COVER ARTWORK MEANING

This work was created in collaboration with a kindergarten class in Dharawal Country. It acknowledges to the Traditional Custodians of Country. The centre meeting place symbol represents the classroom. The centre 'U' shaped symbols represent boori's (children) surrounded by educators and communities who create a culturally safe learning environment where culture and communities are honoured and celebrated.

The journey or travel lines connecting to the meeting place symbol represent the school learning journey as children grow into strong, confident learners and strive to achieve their highest potential.

The surrounding various patterns represent the symbols and patterns of Country. The colours used throughout symbolise Saltwater Country and ochres of the land. First Nations people hold knowledge and practices that have been passed down on this Country for over a thousand generations. Dreamings, Songlines, Lore, languages and bush food and medicine knowledge has been passed down for thousands of years - the oldest culture and education system in the world.

The wonderful world of WASHABLE WATERCOLOURS

Don't be fooled by their size. Just a little watercolour goes a long, long way!

Educational Colours Washable Watercolours can be dripped, sprayed, brushed, splattered, sponged and diluted further for large area lay down... the possible applications are endless!

From laying down quick washes of colour to conducting science experiments, Educational Colours Washable Watercolours can be used in many ways.

Experiment with the techniques below for your next project!

PVA & Salt

Create lines or shapes by squeezing PVA onto your paper. Sprinkle salt over your PVA painting & allow to dry. Shake off excess salt. With pipettes, drop Educational Colours Washable Watercolours onto the salted glue areas & watch the watercolours make their way through the lines. Once dry, decorate.

Salt

Lay down a wash of 2 or more Educational Colours Washable Watercolours, while still wet sprinkle salt over the colours. Allow to dry & wipe off excess salt. This technique is great for creating a base to decorate... add cut outs of sea life creatures or snowflakes.

Oil and Water

As we know oil & water do not mix. With pipettes, squeeze drops of oil onto your page, then drops of Educational Colours Washable Watercolours over the top. Watch the watercolour spread over the areas where there is no oil. Create beautiful unexpected designs.

Spray over object

Collect flat objects like flowers or leaves. Lay them onto your paper. Connect a spray nozzle onto your Educational Colours Washable Watercolour bottle and spray one or more colours over your object. Leave to dry and draw around the outline in black marker.

Oil Pastel and/or Wax Crayon resistance

Using white oil pastel or wax crayon, draw the outlines of a picture onto your paper. Drop or brush Educational Colours Washable Watercolours between your outlines. The oil pastels repel the watercolour and leaves a white outline on your painting.

Show transparency

Educational Colours Washable Watercolours are transparent. For best results lay down a light colour first. Allow to dry then add a darker colour over the top of the first colour. Notice how the first colour shows through the second colour, and so on.

Glitter Blow Monsters

With pipettes, drop Educational Colours Glitter Washable Watercolours onto your paper. With a straw blow the paint in different directions to create your monster. Stick on funny adhesive eyes & mouths.

Tape Resist

Cut strips of removable sticky tape & stick onto your paper to create a scene. Paint over the scene with watercolours. Allow to dry & remove tape. Draw in details with a black marker to complete the scene.

Milk Marbling

In a shallow tray pour a thin layer of milk. Using pipettes drop Educational Colours Glitter Washable Watercolours onto the milk layer, then add a few drops of dishwash liquid & create swirling patterns with a Q-tip. Place paper over the mix, then remove & lay flat, painted side up to dry.

Oil Pastel Techniques

There are many techniques you can use when drawing and colouring with Educational Colours Jumbo Oil Pastels, combine these techniques with colour mixing, tinting or shading to add amazing effects to your artwork.

Blending:
By colouring a light colour over a dark colour you will begin a blend. Continue to overlap the colours until you achieve your desired effect.

Smudging:
Smudging is achieved by working two or more colours together, smudging with your fingers creating a smooth seamless blend.

Scratching:
Paint paper with a wash of watercolours. Allow to dry, then colour over the painting with oil pastels. Using the end of a brush handle scrape a drawing to reveal the colourful background.

Embossing:
Using the end of a brush handle indent a drawing into your paper. Colour over the indents with oil pastels to achieve an embossing effect.

Colour mixing:

The beauty of Educational Colours Oil Pastels are their ability to create new colours by mixing two or more colours together.

Benefits of Beading

- 1 Develops fine motor skills: Smaller beads encourage children to use their pincer grasp, thus strengthening the small muscles of their hands.
- 2 Eye-Hand coordination: Threading beads onto a string involves bilateral coordination of the child's hands, and requires their eyes and hands to work together.
- 3 Visual Perceptual Skills: Remembering or choosing a bead pattern whilst selecting the bead that fits their mental image of the desired bead.
- 4 Cognitive Skills: What style of necklace or bracelet to make? What pattern to choose? Answering these questions develops problem-solving skills.
- 5 Develops early maths skills: children develop their planning and math skills by deciding what pattern they will create. How many beads will they need? How many beads of each colour, shape and size? How long will the string be?

First creations

Since 1979 Educational Colours has been, and continues to be, Australia's number 1 Art and Craft manufacturer and wholesaler.

We also believe that every child is an artist and the desire to play, create and simply have fun starts in their formative years. Before now, there has never been a specialist range designed and tested for children under 3.

Why this range is perfect for our youngest children...

Each product is tested to the highest industry standards, for both Australia/New Zealand and Europe. Moreover, each product is individually approved for little ones with a complete toxicology report. All products for children under 3, in our range, are tested to these exacting standards.

First Creations and Young Minds!

As you know, children might not always be able to verbalise their feelings. By using First Creations, and in the right environment, they might be able to colour, shape, paint, model and mould their feelings. In fact, research shows toddlers need to explore and express themselves through free form creative play. Creative play lets them try out different ideas and ways of expressing themselves, rather than engaging in prescriptive, defined-outcome tasks. Never forget, the activity is the most important thing, not the final result.

First Creations and Parents.

First Creations™ is made for children to enjoy and for parents, teachers and guardians to possibly love just as much! The products store easily (for a quick and easy clean up) and First Creations products are safe for children and most environments such as walls, floors, clothing, and tables!

Ed.Vantage tests to the highest industry standards

Educational Vantage is committed to ensuring that all of our products meet and exceed, where possible, the Australian and New Zealand Toy Safety Standards. Typically, this includes Part I and III (choking and heavy metals) along with specialist sections like Part VII for finger paints.

With the introduction of First Creations, a specialist range for 12 months to 3 years old, we go above and beyond when it comes to the testing requirements. The First Creations range has been tested to the toy standard – a higher benchmark than that typically required for stationery items like dough, crayons and pastels. In addition, our First Creations range have had a toxicological risk assessment along with microbial testing for products that are water based liquids.

The safety of children has always and will always be our first priority. We believe this is the most thoroughly tested range, for 12 to 36 months, on the market.

Welcome to the Resilience Range...

Recognising, understanding and acknowledging “feelings” is an important life skill. Feelings like butterflies in your stomach, the anxiety of going to big school, or joining a sporting team for the first time can be challenging! Knowing how you feel helps children to empathise, communicate and connect. These simple-to-read books help parents, educators and guardians begin important life discussions. At Learning Can Be Fun, we call this the Resilience Range! Young children build emotional development through:

- Examples and Stories: characters show children what feelings and emotions are.
- Understanding: the stories simply show how and why they happen.
- Recognising: the stories prompt children to reflect on their own feelings and those of others.
- Developing: the stories look at coping mechanisms and effective ways of managing them.

Often children struggle to find the right words to communicate how they feel. The Resilience Range of books builds the necessary vocabulary and education to manage life’s little moments.

The Resilience Range will help children start their journeys as empathetic classroom, community and family members.
