted something where I could have my children with me without having to leave them at home in the care of someone else. Since when my son Imad started, he was only a little over two months old.”

Estudio Stefany Galeano has gone through personal and professional improvement, working for her company gave her the opportunity to study and complete her degree in Marketing and her pre- and post-graduate degree, strengthening her knowledge in eyelash extensions with the international academy phiacademy of Belgrade in Serbia , earned fourteen certificates and four master’s degrees in the micropigmentation industry.

As support for the improvement of Honduran women, Galeano teaches courses on hair-by-hair eyelash extensions with an introduction to Russian volume, including digital marketing and customer service, also a Phibrows course, Phicontour, Philiner , Philips, emphasized “telling Hondurans that the phiacademy courses, the certification is valid throughout the world and includes 3 free courses being an expert in skin, first-class service and hygiene.”

She stood out for the first time by animating professional dance in different events such as Teletón, Channel 5, opening of concerts, presenting Miss Honduras with her choreographic group Oxygen, attracting the attention of the media. She began this journey at the age of 14, as a professional dancer later. I work as an image for some brands in promotional products such as music videos, advertisements and clothing brands, then television. Channel 54 opened its doors to her by positioning her as a youth presenter, but the charisma and charm of this young woman managed to place her on channel 5 as champion of dancing for a dream second season.

“That’s where my contract came from for the famous program Entre mujeres. At one time, I became a sports presenter on channel 6 with the program Los Intocables. I was hired by Azteca Honduras as a sports presenter for the 2014 World Cup. The opportunity to work on channel TEN in the morning magazine of Cercano Buenos Días Centro América and my last experience was the morning magazine Café Caliente of VTV in 2019.” Stefany expressed.

Without a doubt, this figure was positioned as the best in the beauty industry in Honduras, promoting the most innovative techniques for all women throughout the national territory, being a resilient woman who overcame all the difficulties that arose along her path. , leaving a message to all entrepreneurs.

“Opportunities are created without fear, no one is born successful, we create this along the way with maturity, learning, discipline, courage and resilience. You have to study and take advantage of life’s situations to do good, you have to persist, have businesses or undertake, no one said it is easy, but you have to create daily routines in which you dedicate great energy to your environment for personal and work growth. There are times of good times and times of lean times. The fundamental principles are financial administration, marketing and positioning of your brand, providing quality service and attention. These factors will help you grow if you apply it to what you do. My best wishes in everything you undertake along the way, remember that God gives to everyone” Stefany Galeano.
