Purpose

Inabel is a vital part of Filipino culture and Ilocano identity. However, Inabel weaving products are at risk due to its low demand. In light of the issue at hand, the researchers chose this topic in order to raise cultural awareness and help preserve the Ilocano identity in textile.

This project aims to contribute to the preservation of the Inabel weaving tradition by celebrating the community of Inabel in Ilocos Norte through a feature video series, a look-book, and a website. By successfully raising cultural awareness, we will also be able to support the livelihood of the weavers as many depend on Inabel for their livelihood.

A young man with dark, curly hair is looking towards the camera. He is wearing a light-colored, short-sleeved button-down shirt over a grey patterned long-sleeved shirt. He is holding a large, rectangular bag with a black and white geometric pattern. The bag has two handles made of the same patterned material. A black, textured cylindrical object is visible inside the bag. The background is white with a large red scalloped-edged shape in the upper left and a black and white geometric pattern in the upper right. There are also large red abstract shapes on the right and bottom left.
